"Russia can no more admit of interference than Great Britain could in the Transvaal or than could the United States in her war with Spain. Where the prestige of a country is at stake all other considerations are and must be put aside. Some people may think that financial difficulties will influence Russia to end hostilities. Such an opinion is based on the false assumption of Russia's financial resources."

To Welcome Russia's Fleet.

TOKYO, Nov. 15.—The emperor presided at an extended conference of the military and navy staff in the palace. While the proceedings were secret, it is understood that plans were discussed for dealing with the Russian second Pacific squadron when it arrives in the far east.

Plainfield, N. J., Nov. 15, 1904.

The Fourth ward has 1,350 voters according to the returns of last week's election, which is more than one-third of the entire city vote. It does seem, therefore, that there is good cause for the present agitation to divide the ward. Rahway has five wards. Plainfield surely should have as many if not more.

In the election of William L. Douglass to the governorship of Massachusetts is a story of success in life through common sense methods in conducting a business. Everybody knows about Mr. Douglass, and his business for he has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars to tell them. When he was nominated by the Democrats for governor, it was not believed that he would have a ghost of a show to win, but the shoe man got down to work determined to capture the office. He bought a half page in all the leading papers of the Bay State and from that day until the campaign closed he filled the columns with reasons why he should be elected. The people of Massachusetts became interested in his candidacy and his campaign arguments were read by every voter in the State. Mr. Douglass didn't waste his money hiring halls, brass bands, and heelers. He had too much sense for such schemes. When the returns came in it was found that Massachusetts had been swept by the Republican nominees except for governor. Mr. Douglass came out with 20,000 majority, much to the surprise of everyone except himself. "It pays to advertise."

ODD FELLOWS' CONVENTION

Seventy-First Annual Session of the New Jersey Order.

PLAINFIELD DELEGATES

Meeting at Trenton Begins Tomorrow Morning—Two Days' Session.

The sixty-second annual session of the Grand Encampment of Patriarchs of New Jersey and the seventy-first annual session of the Grand Lodge of the State, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, is being held this week in Trenton. The meetings will be held in Masonic Temple, and Plainfield is represented by Alexander Muir from Queen City Lodge, No. 226, and John Kriney from Plainfield Lodge, No. 44. Stephen Schleif and John Becker will also attend.

Grand Patriarch Samuel Karn, of Morristown, will call the grand encampment to order at 11 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

There are now sixty-one subordinate encampments in New Jersey, two having been instituted at Lakewood and Egg Harbor City during the last year, and all of them will be represented. The business will be largely of a routine nature. The committee on elections will announce the result of the balloting of the encampment, which took place on the first meeting nights in October. As usual, however, there were no contests, and each of the present encumbents of the elective offices will be advanced. This rule does not apply to Grand Scribe Lewis Parker, of Trenton, and Grand Treasurer James O. Robbins, of Hamilton Square, who will continue to serve in their present positions, and to the representatives.

The Grand Lodge will convene at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning and will hold a two days' session. The principal matter to be acted upon will probably be the recurrent question whether the Odd Fellows' Home should be placed under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge. The home was founded about eighteen years ago. The question has been agitated at every Grand Lodge session for the last ten years. The proposition will very likely be defeated again this time, although it will eventually pull through. If the Grand Lodge should accept control of the home it would mean an annual per capita tax of only fifteen cents, while it would place the home on a much more satisfactory basis.

BIG FEROCIOUS BULL KILLED BY ITS OWNER

AFTER CRIPPLING ONE PERSON FOR LIFE, IT IS PUT TO DEATH.

Stephen Dubeil's bull, regarded as the most ferocious in the Passaic valley, is no more, and the entire village of Berkley Heights is breathing easier than it has for many a day. By an act of its own, the animal brought about something which the Township Committee and numerous petitions failed to do and that is its own death.

The bull was pastured in a lot near the main road, along which many children had to pass on their way to school. It had a custom of following them along and making desperate attempts to leap the dividing fence, until as many of them as could, took circuitous routes. Complaint was made to the authorities and Dubiel was ordered to pen the animal up, but he ignored the notice.

Several months ago the beast attacked its owner's three children and all but killed Emil, the oldest boy. He was knocked down and terribly gored, the tendons in his legs being so badly torn that he will be a cripple for life, but even this did not make Dubeil do away with the danger. Early last month two other children, John and Mary, were also attacked, and the former had his cheek ripped open so that thirteen stitches were required to close it.

The bull was still allowed to roam about and this week it made the mistake of attacking Dubeil himself. It chased him across a field and then cornered him, but by using a club he managed to get away. He was angered by the animal's actions more than he had ever been before and he hurried to the house to procure a rifle. Returning to the field he shot the animal in its tracks and Berkley Heights in general and the school children in particular are rejoicing.

Smith's Appointments.

County Registrar Frank H. Smith will have many appointments to make in establishing the working force in the new department of the county. There are many aspirants for the positions, which will include an assistant registrar, indexers and copyists. Mr. Smith has announced his purpose to make his selections from applicants so as to give recognition to the various parts of the county. He will, of course, give proper consideration to qualifications, but his purpose to distribute the patronage so far as possible through the county is good policy.—Elizabeth Journal.

BABIES EASILY REPAIRED.

Misshapen Ears, Nose or the Skull Itself May Be Brought Into Fair Shape.

There is no sense in permitting a child to grow up with ears looking like oyster-shells rudely attached to the side of the head, says a household authority.

Beginning with the day of its birth, the baby's ears should receive attention. If the nurse understands her profession she will take care always to see that the little ear is folded back against the side of the head when the infant reclines upon one side. When the baby lies upon its back she will see that even the softest pillow does not press the ear out from the side of the head.

If nurses and mothers will but take heed, there need be no pug-nosed children.

A baby's nose is very much like a bit of putty. There is not a mother in the universe who cannot, by means of the thumb and forefinger, press the diminutive organ into the shape it should have.

Occasionally the little head fails to acquire a proper roundness, and then the hands of the mother or nurse should assist in smoothing away the unnatural and disfiguring lumps. Where the head is long and narrow and one-sided, a gentle pressure of the hands, with a movement from the chin to the top of the head, will often repair the distortion in a few weeks' time. The pressure should be firm, never hard, and never unpleasant to the infant.

HER TIME SURELY COMING

Woman of Attenuated Proportions Sees Unmistakable Signs of Fat Woman's Decline.

An exalted, oh be joyful expression came into the thin woman's face, says the Chicago Inter Ocean.

"What is it?" her companion asked, curiously.

"Look there!"

She looked. A woman whose hip measure was so great that she could only with difficulty get out of the large armchair in the waiting-room where they sat was struggling to her feet.

"Monstrous" said the thin woman's companion. "But it is only occasionally that you see one of that size."

"That only goes to show how unobservant you are," said the other. "Just look over there, and there, and there!" she added, triumphantly.

Within sight there were three women whose weight must have been near 300, as well as more than one who came close to the 200-pound mark.

"But why are you so jubilant?" her compaion asked.

She leaned toward her confidentially. "Because the thin woman's day is coming," she announced, dramatically. "We've been dubbed 'lean,' 'scrawny,' 'scraggly,' and other injurious adjectives, but I foresee the day when a thin woman will be as rare as a pigeon-blood ruby! Feminine flesh is on the increase. The world is getting fatter every day. Before long it will be a distinction to wear your hip and collar bones on the outside. May I live to see it!" she added, devoutly.

DUEL FOR WIDOW'S HAND.

It Will Be Fought with Two Pinochle Decks Between Two Experts at the Game.

Guttenberg, N. J., famed for its wild woods, sparkling green dells, and shaded nooks, wherein a century ago many famous duels were fought, and later famed for its weird race tracks, and handsome widows, is soon to be the scene of another desperate encounter. The entire burg is aroused to intense excitement over the affair. The casus belli modestly but firmly declares itself in the person of Mrs. Emelia Arkland, a handsome widow. Mrs. Arkland has selected the weapons, has staked off the ground, and will watch the combat from the drop of the handkerchief to the last desperate shuffle.

The rivals—and Mrs. Arkland will tell you frankly that the rivalry solely is to determine who shall clasp her fair, plump hand in wedlock—are Rhinehold von Blessing, 39 years old, a master mechanic, and Capt. John Taylor, 43 years old, the commander of the Jolly Spark, a trim little brig.

The weapons will be two pinochle decks, and the scene of combat the backyard of the widow's handsome villa. Here Von Blessing and Capt. Taylor will play a series of games and the winner shall escort Mrs. Arkland to the altar.

The struggle will commence at sunup, and, after a recess for refreshments, will continue until the shadows of the evening descend. All Guttenberg has been invited to watch the fray and to congratulate the happy victor. Besides being fair, fat, and 40, Mrs. Arkland has a snug bank account of $20,000 left her by her three lamented husbands.

"I love them both quite enough," said "Widow Wilhelm." "But as to which should be which, I couldn't quite select. I haven't decided yet on a day for the game, but it'll be soon, and we'll have a grand party."

MULES THRIVE ON THISTLE

Farmer in Chicago Suburb Prefers the Canadian Weed to American Beauty Roses.

William Klinke, a farmer of Riverside, a suburb of Chicago, says that corn, hay and oats do not compare with Canada thistles when it comes to fattening mules.

"Not in the same class, your honor," he said when he faced Justice Grant. He was charged with violating that section of the statute which prohibits unrestricted growth of Canada thistles.

Judge Sherman, the commissioner, was the prosecutor. He said that Klinke's farm was given up to Canada thistles. He said that there were enough thistles on the farm to convert the country for miles around into a sea of thistles.

"He certainly ought to be fined the limit of $100," said Judge Sherman when he had finished his testimony.

"He talks foolishness, your honor," were Klinke's opening words. "I have Canada thistles on my farm, I admit. I like Canada thistles. There is nothing that the mules love so well. I wait until the flowers are ripe and feed them to my mules. I have good mules. I sold a span the other day for $250. That is a good price, is it not?"

"Certainly," answered the judge.

"Nothing but the thistles. Of course, my other stock won't eat it. My cows and horses refuse, but the mules love it. May be their contrariness or something else. I don't know. I don't care. If the mules love Canada thistles, why, they get them."

"No fair to legislate against the mule," continued the farmer. "People make fun of the mule, but he is a good animal. Moreover, Canada thistles are pretty. I like them much better than American beauty roses and they don't cost half as much."

Klinke then pleaded ignorance of the law and promised to clear his farm of the pest. He was dismissed upon motion of Judge Sherman.

An Honest Wedding Notice.

A western paper contains the following unique wedding notice: "The bride was born of honest, but well-meaning parents, and could walk alone at six months; at ten she could run real fast, and has never slackened her gait. She has many friends—most of them dead ones. The happy couple took a bridal trip to Westley, and will be at home with the old man until they are kicked out. The Tribune wishes them long life and happiness."

Encouragement to Matrimony.

Some of the innkeepers in Sweden charge less for a woman's meal than for a man's, on the theory that she is physically unable to eat so much. A married couple, traveling together, are charged for at many hotels as one person and a half.

HAY CROP OF NEW YORK.

Value of the Harvest in the City Alone Is Estimated at Fifty Thousand Dollars.

New York city's hay crop, public and private, which is now being harvested, must be worth fully a million of dollars.

The city alone harvests hay from the many hundred acres of park land, and the crop must be worth at least $50,000, though the park department receives no such price for it, says the Sun.

All over the upper part of The Bronx and in other semi-rural boroughs, especially the boroughs of Richmond and Queens, haying occupies a considerable number of the inhabitants in the last week of June and the first week of July. The abundant rains of some weeks ago in effect made the crop, and hay is running from one and a half to three tons to the acre.

Haying gives the suburban regions a new touch of the country. Even where there are no actual farming operations going on there is usually some one with a mower, often the worse for wear, ready to cut hay for his neighbors.

A good deal of the city hay crop is cut with old-fashioned instruments. The cradle, like the horse car, has persisted in New York, although it excites ridicule in the real country. Much of the local hay crop is cut with scythes, and even the sickle is occasionally used.

It is often hard for the local hay grower to find a skilled haymaker, and wages are so high in the suburbs that haying is not profitable. Some suburbanites who own acres of hay finds that it barely pays to cut and store the crop.

For this reason most of the local hay crop is sold standing at absurdly low prices. Half a dozen charitable or institutions in The Bronx, with large grounds upon which hay grows, are glad to turn it over to friends or neighbors at nominal rates.

In some such cases all sorts of persons, men, women and children, are pressed into service at the harvest, and there are even gleaners, as in old Scriptural times, who follow the haymakers about the fields to gather a little harvest of their own. Up at Wakefield the other day there worked in a single hay field a policeman, the wife of a neighboring shopkeeper, several hired haymakers and a tiny four-year-old volunteer, a chubby, black-eyed little girl in an immense straw hat, who manfully turned the hay with a full-grown wooden rake.

Suburban haymaking is sometimes made the excuse for a frolic and picnic to which urban friends are invited. Then you may see merry girls in smart gowns and rough straw hats playing at harvesting. The picnic ends in a supper by moonlight among the haycocks, with a profusion of sights and sounds and odors that create the illusion of the real country.

In some of the remoter parts of The Bronx the serious hay harvest is that of the slat marshes, where men with scythes and cradles venture far out upon the tidal plains and gather a rank crop, which is valued not only as a food for beasts, but is much used by the market gardeners of the region for mulching.

Part of the crop is usually stored all winter long upon bits of fast land, and nothing gives the wintry landscape of the marshes so warm a suggestion of summer as these amber mounds, smooth, soft and deliciously rich in tone, melting into the general coloring of the level shorn grass.

TREASURES ON THE ROAD.

Odd Hiding Places Contrived by Travelers for Their Valuables.

It is an old joke about the secret hiding places women have for their money when traveling, but no better ways have been discovered for keeping money safe than to tuck it away in the front of the blouse or slip it in a bag hung at the waist and worn under the dress skirt. A purse that fastens to the belt is well enough for the daytime, but at night the traveled woman wants some place more secure than her pillow or a spot under the mattress. One ingenious girl has made herself a set of washable linen cases that are like two compartments of a pocketbook, only one is smaller than the other and may be slipped inside the larger one. Checks, bills, drafts or even gold may be tucked away in the smaller compartment, and this in turn folded neatly into the larger one, and the whole fastened round with a white linen tape that is long enough to go over the head. One advantage in these linen cases is that they can be washed after each trip and are always fresh for another. To be very elegant one might have one's initials embroidered on the outside of the case or one's name and address could be worked on it. Longer receptacles intended to hold check book, credentials and letters of credit are also made of white linen, bound with linen tape. More elaborate ones are made of moire silk, hand-painted and bound with narrow satin ribbon. They are lined with plain taffeta and look very handsome, but I doubt if they will give the service of the plainer linen ones, and I am sure they will not be so hygienic as a bag that will stand washing.

Unusual Emphasis Necessary.

"Willie, dear," his mother said, "I wish you would go out and see what all that racket in the next block is about."

Willie went away, and returned half an hour later with the desired information.

"There was a deaf and dumb couple married down there this evening," he said, "and the boys is trying to shivaree 'em accordin'."—Chicago Tribune.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL, PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

A New Embroidery—Paletots Revived, Also Directoire Bonnets.

In the way of smart evening gowns nothing is newer or daintier than a robe of the new broderie Nancie. This embroidery is lacy in effect and is heightened by threadings of silk woven in and out of the design. The edges are finished with a buttonhole in colored silks.

There are some quaint three-quarter length tight fitting paletots or jackets being made in black and colored peau de soie, which button down the front with velvet buttons. Occasionally the jackets themselves are piped with velvet. Many of the jackets in cloth are strapped with silk or piped with velvet.

These paletots are not pretty in themselves, but are a revival of another period in dress, which fact has much to recommend them in this present craze for styles of "ye olden times."

The directoire bonnet is another revival, and a dainty creation of this character is made of rose colored velvet trimmed with white nodding plumes. With this bonnet are worn a Josephine muff and tie of ermine.

Dyed lace is used quite as much on evening frocks as on the day gown, and when wisely employed the effect is stunning.

The charming hat illustrated is of reseda green velvet, the broad brim turned up and bordered with large black beads resembling jet balls. A chou of taffeta and a shaded green paradise plume finish a becoming model.

FASHIONS OF TODAY.

Elbow Sleeves Are the Fad of the Moment—A New Glove.

Elbow sleeves are the fad of the moment and are worn with long mousquetaire gloves to matinees, receptions and afternoon teas, so it behooves up to date girls to physical culture their arms that they may be plump, white and attractive to look upon. This elbow length of sleeve is certainly not becoming to the majority of women, but La Mode says "wear them," and her obedient slaves obey. Much may be done to ameliorate the condition of the elbow length in the way of a number of lace and muslin frills which in some instances almost assume the gracefulness of the angel variety, so long and fluffy are these draperies.

A new glove has just made its appearance that overcomes in a triumphant fashion a lack of pocket in feminine attire. This newcomer has fitted in the palm of the hand a little pocket of kid which fastens with a snap clasp and just comfortably accommodates a few nickels for car fare. In a crowded trolley, when one is very likely to be fully employed hanging to a strap, this little convenience comes in very handy.

The gown pictured is a charming creation of puce taffeta relieved with smart touches of velvet a shade darker. The skirt hangs in unstitched plaits from the waist, and at the top and bottom of the deep gathered flounce are pretty designs of empire wreaths carried out in quilled satin ribbon with motifs of flowers worked in shaded silks. The corselet is of velvet, as also are the shawl shaped embroidered collar and turned back cuffs. Cluny lace is used for collar, vest, jabot and sleeve finish. JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE MISSISSIPPI BUBBLE

By EMERSON HOUGH

Author of "The Story of the Cowboy," "The Girl at the Halfway House," Etc.

"Not so, mon ami," replied Law. "They once were mine. They are estates in France. Take back these deeds. Dead Sully may have his own again, and each of these late owners of the lands. I wished them for a purpose. That purpose is no longer possible, and now I wish them no more. Take back your deeds, my friends, and bear in your minds that John Law tore them in two, and thus canceled the obligation."

"But the moneys you have paid—they are enormous. Surely you will exact restitution?"

"Sirrah, could I not afford these moneys?"

"Admirably at the time," replied the Swiss, with the freedom of long service. "But for the future, what do we know? Besides, it is a matter of right and justice."

"Ah, mon ami," said Law, "right and justice are no more. But since you speak of money, let us take precautions as to that. We shall need some money for our journey. See, Henri! Take this note and get the money which it calls for. But no! The crowd may be too great. Look in the drawer of my desk yonder, and take out what you find."

The Swiss did as he was bidden, but at length returned with troubled face.

"Monsieur," said he, "I can find but 100 louis."

"Put half of it back," said Law. "We shall not need so much."

"But, monsieur, I do not understand."

"We shall not need more than 50 louis. That is enough. Leave the rest," said Law. "Leave it where you found it."

"But for whom? Does monsieur soon return?"

"No. Leave it for him who may be first to find it. These dear people without, these same people whom I have enriched, and who now will claim that I have impoverished them—these people will demand of me everything that I have. As a man of honor I cannot deny them. They shall have every jot and stiver of the property of John Law, even the million or so of good coin which he brought here to Paris with him. The coat on my back, the wheels beneath me, gold enough to pay for the charges of the inns through France—that is all that John Law will take away with him."

For some time silence reigned in the [illegible] room, as Law, deeply engaged and papers. Hour after hour wore on, and at last he turned from his employment. His face showed calm, pale, and furrowed with a sadness which till now had been foreign to it. He arose at last, and with a sweep of his arm pushed back the papers which lay before him.

"There," said he. "This should conclude it all. It should all be plain enough now to those who follow."

"Monsieur is weary," mentioned the faithful attendant. "He would have some refreshment."

"Presently, but I think not here, Henri. My household is not all so faithful as yourself, and I question if we could find cook or servants for the table below. No, we are to leave Paris to-night, Henri, and it is well the journey should begin. Get you down to the stables, and, if you can, have my best coach brought to the front door."

"It may not be quite safe, if monsieur will permit me to suggest."

"Perhaps not. These fools are so deep in their folly that they do not know their friends. But safe or not, that is the way I shall go. We might slip out through the back door, but 'tis not thus John Law will go from Paris."

The servant departed, and Law, left alone, sat silent and motionless, buried in thought. Now and again his head sank forward, like that of one who has received a deep hurt. But again he drew himself up sternly, and so remained, not leaving his seat nor turning toward the window, beyond which could now be heard the sound of shouting, and cries whose confused and threatening tones might have given ground for the gravest apprehension. At length the Swiss again reported, much agitated and shaken from his ordinary self-control.

"Monsieur," said he, "come. I have at last the coach at the door. Hasten, monsieur; a crowd is gathering. Indeed, we may meet violence."

"Then," said Law, "let us go."

He rose, and scarce looking behind him, even to see that his orders to the servant had been obeyed, he strode down the vast stairway of the great hotel, past many precious works of art, between walls hung with richest tapestries and noble paintings. The click of his heel on a chance bit of exposed marble here and there echoed hollow, as though indeed the master of the palace had been abandoned by all his people. The great building was silent, empty.

Without, but the door's thickness from where he stood, there arose a tumult of sound, shouts, cries, imprecations, entreaties, as though the walls of some asylum for the unfortunate had broken away and allowed its inmates to escape unrestrained, irreclaimable, impossible to control.

"Down with Jean L'as! Down with Jean L'as!" rose a cadenced, rhythmic shout, the accord of a mob of Paris beating into its tones. And this steady burden was broken by the cries of "Enter! Enter! Break down the door! Kill the monster! Assassin! Thief! Traitor!" No word of the vocabulary of scorn and loathing was wanting in their cries.

He was met by a rush of excited men and women, screaming, cursing, giving vent to inarticulate and indistinguishable speech. A man laid his hand upon his shoulder. Law caught the hand, and with a swift wrench of the wrist, threw the owner of it to the ground. At this the others gave back, and for half a moment silence ensued. The mob lacked just the touch of rage to hurl themselves upon him. He raised his hand and motioned them aside.

"Down with Jean L'as! Down with Jean L'as!" came the recurrent cry.

The coachman was pulled from his box. The horses, plunging with terror, were cut loose from the pole and led away. With shouts and cries of rage and busy zeal, one madman vied with another in tearing, cutting and destroying the vehicle, until it stood there ruined, without means of locomotion, defaced and useless. And still the ring of desperate humanity closed around him who had late been master of all France.

"What do you want, my friends?" asked he, calmly, as for an instant there came a lull in the tumult. He stood looking at them curiously now, his dulling eyes regarding them as though they presented some new and interesting study. "What is it that you desire?" he repeated.

"We want our money," cried a score of voices. "We want back that which you have stolen."

"You are not exact," replied Law, calmly. "I have not your money, nor yet have I stolen it. If you have suffered by this foolish panic, you do not mend matters by thus treating me. By heaven, you go the wrong way to get anything from me! Out of the way, you canaille! Do you think to frighten me? I made your city. I made you all. Now, do you think to frighten me, John Law?"

"Oh! You would go away, you want to escape!" cried the voices of those near at hand. "We will see as to that!"

"True, I am going away," said Law. "But you cannot say that I tried to steal away without your knowing it. There, up the stairs, are my papers. You will see in time that I have concealed nothing. Now I am going to leave Paris, it is true; but not because I am afraid to stay here. 'Tis for other reason, and reason of mine own."

"'Twas you who ruined Paris—this city which you now seek to leave!" shrieked the dame who had spoken before, still shaking her useless banknotes in her hand.

"Oh, very well, my friend. For the argument, let us agree upon that," said Law.

"You ruined our company, our beautiful company!" cried another.

"Certainly. Since I was the originator of it, that follows as matter of reason," replied Law.

"Ah, he admits it! He admits it!" cried yet another. "Don't let him escape. Kill him! Down with Jean L'as!"

"Oh, very well, my friends," resumed the object of their fury, flicking again with his old, careless gesture at the deep cuff of his wrist. "As you like in regard to that. More than one man has offered me that happiness in the past, yet it was many a long year since any man could trouble me by announcing that he was about to kill me."

Something in the attitude of the man stayed the hands of the most dangerous members of the mob. Yet ever there came the cry from back of them. "Down with Jean L'as! He has ruined everything!"

There came a sound of far-off cries, a distant clacking of hoofs, the clatter of steel, many shouts, entreaties and commands. The close-packed crowd which filled the open space in front of the hotel writhed, twisted, turned and would have sought to resolve itself into groups and individuals. Some cried out that the troops were coming. A detachment of the king's household, sent out to disperse these dangerous gatherings, came full front down the street, as had so often come the arm of the military in this turbulent old city of Paris. Remorselessly they rode over and through the mob, driving them, dispersing them. A moment later, and Law stood almost alone at the steps of his own house. The squadron wheeled, headed by an officer, who rode upon him with sword uplifted as though to cut him down. Law raised his hand at this new menace.

"Stop!" he cried. "I am the cause of this rioting. I am John Law."

CROSS AFTER STOKES' JOB?

Union County Senator May Become Chancery Clerk.

BOOMED BY COLLEGUES

Senators Favor Him for Position Provided He Doesn't Accept Presidency of Senate.

It did not take many minutes' conversation with the Senators assembled at the State House in Trenton, yesterday, to learn that Senator Joseph Cross, of Elizabeth, is practically assured of the presidency of the Senate except on one contingency and that is that he is made clerk of the Court of Chancery to succeed Governor-elect Stokes.

There was a great deal of talk in the corridors to the effect that Mr. Cross was to be the next clerk in chancery. He himself said he knew nothing about it and that the first he had heard of his candidacy was what he had heard about the State House since his arrival there yesterday. None the less, it was said that persons having some of the most potent influences in the State had been to see the Governor in Mr. Cross' behalf.

Should Mr. Cross be appointed to the clerkship that would remove him from the Senate, according to the gossip, and a sharp struggle for the presidency would ensue. It is understood that Senator Bradley will not be a candidate against Mr. Cross, but if his appointment to the Chancery clerkship should be made, and he should be taken out of the race, then the Camden man would seek the office with all the energy he has himself and his powerful supporters.

There were those who believed that this situation is what David Baird had in mind when he made the egnimatical statement last week that Mr. Bradley, while not opposing Mr. Cross, was a candidate for the presidency of the Senate.

Wood McKee, of Passaic, also announced his candidacy for the position. He, too, said that Mr. Cross was his first choice, but if the judge is made clerk in chancery and removed from the fight, he did not see why another North Jersey man should not have the place, nor did he see why that North Jersey man should not be himself.

In the event of Mr. Cross' selection as president, both the Camden and the Passaic men will be candidates for the leadership of the Senate and the contest between them will be no child's play.

Daniel S. Voorhees, of Morristown, member of the Republican State committee from Morris county, was at the State House and expressed his confidence in his own appointment to the Chancery clerkship.

John Boyd Avis, the speaker of the last House, was also in the crowd. He is an active candidate for re-election. Everett Colby, who will be a candidate if the appointment should be allotted to his end of the State, was busy shaking hands with the old and new members.

The drift of the talk among the members yesterday was unmistakably toward Mr. Avis.

Friends' Half-Yearly Meeting.

The Religious Society of Friends of Shrewsbury and Plainfield will begin its half-yearly meeting tomorrow morning at 10:30 at the meeting-house on Watchung avenue, opposite North avenue. The afternoon meeting will be at 3 o'clock, when there will be a review of the Peace Conference recently held at Boston. In the evening at 8 o'clock the young people will hold a social. An invitation is extended to all.

Stokes' Vote in His County.

The official returns filed with and compiled by the Mercer county board of elections show that Stokes ran behind his ticket to the extent of 1,614 Murphy carried the county in 1901 by 1,700.

Y. M. C. A. BOWLING TEAM TO HIRE OTHER ALLEYS

ASSOCIATION ALLEYS ARE NOT SUFFICIENT FOR THE NEEDS OF THE CLUB.

On account of the fact that the alleys at the Y. M. C. A. are in such general demand, and on account of the lack of time and space for practice, the members of the Y. M. C. A. bowling team are negotiating with various owners of bowling alleys in this city to secure the use of the alleys for one or two nights a week. They have several places to choose from, though as yet they have not definitely decided upon any one club.

The fact that the Y. M. C. A. alleys are so small is a great inconvenience to the team, when it plays a game in which outsiders are interested, as there is no place for spectators. The membership is also limited by the fact that the team has only the use of the association alleys. The team is in every way independent of the Y. M. C. A., though all the players are members of the association. Non-members who might desire to take part in out-of-town games have no chance to practice with the team. With the acquisition of the use of some other alleys, the team will be able to more adequately entertain visiting teams, and will have more time to devote to practice.

PARK CLUB AFFAIRS FOR MEMBERS ONLY

INCREASE IN MEMBERSHIP COMPELS CHANGE IN RULES.

The Park Club has changed its rule which allows residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield to attend social affairs at the club twice a year, once every six months. This action was made necessary by the fact that the club now has a membership of nearly 200 and it is quite enough to take care of the regular membership at the various social events. At the last meeting of the Board of Governors eleven candidates were elected to membership.

Beginning December 1, the clubhouse will be open every Thursday afternoon for the women members who may wish to play cards, pool, billiards or bowl. This arrangement will continue until May 1.

P. H. S. ELEVEN WINS.

In Practice Game Against the O. A. Eleven, the High School Lads Show Decided Improvement.

The Plainfield High School football team defeated the O. A. C. eleven, largely composed of members of the Cedarcroft School, in a practice game on Hope common yesterday afternoon. The High School players showed a decided improvement in their game, and their offensive game was stronger than it has been this year.

All four of the backs crossed the line for a touchdown, the score being 22 to 0. Williams, at quarter, managed his team well, and his tackling and runs with the ball were features of the game. William Douglass put up his usual snappy variety of football. The following was the lineup of the Plainfield High School eleven: Russel, left end; Bentley, left tackle; Freeman, left guard; Bogart, center; Srager, right guard; Jahn, right tackle; Meany, right end; Williams, quarterback; William Douglass, left half; Taylor, fullback; Jack Douglass, right half back.

State Election Returns.

Although returns from the State election in New Jersey are as yet unofficial, the results as finally passed upon are not likely to show any material change from the figures already given. They give Roosevelt for President a plurality of 78,387, and Stokes, for Governor, a plurality of 50,758. As in the National election of 1900 and the gubernatorial election of 1901, the Republicans have carried seventeen counties and the Democrats four—Hudson, Hunterdon, Sussex and Warren.

Freshmen to Give Play.

The freshmen class at the Plainfield High School will give a three-act play from the Idles of the King, by Alfred Tennyson, sometime after the Christmas holidays. The committee in charge of the affair is Gladys Burt, chairman, Ralph Taylor, Josephine Serrell and Gerth Williams.

Helping Hand Society.

Rev. Scott Wallace, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, organized a helping hand society at his church last night.

ACTIVE SOCIAL SEASON

Events Scheduled for the Winter Months Here.

MANY DEBUTANTES

Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Dances Are on the Society Calendar As Usual.

Probably the greatest activity of the winter season will be at the Park Club, where the entertainment committee has provided several events. There will be the usual Thanksgiving dance on Thursday night, November 24, and the Christmas dance on Thursday night, December 29, and the Junior dance on Saturday night, December 31.

In addition to these events, there will be the New Year's reception at the club, from 3 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and on January 2, in the evening, there will be bridge and euchre.

More than ordinary interest is centered in the announcement that there are to be several debutantes, the first being Miss Virginia Hegeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Arrowsmith Hegeman, of Truell Court. A reception will be given in her honor Wednesday evening, November 23, at the Park Club, and it promises to be one of the most brilliant of the season.

Among the other debutantes will be Miss Grace Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Rowland, of 511 West Seventh street; Miss Edith Fisk, daughter of Mrs. Chapman Fisk, of 113 West Seventh street, and Miss Harman, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Harman, of 505 West Eighth street.

The date for Miss Fisk's coming out has been set for Monday evening, January 2. The other dates will be announced later.

Another indication that society will be astir in Plainfield in that many families who have heretofore gone to New York for the winter, have decided to remain here and this means that they will be identified with the social affairs planned.

There also promises to be much activity at the Casino, where several entertainments are being arranged, including that of the famous Oakosh Glee Club, which will be given about the holiday times.

MISS EDNA M. HOWELL NOW A MINISTER'S WIFE

FORMER PLAINFIELD GIRL WEDDED TO REV. A. D. ARCHIBALD.

Miss Edna Minita Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Howell, formerly of Plainfield, and Rev. Adams Douglas Archibald, of Prince Edward Island, were married today at noon at the home of the bride's brother, Edwin Howell, of Chester, Pa.

As the invitation list was restricted, only the immediate relatives and a very few friends attended the wedding. Among the latter was Miss Elsie Suffern, of North Plainfield. After the ceremony there was a reception and later Mr. and Mrs. Archibald left on a wedding trip.

The bride while a resident of this city, attended the Seminary on West Seventh street, and she made many friends. Mr. Archibald is from Halifax, Nova Scotia, where he holds a position as field secretary under direction of the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions.

STOKES WILL RESIGN.

Governor-Elect Will Give Up His Clerkship in Chancery.

Governor-elect Stokes announced yesterday that he would resign as clerk in chancery before he was inaugurated and his successor would be appointed by Governor Murphy. He further declared that he would have nothing to do with the appointment, "except as I may be consulted in the matter." Mr. Stokes is going away for a rest, but where he is going he will not tell.

K. of C. Service.

Collaborating with Rev. Father Egan, the local Knights of Columbus have completed arrangements for an elaborate memorial service to be held in St. Mary's church Sunday evening. Watchung Council will attend in a body and it will have as guests members of the order from other cities. The principal sermon of the evening will be delivered by Chancellor Norris, of Trenton, and several other well-known priests will be in attendance.

MAIL ROUTES IN COUNTY

Bids Being Asked for Several Proposed Rural Deliveries.

NEW REGULATIONS

Union County to Receive Great Benefits From Postoffice Department.

There are a number of star routes in this State and bids are now being called for carrying the mails for another period. The United States Postoffice authorities not long since took a new departure on the matter of awarding contracts for carrying the mails. Formerly a man in any part of the country could secure the contracts and then sub-let them and make whatever he could on the transaction. For instance, a man in Kentucky could take a contract for carrying on one of the routes in this country and "farm it out."

Those who want to put in bids for carrying the mails on different star routes in this State must do so by the first of December. The period on which they are to cover commences July 1, 1905, and expires June 30, 1909. It may be of interest to know something about the following routes, and what steps are to be taken in putting in a bid.

All that is necessary to do on the part of anyone who desires to put in a bid is to procure blanks of the nearest postmaster and to send the application to the postoffice authorities in Washington.

A bidder, however, is not eligible unless he lives on the line of the route for which he makes application to carry the mail over.

This is to be construed to mean living within the territory regularly serve at the postoffice on the route. The party taking the contract must give his personal supervision to the performance of his service. Unless he does this, his contract becomes void and the service will be relet. Under the comparatively new requirements, people living on the star route get almost as much in the way of privileges as do those living on the routes of the rural free delivery.

The carriers on the star routes, if the people provide mail boxes or hang small pouches on cranes on posts near the road, are obliged to collect the mail from and to deposit mail in them, but they must be in such places that they can be conveniently reached by the carrier without his being obliged to dismount from his vehicle or horse.

A civil service examination was held here Saturday for carriers to carry and deliver mail over the new rural free delivery route, which includes the territory in Watchung, Warrenville, Union Village and other nearby towns.

Estimates are now asked for the following mail routes in Union county: From Mountainside to Westfield, 1.65 miles, and back, twelve times a week; from New Providence to Murray Hill, 1 mile, and back, twelve times a week; from Union to Elizabeth, 3.80 miles, and back, six times a week.

FOUND DEAD IN HOTEL; CLAIMED TO LIVE HERE

"FREDERICK DEIHLE, OF PLAINFIELD, N. J," SUCCUMBS IN N.Y. HOSTELRY.

Stories printed in yesterday's New York papers declare that "Frederick Deihle, of Plainfield, N. J., was found dead yesterday morning in the Delmore Hotel at Third avenue and Thirty-fourth street, having succumbed during the night to heart disease."

The city directory does not give the name Frederick Deihle and inquiry fails to reveal any person answering the description of the dead man.

He was about five feet eight inches in height, weighed about 180 pounds and wore his short gray hair in pompadour style.

A Mrs. Deihle resides on Grove street, but she said today the man was not related to her.

Case to be Tried in December.

The case of Mrs. Theodore Glasier against the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company is returnable at Justice Huff's court on December 21. Mrs. Glasier is still confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. Post Unable to Come.

Mrs. Post, of Chicago, who was to have delivered an address on Home Mission work at the Park Avenue Baptist church this evening, has sent word that she will be unable to do so.

FOWLER'S MAJORITY 2,583

Union County's Board of Election Finishing Its Canvass.

24,005 VOTES CAST

Frank H. Smith's Majority Over Bernard Higgins, for Registrar of Deeds, Was 4,378.

Although the Union County Board of Election and Registry in session at Elizabeth, yesterday, did not complete its work of canvassing the vote of the county, the vote on the presidential ticket not being in yet, all of the other figures have been received. The total number of names registered in the county was 24,005 and 137 were rejected. By comparison it is shown that Stokes had a majority of 4,125 over Black, and that he had 873 more votes than Fowler. Fowler's majority over Martine was 2,583. F. H. Smith, for registrar of deeds, had a majority of 4,378 over Bernard J. Higgins, while James O. Calvert received a majority of 6,956 over George Baldwin.

The Republican nominees on the Assembly ticket had about the same majority over their Democratic opponents. Coyne's majority over Hague was 4,967, that of Tillman over Gunn 5,045, and that of Embree over Cox 4,847. Dr. Pierson, for coroner, had a majority of 5,006 over Dr. Dearborn.

There is to be a recount in the Fourth ward of Rahway, where there is a contest between James Rowland and George E. Galloway, the former receiving two more votes than his opponent. The contestants put up the necessary $100 for the recount.

The vote as polled is as follows:

For Governor — Stokes, 13,366; Black, 9,141; Honnecker, 188; Herrschaft, 1,944; Parker, 262; Kearns, 523. For Congress—Fowler, 12,493; Martine, 9,910; Lefferts, 2,688; Roff, 533; Smith, 185; Potter, 183. For Assembly—Coyne, 13,884; Tillman, 13,729; Embree, 13,607; Hague, 8,847; Gunn, 8,684; Cox, 8,760. For Registrar of Deeds—Smith, 13,390; Higgins, 9,012. For County Clerk—Calvert, 14,792; Baldwin, 7,836. For Coroner—Pierson, 13,749; Dearborn, 8,743.

HAMILTON KEAN DINES REPUBLICAN CO. COMMITTEE

REGISTRAR SMITH AND MAYOR BUCKLE MAKE SPEECHES AT THE BANQUET.

General good feeling and congeniality characterized the annual post-election dinner given by Republican County Chairman Hamilton Kean to the other members of the county committee, at the Berkeley Hotel, Elizabeth, last night. The dinner was largely attended and party enthusiasm was evidenced in the many speeches which followed the banquet.

County Chairman Kean acted as toastmaster, and in the course of the evening speeches were made by members of the committee, including Registrar of Deeds Frank H. Smith and Mayor-elect James F. Buckle, of this city, Mayor Berry, of Elizabeth, C. H. Halsey, of Elizabeth, Factory Inspector McCardell, of this city, Assemblyman-elect Tillman, of Rahway, and Assemblyman-elect George Embree, of Westfield.

P. H. S. Preparing for Game.

The members of the Plainfield High School football team are in strict training this week in preparation for the game of the season which will take place Saturday morning with the Leal's School eleven. Though Leal's have lost other games in the interscholastic league, the Plainfield High School will be the team which is nearest their class in weight and speed, and they will have to exert every effort to win the game. The public school boys have been out for hard practice every day this week, and the team will go on the gridiron Saturday morning with one of the strongest lineups which they have put out this season. Captain Douglass has not yet announced the lineup for the game, nor has Captain Wilcox, of Leal's, stated who will play for the private school.

To Examine the Books.

George E. Collins, public accountant, whose home is in Westfield, but who has an office on North avenue, this city, has been engaged to examine the books of the tax collector, city judge and city treasurer. He began the work on Monday. Mr. Collins examined and audited these books two years ago in accordance with a resolution adopted by the Common Council

WEST END FAVORABLE TO FOURTH WARD'S DIVISION

FIFTH WARD WOULD BRING MORE EQUAL REPRESENTATION IN COUNCIL.

The sentiment among the voters of the Fourth ward in favor of the Common Council establishing a Fifth ward, is constantly growing and since the story concerning the agitation was told in The Daily Press of yesterday, prominent residents of the ward have expressed themselves as favoring the change.

A well-known leader of the Fourth ward in speaking of the matter today said that the establishing of a Fifth ward would give the West End of the city its proper representation in the Common Council. It would mean that there would be ten ward councilmen, one from each of the ten election districts and one member at large, a total of eleven, as at present.

In 1895 the Legislature enacted a law giving Rahway the right to establish five wards in that place, and Plainfield can take advantage of this law at any time it desires. It would only be necessary for the Common Council to adopt a measure providing for the redistricting of the city or the Fourth ward, and if this passed the work would be done under the direction of the members. It is also learned that many of the councilmen are in favor of another ward and undoubtedly some action will be taken in the matter in the near future.

WM. H. WILLIAMS WEDS MRS. ANNA L. NICKING

MARRIAGE CEREMONY AT NEWARK ON WEDNESDAY LAST.

Announcement is made of the marriage of William H. Williams, of this city, and Mrs. Anna L. Nicking, of Newark, formerly of Brooklyn, and widow of Prof. Hermann Nicking. The ceremony was performed on Wednesday, November 9, by Rev. C. Morgan Compher at his home in Newark.

The groom is well known here where for many years he was engaged in the business of a newsdealer. He is now doing a messenger service between this city and New York. He and his bride will reside in Plainfield.

COURSE IN FIRST AID.

Dr. Norman Probasco Will Give Initial Lesson at the Y. M. C. A. Tonight.

The first of the series of lectures on first aid to the injured which will be conducted at the Y. M. C. A. during the winter will be given by Dr. Norman Probasco tonight at the association. The course will include twelve lessons in first aid, which will cover completely all the essential points in anatomy, the circulation of the blood, the bear and lungs, and the digestion. In addition to these points, Dr. Probasco will give several talks on poison antidotes, and on rescuing the drowning. The latter point will be illustrated in the swimming tank, and occur at the conclusion of the course.

The outline for the lectures was arranged by Physical Director Henckle, and is the most complete course which has ever been taught in this city. There will be one lesson a week, each one covering some special topic of study, briefly though thoroughly.

Death of William Hewson.

William Hewson, formerly a resident of this city, died Monday evening at his home in Warren township in the seventy-sixth year of his age. Mr. Hewson was well known in this city, where he was for many years overseer of the poor. He leaves a wife and an adopted son. He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Brand, of Central avenue. The funeral will be held from the late residence, Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

But He's No Quitter.

Mayor Smalley, of North Plainfield, has been given notice by the voters that he no longer carries the destinies of Somerset county in his vest pocket. Perhaps he may carry out his threat and move to Plainfield after all and take at least a part of his graveyard with him.—Newark Evening News.

Martine's Mistake.

Charles N. Fowler is returned to Congress by a majority of about 5,000 over "Farmer Orator" Martine. The voters of this district could not be moved by a campaign of vilification and abuse, and endorse Mr. Fowler with the greatest majority he has ever received.—New Jersey Advocate.

POLICE CATCH A SHARPER

Notorious Swindler Fails to Work His Game Locally.

HAD SELECTED VICTIM

Was All Ready to Pass Worthless Check When Placed Under Arrest.

After having successfully worked his scheme in a dozen other cities, James O'Brien, of New York, was caught by the local police yesterday, just as he had completed all arrangements to swindle Undertaker Patrick Casey with a bogus check. Confronted at headquarters with facts gleaned by Chief Kiely, he made a complete confession and acknowledged himself to be the man who has been sought after by the authorities in Elizabeth, Philadelphia, Baltimore and elsewhere. He was remanded until tomorrow morning when he will be arraigned before Justice Huff.

O'Brien came to the city yesterday and going to Casey's office said he wanted him to make arrangements for the burial of his sister, who had died in Philadelphia, in St. Mary's cemetery. The details were agreed upon and O'Brien then went to Father Egan, secured his sanction for a burial plot and going to the cemetery instructed Caretaker Daniel McCarthy to dig a grave. His orders were obeyed quickly by the latter and three feet of earth had been removed when the police instructed him to stop.

From the cemetery O'Brien proceeded to John Kenney's shoe store where he introduced himself as a member of the Knights of Columbus and told of having heard of Mr. Kenney in Philadelphia. He continued telling things about himself and the death of his sister, the idea being to gain Kenney's confidence and then use it when he was ready to bring the swindle to a climax, that is, presenting the bogus check to Casey and have him cash it.

In Kenney's store at the time was J. J. Whelan, of Elizabeth, who is connected with the local office of the water company. As O'Brien continued speaking he recalled the fact that a man answering his description had fleeced Undertaker Martin, of Elizabeth, out of $40 by telling the same story. Whelan excused himself quietly and proceeding to headquarters informed Patrolman McCarthy of his suspicions. The later went to Kenney's and placed O'Brien under arrest just as he was about to go back to Casey's.

When searched by the police, a check was found in his clothing made out to James O'Brien on the Trenton National Bank. The officials were telegraphed and they returned word that the signature given was evidently a forgery. The prisoner then admitted his guilt and announced that he was the man who had been going about working the "undertaker" game.

O'Brien first claimed to be from Philadelphia but his home is in New York. He is about thirty years old, five feet ten inches in height, of slender build, smooth face and sallow complexion.

TALKED TO TEACHERS.

Dr. A. F. VanHorn Addressed Pedagogues on First Aid to Injured.

Dr. A. F. VanHorn, medical examiner of the city schools, gave the teachers an interesting and practical demonstration of first aid to the injured at Superintendent Maxson's monthly teachers' meeting on Monday. Methods of treatment of cuts, burns, and wounds were practically illustrated by the use of one of the pupils. Special directions were also given as to the recognition and treatment of the various ailings that occur among school children.

The address was most closely listened to by the teachers and enthusiastically received.

Real Property Sold at Auction.

The sale of property belonging to the estate of Ellen Gill was sold yesterday at public auction by P. H. Latourette, auctioneer, for the executors, John P. Emmons and Robert Bellchambers. Abram Kunzman purchased the property at 427 West Fourth street for $3,155 and that at 429 West Fourth street for $3,400. Charles Sebring purchased the property at 118 Liberty street for $1,880 and the one at 423 West Fourth street for $3,650. The sale of several lots belonging to the estate was postponed for the present as the bids were far too small.

AMUSEMENTS.

The opening performance of Rejane, the distinguished French actress, at the Lyric theatre, on the evening of Monday, November 7, proved one of the most notable events society and theatrical circles in New York have witnessed for many years. Certainly no gathering more distinguished or more appreciative has been seen in any theatre here for a decade. The line of carriages extended far beyond Eighth avenues and so continued for three quarters of an hour, and the spectacle inside the spacious house, when the curtain rose on the opening scene in "Amoureuse" was as brilliant as the season's opening night at the Metropolitan Opera House. Madame Rejane is artiste to her finger tips, the typical Parisienne, the idol of Paris, and not only the greatest actress in France, but confessedly without a peer in her line of work in the civilized world. She comes to America on this, her second tour in this country, supported by her own carefully selected Parisian company, and with a repertoire which includes all those great Parisian successes with which her name is so indissolubly linked, and which her incomparable art has done so much to make world famous.

PLUCK OF STOESSEL

Port Arthur Commander, Wounded, Will Not Retire.

DEATH OF KUROKI DENIED AT TOKYO

Russian Garrison Said to Be Disheartened and Ready to Capitulate—Japanese Believe End to Be Near.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—A special dispatch from Tokyo says that the Japanese army staff pronounced absurd the report of General Kuroki's death from a splinter of a Russian shell at Liaoyang and that his body was sent to Japan.

Dispatches from the headquarters of the Third Japanese army, before Port Arthur, say that a wound received by General Stoessel has necessitated his confinement in a hospital, that he refused to relinquish the command of the garrison and that he has issued orders to the troops to die at their posts rather than surrender.

Spies and Russians who have surrendered report that rations in the fortress have been reduced. The wounded found by the Japanese are emaciated.

Russian artillery shells are made partly of killed wood and do not explode. This shows that the Russians are short of material for making heavy ammunition.

The capture of the eastern fortified ridge will mean the surrender of the fortress in a couple of weeks. Cold weather and the lack of food and ammunition renders desperate resistance unlikely.

It is said that the spirit of the Russian troops has been dampened by continuous work, the lack of supplies and the hopelessness of their ability to make any successful defense of the fortress. It is said further that many of the Russian soldiers are ready to surrender, but that they are kept at their posts by officers, who threaten them with revolvers, and that several soldiers who were suspected of a desire to desert have been shot as a warning to others. The Japanese now believe that the garrison has almost reached the limit of human endurance.

A Chefu report this morning says that a Russian torpedo boat destroyer has just entered the harbor. She has not been communicated with owing to the roughness of the sea. It is said that a Japanese torpedo boat destroyer has been seen outside watching the movements of the Russian vessel.

HUMANITY OF JAPANESE.

Scrupulous Care Taken of Effects Found on Russian Dead.

MUKDEN, Nov. 16.—The Manchurian army organ Vestnik, published by sanction of the Russian officials and the only paper printed at the theater of war, gives details of the scrupulous care shown by the Japanese for relics and other effects of the Russian dead found on the battlefield and tells how the Japanese have forwarded such effects to St. Petersburg. The paper highly commends this action and announces that General Kuropatkin recommends that all his commanders shall observe a similar practice regarding the Japanese dead.

This humane practice, which was initiated by the Japanese and which apparently was calculated to secure consideration for their dead, has met with applause from the Russian army and will undoubtedly be imitated when the Russians are in possession of the field over which a battle has been fought.

A Chapter of Airship Mishaps.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 16.—After repairs necessitated by an accident had been finished the immense airship of Hippolyte Francois of France made another ascension from the aeronautic concourse at the world's fair. After being up two minutes at the end of a rope the airship crashed into the north wall of the concourse fence and badly smashed the prow. The machine was then brought to the ground and returned to the aerodrome. It will probably take several days to repair the damage.

Farragut's Famous Flagship Sails.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. — Farragut's famous flagship, the Hartford, now attached to the Atlantic coast squadron, has left Norfolk for this city with a view of taking part in the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the statue of Frederick the Great next Saturday. She is bringing two companies of bluejackets and two companies of marines, who will be landed to participate in the military demonstration.

Hall's Assailant Caught.

ROANOKE, Va., Nov. 16.—William Wright, colored, alias Jack Dillard, who shot and probably fatally wounded Policeman J. J. Hall at Danville, Va., while the officer was trying to arrest him, was captured here by the local police. There was a reward of $1,250 for Wright's arrest.

Fort Edward Heard From.

THREW OUT THE BILL

Vermont Would Not Abolish Capital Punishment.

MRS. ROGERS' FATE HUNG IN BALANCE

Last Execution of a Woman Was Twenty Years Ago—Rogers Foully Murdered by His Wife at Montpelier, Vt.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 15.—By a vote of 153 to 83 the house of representatives after a spirited debate has refused to pass a third reading and so defeated the bill to abolish capital punishment in the state. A similar bill passed the house two years ago and was defeated by only three votes in the senate. There is much interest in the action of the house because of the bill now in committee to commute the death sentence of Mrs. Mary A. Rogers to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Rogers was convicted of the murder of her husband, Marcus H. Rogers, and sentenced to be hanged on Feb. 5, 1904.

In spite of the sentiment expressed in the house by the vote it is said that the bill in behalf of Mrs. Rogers will be reported soon and a determined fight made to save her life. Although the Vermont legislature has long stood for capital punishment it has frequently commuted death sentences to a life imprisonment. Three such sentences were commuted at the last session.

The last execution of a woman in this state took place twenty years ago, when Mrs. Meeker of Waterbury was put to death for the murder of her child. Her son, Almon Meeker, was convicted of complicity and sentenced to life imprisonment.

The murder of Rogers, as told on the stand by Leon Perham, the confessed accomplice of Mrs. Rogers and who was sentenced to life imprisonment, was conceived and accomplished with peculiar cunning and cruelty.

Mrs. Rogers was in love with a third man and took advantage of Perham's love for her to do away with her husband in order that with the $500 insurance to be obtained on his life she might be able to establish a new home. She had not lived with her husband for several weeks, but under pretense of affecting a reconciliation with him the two met by appointment on the bank of the Walloomac river, in Bennington, the home of Mrs. Rogers. Perham was also present and had brought with him several feet of rope. Mrs. Rogers greeted her husband with a kiss and with many affectionate expressions secured a reconciliation.

Then in fulfillment of a prearranged plan she bantered her husband about his strength and finally challenged Perham to so bind Rogers' arms that he could not release himself. The first time Rogers was bound he escaped easily. The second time he had more difficulty in freeing himself, and the third time he was made a helpless prisoner. Thereupon Mrs. Rogers held a handkerchief soaked with chloroform over his mouth and nostrils until he was dead. The woman and her accomplice then threw the body into the river, from which it was taken the next day by the police.

Four Vessels Blown Ashore.

ROCKLAND, Me., Nov. 16.—Four vessels were blown ashore in Penobscot bay during the big storm, but fortunately no lives were lost. The schooner Isiah K. Stetson, which was anchored off White Head light, was warned of the approach of the gale by the keeper of the life saving station. The schooner Chase, for Rockport, beat up to White Head light in company with the Stetson Sunday and endeavored to reach Seal harbor, but struck a rock at the entrance and is a total loss. Word was received here that the schooner Mary Hall had been blown ashore at Birch island. The small sloop Edwards was also thrown ashore at Birch island within a short distance of the Hall.

PRINCE FUSHIMI'S VISIT.

Envoy of Japanese Emperor Received by the President.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—When Prince Fushimi and his suit arrived at the White House the prince and his suit were ushered into the blue room, where in a few minutes President Roosevelt, accompanied by Assistant Secretary of State Francis B. Loomis and Secretary William Loeb, Jr., greeted them. The greeting between the president and Prince Fushimi was cordial. The presentations were made by Mr. Peirce.

Prince Fushimi addressed the president in Japanese, his remarks being interpreted by one of his suit.

He delivered a cordial message from the mikado.

The president's response was in part as follows:

"It gives me unfeigned pleasure to meet your imperial highness and to hear from you the expression of the friendly sentiments of his majesty the emperor and of the people of Japan toward the United States of America. I assure you that these sentiments are warmly reciprocated by me and by the American people."

The president and Prince Fushimi then chatted animatedly for ten minutes. Their conversation was conducted through an interpreter and related principally to Japanese history and literature, with incidental reference to the pending Russo-Japanese war, in which Prince Fushimi has played a conspicuous part. The prince expressed himself as pleased and surprised at the knowledge the president showed on these subjects.

MOB WANTED VENGEANCE.

Three Hundred Men Chased Girl's Assailant at Paterson, N. J.

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 16.—Chased for more than a mile through the streets of this city and finally leaping into the Passaic river in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid capture, Frank Speer, a sign painter, is lodged in jail charged with having assaulted Miss Ella Anderson, twenty years old, and living at Eighteenth avenue and Twenty-second street, Paterson.

Miss Anderson was walking in Eighteenth avenue on her way to market when Speer, who had been drinking, approached and addressed her. The young woman did her best to avoid his advances, and finally the enraged man seized her around the waist and carried her into an adjoining vacant lot.

Miss Anderson is slight and weighs only about 100 pounds, while Speer is a large man, so that she was almost powerless in his grasp. She screamed for help, however, and struggled and finally managed to pull a large hatpin from her hat, with which she defended herself. Speer was stabbed several times in the face and breast before he released the girl.

Fully 300 persons, nearly all of whom were men, followed the policemen and their prisoner to the station, and threats of violence were freely expressed. Miss Anderson is prostrated at her home.

BRITAIN AND RUSSIA

Further Difficulty Over North Sea Outrage.

ROOSEVELT'S OFFER OFFENDS RUSSIA

English Inquiry Proceeding at Hull. Fishermen Saw None but Russian Warships—Fishing Fleet Was Unarmed.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The inquiry which Great Britain conducts on her own behalf into the North sea incident has opened at Hull. Vice Admiral Bridge and Butler Aspinall, an admiralty court lawyer, who were appointed to conduct the inquiry and whose report will form the basis of the British case before the international commission at Paris, presided.

The first witness was Managing Director Beeching of the Gamecock fleet. He testified that for twenty-five or thirty years the fishing fleets had been trawling off Dogger bank.

The Russian consul asked the first two witnesses if the men of the trawler fleet had reported seeing other warships besides the Russian vessels, but apparently only the Russian vessels had been met.

Some interest was added to the proceedings by the introduction of a tiny model of a trawler. Photographs showing the large lettering and numbers on the funnels and sides of the trawlers attacked were also presented.

Witnesses all denied that any arms, ammunition or contraband were on board the trawlers. There was no room, it was added, to carry a torpedo.

Dispatches from St. Petersburg say that a difference has developed between Great Britain and Russia over the language of the article in the North sea convention relative to the question of responsibility. At the foreign office it is said that Russia does not desire to in any way recede from the basis of the agreement, but she proposes a modification of the language submitted in the English text. The admiralty, it is understood, contended all along that the international commission should confine its inquiry to the establishment of the question whether torpedo boats were off the Dogger bank and whether in any event the Russian ships were justified in firing.

Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's detailed report shows that some shots from the battleships hit the Russian protected cruiser Aurora, one of the shells entering the wardroom and wounding a priest, who afterward died at Tangier from the injuries which he sustained.

The Russian admiralty contends that this is additional proof of the good faith of the vessels which fired on what they believed to be torpedo boats, not having seen either the fishing vessels or their own ships of the cruiser division.

There is a deep seated suspicion among the Russian people that if the Baltic fleet arrives close to its destination in an efficient condition Great Britain will in some way find a pretext to block its further progress, and some of the newspapers refer to the necessity for mobilizing troops on the Indian frontier, where Russia now has two army corps, as a "counter threat to guarantee the safe passage of the squadron."

The reiteration of the statement that President Roosevelt, having the support of Great Britain and France, had already been approached by Japan and was ready to offer his offices in view of Russia's position is not considered to be a friendly act.

Russia will push the war on an ever increasing scale, and preparations to do so are being made everywhere.

Death Follows Baltic Fleet.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—The foreign office has been informed from Dakar, on the extreme point of Cape Verde, of the death of Lieutenant Nelidoff, son of the Russian ambassador at Paris. Lieutenant Nelidoff commanded the hospital ship Orel, attached to Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet. The ship was fitted out in France under the personal supervision of Mme. Nelidoff and largely through contributions from French sympathizers with Russia. Yesterday morning Admiral Rojestvensky telegraphed Mme. Nelidoff thanking her for her efforts for the equipment of the Orel, and later he telegraphed the tragic news of the death of her son.

Plainfield, N. J., Nov. 16, 1904.

Lack of confidence in the Democratic party undoubtedly is responsible for the overwhelming victory achieved by the Republicans at the election last week. The great mass of the American people and they are more intelligent than any other on the face of the globe, have witnessed the shifting and unreasonable policies, if such they may be called, of the party which still parades the sacred name of Thomas Jefferson as its father. That Mr. Roosevelt's magnetic personality contributed to the unparalleled success of the Republican party is conceded, but without him as the candidate the dominant party would have carried the country. The New York Evening Globe publishes an excellent editorial on the subject which we believe to be the most sensible and precise of any we have read. For the benefit of The Daily Press readers who may not have seen it, the editorial is reproduced in full:

Why should Judge Parker and Mr. Bryan waste so many words in explaining what happened to their party on Tuesday? Why, above all, should they charge more or less explicitly that money of the trusts and corporations was instrumental in securing the result? Do they really think that more than half the American people can be bought with cash? As Judge Parker runs his eyes down that table of Republican pluralities in every state in the Union in which there was a free and fair vote, with its stupendous total of a million and a half or a million and three-quarters, where does he find warrant for the statement of his address to his party that the Republicans won because they "gladly entered into partnership with trusts to secure money for election purposes?" What does it mean when all the great and small states of the land above the line of the solid south roll up unprecedented pluralities for the Republican ticket? To say that money could buy such pluralities as were recorded in New York, Ohio, Illinois, and all the states of the middle and far west is to insult the American people and impeach the intelligence of the man who says it. The whole truth is stated in a few words by Senator Gorman when he says: "The truth is the Democratic party does not enjoy the confidence of the people. The record of the past few years has made a majority of the voters distrust the party. The young men were not with us in this campaign." No amount of money would have sufficed to bring about so stupendous a victory if the people had not been at heart in favor of Roosevelt's election, and a campaign fund of a hundred millions would not have been powerful enough to buy a victory for Parker. Tweed, in the early days of his decline and fall, said sadly: "There are some elections in which money don't count." We have just held one of them, the most remarkable the country has ever witnessed. Messrs. Bryan and Parker merely impeach their own intelligence when they appear before the public as unable to see what has happened. The longer they refuse to recognize the plain and obvious truth the longer will they and their party remain in the wilderness of hopeless defeat. There is no possibility of obscuring the meaning of the election. On one side was a party in which the country had no confidence whatever and on the other side a party which had won the complete and even enthusiastic confidence of the country, including all its financial, commercial, and industrial interests. If there had been no campaign work, the result would have been substantially the same. Undoubtedly the President's extraordinarily attractive personality had great influence with the voters, but firmly as the American people believed in his character and ability they believed no less firmly in the policies which he represents and in the party which is behind him, and whose chosen leader he is. The more his personality was assailed the higher rose the popular enthusiasm for him, and this undoubtedly swelled to their enormous proportions the pluralities he received; but none the less he was strong in his cause and in his party because under his leadership it had shown itself to be a "party fit to govern." He was elected on his letter of acceptance, which put the case before the people in a manner so clear and so convincing as to leave nothing more to be said. What the country has said to the Democratic party is: "You are not fit to govern." In the graphic words of Bourke Cockran, the "Democratic party has been licked to death" by the people because of their utter lack of faith in both its character and ability. As the late William C. Whitney said four years ago, the "party has neither men nor principles," and until it can lay in a supply of both it will continue to be "licked to death" whenever the people get a square chance at it.

—F. L. C. Martin and Douglas Martin, of Park avenue, have gone to Detroit, Mich., on a business trip.

SAFE AND SANE PARADE AN IMPOSING FUNCTION

BROKE RANKS AT INNOCUOUS DESUETUDE AFTER LONG TRAMP.

Notwithstanding the Parkerian chilliness, due to an extreme cold wave of Jacksonian apathy which swept over the country last week, the united Democrats of Plainfield and North Plainfield held a solemn parade at midnight last night. The line of march was from the local headquarters to the political graveyard, countermarching to "Innocuos Desuetude" on River Salt. Out of respect to the paraders the "common people" did not witness the function.

The procession moved as follows:

Ice wagon driven by Al. Staats.

LaVere's band attired in black, playing "And the Parrot Said Get Out."

Parker Independent Club members bearing a manifesto of danger and each carrying a copy of the Constitution.

James E. Martine, on foot, accompanied by a committee of the Undertakers' Union, wearing a badge inscribed "It was a 16 to 1 shot, and I was hit hard."

Delegation of sixteen Republicans, with Ames Andrews as chief marshal.

Mounted on a platform float, Samuel Sunshine Swackhamer holding volumes of "Lincoln's Sayings" and "Jokes That Adam Told to Eve."

Independent Fife and Drum Corps with muffled drums playing "Good bye, My Lady Love."

Councilman Vincent L. Frazee and Leader David J. Carney (minus carnations.)

Effigy of Frank Shattle with his neck in a noose.

Plainfield's six water wagons each driven by a real survivor of Democracy's lost battles and all members of The Democratic Club of Plainfield.

Mayor Newton B. Smalley and Senator Reed throwing mud pies at a picture of Lew Thompson.

"City Judge" John P. Owens dressed in deep mourning and carrying a bundle of letters promising suppers.

Monster telegram inscribed "When Bryan asked me Parker's views on the money question I told him I didn't know. (Signed) David B. Hill"

Six Democrats from Warren county who voted straight.

Henry Rogers, of Washingtonville, distributing soup checks saved from 1893.

Hon. Tunis Melick, Mayor of Pluckemin, in evening dress, shouting, "Don't it beat all."

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

Some small boys who were enjoying themselves on North avenue last evening, by playing football, accidentally kicked the ball into a large window in Vail & Alberts' store. They captured the ball, which fell outside, and escaped before it was found out who they were.

Arthur Bogardus has organized a football team which will play the New Market team in New Market on Thanksgiving day morning. The team is made up of young players, but they all know the game and will probably give the heavy New Market team a tussle.

The Young Ladies' Card Club met at the home of Miss Marjorie Burke, yesterday afternoon. The prizes were two of the latest books. The first was won by Miss Janie Churchill and the second by Miss Emma Craig.

An entertainment will be given in the Methodist church on Friday evening, and a very interesting programme has been prepared. Miss Brewer, an elocutionist, of Westfield, will speak.

A dance will be given in Apgar's Hall this evening under the auspices of the Holy Name Society of St. John's Catholic church. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

A. B. Opdyke, Jr., and family have rented an apartment in New York city and will remove from their present home on Washington avenue about December 1.

Hervey Birch is probably the most lucky hunter in Dunellen at present. He shot eight rabbits in two hours yesterday morning.

A stewards' meeting will be held in the Methodist church this evening after prayer meeting.

Earl Wyhusky has resigned his position with the Snare & Triest Company, contractors.

Mrs. H. S. Garretson is entertaining her mother, Mrs. E. M. Garretson, of New Brunswick.

Football practice was held on Washington avenue, near the depot, last evening.

John Logan is detained at his home by an injury to his leg.

Harvey Giles has accepted a position with a New York firm.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Judge Clark is not in business for his health. When the contract cases of Pace against Tice and Fury against Tice were called in his court yesterday afternoon, neither plaintiff or defendant were on hand. The court promptly dismissed the cases. All charges had been prepaid, as the court does only a cash business.

The monthly social of the Baptist Sunday-school was held last night in the church parlors. The Bible class had charge of the pleasant affair, and an entertaining programme was rendered, which was enjoyed by the school and its friends.

The usual Union Thanksgiving services of the several churches in town will probably not be held this year, as it is said no arrangements have been made for such a meeting.

John Wade, who was called here by the death of his brother, has returned to his studies at the Dickinson Preparatory School.

Mrs. Frank Perry, of McKinley avenue, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Henry Schreiner, of Mountain avenue.

Ernest Wilson, of Newark, has been spending several days with Louis Morel, of Park avenue.

Frank McNair, of Belleville, has been visiting relatives and friends in town for a few days.

The West Side Hotel looks neat in its new coat of paint.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

The Lehigh Valley's coaling station located just below the local depot is one of the few plants of this kind in the country and at the same time one of the largest. It is equipped with modern, costly machinery that is capable of loading an engine tender with ten tons of coal in one minute. In the course of a day it is able to remove from cars and carry to upper compartments in the main building for use as needed, 1,000 tons of anthracite. A force of seven men is required to conduct the plant, the superintendent being Frank McMullen, of Perth Amboy. George Smith, of this place, is the engineer.

The township collector, William B. Larue, has advertised sale of lands and tenements for unpaid taxes to take place at the Thornton Hotel, New Market, on Friday, November 18, at 2 o'clock.

Dr. Browning was in town yesterday and stated that Mr. and Mrs. Day, who have been ill with tonsilitis a few days, are much better.

At the prayer and conference meeting at the Baptist church last night the pastor spoke on the subject: "Emphasizing the Fundamentals of the Gospel."

Miss Edith Boylan, of Plainfield, returned home yesterday after spending a week with Mrs. B. F. Harris.

Albert S. Manning has a young hound dog which came to his home a day or two ago.

BEHIND CLOSED PORTALS

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Plainfield Aerie, No. 866, F. O. E., met last evening and initiated four candidates.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., held a regular communication last night when the master mason degree was conferred.

It is expected that nine candidates will be initiated at the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., tomorrow night.

Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., meets this evening. Several candidates are to be initiated and a large amount of business is to be transacted. The rehearsals for the lodge's memorial service, December 4, are progressing favorably.

A permanent organization and an election of officers of the Dramatic Order, Knights of Khorasson, was accomplished by the Knights of Pythias, of Trenton, Monday night. The new organization starts with a membership of 100 and it is expected that many members from other towns will become affiliated in a short time.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Workmen are engaged in erecting a new chimney at Muhlenberg Hospital. The chimney was furnished by Levering & Garrigues.

—Attention is called to the change in the advertisement of the entertainment to be given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday evening.

—Neuman Brothers received today a consignment of fresh roasted Old Government Java and Java and Mocha coffees. Either brand will make breakfast the most delicious repast of the day.

—Dr. Mattison, of Somerset street, has changed his plans about going South. Instead of leaving at present, he will wait another month and then return later in the spring so as to avoid the usually bad weather at that time of the year.

—A woman's fur collar was lost on North avenue by Mrs. George A. Strong, of Central avenue, who advertised it in The Press. Mrs. Harvey Armstrong, of East Sixth street, a reader of the paper, found the collar and promptly returned it to the owner. Daily Press advertising pays.

—The Ithaca Conservatory Concert Company, which is to appear in the Y. M. C. A. Hall on Saturday evening, has an enviable record. Their tours are extended through twenty different states, and they have received a splendid list of press notices and personal endorsement. The Camden, N. J., Courier says: "Despite the inclement weather, an audience of eleven hundred greeted the Ithaca Conservatory Concert Company. * * * At times three encores."

BRAINS AND ENERGY.

A COMBINATION THAT NOTHING CAN KEEP DOWN.

It Enabled Alfred J. Davidson to Rise from a Small Station Agency to the Management of the 'Frisco System.

St. Louis Special.

Much has been said and written about the wonderful career of Benjamin L. Winchell, president of the Rock Island system, who began his career 20 years ago as junior clerk in the mechanical department of the Hannibal & St. Joseph road with a salary of ten dollars a month. Less known to the world, says G. Troy, a well-known correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, but not less unique is the career of Alfred J. Davidson, who was elected president of the Frisco system at the time Mr. Winchell came into his present position. The Frisco system is about the size of the Rock Island, over which Mr. Winchell formerly presided, and it now embraces the St. Louis & San Francisco, the Chicago & Eastern Illinois and the Evansville & Terre Haute lines, including 7,000 miles of way and branching into 12 states and territories.

Mr. Davidson rose through the nerve-racking way of telegraph operator for many years to baggage master and to his present prominent position by earnest, persistent endeavor at all stages of his career.

He went into the railroad service in 1880 at the age of 16, taking the position of station baggage master on the Chicago & Alton line at Lexington, Ill. With time on his hands he seized his opportunity to master telegraphy. Perhaps he didn't realize it at the time, but he had taken his first step toward the thoroughfare to good luck. When the first vacancy occurred at the little station he stepped into the position as operator and agent. Here might have been a lifetime job, and many a young man would have hung to it with dogged tenacity. But the Cotton Belt offered him a place with a larger opportunity. Without hesitation the stone rolled from the secure little office position in 1884 and went to Cairo, taking a place as foreman on a freight transfer platform. A rushing business at that point furnished him an opportunity to show what he could do. Within a year he was transferred to one of the busiest points on the Cotton Belt line in Texas, where for three years he served in the capacity of operator, train dispatcher and clerk in the general freight office.

ALFRED J. DAVIDSON.
(Rose from Station Agent to Head of Big Railway System.)

The position of train dispatcher was a new one, with prospects. In 1885 Mr. Davidson came to the front in that profession, taking a position of chief train dispatcher for the San Antonio & Arkansas Pass railroad at San Antonio, Tex.

Serving in turn as chief dispatcher and trainmaster, he remained with this railroad for five years, thoroughly acquainting himself with the details of railroad business. When the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe company looked about for a new division superintendent at Fort Worth in 1893 it could find no man better equipped for the place than Mr. Davidson, and he accepted the appointment. From that time his promotion was rapid. On January 1, 1897, he became superintendent of transportation on the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad; on July 1, 1900, was made general superintendent of the same line; and on April 5, 1904, was elected president of the Frisco system

Mr. Davidson is hard at work daily He has an office in St. Louis and one in Chicago, and he divides his time between them. That he has made his rise in the short period of 25 years is remarkable; ordinarily it takes much longer to accomplish such results in railroading. Mr. Davidson is now only 41 years old. Always he has had unusual physical power and endurance; he has had the wisdom to preserve it; he has had the power of concentrating his native strength on his work, and he has kept a keen eye for the best interests of his companies.

A Thread-and-Needle Tree.

The wonders of botany are apparently inexhaustible. One of the most remarkable specimens is the Mexican maguey tree, which furnishes a needle and thread all ready for use. At the tip of each dark green leaf is a slender thorn needle that must be carefully drawn from its sheath at the same time it slowly unwinds the thread, a strong, smooth fiber attached to the needle and capable of being drawn out to a great length.

STOCKYARDS BURNED.

Jersey City Visited by Early Morning Fire—Loss, $200,000.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 16.—Destroying four large wooden buildings in which were penned live hogs and sheep, a fire in the stockyards here early in the morning caused a loss of $200,000.

As the fire lighted up the sky the grunts and squeals of 500 hogs, 300 sheep and 50 calves, which were roasted alive, penetrated the air. At the height of the fire a spectacular incident occurred when two huge smokestacks toppled over.

The fire raged from 3 until 9 o'clock and ate its way over a space 800 by 200 feet. The flames were checked when they reached the large pens, where most of the cattle were kept.

The stockyards, which are situated at the foot of Sixth street, below Henderson street, extend along the Hudson river for half a mile.

Shortly after 3 o'clock a watchman sniffed burning straw and soon discovered a blaze in the fat rendering establishment. This grew in fierceness so quickly that a third alarm was necessary. When the firemen arrived they found difficulty in gaining access to the yards, and six tugs from the various railroads beat them in getting streams to play on the blaze. Soon the fire, fanned by a north wind, spread to the hog abattoir, then to the sheep abattoir and next to the engine and boiler rooms.

In addition to the live stock burned there was in the various abattoirs more than 3,000 dressed carcasses, which the flames consumed.

By the destruction of the engine building the power for the refrigerating plant, the electric dynamos and for heating the various buildings was cut off. Consequently the 1,000 head of dressed beef in the abattoir near the river must be disposed of at once. The entire work of the yards will be stopped for a number of months.

This fire is the first since the entire yards were swept away in 1891.

Platt Breakfast of Buckwheat Cakes.

OWEGO, N. Y., Nov. 16.—At the Platt breakfast here Senator Platt received a great ovation as he rose to speak, and it was several minutes before he could proceed. He said they were here to eat a platter of buckwheat cakes in honor of President Roosevelt. He said there was great virtue in buckwheat. President Roosevelt carried every state where there was a free public expression of opinion and had even broken the solid south. He congratulated the gentlemen present on their splendid victory and said that the coming session of the legislature would have important questions to settle, among which was the selection of a successor to Senator Depew. He then paid a tribute to Senator Depew which caused enthusiastic cheers.

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

DRESSMAKING POINTERS.

Some Timely Hints For the Home-made Negligee and Tea Gown.

Every woman who knows what real comfort is would prefer to go without an extra hat or gown rather than do without a comfortable lounging frock, one that may do duty either as a dressing or tea gown to slip into in the "off" moments when resting. A satisfactory gown of this sort is not really easy to procure ready made at a moderate price. It is true there are plenty of cheap dressing gowns to be had, but as a rule they are far from smart. The same outlay will purchase better material, and if your own handiwork goes into the making you have a most presentable possession.

With regard to the fabric used, there are any number of veilings, cashmeres and wash flannels that are very suitable, but if it is to be worn as a home tea gown velveteen in some delicate art shade would be a more imposing material.

The gown illustrated is carried out in one of the new spotted cashmeres which are now so modish. This robe may be easily cut by using a well fitting waist pattern as a guide. The gown itself is cut with a back piece seamed down the center and gored to give a spring at the hem. This back piece has a shoulder seam, which is carried out to the edge of the armhole. Side pieces are laid on under the back and extend toward the front, where they are arranged in gathers, where a front piece is carried down the fronts to match the back. The sleeve lining has frills of lace or silk attached to the lower part, and the wing-like oversleeve, edged with the same, is arranged to fall over this. Openings are placed under the overgown at the sides to allow a waistband of velvet or satin ribbon to be passed through and fastened on the left side, leaving the front free to hang loose from the figure. The bands are of plain silk, either stitched by machine or worked in a fancy feather stitch. JUDIC CHOLLET.

NEW MATERIALS.

White Cloth Still Popular—Some New Shades Favored by Fashion.

The new shade of light golden brown or saffron color, which is known by the somewhat unattractive name of "onion" color, is promised a great vogue for winter gowns, but chiefly for the house frock. A dress in this particular tone is attractive carried out in voile with a very short bolero coat over a slip of cream alencon lace, the skirt simply adorned with two deep frills.

Serge and tweed stand first as suitable dress materials, and the former has been brought out with a smooth surface that resembles ladies' cloth and is now made in every sort of shade. It can be had in thin or heavy weight.

A very popular color is a reddish brown which is scarcely a chestnut, a pomegranate or mahogany, but a strange mingling of them all.

White cloth continues to take the lead among the dressy types of tailor built garments such as are worn on smart occasions. One of the favorite trimmings for a frock of this kind are strappings of soft ivory suede.

The dressy bodice pictured has the new elbow sleeve wrinkled in the approved mousquetaire fashion. The same effect is carried out on the bodice itself. A yoke of lace outlined by a small puff and ruffle finishes this dainty creation. JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE MISSISSIPPI BUBBLE

By EMERSON HOUGH

Author of "The Story of the Cowboy," "The Girl at the Railway House," Etc.

"What! Monsieur L'as?" cried the lieutenant. "So the people have found you, have they?"

"It would so seem. They have destroyed my carriage, and they would have killed me," replied Law. "But I perceive it is Capt. Mirabec. 'Twas I who got you your commission, as you may remember."

"Is it so?" replied the other, with a grin. "I have no recollection. Since you are Jean L'as, the late director general, the pity is I did not let the people kill you. You are the cause of the ruin of us all, the cause of my own ruin. Three days more, and I had been a major general. I had nearly the sum in actions ready to pay over at the right place. By our lady of grace, I am minded to run you through myself, for a greater villain never set foot in France!"

"As you like. But most of all, I am now very weary. I would not remain here longer talking. Henri, where are you?"

The faithful Swiss, who had remained close to his employer all the time, and who had been not far from his side during the scenes just concluded, was in a moment at his side. He hardly reached his master too soon, for as he passed his arm about him, the head of Law sank wearily forward. He might, perhaps, have sunk to the ground had he lacked a supporting arm.

At this moment there came again the sound of hoofs upon the pavement. There was the rush of a mounted outrider, and hard after him sped the horses of a carriage, whose driver pulled up close at the curb and scarce clear of the little group gathered there. The door of the coach was opened, and at it appeared the figure of a woman, who quickly descended from the step.

"What is it?" she cried. "Is not this the residence of Monsieur Law?" The officer saluted, and the few loiterers gave back and made room, as she stepped fully into the street and advanced with decision towards those whom she saw.

"Madam," replied the Swiss, "this is the residence of Monsieur L'as, and this is Monsieur L'as himself. I fear he is taken suddenly ill."

The lady stepped quickly to his side. As she did so, Law, as one not fully hearing, half raised his head. He looked full into her face, and releasing himself from the arms of his servant, stood thus, staring directly at the visitor, his face haggard, his fixed eyes bearing no sign of actual recognition.

"Catharine! Catharine!" he exclaimed. "Oh God, how cruel of you to mock me! Catharine!"

The unspeakable yearning of the cry went to the heart of her who heard it. She put out a hand and laid it on his forehead. The Swiss motioned toward the house. And even as the officer wheeled his troop to depart, these two again ascended the steps, half carrying between them a stumbling man, who but repeated mumblingly to himself the same words:

"Mockery! Mockery!"

CHAPTER XLIII.

THE QUALITY OF MERCY.

Within the great house there was silence, for the vistas of the wide interior led far back from the street and its tumult; nor did there arise within the walls any sound of voice or footfall. Of the entire household there was but one left to do the master service.

They entered the great hall, passed the foot of the wide stairway, and turned at the first entresol, where were seats and couches. The servant paused for a moment and looked inquiringly at the lady with whom he now found himself in company.

"The times are serious," he began. "I would not intrude, madame, yet perhaps you are aware—"

"I am a friend of monsieur," replied Lady Catharine. "He is ill. See, he is not himself. Tell me, what is this illness?"

"Madame," said the Swiss, gravely, "his illness is that of grief. Monsieur's failure sits heavily upon him."

"How long is it since he slept?" asked the [illegible] noted the [illegible] replied the Swiss. "He has for the last few days been under much strain. But shall I not assist you, madame? You are, perhaps—pardon me, since I do not know your relationship with monsieur—"

"A friend of years ago. I knew Mr. Law when he lived in England."

"I perceive. Perhaps madame would be alone for a time? If you please, I will seek aid."

They approached the side of the couch. Law's head lay back upon the cushions. His breath came deeply and slowly, not stertorously nor labored.

"How strange," whispered the Swiss, "he sleeps!"

Such was indeed the truth.

"Madame would be alone with monsieur?" asked he. "It will be better."

Lady Catharine Knollys, left alone, gazed upon the sleeper. John Law, the failure, lay there, supine, abased, cast-down, undone, shorn utterly of his old arrogance of mind and mien. Fortune, wealth, even the boon of physical well-being—all had fled from him. The pride of a superb manhood had departed from the lines of this limp figure. The cheeks were lined and sunken, the eye, even had the lid not covered it, lacked the late convincing fire. No longer commanding, no longer strong, no longer gay and debonair, he lay, a man whose fate was failure, as he himself had said.

The woman who stood with clasped hands, gazing at him, tears welling in her eyes—she, so closely linked to his every thought for these many years—

well enough she knew the story of his boundless ambitions, now so swiftly ended. Well enough, too, she knew the shortcomings of this mortal man before her. Even as she had in her mirror looked into her own soul, so now she saw deep into his heart as he lay there, helpless, making no further plea for himself, urging no claim, making no explanations nor denials, no asseverations, no promises. Did she indeed see and recognize again, as sometimes gloriously happens in this poor life of ours, that other and inner man, the only one fit to touch a woman's hand—the man who might have been? Did she see this, and greet again the friend of long ago? God, who hath given mercy, remedy alone sufficing for the ill that men may do, He alone may know these things.

Could John Law failing be John Law succeeding, and in his most sublime success? Upon the wreck and ruin of the old nature could there grow another and a better man? Mayhap the answer to this was what the eye of woman saw. How else could there have come into this great room, so late the scene of turbulent activities, this vast and soothing calm? How else could this man's breath come now so deep and regular and content?

With the dawn there came into the heart of Catharine Knollys a flood of light and joy. Why, she knew not; how, she cared not; yet she knew that the shadows were gone. The same tide of peace and calm might have swept into the bosom of the man before her. He stirred, moved. His eyes opened wide, in their gaze wonder and disbelief, yet hope and longing.

"Catharine," he murmured, "Catharine! Is it you? Catharine! Dear Kate!"

She bent over and softly kissed his face. "Dear heart," she whispered, "I have loved you always. Awake. The day has come. There is another world before us. See, I have come to you, dear heart, for faith, and for love, and for hope!"

BATTLE WITH GAME COCK.

After Struggle of Half an Hour Boy Is Exhausted and at Rooster's Mercy.

After a battle of almost half an hour with a game rooster, Frank Spencer, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer, living north of Lafayette, Ind., was so fatigued and weak from loss of blood that he fell to the floor before the onslaught of the enraged bird and would probably have been killed had it not been for the timely arrival of his mother. The fight between the young farmer and the game chicken was the result of meddling on the part of the former.

Years ago the elder Spencer was quite a sport and raised fighting cocks for mains in different parts of the country, generally for Indianapolis people. He formerly had about 50 birds which he sent to different places, but for the past ten years has not meddled much with the chicken fighting game. He has lived on the farm for about five years and concluded that farming was a little bit better than fighting chickens, anyway.

He kept but one game rooster, having purchased it about two years ago. It was said to be a good fighter and the former chicken raiser thought he would like to have a remnant of his old life about the place. The game chicken could not be left out with the other chickens, as he refused to let any other rooster stay about the place. So "Teddy," as the rooster was called, was put in a large yard all of his own, where he could strut around and crow to his heart's delight.

The old fellow had been left alone for a long time and grew spurs about two inches long and as sharp as needles. The father had often cautioned his son against going into the coop with the rooster, declaring that game chicken would fight him the minute he entered.

The boy thought his father was fooling and on the first opportunity crept into the yard, where Teddy was king. Teddy is a beautiful bird with long, shiny red feathers, and Frank believed that there would be no trouble. He carried a club along with him, however, and to this is partly due the fact that he is at present alive.

As soon as he entered the cage, Teddy was after him, using both spurs and bill in the attack. Frank used his club as best he could in the cramped quarters, but soon tired out. He then used his hands, trying to catch hold of the fowl. Teddy was in his element and dug his sharp spurs into the soft flesh of his victim with vengeance, two of the stabs going through the wrist. The boy finally fell to the floor of the cage with exhaustion, the rooster still keeping up his murderous assault.

Mrs. Spencer climbed into the cage and after a short fight with the then tired rooster, knocked him to one side, grabbed her child and managed to escape.

THE YOUNGEST OF UNIONS

It Is Composed of Janitors, Watchmen, Window Washers, Scrubwomen and Porters.

Chicago Special.

The International Union of Building Employes of America, the youngest national labor organization, with headquarters in Chicago, was formed at Milwaukee in February of this year. The convention was held under the auspices of the American Federation of Labor, with which the union has been affiliated since its formation. In its membership it includes elevator conductors and starters, window washers, janitors, night watchmen, janitresses, scrubwomen, porters and attendants in hospitals and insane asylums. At the time of its organization there were 12 local unions represented by 23 delegates at the convention, but in the few months of its existence it has grown until at the present time it has 24 locals affiliated with a membership of about 2,500. There is a broad field for organization work under the jurisdiction of this union, and it intends to start an active campaign to bring members into the fold. Although it has local unions in a number of cities, Chicago is its stronghold, as this class of labor is not organized in the principal eastern cities. The local unions of janitors and window washers have increased their wages on an average 33 per cent. since they organized and the working conditions have been improved. Charles L. Fieldstack is president of the national organization and James McLean is secretary. The former was elected at the convention in February and the latter was appointed by the executive board to fill a vacancy.

MECCA FOR THE SICK

WONDERS OF ST. WINEFRIDE'S WELL IN WALES.

Marvelous Stories Are Told and Believed in England of the Cures Wrought There—Blind Girl Made to See.

London (Eng.) Special.

While thousands of the more fortunate of the earth are flocking from all parts of the world to continental spas to seek or recruit health, there is another army, smaller, it is true, but still numerous, of whose pilgrimage the papers tell us nothing, making its way to a Mecca in Flintshire, on a similar quest.

They are a strange crowd, of all classes and afflicted by almost every ill that flesh is heir to—the maimed, the sick, the halt, the blind—all journeying to the shrine of St. Winefride, in the little town of Holywell, near the Dee estuary, in the hope that the miraculous waters of the well may make them whole. For long centuries these waters have wrought their miracles, the blind even have found sight in them, the dumb have had their tongues loosened, and the crippled have thrown aside their crutches and leaped in the joy of their recovery; and what has happened to others may, they think, also be the happy lot of every one of these pilgrims.

St. Winefride's well had its birth nearly 13 centuries ago, and a strangely romantic story is told of its origin—how the stream gushed forth from the ground on which the murdered daughter of a Welsh chieftain, the beautiful Winefride, fell; and ever since the water has flowed, bringing healing with it, until a mere list of all the miracles it has wrought would fill volumes.

Over this wonderful well the mother of King Henry VII. built the exquisite little chapel which is its shrine to-day. Beneath this chapel, in a vaulted chamber of beautiful architecture, is the well on which the sculptured figure of St. Winefride looks down from under an elaborately-carved canopy; by the side of the well is a stone on which the bathers, after leaving the water, kneel in prayer, while all around, hanging from the roof and resting against the pillars, are crutches and other invalid appliances which the pilgrims, restored to vigor, have left behind them as votive offerings.

In a neighboring chamber is a spacious bath surrounded with dressing-rooms. Here the pilgrims bathe in the healthful waters and call on "St. Winefride, most admirable virgin, even in this unbelieving generation still miraculous," to pray for them. For 15 hours every day, but chiefly during the summer months, the pilgrims bathe in these waters, and offer up incessant petitions to St. Winefride, and on certain days the banner of the saint is carried to the well by chanting priests, followed by a long procession of pilgrims and residents.

Wonderful stories are told of the miracles wrought in this small Welsh town, and, however skeptically some may regard them, they are at least entitled to a respectful reception. That marvelous cures have been wrought is beyond question, and it is the writer's duty to chronicle them, and not to attempt to explain them. In one case, so the records state, a father brought his dead child and laid it on the altar, there to rest during the night before burial. To the amazement of all, when morning came the child was found restored to life and clamoring for food.

In another case a woman whose body had for years been racked and terribly deformed by rheumatism, and who had tried all the waters of the continent in vain, was able to stand for the first time for many a year the moment she entered the waters of the Holy Well, and after two more immersions was able to walk without assistance.

A girl who had been blind from birth was restored to sight on dipping her head once in the water of the well, and a dumb child began to speak after a little of the water had been poured into his mouth. These are but samples of the miracles said to have been wrought by the well of St. Winefride; nor is the virtue due to any medicinal quality in the water, since analysis proves that, beyond a little chalk and sulphate of lime, it contains nothing to which any healing virtue could possibly be credited.

Two matters of importance to American Methodism were set in motion when the Methodist bishops, meeting in New Haven, named under the direction of the last General Conference, two commissioners, one on the consolidation of Methodist benevolent societies, and the other on the unification of the Book Concern.

The results of last Sunday's general elections throughout Italy, which will be completed by balloting tomorrow in contested districts, have been gratifying to the Vatican authorities. The permission granted to Catholics in individual cases to present themselves as candidates for Parliament was given principally as an experiment, and in the majority of cases they were elected by large pluralities. It is the first time since the occupation of Rome by the Italian Government that Catholics have been allowed by the Vatican to take part in political elections. A reason given for prolonging the prohibition was that the Catholic party would never be able to secure a majority in the lower chamber. The elections just held indicate that such is not the case, and it is thought likely that the non-expedit of former years will be entirely abolished and Catholics all over the country will be organized for the purpose of sending to Parliament representatives who will favor the church.

CONGREGATIONALISTS CONTINUE CELEBRATION

MANY MINISTERS PARTICIPATE IN A FELLOWSHIP MEETING.

Equalling in interest the service of Sunday in celebration of its twenty-fifth anniversary, the fellowship meeting in the Congregational church last evening was in keeping with the observance. It was largely attended by prominent divines of the denomination and by members of other local congregations.

The opening exercises were in charge of Rev. Herbert J. Thompson, of the Bound Brook Congregational church and among those who took part were Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie and Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, both of this city; Rev. Dr. F. W. Baldwin, of East Orange, and Rev. Dr. J. R. Danforth, of Westfield. Dr. A. H. Bradford, of Montclair, who preached the sermon at the installation of Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, was unable to be present. In place of his address, a letter from him was read.

Special music was rendered by a quartette composed of Miss Etta Raybert, Mrs. S. H. Tugwell, Fred S. Cutter, and Elmer E. Runyon, and it was one of the features of the service. Miss Jessie Utter presided at the organ and Miss Alberta Waterbury at the piano.

No service will be held this or tomorrow evening, the next one being Friday night, which will conclude the anniversary observance.

BAREFOOT TO SAVE SHOES

Pretty Denver Stenographer Creates Genuine Sensation When She Appears on Streets.

A pretty blond stenographer created a sensation on Fifteenth street, Denver, Col., during a recent storm. She had gone out to lunch, and when she left the restaurant she saw that it would be impossible to return to an office in the Mining Exchange building, where she was employed, without damaging her new white low shoes and a pair of fancy stockings. So she deliberately removed the shoes and stockings and started down the street barefooted.

Policeman Michael Horkans stood at the corner of Fifteenth and Curtis streets when he saw the young woman coming down the street. She was followed by a big crowd and she was running to escape. In her hand she carried her shoes and stockings. Horkans attempted to find out what all the trouble was about, but the young woman disappeared in the Mining Exchange building.

"What did you do it for?" asked the policeman.

"I had no idea it would attract any attention," replied the young lady. "I had to get back here in a hurry and I didn't want to ruin my shoes." On the desk in front of her were the shoes, a pair of white kids.

MAKE MONEY AS FARMERS.

Women in Various Parts of the Country Who Have Taken Up Farming in Practical Way.

One of the interesting features of modern feminine industry is the extent to which women are following the latter day cry: "Back to the land." Mrs. Harriet M. King has a good right to her western title of "cattle queen," for her ranch near San Antonio, Tex., is larger than many of those German principalities which have given monarchs to reigning houses of Europe. Her Santa Gertrude ranch is 90 miles long, and includes 1,500,000 acres within its barbed wire fences; it is nearly twice as large as Rhode Island. Two thousand employes care for its 100,000 cattle and 50,000 sheep. The income of the ranch is between $300,000 and $400,000 a year, and the owner laughed at the offer of a cattle syndicate to buy it for $6,000,000 a year or two ago. Mrs. King is the personal manager of this vast domain. The second great woman land owner of the west is Mrs. F. H. Kriesman, of St. Louis. Her L. S. ranch near Tascosa, Tex., is 30 miles square. Mrs. Kreisman understands both the raising and selling of cattle, being a practical woman and business woman.

Miss Austin, a San Francisco schoolteacher, starting with a small vineyard near Fresno, was the pioneer in packing raisins in attractive form for the high-class market. She introduced a number of improvements, both in the vineyard and the packing house. The Washington navel orange industry of California sprang from the planting of trees from Brazil by Mrs. Tibbetts, of Riverside, and Mrs. E. G. Shields originated the pampas plume industry, which was for some years very profitable. Mrs. Shields is a member of the state board of trade, and has a magnificent fruit farm of 250 acres in Sacramento valley, in which she began 20 years ago, a widow, with no capital except a houseful of children. Miss Clara Wilbur, of New Haven, Conn., specializes on violets and carnations, and as she becomes better established intends to specialize on orchids and other fragile and high-priced blooms.

Radiator as an Incubator.

While carrying on a series of experiments in his laboratory with chicken life during the embryonic stages, Dr. Counter, a young dentist, of Toledo, succeeded in hatching a chicken by means of an ordinary steam radiator. The egg was placed in a small paper box and hung from the radiator during the period of incubation. At the end of the 21 days the chick was hatched, and has since been kept in a paper suit box, about three by one and one-half feet, with a little shelter in the corner of it. The box is hung near the radiator, and its inmate, now three weeks old, is as strong and vigorous as one could expect a chicken to be raised under natural conditions.

A Bridge Built of Coffins.

A curious bridge was built by the British troops in 1860, when they were marching on Peking. They found their progress barred by a river of considerable width and depth. A timber party was formed, but found nothing to cut down or confiscate suitable for a bridge. At last a huge store of coffins was discovered in the village, and with these the soldiers built their bridge and crossed alive over the receptacles for the dead.

LAST OF GRIGGS' LECTURES

Shakespearian Course Concluded Yesterday Afternoon.

"THE FINAL ATTITUDE"

Professor Spoke of "The Tempest" as the Summary of Shakespeare's Own Life.

Concluding a course of six interesting and instructive lectures on Shakespeare, Professor Edward Howard Griggs delivered a talk yesterday afternoon in Vincent chapel on "The Final Attitude," taken from "The Tempest." More of a romance, said the speaker, than a tragedy, "The Tempest" is of calmer action, more peaceful, and on the whole the broadest interpretation of human life which ever came from the pen of Shakespeare. In this play the great writer has shown a deeper insight into morality, and whereas in his other tragedies he has portrayed worldly consequences and results, in "The Tempest" he has looked further into the soul and has risen to the crowning ethical height of his literary genius.

That this drama, calm and peaceful, should have come near the close of Shakespeare's life, after the great author had struggled through the mystery of Hamlet, experienced the ethical awakening which came at the time when he wrote the "Merchant of Venice," and finally arrived at the attitude when forgiveness seems better than revenge, is significant of the author's conception of humanity. The wisdom born from experience had shown him how insignificant, and yet how infinite, life is.

The character of the whole play, as the lecturer presented it, is Prospero. It is the marvelous intellectual power of this man, like the philosophy of Hamlet, yet with additional power of action, that is the background for the entire drama. His worshipful love of his daughter, Miranda, his tactful control of Arial and Caliban, his quick thought and action, and above all his co-operation with destiny, mark him as a broader character than Hamlet. It was this additional breadth of character that led Prospero not to seek for vengence when his enemies had bowed before him, but to turn to forgiveness, and peace.

If it may be premitted "to identify the master with the creation," as the lecturer said, the life of Prospero is an accurate summary of Shakespeare's own life, and Prospero's laying aside of his magic and his art, is parallel with Shakespeare's retirement from the literary world.

MR. HALL'S ADDRESS.

Plainfield Man Speaks at the New Jersey Sunday-School Convention.

Plainfield was well represented at the forty-third anniversary convention of the New Jersey Sunday-school Association at Burlington, yesterday. Among those participating was George E. Hall, of Netherwood, who gave an address on "The Planning of the Work for the Coming Year." F. H. Jacobs, the well-known evangelist, had charge of the praise service.

The programme continued through the day and had in all 200 numbers. The attendances were so large that several overflow meetings had to be held.

Floor Marked for Basket Ball.

The gymnasium floor of the Y. M. C. A. has recently been marked out with white lines outlining the basket ball field and showing the center circle and foul lines. A circle twelve feet in diameter has been inscribed around both of the foul lines, outside of which players must stand when a foul is being thrown. Both in respect to size and to light, the local Y. M. C. A. floor is by far the best basket ball field in the city, as there are no posts to interfere with the play, and as the side lines are on all four sides of the floor.

Gas Stove Makes Trouble.

A gas stove left burning in the tailoring shop of John Praed, on Park avenue, set fire to a box and the floor beneath shortly before 9 o'clock last evening. It was discovered by Ernest Austin, passing at the time, who turned in an alarm from box 13. The firemen forced an entrance and soon remedied the trouble. A few minutes' headway and a disastrous blaze would have resulted, as a large quantity of clothing and goods was nearby.

Sheriff to Live at Somerville.

Sheriff-elect Edward E. Cooper, who took the oath of office before Judge Schenck at Somerville, Tuesday, will soon take up his residence at the county seat. John L. Anderson is to be retained by Mr. Cooper as his deputy.

HASBROUK INSTITUTE DEFEATED BY P. H. S.

LOCAL BASKET BALL TEAM OUTPLAYS JERSEY CITY AGGREGATION.

Close guarding, accurate shooting, and superior team work won the basket ball game for the Plainfield High School yesterday afternoon against the team of the Hasbrouck Institute by the score of 25 to 15. The game was played on the local Y. M. C. A. floor, and was well attended by supporters of both schools.

The feature of the game was Collier's goal throwing. He made ten baskets during the game, several being long, difficult throws. At the close of the first half the score was 13 to 7, and about the same number of points were tallied by each side in the second period of the game.

For the Hasbrouck team, Appleton and Tompkins played the best. The latter made one throw over half the length of the floor.

The following is the summary: Plainfield High School—Collier and Vail, forwards; Freeman, center; Gavett and Stutsman, guards. Hasbrouck—Stork and Tompkins, forwards; Martin, center; Maver and Appleton, guards. Goals from the field, Collier 9, Freeman, Appleton 3, Tompkins 3, Stork. Goals from fouls, Gavett 4, Freeman, Stutsman, Collier, Stork.

FORMER GOVERNOR MAY BE CHANCERY CLERK

REPORT THAT F. M. VOORHEES, NOT JOS. CROSS, MAY SUCCEED STOKES.

When asked if he would accept the clerkship of the Court of Chancery, Senator Cross, of Elizabeth, replied by asking how he could accept or decline a position which had not been offered to him, and added that all he knew about the matter was what he had heard at Trenton. Inquiries from those in position to know elicited no more definite information on the subject. Further developments led to the belief that Mr. Cross would not be appointed to the clerkship, but would be the president of the Senate.

This has revived the speculation as to who would probably obtain the rich plum of the Chancery office. Some wonder was expressed as to why Daniel S. Voorhees, of Morris, should covet the position. Still Mr. Voorhees is confident in his ability to land the position. The name of another Voorhees was mentioned in connection with the place, and there were many who were perfectly willing to bank on his chances of securing the prize. This was Foster M. Voorhees, of Elizabeth, the former Governor, who appointed the Governor-elect to the office. Although Mr. Stokes has said that Governor Murphy would appoint his successor, it is taken for granted that any man he might select would come very near to getting the appointment, and knowing the Damon and Pythian-like relations which have existed between the two young statesmen for many years, the knowing ones were free to say that the former Governor could have the office if he wanted it.

The name of C. Edward Murray, the Republican leader of Mercer, was also mentioned in connection with the clerkship.

Pardon Board to Get to Work.

By order of Governor Murphy, Judges G. D. W. Vroom, John W. Bogert, George R. Gray, William H. Vredenburgh, Elmer Ewing Green and Peter E. Voorhees, all members of the Court of Pardons, have been appointed a committee to investigate the applications for pardons before the next Court of Pardons. This is the same committee as acted last year. December 1 has been set as the last day for the filing of applications for pardons.

Scott Post's Annual Meeting.

The annual inspection of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., will be held Tuesday night, November 22. At the same time there will be nominations for officers to serve for the ensuing year. A number of visiting comrades will be present and a collation will be served by the Women's Relief Corps. The annual election of officers will be held on Tuesday evening, December 13.

—Charles H. Palmer, of Chicago, National superintendent of the Gideons and other prominent Gideons, will address the Y. M. C. A. meeting on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. There will be an unusually strong musical programme.

FIGHTING RECLUSE'S WILL

Second Attempt to Frustrate Her Disposition of Wealth.

SEEK A COMPROMISE

Somerville Woman Bequethed $68,000 to Charity, Cutting Off Relatives.

Porter Lord, of New York, made a second attempt to break the will of his half sister, Miss Alleine Lord, who died two months ago in Somerville and left an estate valued at $68,000 to charity after disinheriting her relatives, on Tuesday before Judge Lewis H. Schenck, in the Somerset County Court. Miss Lord was known in this city. Nelson Y. Dungan, counsel for the plaintiff, informed the court that Mr. Lord was ill and could not appear in court. The case was postpond until November 25.

An effort is now being made to obtain the consent of the beneficiaries to a compromise which will enable the plaintiff to obtain a share of his sister's estate.

Miss Alleine Lord was the daughter of Haines Lord, a New York merchant, who, a quarter of a century ago, owned a dry goods store at 170 Duane street, New York. She was a woman of brilliant intellect and many eccentricities, who lived the life of a recluse in a seven-room cottage in an aristocratic quarter of Somerville. She never allowed anyone to enter her house during her life, and when she became ill she left her abode and died at the home of a neighbor.

After her death it was discovered that she had spent the last twelve years of her life in two scantily furnished rooms secretly guarding one of the largest collection of merchandise and family treasures ever hoarded by a woman.

The house from cellar to garret was filled with trunks, barrels and boxes, containing enough merchandise to stock a small department store. These were recently sold at public sale. The sale lasted two weeks, and probably there never was an auction of any kind in any community that furnished a greater sensation or more food for public gossip.

Society women bid high in their strife to gain possession of the rare silks, laces and jewelry, china and bric-a-brac that had been stored away for a quarter of a century by the eccentric recluse. Thousands of dollars were realized by the sale, which will be divided among Miss Lord's beneficiaries if the will remains unbroken.

Just how Miss Lord came into the possession of this houseful of old treasures is a great mystery, which Somerville is expecting will be cleared up at the trial.

The boy was born with a deformity in both legs, making them bowed. The tendons will have to be broken, and the limbs bound in a plaster cast.

What's the Trinity Syndicate?

Papers filed in the Secretary of State's office at Trenton show that "the Trinity Syndicate of Plainfield has changed its location to the borough of Dunellen," according to the Newark News. As far as can be learned there does not appear to be any such corporation in this city.

CHURCH ORGANIZATION HOLDS HARVEST HOME

WOMEN'S SOCIETY FOR CHRISTIAN WORK GIVES ENTERTAINMENT.

Under the auspices of the Woman's Society for Christian Work of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, a harvest home supper and entertainment was given in the parlors of the church last night. The supper was served from 6 to 8 o'clock under the supervision of a committee comprising Mrs. William O. Hubbard, chairman, Mrs. Frank H. Smith and Mrs. Charles H. Dunham, while Mrs. Henry M. Maxson had charge of the dining room, assisted by Mrs. Frank J. Hubbard, Miss Myra Clark, Dr. Martha R. Stillman, Miss Etta Randolph, Miss Eva Rogers, Miss Mildred Green, Miss Mary St. John, Miss Bessie Dunham, Miss Isabelle Randolph, Miss Zilpha Williams, as waitresses. All of the waitresses were dressed in Puritan costumes. After the supper, which was largely patronized, the entertainment was given.

The pastor, Rev. George B. Shaw, read President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving proclamation, after which a cantata entitled "Thanksgiving in Turkey Land" was given by a number of young folks. The words to the various songs were appropriate to Thanksgiving, the music being selected from among the most popular college songs.

The characters and those representing them were: Turkeys, Phillip Mosher, Roy Titsworth, Raymond Manley, Evan Jones, Harold Spicer and Harold Rogers; butcher, Charles P. Titsworth; cook, Miss Cornelia Miller; old man, Rollin Williams; young man, Charles Nagle; old woman, Miss Mildred Green; young woman, Miss Mary St. John; little girl, Miss Jessie Jones; poor boy, Alfred Manley; boys representing bells and spelling the word Thanksgiving, Miss Laura Stillman, Miss Helen Ford, Miss Maudelia Ford, Miss Hannah Shaw, Miss Helen Shaw, Miss Ethel Rogers, Miss Helen Rogers, Miss Frances Mosher, Miss Violet Jones, Miss Ruth Morris, Miss Dorothy Hubbard, Miss Evalois St. John, ; jack-o-lantern boys, Milton St. John, Arthur Titsworth, Raymond Randolph, Joseph Miller.

Those in charge of the entertainment were Miss Ernestine C. Smith, chairman, Miss Jessie Utter, Mrs. Asa F. Randolph. Mrs. F. A. Dunham was the cashier. 7TH-DAY BAPTIST MEET Annual Session of Denomination in District Tomorrow.

AT NEW MARKET

Rev. George B. Shaw to Preach the Customary Sermon—List of Churches Represented.

The yearly meeting of the Seventh-day Baptist churches of New Jersey and New York city, comprising the churches at Marlboro, Shiloh, New Market, Plainfield and New York city, will be held in the New Market Seventh-Day Baptist church commencing tomorrow evening and continuing until Sunday evening. It is expected that there will be large delegations present from all the churches. Entertainment will be provided for the delegates by the members of the New Market church.

The services will begin tomorrow night with a sermon by Rev. E. F. Loofboro, pastor of the New York church, and the prayer and conference service will be in charge of Rev. E. B. Saunders, of Shiloh. Saturday morning Rev. George B. Shaw, of this city, will preach the sermon and in the afternoon a Sunday-school service will be in charge of George R. Crandall, superintendent of the home church Sunday-school.

There will be an important service Saturday night. This will be what is called a welcome service to the new pastor of the New Market church, Rev. Henry N. Jordan. At that time he will be installed as pastor. The former pastor of the church, Rev. L. E. Livermore, of Lebanon, Conn., will have charge of this service.

Rev. E. B. Saunders will preach the sermon Sunday morning and in the afternoon of that day there will be a woman's hour conducted by Mrs. Anna Randolph, of this city, and a layman's hour conducted by Prof. Corliss F. Randolph, of Newark. Sunday evening the services will be concluded with sermon by Rev. S. R. Wheeler, of Marlboro.

More than ordinary interest is centered in the conference because of the fact that there are two new ministers in this association, Rev. Henry N. Jordan, of the New Market church, and Rev. S. R. Wheeler, of Marlboro. Two years ago this conference was held in this city, and it is quite likely that next year it will be held at Shiloh. This matter will be decided during the coming conference.

Rev. George B. Shaw.

Little Girl's Congratulations.

Miss Evelyn Manley, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs John Manley, of Park avenue, is treasuring a letter and card she received yesterday from the Executive mansion at Washington. The letter is President Roosevelt's own and was sent in response to a congratulatory letter which she forwarded at the White House soon after election. Across the card there is inscribed "The President," and below it: "With hearty thanks for your congratulations."

Mission Band Tea.

The Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church will hold a tea tomorrow evening in the lecture room of the church from 6 to 9 o'clock. The entire proceeds will be used in the cause of missions.

Stage to Marconnier.

A stage will leave Trinity Reformed church at 7:15 o'clock this evening for Marconnier chapel, where a musical and literary entertainment will be held.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES END TOMORROW NIGHT

"A FORWARD LOOK" MEETING TO CONCLUDE CELEBRATION.

A Forward Look will be the concluding meeting of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Congregational church which will be held at that church tomorrow evening. It will also mark the social part of the celebration.

Elaborate plans have been made by the committee from the Women's Association for the supper which will be held from 6 to 7 o'clock. Turkey will occupy the place of honor, flanked by all the good things which usually accompany it. The supper will be free to members of the congregation.

From 6 until 8 o'clock, there will be a continuous musical programme. It will include vocal and piano solos, selections on a pianola under the direction of Ralph K. Miner, and selections on a phonograph under the charge of Vincent B. Miner.

A special meeting of the congregation is called for 8 o'clock, when Joseph E. Morse, as chairman of the board of trustees, will present the report of the board on the proposed enlargement of the church. His report will be supplemented with stereopticon views. While the meeting will be of the congregation, others will be welcome.

SUPERIOR OFFICERS HOLD ANNUAL SESSION

CHIEF KIELY ELECTED TRUSTEE AND PLACED ON TWO COMMITTEES.

Chief Kiely and Roundsman Flynn, both of whom are members, were in attendance and represented Plainfield at the annual meeting and dinner of the Superior Officers Protective Association at Newark, yesterday. In the election of officers, the chief was made a trustee for three years and was also placed on two committees, organization and legislation. The banquet which followed the business session was a sumptuous affair, surpassing all previous efforts.

The full election of officers resulted as follows: President, Captain Cleary, of Trenton; vice-president, Chief Tenney, of Elizabeth; treasurer, Captain Peters, of Elizabeth; recording secretary, Sergeant Perrine, of Trenton; financial secretary, Inspector Archibald, of Jersey City. The other trustees beside Chief Kiely are Detective-Sergeant Woodruff, of Atlantic City, and Detective Sergeant Prescott, of Jersey City.

Incorporated to Sell Machines.

Articles of incorporation of the Singer Sewing Machine Company have been filed with County Clerk Calvert. The company is capitalized for $1,000,000. The objects, as set forth, for which this corporation is formulated, are to acquire and take over from the Singer Manufacturing Company of New Jersey and to conduct in the State of New Jersey and elsewhere the business of selling and disposing of the sewing machines and other articles manufactured by said company as said business has heretofore been carried on by it.

TO EXTRADITE SWINDLER

O'Brien to be Handed Over to Baltimore Authorities.

BOGUS CHECK MAN

On Prosecutor English's Advice Self-Confessed Criminal is to be Tried in Maryland.

Acting on the advice of Prosecutor N. O. J. English, Chief Kiely has decided to deliver James O'Brien, the confessed swindler now locked up at headquarters, to the authorities at Baltimore. The evidence against the man, held by the local police, was considered by the prosecutor and he expressed the opinion that the arrest had been made too soon, making it doubtful if a conviction could be secured. As the Baltimore people have a very strong case and O'Brien admits he is the man they are after it was thought the ends of justice would be better met if he were sent to Maryland. He was given a formal hearing before Justice Huff yesterday afternoon and arrangements are now being perfected for his extradition.

The arrest of O'Brien is a great relief to the State Council of the Knights of Columbus, which has been making every effort to wind up his career for a long time. In some way he managed to secure the grip and password of the order and in this way was able to converse with members and win their confidence. The victims of his swindles were invariably connected with the order and complaints have been forwarded to the head officials time and again. The State Council has been apprised of his being in custody and will aid in the prosecution.

O'Brien did not succeed in swindling Undertaker Martin, of Elizabeth, as was stated, but had made all arrangements to as he did with Undertaker Casey in this city. He had prepared a check to pay for the funeral expenses of supposed sister which would net him a profit of $5 when cashed. Martin was wary, however, as a similar game was attempted on him last January by a man claiming to be John Mack, of Plainfield. This fellow was arrested and is now serving a term in State Prison.

In Philadelphia and Baltimore, O'Brien, who was then travelling under the name of Ryan, met with success in his schemes and secured several large amounts. He will be tried on a charge preferred by Evans & Smith, Baltimore undertakers, from whom he secured $40. The Knights of Columbus of Maryland have sent on to Chief Kiely for information and representatives will follow the proceedings.

POWER OF PRAYER.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss' Subject at Mid-Week Prayer Meeting.

Nearly two hundred members of the First Baptist church and congregation attended the mid-week prayer-meeting last night. Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor, was in charge, and he gave a talk on the value and power of prayer, explaining that "when one prays they should have a definite petition" and believe that it will be answered. He said that one is so apt to get in the habit of saying the same prayer every day, a stereotyped phrasing of sentences.

During the evening several special requests for prayer were received and remembered in the prayers offered. At the close of the service a letter of dismissal was granted to Theodore LaRue to join the Park Avenue Baptist church, where Mrs. LaRue is a member.

BOOK NEWS.

It is planned to issue on Thursday of each week items of library news. This will frequently take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject.

Naval war of 1812, or, the history of the United States Navy during the last war with Great Britain; to which is appended an account of the battle of New Orleans.

New York, a historical account.

It was the author's aim less to collect new facts than to draw from the immense storehouse of facts already those which were of real importance in New York history, and to show their true meaning, and their relations to one another; to sketch the workings of the town's life, social, commercial, and political, at successive periods, with their sharp transformations and contrasts; and to trace the causes which gardually changed a little Dutch trading-hamlet into a huge American city!

AMUSEMENTS.

Patrons of what is best in music have followed with keen interest Henry W. Savage's production for the first time in English of "Parsifal" which is now at the New York theatre. For the first time in the history of opera in England or America, a work of this magnitude has been sung in English and produced on a scale equal to that which prevails in the best opera houses of the continent. The significance attached to this is not limited to this single achievement. It carries the larger meaning that grand opera in English, produced and sung in a befitting manner, with a text which is both singable and sensible, has been made possible and at a cost to the public which enables all classes to enjoy it. In response to a majority of the suggestions he has received, the hour for beginning the evening performance has been changed from 6 to 7:15. The intermissions will be shortened, the interval between the first and second acts reduced by one hour. The final curtain will be at 11:5. The matinees on Wednesdays and Saturdays will begin at 11 o'clock with an hour's intermission between the first and second acts

THE BOWERY JOHNNY

UNIQUE PRODUCT OF NEW YORK CITY CIVILIZATION.

How He Meets His Juliet, What She Says to Him and He to Her—Laying the Foundation of a Love Affair.

The Bowery Johnnie, like most other New York institutions, is an original product. You see his like nowhere else. He came into existence with the advent of the traveling burlesque companies which have dominated the cheap variety theaters for the last ten years, and his development has been rapid.

Like his Broadway brother, says the New York Sun, the Bowery Johnnie may be of any age over 15. It all depends on the juvenility of his heart. He is just as likely to be a blue-eyed youth with hair parted in the middle, patent leather shoes and the Bowery's latest cut suit and a pocketbook that needs replenishing as he is to be fat and bald headed.

The female members of Bowery burlesque companies are not always devoid of talent or lacking a pretty face. But it is the well built girl who captivates the Johnnie's heart. To see her he waits in front of the theater where the women members of the company usually make their exit, or sits expectant in the cafe, if the theater has a cafe annex, as it usually has. In the latter case he invariably sits vis-a-vis with the object of his adoration waiting to invite her to have a drink.

Naturally, an easy method of introducion is to send the charmer a note, not a sloppy note, but usually very much to the point. A few years ago a minor pugilist whose reputation was based on the fact that he had defeated a man who was once the sparring partner of a boxer who was whipped by Terry McGovern, sent one of these notes to a chorus girl, who was mean enough to show it around. This is what it contained:

I saw de show to-night and wants to meet youse. I'm Mickey the Kid, pugilist and scrapper. If it is allright an youse are on de evil meet me at McGurks after de show. MICKEY THE KID, athlete.

But the average Bowery Johnnie eschews the formality of note writing if he can avoid it. Sometimes he sends news of his intentions to his idol by a stage hand.

"A friend of mine," says Cupid's ambassador, "would like to make a date wit' youse. He's all right. He's a good feller. Don't throw him down, 'cause he's me pal."

Of course, the girl may protest that she has a previous engagement or that she never goes out with strangers, or that she has promised to be home at a certain time. But it is current testimony that she rarely does. She appreciates an invitation to supper, and a tryst is made in the theater cafe. The popular introductory phrase is: "What will you have?" and the lady is expected to say: "Beer," after which the conversation ranges to the weather, the show, etc.

"I'm glad I met you," Romeo will probably say after awhile, "and I hope I'll see you again after to-night."

"Of course I will be pleased to meet you once more," Juliet will reply. "I enjoyed your sociability very much, indeed I did, and that ain't no joke."

"I love the stage," says Romeo, with much earnestness, "and I wish I was an actor. Say, it must be lovely to be an actress."

"Oh, I don't know," answers Juliet. "There are other jobs as good. You see, I hate traveling and appearing in tights. But you know Lillian Russell and Pauline Hall and Lulu Glaser and all those Broadway soubrettes have appeared in tights. I don't say that I can act as good as they can, but I guess I have a better shape, haven't I?"

Which is the chance for which Romeo has been waiting.

"You can bet your life you have," he says with much feeling. "They don't come no better than you."

And he feels then that the foundation of his love affair is well laid.

For suppers the Bowery Johnnie prefers the Chinese restaurants as centers of town gayety. He does not regard favorably expenditure on flowers. Them an up-to-date Bowery Johnnie thinks the height of extravagance.

Wore Mustache After Death.

It is well known that human hair grows after death. This was convincingly demonstrated to a young widow in Liverpool. She attended a spiritualistic seance and in a dim light was shown the specter of her husband. She embraced the specter, found him to be rather warm and substantial for a ghost and rapturously kissed him. Then she made the discovery that although in life "her Jim" always had a closely shaven face, he now wore a luxuriant mustach.

KING CHARLES IN ENGLAND.

State Banquet In Honor of Portuguese Sovereigns.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The state banquet at Windsor castle last night in honor of King Charles and Queen Amelie of Portugal equaled in brilliancy the previous magnificent functions at which European rulers have been the guests of Great Britain's reigning monarchs in the historic St. George's hall.

The dining hall, where 166 guests sat, was built on the site of the feasting place of the Norman kings. As their majesties passed to their places between the rows of guests the latter bowed low and followed, pairing off in order.

The banquet was served on one long table, King Edward sat at the center, with Queen Amelie at his right, and farther to the right was King Charles, with the English queen at his side.

It was a wonderful scene. At either end of the hall great masses of celebrated gold plate were piled under hundreds of electric lights, and the guests formed an avenue of the most brilliant coloring, flashing and sparkling with fabulous wealth of jewels. The music, by the band of the Irish guards, included Portuguese selections. There were only two speeches. That of King Edward toasting King Charles was followed by the playing of the Portuguese anthem, and the British anthem was played when King Charles had responded with a toast of King Edward.

DRIFTED SEVENTY-EIGHT MILES.

Naval Collier Sterling In Fierce Battle With Southern Hurricane.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 17.—The United States naval collier Sterling, Captain George McDonald commanding, which arrived at the navy yard last night, is considerably the worse for wear as a result of the terrific storm along the Atlantic coast, which was encountered Saturday night and Sunday.

The collier left the navy yard at Pensacola on the evening of Nov. 8, bound for this port.

At 8 o'clock Sunday morning the Sterling refused to steer, either to run before the gale or to come head to it. The cabin became flooded, and the main boiler worked in its saddle so violently that it caused the steam pipe to burst. As a result of this accident the steam in the boilers had to be blown out and the engines stopped.

A sea anchor, composed of side ladders and fenders lashed together and attached to seventy fathoms of six inch manila hawser, was placed over the stern of the collier as a drag to prevent her from laying in the trough of the sea. In this condition the collier drifted for seventy-eight miles until Monday morning, when the storm abated.

Kaiser Is In the Best of Health.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—The rumors of a recurrence of Emperor William's throat malady and the necessity for another operation are received with the greatest incredulity in Berlin. The emperor is in the best of health. Yesterday, a wet and raw day, the emperor took a long ride in an automobile, and last Saturday, in similar weather, he delivered a speech to soldiers who were joining the colors. Drizzling rains and Scotch mists are so customary at his majesty's constant appearances at open air functions that this climatic condition has won the name in common parlance of "Kaiser wetter." Only last week the emperor participated in a wild boar hunt and killed fifty-four swine.

Prince Fushimi's Visit.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Prince Fushimi received the diplomatic corps from 4 to 6 o'clock. The ambassadors and ministers were accompanied by their staffs. The presentations were made by Mr. Hioki, the Japanese charge d'affaires. The diplomats did not wear uniform nor was the prince in full dress uniform for the reception. Last night he was the guest at a dinner at the Japanese legation. Prominent officials of the diplomatic corps and of the government were present. The prince will go to Mount Vernon today.

Chinese Repulsed by Rebels.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 17.—The rebels have repulsed the imperial troops at Liuchoweun, in the province of Kwangsi, southern China. They have captured Yuenhaien, Tienhosien, Lochengshien, Huaiyenhsien and Liuchen, five of the principal towns in the province. The merchants and bankers fled from the towns. Viceroy Chow has been ordered to immediately assume the duties of his post and to check the rebels in the Yangtse valley.

Wreck on Pere Marquette.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 17.—A passenger train wreck is reported on the Pere Marquette railroad near Elmdale. Superintendent W. D. Trump, who is in Grand Rapids, says there were no fatalities in the wreck, although several persons were injured. The westbound Detroit train ran into the eastbound Saginaw train on the "Y," where the two divisions branch off.

A Postoffice Employee Removed.

BLEW UP THEIR SHIP

Russian Destroyer Sunk at Chefu by Her Commander.

HAD STOESSEL'S MESSAGE TO CZAR

Rastoropny Brought News From Port Arthur That Retvizan Sank a Japanese Torpedo Boat on Friday Last.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Advices from Chefu telling of the arrival there of the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny from Port Arthur and her destruction by her own crew indicate that grave events are likely to follow in the immediate future. Undoubtedly the daring trip of the little vessel past Togo's blockading fleet was made for the purpose of informing the czar of the exact conditions inside the doomed fortress, and it may be supposed that his ideas on the advisability of a capitulation have been requested. When a Port Arthur war vessel reached Chefu two months ago the world was thrilled by the story of how Admiral Togo had smashed the Russian fleet.

The Chefu dispatch says that the Russians have blown up the torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny. The crew, with the exception of one man, left the destroyer. This last man lighted fuses and blew up the vessel before retreating.

There were three dull explosions, which were scarcely discernible a hundred yards from the place where they occurred. Almost simultaneously the Rastoropny sunk and settled on the bottom.

A battle spar marks her grave. It is impossible to obtain an explanation of the action of the Russians, but it is believed they were determined not to allow a repetition of the Ryeshitelni incident.

It is rumored that the Rastoropny brought a dispatch from General Stoessel at Port Arthur asking the St. Petersburg authorities for instructions as to whether he would continue to hold out, awaiting relief, or make immediate arrangements with the Japanese for surrender upon the most advantageous terms possible.

The commander of the Rastoropny says that he left Port Arthur at midnight of Friday last. He safely passed a Japanese cruiser and some torpedo boats, his lights being extinguished.

The men of the Rastoropny confirm the report that General Stoessel, Russian commander at Port Arthur, has been wounded.

The Rastoropny brought with her copies of the Novi Krai, Port Arthur's military daily, in which it is said that the Russian battleship Retvizan surprised and sank a Japanese torpedo boat destroyer on Nov. 11 while the destroyer was engaged in laying mines.

Advices from Tokyo say that Field Marshal Oyama repulsed an attack by Russian infantry and cavalry at Hinghuntun at 2 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

On Tuesday at noon a force of 3,000 Russians, with eight guns, fired upon the Japanese positions at Toiblaitha and Mamachiai, but did no damage.

General Stoessel's report, sent to Chefu by the destroyer Rastoropny, has not been given out, but it is known that it contains no request for instructions regarding the surrender of Port Arthur. It is intimated that the report goes at considerable length into details of the recent fierce land fighting, but says that the interior line of defenses remained intact. General Stoessel believes he will be able to withstand the Japanese assaults for some time to come. The blockade has been run by a ship with a cargo of war munitions, food and hospital supplies. Some warships in the harbor have been damaged by shell firing, but not seriously. Many guns have been removed from the ships and mounted on shore, where large drafts from the crews are taking turns in aiding the garrison in its heroic defense of the fortress.

An army officer of the czar's household said he was not at liberty to disclose more fully the nature of General Stoessel's report, but said he:

"Only when the last biscuit is eaten and the last cartridge fired will the garrison surrender the fortress. This I can state positively."

Considering the authority, the general's words may be accepted as a reflection of the views of the emperor himself. The general further stated that the surrender report was all the more ridiculous as several vessels had broken the blockade and reprovisioned the garrison. He added, "General Stoessel also knows that the second Pacific squadron is on its way."

George Gould Shot an Attendant.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 17.—While George Gould was shooting birds near High Point he accidentally shot Edward Burns, an attendant. Several shot entered Burns' eye. A specialist of Greensboro saying there was small chance of saving the eye, Mr. Gould at once sent the man to New York, where eminent oculists will be told to spare nothing that science and skill can effect to save Burns' sight.

Governor Sailed For New York.

ALASKAN SCANDALS

President Deals With Cases of Brown and Richards.

ALLEGED GRAFT IN MINING CASES.

Justice of Juneau District Asked For His Resignation—Marshal of Nome Dismissed From the Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The president ended the Alaska court scandals by announcing that Judge Melville Brown of the Juneau district has been called upon to hand in his resignation and Frank H. Richards, United States marshal for the Nome district, has been dismissed.

This action was taken as a result of the extraordinary investigation of judiciary affairs in Alaska made by Assistant Attorney General Day, by direction of the president, last summer.

Judge Brown was appointed from Wyoming, Judge Moore, whose case is pending, is from Pennsylvania, and Marshal Richards came from the state of Washington. Marshal Richards was convicted some time ago of contempt of court.

Attorney General Moody has had a conference with the president at which the report of Assistant Attorney General William A. Day on the conditions of the Alaskan judiciary as they were developed by an investigation which he made last summer was considered. At the conclusion of the conference Attorney General Moody made the announcement of the president's action.

The investigation made by Judge Day involved practically all the members of the Alaskan judiciary in charges and counter charges. He worked on the case for many weeks, making a special trip to Alaska to obtain information on the subject. He completed his report recently and placed it in the hands of the president. The president's action was based on the findings of Judge Day.

The nature of the charges against the officials was not made public in detail, it being deemed advisable not to publish at this time the report made by Judge Day. It is known, however, that the charges involved selfish if not corrupt practices before the Alaskan courts in mining claim cases.

The charges against Judge Brown, who was appointed from Wyoming, were, in effect, that he had a personal interest in minor cases which were before his court and that he had appointed his secretary as receiver of some properties which were in litigation.

Charges have been made from time to time against nearly all the Federal officials of Alaska, Governor Brady not being exempt, but it is said that the action of the president has finally closed the matter of these charges, officials of the administration being satisfied that Governor Brady, Judge James Wickersham of the Yukon district and other officials involved in them have acted in the best interests of the territory.

Storm Hit Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The crack German liner Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse has arrived, twenty-four hours overdue, and brought a crowd of seasick society and professional pilgrims from Europe. "On Sunday night we ran into a terrible southerly gale," said Captain Cuppers, "and I was forced to slow down to eight knots an hour. The thermometer fell to 28.7, the lowest point I have ever seen registered." Among the saloon passengers were Ysaye, the famous violinist; the Duke of Manchester, the duchess, who was Miss Zimmerman of Cincinnati, and their infant son.

Colonel Breckenridge Paralyzed.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 17.—Colonel W. C. P. Breckenridge, former congressman from the Ashland (Ky.) district and one of the best known orators and lawyers in the south, was stricken with paralysis at his law office yesterday and is seriously ill. Some weeks ago, while in Marquette, Mich., trying a law case, Colonel Breckenridge contracted a severe cold, and upon his return to Lexington suffered the second attack of illness of his life.

Farewell to Lord Minto.

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—There was a large turn out here to say farewell to Lord and Lady Minto, who have left for England. Lord Minto has been governor general of Canada for six years. His term has now expired, and he will be replaced by Earl Grey. Lord and Lady Minto sail on the 18th inst. from Quebec.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Nov. 17.—Two men were arrested here last night for stoning mill overseers as the latter were leaving the mills. Federation of Labor Congress.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Business and pleasure divided the time of the delegates to the Federation of Labor. A stormy session was held, in which a factional fight regarding the seating of John Maugan, a delegate from the Florists and Gardeners' union, among the Chicago unions, was aired.

Hurricane Sank a Barge.

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 17.—The tug Vigilant, which arrived from New York with the barge Tabasco, reports that barge No. 5, one of the seven which she had in tow, broke from the Whitestone on Sunday, filled and sank off Bridgeport during the storm Sunday. The crew was taken off in safety.

NEW YORK HORSE SHOW.

Gentleman John Won the Waldorf-Astoria Cup.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The crowd at the horse show in Madison Square Garden was the largest of the present meeting. Nearly all the boxes were filled with fashionably dressed women, and 10,000 persons witnessed the exhibition. The attraction was the Waldorf-Astoria cup for gig horses. Queen Welcome, one of the string brought here from England by Robert Whitworth, took first honors for mares, the reserve ribbon going to Eben D. Jordan's Mistress Marjorie.

The largest prize awarded this week, the Challenge cup, went to Mr. Jordan's black hackney stallion, Gentleman John. As this horse won the cup last year this victory gives Mr. Jordan permanent possession of the trophy. Lord Brilliant, Mrs. John Gerken's gelding, one of last year's blue ribbon winners, won first honors in the class for horses attached to runabouts over Mrs. J. B. M. Grosvenor's horse Elevation and Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Lady Katherin out of a field of twenty competitors. An interesting event was the four-in-hand contest between Mrs. Grosvenor and Miss Ella S. Ross of England, which was won by the former.

Conger at Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—The victory of another outsider helped to enliven the sport at Oakland. Conger, quoted at 30 to 1, took the first race cleverly from Blackthorne and Molto, with Lady Atheling, the favorite, a close fourth. Well played horses were generally successful.

Charawind at Latonia.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 17.—Charawind, the Corrigan jumper, won the steeplechase in a drive from Thornbedge at Latonia. Brazil's efforts on the Canadian horse drew him a sentence of indefinite suspension. Two long shots, Captain Sam and Eclectic, won at 60 to 1.

Amherst Downed Williams.

AMHERST, Mass., Nov. 17.—Amherst won its last football game of the season here, defeating Williams by a score of 22 to 6. The only game the home eleven lost this fall was that with Dartmouth on Saturday. Amherst won by excellent team work.

Three Lost Near Rogue Bluffs.

MACHIAS, Me., Nov. 17.—That three residents of Rogue Bluffs lost their lives in the storm Sunday night seemed certain when an auxiliary fishing schooner was found sunken in six fathoms of water near Spruce island, five miles from Rogue Bluffs. The boat was believed to be the auxiliary schooner Uncas, which left Eastport Sunday, and in the gale of that night is supposed to have struck on the ledges outside Spruce island and sunk with her crew, consisting of the owner, Captain John Wallace; Walter Davis and an unknown man. The Uncas was valued at $3,000.

Life Line Saved Four.

ROCKPORT, Mass., Nov. 17.—While attempting to run into the harbor just after dark last night the fishing schooner General Hancock of Rockland, Me., struck on the rocks at the western entrance and will be a total loss. The crew of four men reached land through the high surf by passing hand over hand over a rope thrown to them from the rocks and made fast from the schooner to shore. The plight of the schooner was discovered by one of the life saving patrol, who, aided by several citizens, got a line on board. The vessel was valued at $1,000.

Murderous Assault at Cambridge.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 17.—George Murray, fifty-three years old, the proprietor of a restaurant on Central square, has been murderously assaulted by some unknown person at his place of business. HAPPY RESULTS.

Have Made Many Plainfield Residents Enthusiastic.

No wonder scores of Plainfield citizens grow enthusiastic. It is enough to make anyone happy to find relief after years of suffering. Public statements like the following are but truthful representations of the daily work done in Plainfield by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. W. W. Mills, of 86 Summit avenue, says: "I suffered at times with a severe pain across the small of my back and in my hips. If I did any lifting or stooping my back became lame and sore, and though I used plasters they only helped me for the time being. I was feeling very badly when I had my attention called to Doan's Kidney Pills. They were so highly recommended for troubles like mine that I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store. I felt their good effects in a few days. When I had finished the treatment my back was better and stronger and I had much more energy to attend to household duties."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

VESSEL BROKE IN TWO.

Southern Hurricane Wrecked the Brig C. C. Sweaney.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—After having been lashed to a mast for more than twenty-four hours and with hope of being rescued almost abandoned, Captain Fisher and crew of seven men of the brig C. C. Sweaney were taken from their perilous position by the steamer Hawaiian, from Honolulu for this port. The men suffered greatly from exposure to the weather, but are apparently no worse for their experience.

The brig left Charleston early last week for Philadelphia with a cargo of lumber and encountered the southern hurricane Sunday off the Virginia coast. The brig withstood the terrific wind and sea for a short time only and then became waterlogged. The deck load and houses were swept away, and the vessel finally broke in two. The crew then climbed the mainmast and lashed themselves in the mainsail to keep from being washed away. They remained in this position until Monday afternoon, by which time the sea had moderated enough to permit them to return to the deck of the half sunken hulk. The vessel was not sighted until Tuesday morning, when the Hawaiian responded to their distress signals and rescued all hands.

The Hawaiian also reports having passed a four masted schooner, bottom up, with masts floating alongside, about seventy miles southeast of the Delaware capes.

NAN PATTERSON'S TRIAL.

State Will Not Produce an Eyewitness to Young's Death.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—At the trial of Nan Patterson, charged with murdering Caesar Young, the bookmaker, before Justice Vernon M. Davis two jurors were chosen.

They are Elwood Hendricks, a broker, and Henry L. Johnson, a dry goods salesman.

During the course of questions put to them it was developed that the prosecution would not produce an eyewitness to the shooting of Caesar Young.

This statement was made by Assistant District Attorney Rand discussing circumstantial evidence. That the defense may not put Nan Patterson on the witness stand was evidenced by the many questions of Mr. Levy as to whether the jurors would be prejudiced against her on this account.

The prisoner's attorney did not attempt to hide the relations that existed between Nan Patterson and Caesar Young. He constantly asked the talesmen if this fact would prejudice them against his client.

The prisoner was extremely nervous, and at times her father encouragingly put his arm around her. She did not wince when Mr. Levy referred to her relations with Young.

YACHT FOUNDERED.

Oystermen Report Roberta Lost Near Pimlico Sound.

STRUCK BY SOUTHERN HURRICANE

Crew and Hunting Party on Board Warned That Storm Was Raging, but Took No Heed and So Perished.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 17.—Oystermen arriving at Elizabeth City from Croatin river and Pimlico sound report the foundering of the yacht Roberta of Providence, R. I., and the loss of all on board. The Roberta was bound to Florida with a hunting party to stay the winter. She was at Elizabeth City Friday and left Saturday for the south.

The Providence men composing the hunting party reported lost are: Colonel Felix R. Wendelschaefer, proprietor of the Providence Opera House; Walter R. Stiness, Republican leader in the statehouse, and Willard C. Perkins.

The crew of the Roberta were Captain Isaac Golden of Pawtucket, R. I.; his son, Charles Golden, and a nephew, whose name is unknown here. Captain Golden and his crew are believed to have taken the yacht to Norfolk, where the others boarded her, leaving Norfolk last Thursday.

The oystermen say they warned the yacht to put back on account of the storm that was raging and say she foundered with all on board very shortly afterward, evidently getting into the trough of the sea.

Only one man of the company was seen after the boat sank, and he climbed up on the mast, but it broke beneath his weight before aid could reach him. No bodies have been recovered. The affair occurred in a remote section of the Carolina coast, between the strip of land that separates the ocean from the sound and the mainland.

The Roberta was a schooner yacht, with gasoline auxiliary. She passed through the Dismal Swamp canal on Thursday en route south. Records have her from Providence, R. I., to Florida.

SHOTGUNS FOR DOGS.

Much Feeling Among Binghamton Dog Owners at Quarantine.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Nov. 17.—It looks as if the state department of agriculture has abandoned the effort to enforce the dog quarantine in this county, without officially removing it. On Tuesday three employees of the department came to the city to enforce the quarantine with shotguns by killing all unmuzzled dogs. There has been much feeling among dog owners, who think the quarantine should be removed.

When the state employees went to Sheriff Worthing for a deputy to assist them he said that before he would assign a man for the work he must have a bond indemnifying him in case of any damage being done and that the state employees would have to shoot the dogs themselves instead of the deputy doing it, as heretofore.

The department's men telegraphed to Albany explaining the situation and received orders to return to Albany and make no further effort to enforce the quarantine. In spite of that the department officials refuse to officially raise the quarantine.

Riots In Brazil's Capital Ended.

RIO JANEIRO, Nov. 17.—The city is more quiet, though there was some disturbance among the rabble, and a few strikers among the shipping caused trouble. General Travassos, who was elected by the military cadets to succeed General Costallent, the deposed commandant, is expected to die from the wounds he received yesterday. The church officers declare that while they agitated against compulsory vaccination they did not encourage any rising.

To Unite All Protestant Churches.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 17.—One of the most important meetings in the history of the Protestant churches in this country will be held in New York city in November, 1905. The question of the union of Protestant churches of all denominations will be the chief topic of discussion at this conference, at which delegates from the Baptist, Presbyterian, Lutheran, Protestant Episcopal, Methodist and other churches will be present.

Lifeboat Crossed Atlantic.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Nov. 17.—The lifeboat Urad, from Aalesund, Norway, which sailed Aug. 7 bound for St. John's and New York and thence for St. Louis, with her designer, Captain Brude and three others aboard, has arrived here. She was three months and nine days in crossing the Atlantic. The boat was built to compete for the prize for the best lifeboat at the St. Louis exposition.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Miss Annie S. Peck, the American mountain climber, has arrived on the Panama line steamer Advance from Colon. Miss Peck, who left New York last June, has been in Peru, where she succeeded in ascending Huascan mountain to a height of 21,000 feet. Immense crevasses prevented her reaching the summit.

Plainfield, N. J., Nov. 17, 1904.

John Morley's speech before the Chamber of Commerce was notable at least for the number of "I's" in it.

The fact that Governor Murphy has issued his Thanksgiving proclamation reminds us of one thing for which the people should be truly thankful. There's going to be a change in the governorship very soon.

That the American people are voting more intelligently every year is conclusively shown in the recent election returns. Sensible men are drawing away from party ties The day of the hide-bound Republican and dyed-in-the-wool Democrat is surely passing. Party bosses are losing their jobs. They no longer wield the power that they did some years ago, when the great majority of voters clung to their party whether it was right or wrong. Good government is only maintained by eternal vigilance and conscientious action. The people think before they vote nowadays as can be seen by the returns in many States. No better illustration of this independent action can be shown than these facts recounted by the Newark Advertiser:

In three Republican States, Massachusetts, Minnesota and Colorado, Democratic Governors were chosen in the face of pluralities for Roosevelt ranging from 15,000 to 125,000. In Missouri, which gave Roosevelt 28,000, a Democratic Governor is elected by 30,000. In Wisconsin, where Governor LaFollette was opposed at the polls by a large element of his party, he gets 50,000 plurality, while Roosevelt polls 125,000. Rhode Island gives Roosevelt 16,000 and only 600 to the Republican candidate for Governor. In New York, Roosevelt's plurality is 176,000 and there is only 80,000 for Higgins. In West Virginia the Republican candidate for Governor gets less than half Roosevelt's plurality of 25,000 In New Jersey Stokes falls nearly 30,000 short of Roosevelt's big plurality.

LEAL'S SCHOOL WINS FIRST LEAGUE GAME

Winning by twice as many points as their opponents the first game in the Juvenile Basketball League went to the Leal's School scrub yesterday afternoon. The defeated team was the Plainfield High School seconds, and the score was 16 to 8. CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 20.

Topic.—How to express our thanks to God.—Ps. cxxxviii, 1-8.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Our thanksgiving topic strikes but one chord of this important subject—how. Nor is it by any means an unimportant one. If thankful unto God for past and present blessings we should want to know how to show Him that we are thankful. This is not always easy. Human benefactions are sometimes so great that we exclaim "How can I thank you?" to friends who have been kind to us. If this be true of human kindness how much more is it true of the loving kindness of our God! And yet we should strive to thank Him. His blessings are great. His loving kindness is always about us. Every year is crowned with goodness. God should be thanked how?

1. We should thank God in thought. "I will think of Thy loving kindness, O God," may well be one motto for thanksgiving. Forgetfulness is base ingratitude. Children who forget the loving care of parents are most unthankful and ungrateful. What, then, about those who forget the mercies of their God? Let us "forget not all His benefits," but keep them constantly in mind, and thus will we in a most acceptable way be thanking God for them.

2. We should thank God in words. Thoughts of thanksgiving should be followed by words of thanksgiving. In song, in testimony, in prayer, in public worship we should thank God for His benefits. Praise and prayer are most necessary and efficient forms of thanksgiving. They should be public as well as private. The truly thankful will not neglect God's house. "I will pay my vows unto the Lord now in the presence of all His people, in the courts of the Lord's house, in the midst of thee, O Jerusalem. Praise ye the Lord." But there must be sincerity in our words of thanksgiving. Insincerity of heart makes the most eloquent words of none effect. Formalism produces the same result and must be carefully guarded against. The words of many become the merest formality. They may exclaim with frequency and fervor, "Praise the Lord!" and yet their words are as sounding brass and tinkling symbols. Sincerity is an absolute necessity to words of thanksgiving.

3. We should thank God in deeds. Thoughts and words must flower into deeds or our thanksgiving is a failure. What we do should be the best expression of our gratitude to God. When King Ahasuerus had recalled to him the fact that Mordecai had saved his life he asked, "What shall be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honor?" "What shall be done?" not what resolutions shall be passed. By doing he would express his gratitude to his deliverer. By deeds as well as thoughts and words we should thank our God, the deliverer of our souls from eternal death to eternal life.

New Secretary For India.

Endeavorers of two continents will be interested in the new secretary of the Christian Endeavor force of India. His name is Halliwell, Rev. Herbert Halliwell, and he was the successful and honored pastor of the Baptist church in Walsingham, England, when called to this new and responsible field of labor.

REV. H. HALLIWELL.

It was my pleasure to meet Mr. Halliwell at the recent great convention in London, and to say I was pleased with the choice that has been made for India but mildly expresses my sentiments.

Mr. Halliwell appeared to me earnest, sensible, approachable, dignified, but not reserved; ready, but not officious; spiritual, but not sanctimonious; sincere, but not brusque; modest, but not unwilling to take his proper place and to do his rightful work. If "the conversion of India is to be hastened by a whole generation by the introduction of the Christian Endeavor movement," as the veteran missionary and author, Dr. Jacob Chamberlain, avers, then in this glorious consummation Rev. Herbert Halliwell, the new secretary, will have a large and honored part.—Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D.

A Talent Social.

The Endeavorers of the Central Christian church, New Albany, Ind., have given a "talent social," every member of the society being asked to bring or send to the social something that represented his or her especial talent. It was interesting not only to guess what the symbols represented, but also to learn what each member of the society considered his talent to be. A sale was held of the articles that were brought in, and $15 was raised, the amount being sent to India for the support of an orphan for a year.

A Warning and a Promise.

THE WARNING.	THE PROMISE.
Who will not fight	Who does his best
For God and right,	With holy zest
With banner bright	In warfare blest
Of Christ in sight,	And waits his rest,
He shall not win,	He shall not quail
Through thick and thin	Though hell assail;
	His powers avail,
The fight of sin	Nor shall he fail.
And death within.

—Rev. Cleland B. McAfee, D. D., in "Over Sea and Land."

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Nov. 20: "Our Thanks to God"—Ps. cxxxviii, 1-8.

By REV. WALTER J. YATES.

The difference between a devout person and an ungodly one is in no particular more apparent than in the matter of thanks.

Every person receives continually benefits almost innumerable. The bodily powers and facilities of mind and higher capacities of the soul for enjoyment and well being are an endowment which make life in a world like this of vast worth. They have been received without exertion on our part. They are to be exercised in a world held under exact law and not liable to caprice and chance. Our equipment and our environment are supplied without thought or exertion on our part. We are furnished opportunity for personal development of marvelous richness.

Failure can come only from fault on our part.

Such gifts call for gratitude from us, and ingratitude is the basest of sins of which we can be guilty. It leads to all other sins and crimes.

But gratitude needs expression, else it will not long live even as a heart sentiment. There must be the giving of thanks if we are to avoid forgetfulness of the giver of our benefits. Whoever neglects to give thanks will soon lose the spirit of thankfulness. What we feel keenly we must express openly or we shall not retain it.

This psalm is a model in form of expression and will repay careful study:

"I will praise thee with my whole heart!"

To be of any value praise must be free and unreserved. Whole heartedness is essential in worship.

"Before the gods will I sing praise unto thee."

Whatever powers and rulers and dignitaries there may be, my worship shall be of Jehovah. I will acknowledge Him, and Him only, as the source of my strength and good. Songs show our gladness, so I will sing my praise. I will sing TO Him and not merely OF Him. I will not only ascribe the Him the highest excellence, but in the very presence of all who have any excellence I will sing His praise.

The earthly shrines shall be recognized as worthy of honor. I will do reverence toward Thy holy temple. The appointed ordinances of worship I will observe.

It is God's truth and His loving kindness which we praise. It is not the lesser benefits and good things which move us to the depth of our being in worship, but the great foundation truths of personality.

Above all that God has been known to be He has revealed Himself as being by His word. We learn from God directly more than any one has ever taught us of God. "Above all Thy name Thou hast magnified Thy word."

I cried to God, and He answered me and gave me strength. This is the testing of God and of the soul's hold on God. This is the evidence which each one must get for himself. This is His religion.

The great and high have respect unto me, though I am little. He will make perfect all that concerns me. His mercy ever endures. He will not forsake the work of His own hands.

So will I ever praise Him with gladness of heart.

The Music of the Heart.

True piety is the harmony of the soul with God. His will becomes the will of his loving and obedient child, and such a Christian finds his happiness in the chime of his own desires with what God bids him to do. This is the fountain of genuine music of the heart. God's hand is on every string and chord of this wonderful instrument which a loyal believer carries in his or her breast. It is a harp of a thousand strings, and yet they all respond to the same divine touch. The great apostle in writing to the early Christians tells them that they must not merely sing, but that they must "make melody in their hearts to the Lord." This signifies the music of the soul. If it be religious music it must come from a religious heart. It must be the breathing of sincere love and grateful adoration. The most marvelous of all instruments is the harp of the human heart.—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler.

Care For the Spiritual Life.

[Carved on the walls of the chapel of Leland Stanford university.]

There is no narrowing so deadly as the narrowing of man's horizon of spiritual things. No worse evil could befall him in his course on earth than to lose sight of heaven. And it is not civilization that can prevent this; it is not civilization than can compensate for it. No widening of science, no possession of abstract truth can indemnify for an enfeebled hold on the highest and central truths of humanity. "What shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

The Ideal Type.

Christ is the ideal type—the highest ever attained—and one can make no mistake in following in His steps, thinking His thoughts and living His life. Christianity is only a reproducing of the Christ life in man, and he who walks closest by His side comes the nearest thinking His thoughts and living His life is the greatest in His kingdom.—Christian Monthly.

The Way to Be Strong.

The way to be strong is to act on the credit of strength being given. Strength is received in the act of obeying. When the path of duty is clear it is want of faith to continue asking for strength and not act upon it.—G. W. Mylne.

Martyrs.

It is the cause and not the death that makes the martyr.—Christian Instructor.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

SELF CONSCIOUSNESS.

It Prevents Many a Girl From Achieving Success.

The diffident woman generally has her parents to thank for the handicap. The diffident woman is generally the self conscious woman. Now, self consciousness begins in childhood, and if parents care to prevent it the remedy lies in their hands.

"I had to pass the building three times before I had the courage to go in."

"How did you ever have the courage to do it?"

"I would rather die than ask for anything!"

"I simply can't sing when there is any one around!"

"Why, I am so scared when I have that line to speak all alone in the middle of the stage that I can hardly say it!"

How often you hear that sort of thing—scared, afraid, don't dare!

"One reason why I am not more fond of the majority of my sex is that they are all so self conscious and afraid of their own shadows," remarked a woman recently. And I had to agree with her.

As long as you are not doing anything you should not why be afraid? And why at all times be so foolishly self conscious that you think people are watching your slightest movements?

"I think it is so delightful of you, Miss Brown," said the hostess, "to sit down at the piano without being urged and play so simply whatever you happen to know."

"You can thank my mother for that," laughed the girl. "She told me she would let me take piano lessons only on condition that I would sit down and play without any fuss, no matter who asked me. She added that if I did make mistakes it would not make any more difference than if I were alone, because no one expected perfection from a child. It put me so much at my ease that I have never been troubled with self consciousness."

Treatment of Rooms Which Differ From the Ordinary.

Originality is the keynote of the successful interior decorator. No time or epoch is adhered to, but the continual effort is to reach a new effect. Several of the modern English decorators have distinguished themselves in this manner, and the picture shows you a drawing room designed by one of them.

It is very simple. The walls are covered with old rose tapestry paper. The mantelpiece of snowy marble in an odd shelf design supplies the note of relief. The room is lighted, contrary to usage, with stained glass lanterns inclosing electric bulbs. The woodwork is mahogany. The chairs are mahogany with tapestry coverings. The floor is covered with several small rugs instead of one large one. The windows, which are not shown in the picture, have small panes and swing outward.

ALASKA BEAR STORY.

A REMARKABLE ESCAPE FROM DEATH IN FROZEN NORTH.

Two Men of Nome Have a Desperate Encounter with a Giant Grizzly —Killed by Discharge of Bird Shot.

The Nome correspondent of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer writes that probably the most remarkable escape from death on record in Alaska was that of F. X. King and his partner, N. P. Peterson, who ran the Nugget roadhouse, across the Nome river divide. These people have, in addition to their roadhouse duties, been prospecting on Homestake creek at the base of the Sawtooth mountains.

On the morning of May 30 they started for their customary prospecting, when they were surprised to see the tracks of a monster pair of bears, different from any they had ever seen before. After a tedious "Mush" of several miles they encountered a grizzly, the largest of the bear family, and the most ferocious animal in the world. Peterson fired, and the bullet struck, but not in a vital spot; and with a growl of rage and pain the wounded bear sprang over the cliff and rolled almost to the bottom, some 300 feet below, where she regained her equilibrium and vanished among the rocks.

Chagrined at the failure, Peterson turned, and was horrified at seeing another large grizzly about twice the size of the other, spring upon his partner, Mr. King, and was more horrified when he remembered that his was the only available gun, and as the magazine was out of repair could only be reloaded by removing the empty shell by hand. The bear sprang at his foe, but King, with the habitual presence of mind inherent in the backwoods hunter, thrust his weapon into the face of his assailant. In the twinkling of an eye the bear had grasped the muzzle of the gun in his teeth and was crunching the gun barrel like as much wood. Towering two feet higher than King, the latter realized that the only hope for him was to pull the trigger, and maybe stop the beast until they procured safety in flight. A loud report, and the beast gave a spring high in the air and fell to the ground.

The men beat a quick retreat, and after covering considerable ground, turned, and were surprised to see the bear was still lying on the spot where it had fallen. They waited for a few minutes, in the meantime reloading the rifle, the shotgun being broken at the stock, and the muzzle was left in the mouth of the bear. After throwing several rocks at a safe distance, they ventured further, and, unreal and marvelous as it may seem, they found the bear stone dead.

Upon finding the bear was killed, the men went back for a sled, and after several hours managed to get the bear to the bottom of the cliff, where they loaded it on the sled, after disemboweling it. They took it to the Nugget roadhouse, and then started for Nome with nine strong dogs to draw the heavy load. It took them three days to reach the Sour Dough roadhouse, where the bear's remains were put in cold storage. The big brute was brought to town on June 3 and placed on exhibition at the Golden Gate hotel. It is a perfect specimen of the grizzly, and the skin is a beautiful one. The bear, disemboweled, weighs nearly 600 pounds. The skin was sold for $125, and the meat was purchased by local restaurants at a dollar a pound.

A remarkable thing was the enormous power of the jaws shown by the deep indentations made in the barrel of the gun by the bear's teeth, not only the barrel being bent, but marks were made in the steel connecting piece about one-fourth of an inch deep. Then there was the finding of a grizzly at this northern latitude, and, to cap the climax, the strangeness and seemingly preposterous statement of fact that a grizzly bear weighing 650 pounds was killed by a discharge of birdshot in his mouth and with the aid of no other weapon than that. When one remembers that the grizzly bear is the most vicious of all animals, and that the most experienced hunters quake and turn pale at the thought of even participating in such a fray, it makes one marvel the more.

Mr. King is a Swiss, with a broad accent, and in relating his narrative states that "de bayer comed at me like a wild beast, un' I yust pull de trigger und he go dead."

Lightning's Action on Trees.

Lightning, when it strikes a tree sometimes converts the sap into steam with such rapidity and energy that it explodes, scattering the wood in every direction.

YE MAYFLOWER PEAR TREE

Planted at Truro, Mass., So Tradition Says, by One of the Pilgrim Fathers.

Boston (Mass.) Special.

In a grassy, shadowy dell in a locality known as the "castle," in Truro, stands an old landmark that is highly prized by the inhabitants of the town, and much sought after by summer visitors; in fact, it is one of the points of interest, one of the things in town that the tourist seeks and marvels at.

This object of interest is the historic pear tree in the orchard formerly owned by the late Dr. O. R. Gross and now owned by his heirs, who reside in New York.

The Boston Globe says that there is a tradition concerning this tree that one of the Mayflower party brought it from England, promising to plant it in the new world at the first opportunity. During the second visit to Truro on the journey up the river in pursuit of fresh spring water, perceiving a favorable spot, they fulfilled their promise.

MAYFLOWER PEAR TREE.
(It Was Brought from Europe by One of the Pilgrim Fathers.)

In favor of this story, it may be said that the tree is but a short distance from the river banks, and the path of the company must have been a few rods only from the river.

In 1812, as it had not borne fruit for some years, it was proposed to cut it down. Better counsel, however, prevailed. In gratitude for its preservation every year since it has never failed a bountiful yield.

The mind's eye sees them now, the courageous band of pilgrims, as they marched along the banks of the river. Some with slow and faltering step, others with the buoyancy of youth, some with grizzled locks and bent forms, others with locks like the raven's wing or like the fairy flax and with stalwart frames, ready to overcome all obstacles.

"Old men for counsel and young men for war."

Both were needed and both were there, each with a different face and figure, but each eye was kindled alike with the hope that springs eternal in the human breast.

Ah, from those old, sturdy ancestors New England's sons and daughters inherit all best in their natures—courage, hope and conscience.

So they journeyed on. Finally, espying the friendly dell, so sheltered, so enticing, so elevating, so near to nature's heart that it seemed to say to the weary band: "Plant your pear tree here. O sires! Plant your pear tree here! Here I will foster it, here I will nurture it, here it shall be kept from the blasting winds, here it shall be nourished by fragrant springs from dear old mother Earth;" and the brave exiles, heeding the silent call, halted their small army and gave to the valley what it has so long tended with jealous care.

For years, for generations birds of various plumage have found happy homes in its sheltering arms. The tiny wild canary, the festive oriole of brilliant plumage and the friendly robin have all found ample room for housekeeping and have reared their respective families in safety far from the madding crowd of inquisitive humanity and the fearful family cat.

BEAR STORY FROM ABROAD

Mother Bruin Attacked a Locomotive and Paid for Her Courage with Her Life.

An angry black bear, through an error in judgment, recently attacked a freight locomotive on a lonely stretch of railway in Austria-Hungary, and came off second best. But if it hadn't been for the freight locomotive a switchman, whom the bear was originally pursuing, would have lost his life. The switchman had walked up the track to a siding, where he had set a switch to allow a freight train to make way for the express. It was night, and he carried a lantern. Seeing a dark, formless mass lying across the rails, he went to investigate. He raised his lantern as he approached. The dark, formless mass suddenly resolved itself into a big she-bear and three cubs.

The switchman was surprised. In his fright he foolishly dropped his lantern, which was extinguished, leaving him and the bears alone in the darkness. He started to run, and the bears followed. The old mother bear was rapidly outfooting the switchman, when the freight train came along, its headlight gleaming along the rails.

Even this did not deter the enraged animal. Possibly she thought the light was the lantern which the switchman had carried. At any rate, she attacked the engine and was killed. The cubs escaped.

MEANING OF HORSE POWER

The Term Refers to the Average Work One Horse Can Perform in a Minute.

What is the relative amount of work that a man can do in comparison with a horse or machinery? At his very best the strongest man stands in pretty poor comparison, even with a horse, for hard, continuous labor. He might perform for a few minutes one-half horse-power of work, but to keep this up for any great length of time would be impossible.

Thus the gain in forcing horses to do a part of the world's work was enormous. One horse could exhaust a dozen men in a single day, and still be ready for the next day's work.

According to St. Nicholas the measurement of a horse's power for work was first ascertained by Watt, the father of the modern steam engine, and he expressed this in terms that hold to-day. He experimented with a great number of heavy brewery horses to satisfy himself that his unit of measurement for work was correct. After many trials he ascertained that the average brewery horse was doing work equal to that required to raise 330 pounds of weight 100 feet high in one minute, or 33,000 pounds one foot in one minute. So he called this one horse-power.

This work, however, is not continuous, for the horse would have to back up after each pull to lower the line of the pulley, and thus he would work four hours a day in pulling 330 pounds in the air at the rate of 100 feet a minute, and four hours in slacking up the rope. Consequently no horse can actually perform continuously what is generally called one horse-power. The horse was never born that could tug at a rope for eight hours a day, pulling 330 pounds 100 feet each minute without rest or change. Consequently, when we speak of horse power we refer only to the average work a horse can do in one minute, that is to say, the rate at which he can work.

A strong man might pull half that weight 100 feet in the air in two minutes, but he could not repeat the operation many times without being exhausted.

For all needful purposes the expression of one horse-power is accurate enough, and practically shows the measurement of an average horse's abilities for working. As a rule a strong man can in eight hours work at the rate of about one-tenth of one horse-power: that is, it would require ten men to pull 330 pounds 100 feet in the air in a minute, and then slack up and repeat the operation throughout the eight hours of a working day. The world's gain in labor when horses were first employed to help man in his work was thus tenfold.

WANTS AMERICAN LABOR.

John F. Wallace, Chief Engineer of Panama Canal, Praises Climate of That Region.

Chicago Special.

John F. Wallace, chief engineer of the Panama canal commission, made a short address at Chicago the other day, in which he declared that he expected to see the canal constructed without the aid of foreign laborers. The climatic conditions and the financial inducements would, in his belief, attract sufficient laborers from the United States to make unnecessary the employment of cheap foreign help.

"I do not expect to go to China, Japan, the West Indies or any other country where labor is cheap in order to carry out the idea of building the isthmian canal," said Mr. Wallace. "The natural inducements will be enough to attract labor from this country. The amount of labor needed has been grossly overestimated. It is the intention of the commission to reduce as far as possible the amount of physical labor by the employment of machines and it is my belief that there never will be more than 10,000 or 12,000 men busy at once on the work of construction."

JOHN F. WALLACE.

Mr. Wallace said that the climatic conditions of Panama had been misrepresented. He has just returned from a three months' stay on the isthmus and he never had experienced a more delightful summer. The nights had been so cool that covering was always required.

A King Without a Crown.

The king of Belgium is quite democratic, and is opposed to fuss and ceremony. He not only does not wear a crown, but has not even a crown to wear! There are no coronation ceremonies; the sovereign merely inaugurates his reign by taking an oath to govern according to the laws.

War on Adulterated Liquors.

Frequent visits are paid by the Paris police to the places where liquors are sold, that the beverages may be chemically examined. Specimens are sent to a laboratory, and if they are found to be adulterated, the stock is seized and used to drench the sewers.

OLD CORN COB PIPE.

IT SAVED THE LIFE OF A WELL-KNOWN PROSPECTOR.

Unique Incident in the Life of "Diamondfield Davis," a Western Cowboy Who May Soon Be a Millionaire.

This is a story of how an old cob pipe played an important part in saving the life of a man convicted of murder, and how the saving of the life may bring a large fortune to another man.

Down in the New Goldfield mining district in Nevada is a camp called Diamonfield. It did not receive its name from the fact that diamonds have been discovered there, but from the circumstance that the best claims in the camp were located by "Diamonfield Jack" Davis, who, according to late reports, is likely soon to be a multi-millionaire.

Back in the early and middle 90's "Diamondfield Jack" was a trusted range rider in the employ of the Sparks-Herrold Cattle company in Idaho. In those days there was much friction between the cattle men and the sheep men, and on the range covered by "Diamondfield Jack" it is said that a "dead line" had been established, which the sheep men were forbidden to cross with their flocks.

When, therefore, on February 16, 1896, John C. Wilson, a sheep herder, and his companion, a man named Cummings, were found dead in their camp on disputed ground, evidently murdered, and it was further discovered that "Diamonfield Jack" and his partner, Jack Gleason, had been in that locality about the time the killing took place, they were promptly arrested for the crime.

Jack Davis was placed on trial first and it was one of the most closely contested murder trials in the history of Idaho. Gov. Sparks, who believed implicity in the innocence of his employes, retained A. L. Perky and Hawley & Pucket, of Boise, to defend Davis, while Judge O. W. Powers, of Salt Lake City, and Judge Borah, of Boise, were employed to assist in the prosecution. Every inch of the ground was fought over carefully, the evidence was all circumstantial and the defendant came very near proving an alibi—it having been necessary for Davis and Gleason to have made an almost impossible ride in order to have been at the sheep men's camp at the time it was proved they were killed. But Davis was convicted of murder in the first degree. His case was sent to the supreme court of Idaho and to the federal court of appeals, but he was beaten at every turn and the date of his execution was finally fixed, with only the possible clemency of the governor to intervene.

Then it was that Judge O. W. Powers, who had done at least as much as any other man to convict Davis, became convinced, largely upon the strength of new evidence discovered, that Davis was innocent. Judge Powers thereupon went before the governor of Idaho and pleaded for the commutation of Davis' sentence to life imprisonment, which was granted. Later, he presented to the governor a written argument for an absolute pardon for Davis and this was also granted.

When Judge Powers was recently reminded of the celebrated case he said: "Do you know the first thing that raised a doubt in my mind as to the guilt of 'Diamondfield Jack' was an old cob pipe, which was found under the wagon in which laid the bodies of the murdered sheep men? The pipe was introduced in evidence by the prosecution, and at the time this was done I happened to be looking in the face of a witness for the prosecution, a man named Bowers. An expression passed over this man's face which showed that he was peculiarly affected. I said then to one of my colleagues that Bowers knew something about that pipe, but the others thought there was nothing to it and the incident was passed over at the time. But the doubt created in my mind then helped to convince me when further evidence tending to prove Davis' innocence was presented.

"Bowers, who once ran a meat market at Ogden, afterward confessed that it was he and another man who killed the sheep men, and he told them of the old cob pipe having been knocked from his mouth in the struggle which took place. He set up a plea of self-defense and was acquitted. Davis' partner, Gleason, was acquitted before this confession was made, a fact which probably helped in securing Davis' commutation of sentence."

SPORTING NEWS.

FOOTBALL.

The final school game of the year will be between the Plainfield High School and the Leal's School on Crescent Oval Saturday morning.

The Orange Field Club was out for practice Tuesday evening on the Westervelt avenue grounds. It has several more games to play this season, and will meet the Edward Clark Club, of Elizabeth, Saturday afternoon.

BASKET BALL.

The Hope chapel basket ball team will play a game in Newark tomorrow night.

Manager Cahoone, of the Y. M. C. A. team, has not yet announced with what team the association five will contend next Monday evening.

Harry Thompson, captain of the Plainfield High School basket ball team, will be able to play with the team in a short time. Thompson has been laid out on account of an injured ankle for several weeks.

The Hope chapel basket ball team met for practice Tuesday night, and once more demolished the scrub in a practice game. They were practicing in preparation for the game with the St. Mary's Catholic Club, of Newark, which will take place tomorrow night at the Catholic Club's gymnasium.

By winning the first game in the Juvenile League, yesterday afternoon, the Leal's School second team seems to stand in good chance for the league championship. Their game', though not as steady as it can be, was fast, and the individual playing far superior to their opponents. The Y. M. C. A. Junior team is the weakest team in the league, as several of the members of the department who have been playing on that team are now with the Plainfield High School first or second squad. The only other team which has any chance of winning is the Whittier School, which will play with the Y. M. C. A. five next Wednesday. This team has been defeated by the Plainfield High School scrubs in two practic games, but since has defeated the Leal's School in a close game, 6 to 5. It is very possible that the Leals and High School second teams may lose some of their best players as the rules governing the league provide that no man playing on the first team of his school shall take part in any Junior League game.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The bowling team of the Y. M. C. A. will play a match game with the Rahway team on the local alleys tomorrow evening. The Y. M. C. A. team will line up as follows: Koons, Sutphen, Neal, Jeffries and French. There may be others substituted.

ROD AND GUN.

Francis de Lacey Hyde is spending several weeks in Nova Scotia, hunting game. He will return home about Thanksgiving time.

Herbert Overbaugh, Alexander Ayers and George Voehl, who have been hunting in Sullivan county, N. Y., for the past week, will return home tomorrow. Advance reports sent home to friends indicate that they have been meeting with excellent luck.

In addition to the social plans arranged for the Park Club this season, the Lilliard committee, composed of Henry D. Hibbard, John L. Watson and H. C. Irons, has planned several events of interest to the men. These include a scratch knockout tournament at billiards, for the club championship and cup, presented by the president; a handicap knockout tournament, prize to the winner, a billiard cue, presented by the billiard committee. The conditions are the same as for the handicap billiard tournament, except that each game shall be for fifty points, adding the differential handicap of the player receiving it.

It is desired that thirty-two members enter each tournament to admit of complete pairing. On the final date of a round contestants having unplayed tournament matches are to have precedence in the use of such tables as they select to enable the tournament games to be played. Continuing the custom of last season, Tuesday evening of each week will be for "billiards and pool night," when members desiring to play will be reasonably sure of a game.

In the scratch knockout tournament play is open to all members. Entries will close Friday, November 25, and play will begin on Saturday, November 26 Contestants will be paired by lot, and each pair to play as per posted schedule. Winners are to play together in each succeeding round. Each game will be 100 points, except the final game which is to be 200 points. Each pair may play at such time as they elect, prior to the end of the day set for the end of the round, except as to the final game, of which one week's notice must be given to a member of the committee, for the proper notification.

The conditions in the handicap knockout tournament are the same as in the scratch event, except that entries will close Friday night, December 23, at 8 o'clock, and play will begin on Saturday, December 24. A list of handicaps will be prepared by the committee and each contestant may ascertain his own, but no other, by applying to a member of the committee. Contestants my arrange between themselves their handicap for each game if they prefer, but if they do not do so, then the handicaps arranged by the committee will be in force. Each game will be of 100 points, adding the differential handicap of the player receiving it.

THOS. HANNA PREVENTS A HOUSE'S DESTRUCTION

STAMPS OUT BLAZING CURTAINS IN MRS. BOSS' HOME.

Swinging near a gas jet, a lace curtain on the third floor at the home fo Mrs. Emily K. Boss, of East Fifth street, caught fire last evening. A serious blaze would have resulted but for the heroic action of Thomas Hanna, who pulled the flimsy affair down and beat out the flames. His hands were blistered in doing it.

The patrolman on the beat noticing the flames through a window and hearing the cries of the inmates, turned in an alarm from box 25. The firemen found nothing to do on their arrival as Mr. Hanna's methods had proven effectual

UNKNOWN MAN KILLED BY ROYAL BLUE EXPRESS

STEPPED IN FRONT OF TRAIN NEAR WASHINGTON STREET BRIDGE.

Speeding through the city at a sixty-mile-an-hour rate, a west-bound Royal Blue line express struck and killed an unknown man near the Washington street bridge at 3:45 yesterday afternoon. The body was hurled high in the air and fell clear of the train just back of the Union Beet Company's plant. Several railroad employes who had witnessed the accident, hurried forward but life was extinct. Evidently the victim died from shock more than anything else as there was not a mark anywhere on the body and only the shoulder blade was broken.

When the clothing of the man was searched by the police it revealed nothing to show who he was. From appearances he was about thirty years old and of Jewish extraction. He had dark hair, light complexion and weighed about 150 pounds. His clothes were of fairly good material and were in good condition.

The police made an investigation but could not learn how the man came to be upon the tracks or how he got in front of the express. It is supposed he was stealing a ride on a freight or coal train and dropped off near the point where he was struck.

PROPERTY OWNER LAUDS WORK OF FIRE DEPARTMENT

J. F. MACDONALD EXPRESSES APPRECIATION TO CHIEF DOANE.

Chief T. O. Doane is in receipt of a letter from J. Fred MacDonald, of East Front street, whose property was damaged by fire Sunday night, expressing his appreciation of the excellent work of the department, both in responding to the alarm and in fighting the blaze. The run to the scene of the conflagration was one of the quickest in years, despite the fierce wind and rain storm prevailing. Many nearby residents marvelled at the rapidity with which the danger was removed and the story of what followed when Mr. MacDonald turned in the alarm is best told in his letter as follows:

"In thanking you and the department for the very efficient work in saving my house and the store property from total destruction last Sunday evening, I wish to emphasize the very prompt response to the alarm. Upon discovering the fire, I at once ran from my back door to the alarm box on the corner, which is not over 200 feet, and pulled the box, then ran straight to the back door of the store building and by the time I had the key in the door, the engines were at the fire-plug. This could not have consumed over one minute, and by the time the alarm had stopped blowing, the first stream was ready to dash on the fire. This quickness, together with the thorough knowledge of yourself and your men, to know how to handle the fire in so fierce a gale as blew that night, deserves more praise than I am able to express."

EUCHRE A SUCCESS.

Enjoyable Event Given Under the Auspices of St. Mary's Alumni—The Prize Winners.

One of the most successful events ever given under the auspices of the Alumni Society of St. Mary's School was the progressive euchre held last evening in Stafford Hall. At the conclusion of the card playing dancing added to the enjoyment of the affair, and refreshments were served at a late hour.

In the progressive euchre, there were about twenty tables, Mrs. Allen Squires winning the first women's prize, and David Mack capturing the gentlemen's trophy. A handsome gold hat pin was the women's prize, while Mr. Mack received a gold scarf pin. As the consolation prize an egg beater was given to Miss Anna Daly. The committee in charge of the euchre was Katherine Flynn, Miss Julia Day and Cornelius McCarty. Allen Squires furnished the music for the dancing.

SPLENDID MENU OF SONGS

The First of Three Artistic Musicales Given Last Night.

MEISTER GLEE SINGERS

Assisted by Competent Soloists Render Delightful Programme —Boy Soprano Well Received.

Good music which was thoroughly appreciated by a large audience in the Casino last evening, characterized the first of three artistic concerts which have been arranged for the season under the management of W. H. Miller, of this city. From the opening number until the last selection by the Meistersingers Choral Society, of New York, the audience was charmed, and not a single number marred the excellence of the evening's performance.

The Choral Society, consisting of sixteen well-trained voices, rendered five selections in perfect harmony, and with exquisite expression. Equally enjoyable were solos by the famous boy soprano, John McDonald. He appeared on the programme twice, and at each occasion was received with enthusiastic applause. A sweetness of tone, combined with a musical instinct, and a breadth of range, predict a brilliant future for the young singer.

The Choral Society was assisted also by Miss Alma Renolds Davis, soprano, Miss Adelaide Bradbury, contralto, Signor Gerhardi, tenor, and J. W. Scanlan, basso. The singing was directed by Alexander McGuirk. The programme in full was as follows:

"The Night is Still," Clark, Meister Glee Singers; "Madrigal," Harris, Miss Davis; "When the Heart is Young," Dudley Buck, John Matthews; "Annie Laurie," Giebel, Meister Glee Singers; "O! God be Merciful," Bartlett, John McDonald; "Tatters," Lane, John McDonald; a. "I Know of Two Bright Eyes," b. "Heigho! Heigho," Arthur S. Somers; "Quartette from Rigaletto," Verdi, National Quartette; "Lost Cord," Sullivan, Meister Glee Singers; "Good Night Beloved," Oliver, Miss Bradbury; "In the Moonlight," Levi, Signor Gerhardi; "I Arise in Dreams of Thee," Joseph Cummings Chase; "Breeze of Night," Lamont, Meister Glee Singers; "Invitation," Hoffman, Meister Glee Singers.

The success of the first of the concerts is entirely due to the efforts of Mr. Miller, and the music-loving people of Plainfield no doubt thank him for furnishing the public with the opportunity to hear music such as was provided last evening. There are two more concerts to take place in the course, the next to be given on December 15, when the Star Quartette, of New York, will appear, and the last will be given by the Kaltenborn String Quartette and Miss Maude Tabb, soprano, on January 19

Miss Hazel Martin was the accompanist of the evening, and she also gave piano selections. Each number on the programme was well received and a gratifying sum was realized from the entertainment for the benefit of the chapel. The affair was under the direction of Mrs J. W. Schenck, who is in charge of the chapel work, and she was assisted by Mrs. George W. Reighton, a helper in the chapel.

REVIEW OF CONFERENCE

Peace Convention Discussed by Society of Friends.

INSTRUCTIVE MEETING

Attendants at the Conference Told of Their Impressions in An Interesting Manner.

As a fitting conclusion to one of the most successful half-yearly meetings in the history of the organization, the semi-annual session of the Society of Friends ended yesterday afternoon with an interesting and profiable discussion of the Peace Conference which took place at Boston some months ago.

The review of the conference, told by various members of the society, who were in attendance, was decidedly instructive, and as each speaker presented his impressions of the event, its history was vividly and completely covered. Edward Borden, of Matontown, spoke at some length of the work accomplished by the Peace Conference. He said that the affair was in charge of Parliamentry leaders, and that representatives from all countries, with the exception of Spain, were present. The speaker brought out the fact that all the countries agreed that the United States should take the lead in establishing the Hague Tribunal. Mr. Borden referred especially to Secretary Hayes' address, and to the speech by President Roosevelt.

Among others who spoke on the topic of the afternoon were John H. Shotwell, of Asbury Park; Phoebe Wright, of Sea Girt; Frances Baxright, of Asbury Park; William H. Riley, of North Plainfield; Henry Haviland, of Brooklyn, and Henry W. Wilbur, of New York.

In the evening a delightful social was given at the meeting house, which was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed. A feature of the evening was a spelling bee, and several recitations by members of the society. Refreshments were served in the latter part of the evening. The social was in charge of Mrs. Mary Shoemaker.

BRYAN SENDS CONDOLENCE TO HIS FRIEND MARTINE

COMMONER'S EDITOR BELIEVES PLAINFIELDERS'S DEFEAT A SERIOUS LOSS.

That smile so noticeble on James E. Martine's face today is puzzling those who do not know the inner nature of the "farmer orator," for to them it seems that a man buried under an avalanche of votes should be heart-broken. But Jim's buoyant spirits were more in evidence today than in months for in the morning mail came a letter from his patron political saint, former Congressman William Jennings Bryan, the Napoleon of the Democratic Waterloo, made great by Roosevelt's victory.

To a few intimate friends, possibly 1,000, the "farmer orator" showed the prized letter which he will add to his Bryanese collection, consisting of thirteen photographs and copies of 299,999 speeches delivered by the Nebraskan, all stored away at Cedar Brook farm. This is the letter:

"THE COMMONER,
"Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 13, 1904.
"Hon. J. E. Martine,
"My dear friend:—
"I much regret your defeat in the late election. I feel it is a real loss to the country.
"Truly your friend,
"W. J. Bryan."

Mr. Martine admitted this morning that while his defeat may be a real loss, he has an idea that the Federal Government will still live.

UNION GAVE ROOSEVELT EXACTLY 5,434 MAJORITY

COUNTY ELECTION BOARD COMPLETED ITS WORK YESTERDAY.

The Union County Board of Elections and Registry met at Elizabeth yesterday and completed its count of the electoral vote polled at the last election. It is as follows: Republican, 13,909; Democratic, 8,475; Prohibition, 1; Socialist, 134; Socialist-Labor, 535; People's Democratic, 120.

The Board has arranged to recount the vote in Rahway, where a contest has been made by two candidates for the Common Council. They have paid the $100, the expense for the recount. The votes will be recounted at Elizabeth before Judge Swayze. It will be remembered that one candidate received two majority over his opponent and this led to the contest. It has also been intimated that there are other discrepancies which will show up when the votes are counted.

While the Board was in session yesterday lawyers appeared and asked to see the vote in the First district of Elizabeth. The vote here was quite close and some of the candidates on the defeated tickets do not seem to be satisfied with the result. It is possible that the vote in this district may be recounted.

It is reported that considerable displeasure has been expressed over the condition of some of the returns, much carelessness being shown on the part of election officers. There were also some errors to be corrected.

Musical Feast Promised.

Everyone likes banjo and mandolin music and that is why so many people are planning to attend the second annual concert to be given at the Y. M. C. A. Waters, he original "seltzer water," and selections by an orchestra of mandolins and banjos, besides the VanEps brothers will give banjo selections and Mr. MacClymont will give piano selections, well worth the price of admission. Tickets can be had at Hodge's pharmacy in the Y. M. C. A. building.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Wizard of Oz" will be the potent drawing card for the next few weeks at the Academy of Music, New York, where immense audiences are sure to be amused and enchanted nightly The extravaganza gives unalloyed pleasure to young and old alike. It is a merry and brilliant entertainment, and the public owes a debt of gratitude to its producers, Messrs. Hamlin and Mitchell, not only for providing a bountiful feast of clean fun, bright music and novel effects in stage pictures, but for bringing into actual being three characters which otherwise might have been forgotten and allowed to die on the children's book-shelf. Playgoers have grown a little tired of the conventional characters in the average musical comedy, and so the Scarecrow, the Tin Woodman and Little Dorothy have been received with such overbounding cordiality by the entire playgoing community.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Mr. and Mrs. Cornelious Perrine, of Elm place, have recently moved to East Fourth street.

—The advertising columns describe the entertainment to be given in the Y. M. C. A. Star Course on Thursday Thanksgiving night.

—Frank Denckiau, of Watchung avenue, has entered the employ of the Public Service Corporation as a canvasser in the local district.

—Gordon W. Abbott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Abbott, of Central avenue, was elected a member in the Psi Upsilon Society at Yale, yesterday.

—A silver offering will admit to the fine entertainment to be given by the Ithaca Concert Company under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening.

Sunday will be woman's day at the Mt. Olive Baptist church. Services will be held all day in the interest of home mission work and there will be women speakers and singers.

NEW YORK HORSE SHOW.

Miss Ross Out of It With Her Coach of Turquoise Blue.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The crowd at the horse show was a record one. Society was out in force, and the boxes were filled.

The feature was the contest for the $500 challenge cup, given by the American Coaching club. This was for the best road team, four-in-hand, shown to a coach and driven by the owner. Alfred G. Vanderbilt entered his blue ribbon winner Venture and was again given the first prize. L. L. Biddle was the only other contestant. Miss Ella Ross of England had entered, but did not compete because the color of her coach is turquoise blue, which is not an accepted color in this country.

Pearl, a brown mare owned by Edwin H. Weatherbee, won the blue ribbon in the class of jumpers at six feet. Fourteen horses entered the contest and gave excellent exhibitions of jumping at distances of from five to six feet. On several occasions the riders were almost thrown from their saddles, and the spectators were repeatedly thrilled by the daring performances.

During the recess Black Friar, an ebony colored stallion owned by Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., demolished two small fences erected in the inclosure for practice jumping and nearly threw his driver over his head. The horse was cut severely on the forelegs and was taken out of the ring.

In the registered Shetland stallion class E. F. Hawley of Pittsburg took first prize with his entry, Bressay, while T. L. Watts, Jr., took second and third prizes and high commendation with Toronto, Red Fox and Monte Carlo.

In the class for brood mares other than Shetlands G. Howard Davison's two entries took the first and second prizes.

Yonkers Man Won Road Race.

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 18.—The annual road race here was won by Samuel Mellor of Yonkers, N. Y. He ran the distance, 19 miles and 168 yards, in 1 hour, 48 minutes and 43 seconds, lowering the record made by Jack Coffee in 1900 by three seconds. George Moore of Hamilton was second and Irving Elliott, another local man, third. It was one of the best fields that ever faced the starter, including Mellor, J. Coffee and Michael Spring, all winners of the Marathon road race at Boston. Mellor was a warm favorite.

Opening Races at Bennings.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. — Ideal weather, a large crowd representing every class of Washington society and the defeat of every favorite marked the opening of the fall meeting of the Washington Jockey club at Bennings. A large number of bookmakers were in line. Race King was the only second choice to finish first. The first race was won from the favorite in a close finish by Mary Glenn, whose odds closed at 100 to 1 and against whom 200 to 1 and 150 to 1 were freely offered at the opening.

Dan Patch at Oklahoma City.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 18. — On the association track here Dan Patch lowered the world's record for pacing a mile on a half mile track, the official time being 2:03 flat. The previous record, held by Dan Patch himself, was made at Birmingham, Ala., last year, being 2:03¼. Time by quarters was :30½, 1:00½, 1:31½, 2:03. The pacer broke in the three-quarter stretch, and the pace setter ran considerably ahead. The recovery was phenomenal.

Lou Dillon Failed.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 18.—C. K. G. Billings' Lou Dillon for the second time within the last two days failed to beat her recently established record of 2:01, regarding which time a controversy has arisen. Accompanied by a runner, the trotter, driven by Millard Sanders, her trainer, stepped the mile in 2:03 flat. The track was slightly improved and the weather ideal. Time by quarters was :31¼, 1:01¼, 1:31¼, 2:03.

Gibbs Had the Best of It.

LANCASTER, Pa., Nov. 18.—Before the Hensel and Schlichter's club at Maennerchoir hall last night Willie Gibbs of Philadelphia bested Griff Jones of Brooklyn in six whirlwind rounds. In the last three rounds Gibbs had decidedly the best of it, forcing the fighting savagely and in the last round scored a knockdown.

Canadian Team Won Championship.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 18.—By winning the game against the St. Rose's school team of St. Louis the Galt team of Galt, Ont., becomes the Olympic association football champions. The Galt team was easily the best, defeating the local organization by a score of 4 to 0.

Monaco Maid at Latonia.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 18. — Monaco Maid, an added starter, captured the Avondale handicap, the feature event at Latonia, in a driving finish by a nose from the heavily played favorite, Freebooter. The talent had a bad day, only two favorites winning.

Old Soldier Killed by Train.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 18.—A man who was identified by pension papers found in his pockets as Henry Grossarth, formerly of Company E, Fifty-second Massachusetts infantry, has been killed by the cars at Newark. Other papers indicated that he had at some time been an inmate of the Soldiers' home at Marshalltown, Ia. He was about seventy years old.

Forest Fires in Illinois.

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 18.—A forest fire which has already covered two miles of country in the bottom lands north of this city has destroyed hundreds of acres of timber land. Several large farms are threatened.

FOUR DEAD AT DOVER

Constituted Entire Force of Lighting Plant.

ASPHYXIATED BY ESCAPING GAS.

Victims Lay In a Heap When Discovered—One Was Alive, but Would Be Rescuer Nearly Perished Himself.

DOVER, N. J., Nov. 18.—Four men have been asphyxiated by gas at the plant of the Dover, Rockaway and Port Oram Gas company here. They constituted the entire working force of the plant and were discovered by George E. Bunnell, a former employee, who on visiting the plant found it apparently deserted, with engines running under a full head of steam and scarcely any water in the boilers. After shutting down the engines and attending to the boilers Bunnell went through the works and found the four men beneath an open trapdoor in the meter room, with the space under the floor filled with gas from a broken valve in the drip pipe.

The men were William Bulmer, seventeen years old, employed as a fireman; Elias S. Chamberlain, the engineer; Otto Eidschum, a painter, and a man known only as Gustave, also a painter.

The men lay together in a heap, and Bunnell, noticing that the man on top was alive, entered the trap to rescue him, but became so weakened by the gas that he could not lift the body to the floor, four feet above, and was barely able to get out himself. He staggered outside, but was unable to attract any one's attention, and it was some time before he recovered sufficiently to telephone for assistance.

When help finally arrived and the gas was turned off so the men could be taken out all four were dead.

From their positions it is thought that Bulmer went through the trap first to fix the broken valve and was overcome by the gas and that in an effort at rescue Chamberlain, Eidschum and Gustave followed and lost their lives.

EDWARD'S THEATER PARTY.

King and Queen of Portugal Entertain at Windsor Castle.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—One of the most brilliant theatrical performances ever held in Windsor castle occurred last night when Beerbohm Tree by the king's command took down a special company to reproduce "A Man's Shadow." The stage was erected in the historic Waterloo chamber, and the audience was worthy of its setting.

In the front row of gold and red plush chairs sat King Edward. Next to him was Queen Amelia of Portugal, then King Charles of Portugal, with Queen Alexandra at his left. These were flanked on either side by the Prince and Princess of Wales and the Duke and Duchess of Connaught. All wore the Windsor uniform—namely, evening dress, with red collars and lapels. The orders worn by the men and the jewels on the women's dresses added brilliancy to an audience such as has seldom gathered in England. King Edward and King Charles both followed the performance vivaciously. Mrs. James Brown Potter especially attracted attention, while another American, Geraldine Wilson, a small child of nine, upon whom this Jekyll and Hyde melodrama hinges, also won frequent royal applause.

The cast included such well known players as Lionel Brough, Gerald du Maurier, Clarence Blakiston and Kate Cutler.

Four Dead In Train Wreck.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 18.—Ralph C. Savoys and J. L. Smith, both of Grand Rapids, are dead here of injuries sustained in the Pere Marquette rear end collision of passenger trains last night at Elmsdale. These two deaths bring the total fatalities of the wreck to four. The report that the body of the colored porter of the Saginaw train was dug out of the wreck proved untrue. Clarence I. Pickett of Brookline, Mass., is reported to be in a critical condition at a Grand Rapids hospital, but all the other injured are reported doing nicely.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

A "guessing social" was the name given a pleasant and successful affair in the Monroe Avenue church last evening, conducted by the Ladies' Aid Society.

A well-attended meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held in the rooms on Madison avenue, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson was in charge.

With a view to raising money for missionary purposes, the members of the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church have had an excellent picture of the church taken and printed on post cards. These will be sold among the members of the church and congregation and the proceeds will be devoted to mission work.

The Suburban Club, of the borough, celebrates its first birthday this month. The club, during its twelve months as an organization, has steadily grown in membership, far exceeding the fondest expectations of the few charter members who organized the Suburban Club as an experiment one year ago. The club's bowling alleys are to be put in first-class condition, the parlors and billiard rooms are being newly painted and papered. These improvements give the members one of the best club houses along the line of the Central Railroad. For a youngster of only twelve months the Suburban Club has done well. May her success continue is the best wish of all.

SMILED ONCE TOO OFTEN.

Flirtatious Young Woman Practiced Her Art on the Wrong Young Man.

A certain young lady who walks along Chestnut street and who would like to flirt, but doesn't dare to, had an experience some time ago which, it is hoped, will teach her a lesson, says the Philadelphia Telegraph.

It appears that several times in the course of her perabmulations she had happened to meet a man at whom she would look sideways and with a most tempting air. Yet if the man dared to look at her in any other way than that of an utter stranger she would freeze him instantly.

This thing of being encouraged at one moment and frozen at the next did not suit the young fellow any too well. In speaking about it to a friend, it appeared he had had the same experience. The girl would look at him and almost smile, yet if he responded at all he would get a terrible glare for his pains.

So these two wily and cold-blooded fellows arranged a scheme to the effect that one should walk immediately back of the young lady as she advanced down the street, the other coming from the opposite direction. All went well, and the young lady came walking along as usual, with her smiling and tantalizing side glance at the man walking toward her.

What was her amazement to be hold him smile brightly, lifting his hat, and start toward her with outstretched hand.

"Why, how do you do?" said he, loudly. "I'm awfully glad to see you."

"Sir!" she said, drawing herself up and casting a withering glance at him.

"When did you get in the city, Frank?" he went on, passing her by with a look of amazement and shaking his friend's hand with the utmost heartiness.

The poor girl blushed painfully, standing there the cynosure of all eyes. One moment she stood, utterly at a loss, then walked rapidly away.

STOESSEL WAS HIT

St. Petersburg Dispatch Confirms Reported Wound.

HIT IN HEAD BY SHELL SPLINTER

American Consul at Chefu Cables Washington That Port Arthur Is In an Extremely Critical Position.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—A special dispatch from St. Petersburg this morning says that rejoicing over the undaunted spirit displayed by General Stoessel in his telegram of congratulation to Emperor Nicholas on the anniversary of his accession to the throne and officially announcing the failure of General Nogi's nine day attempt to present Port Arthur to the mikado as a birthday gift is tempered by private information that the gallant commander of the garrison has been wounded. General Stoessel was struck in the head by a splinter from a shell while he was personally directing the repulse of a particularly desperate assault, but fortunately the wound is not serious, and General Stoessel has not been obliged to relinquish command. General Stoessel is regarded as the heart and soul of the defense, and his death or disability, which would cause him to relinquish command, would be regarded as an irremediable misfortune.

General Grippenberg and staff left Vilna last night for the front.

Vice Admiral Bezobrazoff, who has just returned from Vladivostok, has been interviewed at Moscow. He said the recently constructed fortifications at Vladivostok make the position there stronger than ever. The entrance to the harbor has been thoroughly mined.

General Stoessel's report is by no means unfavorable. While the garrison is now hemmed in in the citadel itself, not one of the main forts has been taken. The garrison has been provisioned, fresh ammunition has arrived, and General Stoessel expresses confidence that the defense can be successfully maintained until the arrival of Admiral Rojestvensky's second Pacific squadron.

Everything has continued quiet at Mukden up to the present time, but it is believed that fighting will be renewed today.

The report of General Kuroki's death persists, but Chinese deny it.

It is reported that the American consul general at Chefu has cabled the state department at Washington that the situation at Port Arthur is extremely critical. The outer forts have fallen into the possession of the Japanese.

Three Japanese torpedo boat destroyers are lying outside of Chefu harbor.

The Russian crew of the torpedo boat destroyer blown up are transferring arms and supplies to a Chinese cruiser, which is posted in front of the Russian consulate.

Advices from Chefu say that fighting at Port Arthur has taken place nightly since the Japanese began their general assault on Oct. 26, according to Captain Renberg, a pilot, who was a passenger on the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny.

The Japanese trenches, the captain says, are closest to the forts on Riblung and Keekwan mountains and to other forts on the northeastern group.

The three Japanese torpedo boat destroyers which entered the harbor to ascertain if the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny was here disappeared for a time, but have reappeared again.

The Japanese consul sent a cutter to meet them and informed the nearest destroyer, the Kasumi, that the Rastoropny had been sunk. The consul says this was the first the ships knew of the sinking of the Rastoropny. The Kasumi transmitted the information by wireless telegraphy to the Japanese flagship, whereupon the destroyers disappeared in the direction of Port Arthur.

The sinking of the Rastoropny by the Russians relieved the Japanese of an embarrassing position. A repetition of the torpedo boat destroyer Ryeshiteini incident would have aroused indignation, while a failure to destroy or cut the Rastoropny out would have appeared like admitting previous wrongdoing.

A Harbin report says that orders have been given to the Japanese troops to shoot any one in Chinese garb observed approaching the line, for fear they may be Russians in disguise.

The Japanese army south of Mukden is reported to be concentrating on their left and center, presumably with the intention of attacking the town at once.

The Weber Murder Case.

AUBURN, Cal., Nov. 18.—At the official inquiry being conducted into the murder of the Weber family Mrs. E. C. Snowden, aunt of young Adolph Weber, testified that on the morning after the fire that partially burned the bodies of the victims Adolph came to her house, shook his fist in her face and said: "You have stated that I am responsible for the murder of my family. I want you to swear out a warrant for my arrest. Your turn is coming next."

Wisconsin Bank Fails.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The comptroller of currency last night received a dispatch from the cashier of the Berlin National bank of Berlin, Wis., announcing that because of a run on the bank its doors were closed. Bank Examiner Parker immediately was appointed receiver.

Boy Acquitted of Murder.

MACON, Ga., Nov. 18.—A special from Waycross, Ga., says: "Cary Nowel, thirteen years old, has been acquitted of the murder of Johnnie Barber, son of Abadiah Barber. The jury returned a verdict within thirty minutes."

EYEWITNESS FOUND.

Sensational Turn at Nan Patterson's Trial.

MAY FREE ACTRESS FROM CRIME

Anderson, a Talesman, Refused to Act as Juror Because He Knew of a Boy Who Saw Young Shoot Himself.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—A sensational turn was given to the trial of Nan Patterson, charged with the murder of Caesar Young, by the statement of a talesman to Justice Davis that he was not qualified to act as a juror because he knew of an eyewitness to the shooting. The talesman was Archibald J. C. Anderson, a public accountant.

Anderson told Justice Davis that a girl employed by his son had informed his son that her brother witnessed the tragedy and saw Young shoot himself. Anderson said he discredited the report at first because he thought that Young and Nan Patterson were riding in a closed carriage. When he learned that they were in a hansom cab he believed the story.

Justice Davis called the counsel on both sides up to the desk and informed them of what Anderson had said. Lawyer O'Reilly of the defense immediately made arrangements to have the boy up to the office of Abe Levy for examination. The lawyers would not reveal the boy's name. The witness has never been heard of before in the case.

Seven married men had seats in the jury box when the second day of Nan Patterson's trial was within an hour of its close. The last juryman chosen was Jacob J. Greene, and just before him John H. Pogdenberg took seat No. 6. No. 5 is Harry F. Lines, a real estate dealer.

All the jurymen accepted swore that the life which her counsel admits in court Nan Patterson led would have no bearing on their judgment in arriving at a verdict.

Mr. Levy received a letter from a man who said he had been an eyewitness of the shooting of Young in a hansom cab. The handwriting was poor, and the sentences were disconnected. The lawyer is investigating the letter, but is not at all sure that the writer will prove an important witness.

During the session Miss Patterson appeared to be annoyed by the presence of John Millin, Young's racing partner, near her. At the suggestion of the defendant Millin was quietly given a seat in another part of the inclosure for witnesses.

It was said that Miss Patterson had a nervous collapse at recess, but when the examination of talesmen was resumed she was in court looking as calm as usual.

CHARLESTOWN PIERS ABLAZE.

London Dock of the Warren Line Destroyed Last Night.

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—The London pier and shed of the Warren line in Charlestown, filled with oil, wood pulp and other highly inflammable material, was completely consumed by fire last night, and it was only by the utmost exertion that the firemen were able to save adjoining property, principally the big Hoosac tunnel grain elevator and the White Star line pier. The steamer Canopic was in the White Star line docks, but owing to the absence of tugs it was some time before she was towed out into the stream.

The Danish steamer L. P. Holmbald, which was in the Warren line dock, was towed out, and a small schooner moored at the end shifted away in safety. A coal lighter was also saved.

The fire burned very rapidly, but the wind sent the flames toward the harbor end of the shed. The entire north end of the city was deluged with sparks, some dropping on Washington street as far as Newspaper row, and numerous small fires resulted.

At midnight the shed was still burning, but the fire was under control. The loss is estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

Unique Water Cure For Thief.

LACROSSE, Wis., Nov. 18.—George Tuchek, a young man of good reputation, has given himself up to the police, saying that he had killed a stranger by holding the man's head under water. The police found the body, but it has not yet been identified. Tuchek claims the stranger attempted to rob him. Tuchek says he threw the fellow down an embankment twice and then, to save his life, held the man's head under water until death ended the struggle.

Murphy Used Bad Drafts.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 18.—R. G. Murphy, alleged to be from New York, aged twenty-three years, was arrested at a hotel on his arrival here last night by request of the New York police authorities, the charge against him being that of passing bad drafts on the New York Importation company and F. De Barry & Co. of New York.

Charles Renominated at Boston.

BOSTON, Nov. 18. — Salem D. Charles, chairman of the board of street commissioners, has been renominated by the Democrats at the municipal primaries, defeating James H. Doyle, chairman of the board of aldermen, by about 5,000 votes. Guy W. Emerson received the Republican nomination without opposition.

ANNIVERSARY CONCLUDED

The Congregationalists Hold "Forward Look" Meeting.

WOMEN SERVE SUPPER

By Vote of 89 to 19 Final Decision Reached Favorably in Project to Enlarge Building.

Concluding the special gatherings marking the celebration of its twenty-fifth anniversary, the members of the Congregational church held a "Forward Look" meeting last evening, during which it was definitely decided that their house of worship should be enlarged. The plans which have been prepared by the committee appointed for the purpose were pictured and described and the entire congregation expressed its approval or disapproval by ballot. The proposition to enlarge was carried by a vote of eighty-nine to nineteen and all that now remains to be done is to determine the extent of the improvements.

The "Forward Look" gathering began at 6 o'clock and continued for two hours, during which a turkey supper was served by the women's societies. It was an excellent repast and was made doubly delightful because of the pretty floral decorations on the tables and the sociability which predominated. A corps of young women acted as waitresses and afforded prompt service.

Following the supper, adjournment to the main body of the church was made where a musical entertainment was given, with J. K. Whitson as chairman. It consisted of phonographic selections in charge of Vincent Miner, pianola selections by Ralph K. Miner, and vocal solos by W. M. Miner and Fred S. Cutter Miss Beatrice Miner and Mrs. S. T. Barnes were the accompanists. With the conclusion of the programme, the real "Forward Look" was taken when the committee entrusted with the work of preparing plans for the contemplated improvements told of its deliberations.

A brief sketch of the movement for the enlargement of the church prefaced the report by Joseph E. Morse, chairman of the board of trustees, covering the plans that had been formulated. While a larger church has been discussed for several years, it was not until last April that a definite move was made. At the annual meeting at that time the trustees were authorized to secure the services of an architect and to prepare plans for enlarging the church building. A committee was subsequently appointed as follows: J. E Morse, chairman, Frank A. Weeks and Morris C. VanArsdale. The results of the labors of this committee made up Mr. Morse's report.

Corydon Powell Karr, of Putnam avenue, was the architect selected. He is known here as the architect of the Lincoln Public School building. Three propositions were prepared, so arranged that they might be all carried out at the same time or made in order as the necessary funds were forthcoming.

The first plan provided simply for the enlargement of the main auditorium. This is to be done by moving the back wall 28 feet out which will increase the seating capacity to 480, nearly double the present one. The location of the pulpit will be changed from the Arlington avenue side to the back of the sanctuary while the organ will be moved back and will remain in the northeast corner. These changes will, of necessity, require the closing of the windows on the back wall, while three panels of three windows each will be built in the Arlington avenue side. Another change will be to abandon the present kitchen, the space being required for the enlarged auditorium, and the construction of a new one in the rear of the lecture room. Behind this will come a boys' club room, a new feature for the church, but one greatly needed. This plan calls for the construction of a cellar under the addition and part of the present structure, providing a store room and ample coal cellar.

Ventilation and heating are not forgotten. A new and up-to-date system of ventilation is to be introduced. This will include an open fire-place in the southwest corner of the lecture room in which will be a gas log. The present hot-air furnace is supplemented by steam-heating apparatus, the steam to be used to heat the primary department, library, the entrances and other parts some distance from the heater.

For the completion of this plan it is estimated that the cost will be $13,750.

In addition to all the changes outlined in the first plan, the second provides for a new front to the building. There will be two entrances, one on either side, each larger than the present one. On the left, over the present library, there will be a square tower.

The Congregational Church.
(As it will look when improvements are made.)

The extra cost of the second plan is estimated at $6,790, or a total cost of $20,540 for both.

Besides the improvements covered in the first and second plans, the third prepared by the committee provides for the extension of the main auditorium to include the present lecture room or church parlors as a transept and the erection of a new room in the rear of the church. The present partition between the auditorium and the lecture room will be torn down and the roof raised. The new lecture room will be built alongside the boys' club room and so arranged that they may be thrown together if desired. The estimated extra cost of the third plan is placed at $3,210, making a total of $23,750. All these costs do not include furniture, seats, etc.

Mr. Morse explained that the bargain with the architect was that he was to receive no compensation unless the work is done, in which case he is to have charge of the construction and receive 5 per cent. of the cost. His

SOMERSET'S EMBROGLIO

Correspondent Wrathy Over a Newspaper's Reflections.

ALLEGED DECEPTION

Facts Concerning the Result of Election in North Plainfield From Writer's View.

The following communication refers to an editorial comment in the Somerville Unionist-Gazette on the result of the election in North Plainfield:

Editor, The Daily Press:

It is strange that partizan organs like the Somerville Unionist-Gazette either cannot learn or else wilfully insist upon misstating the facts relative to a political situation like that existing in North Plainfield. Last week's issue of that paper contains an editorial on the subject so grossly inaccurate both in its statements of facts and its deductions therefrom that it is hard to escape the conclusion that it was intended to deceive. It was well known and published time and time again before election that Republicans in the borough, as a rebuke to the unfair methods of Republican county leaders, would "cut" the county candidates including the coroner, and this was done. Therefore the vote for coroners, which the Gazette says "is usually cast straight on both tickets," cannot be taken as a basis for computing the normal Republican vote. It was equally well known that the Republican managers made heroic efforts to get Democratic votes for the Republican county candidates in order to offset the expected Republican cut, and claimed that they would get 100 Democrats to vote the Republican county ticket. Nor is there the slightest doubt that they did get a great anti-annexationists Democrats to vote that way. In spite of that fact in the First district of the borough alone the Republican county ticket ran over 200 behind, Cooper, the Republican candidate for sheriff, being 248 behind the head of the ticket in that single district, and nearly 400 behind in the two districts. Assuming that even only 50 Democrats voted for him, which under the circumstances is undoubtedly less than the real number, more than 250 out of a total of about 700 Republicans in the whole borough, voted against him, a cut amounting in results to over 500 votes and utterly impossible in a presidential year and when new fangled voting machines were used, except the voters were in deadly earnest. And yet the Gazette sneeringly says "the best this combine could do was to cut 85 or 90 tickets!" Is it any wonder that partisan newspapers have so little influence or that the people of North Plainfield are so wholly misunderstood by those people in the county who read such papers?

It is time the people of Somerset county realized the situation of the borough. It is a condition, not a theory, which confronts them. It is not a political fight. Neither Mayor Smalley nor any other man or a dozen men can influence hundreds of intelligent voters such as have been cutting the ticket in the borough for several years past, to vote against their party. Such action by so great a body of men demonstrates beyond question that cause exists. Beyond doubt it will continue to be cast until the cause is removed. Mayor Smalley could not prevent it if he would, and the sooner North Plainfield gets her rights the better it will be for every one concerned.

Fair Play.

RALPH CONOVER DEAD.

APPETIZING DISHES SERVED BY YOUNG WOMEN

TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH'S MISSION BAND GIVES A SUPPER.

Successful to a degree not attained by many of its predecessors, the annual supper of the Trinity Reformed church's Young Women's Mission Band was given in the lecture room last evening. The affair was largely attended and the members of the organization had so carefully planned all details that it was enjoyed throughout.

The spacious room was tastefully decorated for the occasion in orange and white, the colors of the organization. Festoons of orange paper hung from the chandelier, while white cut flowers were clustered here and there. With the tables scattered about, the room presented not only an attractive but an appetizing appearance. Supper was served from 6 until 9 o'clock. During and following the repast, plantation songs by the choir added to the enjoyment.

In addition to the supper, cake and candy were on sale and a fair sum was realized in this manner. Mrs. O. H. Clark and Mrs. P. B. Hodge presided over the candy table, and Mrs. Elisabeth Zeiss and Miss Cora Laire were at the cake table.

Each table was presided over by one of the young women of the society. They were six in number and were as follows: Miss Grace Emmons, Miss Anna Searing, Miss Minnie Wyman, Mrs. Frank Pearson, Mrs. Leonard Smith, and Miss May VanFleet. Assisting them were the following waitresses: The Misses Anna Bodine, Achsa Holmes, Mabel Gano, Emma Line, Cora Miller, Eva Davenport, Lucie Corieli, Eva Dunavan, Kate Bodine and Ada VanDoren.

The general committee in charge of the affair was composed of the following: Mrs. Fred S. Cutter, chairman, Miss Anna Searing, Miss Cora Miller, Mrs. Frank Pearson, Mrs. H. F. Crawford, Mrs. W. C. Startup. The subcommittee chairmen were Mrs. Leonard Smith, of the decorating, and Miss Lillian A. Force, of the emergency committee.

Mrs. H. W. Marshall, a member of the band, assisted very materially, by her work and planning, in making the supper the success it was.

Supper was served to 200. A goodly sum was realized for the cause of missions.

HOPE BASKET BALL TEAMS DEFEATED AT NEWARK

OUTCLASSED IN BOTH GAMES, LOCAL TEAMS THOROUGHLY BEATEN.

Playing under the old rules, which the team has not used at all this season, both the first and second squads of the Hope chapel basket ball aggregation met defeat last night at the hands of the two teams from St. Mary's Catholic Society at Newark.

Outweighed in both cases, and inferior in team work, the Hope boys had no show of winning and the scores in the contests were for the first team 34 to 15, and for the second team 26 to 4

The home team had the advantage of a thorough knowledge of the gymnasium, and were all accurate goal shooters. Dilks and Duckworth were the only ones who found the basket for the Plainfield team, the former landing four goals, and a foul, and the latter made two goals. The score at the end of the first half was 23 to 8.

The second team fell under the weather even worse than the first five, the score being 26 to 4, all the local points being made in the first part of the game. The following was the lineup of the two local teams: First—Duckworth and Dilks, forwards; Blumm, center; Porter and Emmons, guards. Second—Fritts and Montross, forwards; Cose, center; Hoffman and Foster, guards. Goals from the field, Dilks 4, Duckworth 2, Fritts, Montross. Goal from foul, Dilks.

CITY UNION'S GOOD WORK

Encouraging Reports Heard at Semi-Annual Meeting.

LARGE ATTENDANCE

Hugh F. Fox, President of State Board of Children's Guardians, Delivers An Address.

The women who attended the semi-annual meeting of the City Union, King's Daughters, in the lecture room of the First Baptist church, yesterday afternoon, were impressed more than ever of the great necessity of looking after the babies and children. After listening to an earnest address by Hugh F. Fox, of this city, who is president of the State Board of Children's Guardians, the women expressed a determination to continue their work with renewed vigor.

The meeting, which was largely attended, was in charge of Mrs. Charles A. Reed, president of the Union, and she called upon Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the church, to read the Scriptures and offer prayer.

In the regular order of business, Mrs. Anna Most read several reports, in the absence of officers. Miss Helen Phillips, treasurer, could not attend and a balance of $875 was reported. Mrs. W. L. O. Glenney, as chairman of the nurse committee, stated that thirty cases were treated outside the baby camp, during the past season, the city nurse, Miss Olive DeLaney, made 268 visits in the city and seventy-seven to the camp. During her absence the nurse on duty made 107 visits. There were 138 donations made to the Union by the Needlework Guild and a vote of thanks was extended for the garments.

Mrs. Most read the report of Mrs. Howard J. Runyon, chairman of the baby camp committee, in the absence of the latter. She reported that there were 171 children at the camp during the summer and thirty-one mothers. She stated that the various Circles in the city took turns in caring for the needs of the camp. In addition to the nurse's salary of $195, the expenditures for the camp work were $594 31. Mention was also made of several contributions from outsiders interested in the work.

Representatives of the various Circles in the Union then, in response to the call of the secretary, gave brief reports of what had been accomplished during the past six months. In nearly every case, each Circle, in addition to pledging so much money toward the support of the city nurse, engaged in making useful articles and in other ways contributed toward the work of the Union. The reports were all gratifying.

Mrs. Reed stated that the question of having the Union incorporated had arisen and she gave notice that steps toward this would be taken at the May meeting. It has been thought wise to have the organization make this move.

Mr. Fox was then introduced and for nearly an hour he held the close attention of all while he related pathetic scenes and incidents which have come under his observation during the past year. Mr. Fox began by telling of his visit to Atlanta a year ago, where a National conference of charities was held. He spoke of the deplorable condition in which he found the people who had been arrested for petty offenses. They were detained in a stockade that was neither fit from a sanitary or moral point of view. Referring especially to the children he said that they were allowed to mingle with the more hardened criminals. He spoke of a whipping machine used in the stockade for incorrigables, and he was told that to one time a boy of six years had been whipped by this machine, it having been decided that he was beyond the control of the authorities. All this, Mr. Fox said, happened in Atlanta, a city noted for its high moral conduct.

"That is in Georgia," said the speaker, "but less than two weeks ago, a boy thirteen years old, was placed in the Cumberland county jail and permitted to mingle with a murderer." He did not believe that this would ever happen again in that county as a storm of indignation had been aroused by the action of the officials.

Mr. Fox referred to irregularities in Essex county, where in Newark a baby farm was the object of considerable attention. At this institution the mortality among the children was eight out of every thirty. Going back ten years, the speaker mentioned the practice at that time of keeping children in almshouses. This, he said, had all been changed and the State Board of Children's Guardians now place these children in private homes, where they are visited four times a year and reports are received from them through school teachers. The children are placed with families of the same faith as their parents. The excellent probation system now in force in this State, together with the juvenile court were spoken of and Mr. Fox told of the good accomplished.

The benefits of the child labor law, which has been changed, and which he said with one exception, was the best now in force, were explained. The exception, Mr. Fox said, was that allowing children under sixteen years to work all night, as they do in the glass factories in South Jersey. He expressed the hope that this would be prohibited soon. Mr. Fox briefly touched upon the advantages of the tenement house commission, the poor food commission and other departments inaugurated to remedy existing wrongs. He said that Plainfield is unique in having a city nurse supported by the various Circles of King's Daughters, and he complimented the Union for its good work of which he hoped to know more.

He called Plainfield a model city, and then told how he and his wife, after visiting a score or more of places in New Jersey with a view to finding a place for a permanent residence, selected Plainfield as the best, it being well governed, the sanitation being good, little snobbery and a deep moral purpose, giving it more permanent advantages than any other city in the State.

Following the meeting, tea was served by the Union. Mrs. B. I. Drake and Miss Ball poured, and other members assisted as waitresses.

Under the auspices of and for the benefit of the Woman's Exchange, about seventy-five women gathered at Truell Inn, on Park avenue, yesterday and spent the afternoon playing progressive euchre and bridge whist. Mrs. Truell gave the women the use of the rooms for the games, and during the social hour she served tea and chocolate to the guests.

Effect of Common Council Increasing Liquor License.

COMMEND PLAINFIELD

Newark Evening News in Dwelling Upon the Subject Approves Local Council's Action.

The good effect of the Common Council's action in increasing the liquor license fee here is already apparent in other parts of the State where efforts are being made along similar lines. The Newark Evening News, New Jersey's greatest newspaper, in commending the wisdom of the city fathers of Plainfield in this matter said editorially yesterday:

"On January 1 next the retail liquor license fee in Plainfield will be $1,000, the amount fixed by the ordinance just passed unanimously by the Common Council. Once before an attempt to raise the fee in Plainfield to that amount failed at the last moment, because of pressure brought to bear on certain officials by the representatives of the State Liquor Dealers' Association. So elated was that organization at its success in defeating the high license forces that it could not restrain itself, with the result that when it made public the methods by which it had gained a victory, there was a revulsion of feeling in Plainfield, and the Common Council was forced to reverse its vote and be guided by public sentiment rather than by the threats of organized saloon-keepers.

"But the success of the high license movement in Plainfield bids fair to extend beyond the bounds of that municipality. Already plans are being made to increase the license fee in the city of New Brunswick from $350 to $600, and at Atlantic City it is proposed to raise the rate from $350 to $500. Those who favor the increase in New Brunswick are preparing, it is asserted, to pass the necessary ordinance in January in such a shape that it will not take effect until the following June. It is probable, too, that there will be a clause in the ordinance fixing a limit on the number to be granted with the expectation that a considerable number of disreputable resorts will be compelled to go out of business.

"If these plans are carried out they will be in conformity with the growing public sentiment on the subject throughout the State. Passaic, which has a moderately high license fee of $501, with a limited number of saloons, has no cause to regret the change it made more than one year ago. Camden's license fee is $500, Lambertville's is $400, but there are no other cities in the State at present where the fee is anywhere near adequate. It is to be hoped, however, that this condition will not be long maintained, and the people may expect to see the example of Plainfield followed, to a degree, at least, in the near future, by a number of other municipalities."

STOESSEL AWAITS THE FLEET.

Port Arthur Will Not Yield, but Must Have Supplies.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 19.—General Stoessel has telegraphed to Emperor Nicholas that Port Arthur can hold out several months.

Lieutenant General Stoessel's report expresses a firm conviction that he will be able to hold out at Port Arthur until the Baltic squadron arrives in March on the condition that he is supplied with munitions and stores. The government has therefore instructed its agents abroad to supply Lieutenant General Stoessel's requirements at any cost.

Emperor Nicholas will leave for the Caucasus on Dec. 3 to bid farewell to the Circassian cavalry.

The mobilization of reservists of the city of St. Petersburg will be announced next week. While the reservists of the province in which St. Petersburg is included were called to the colors some time ago the actual mobilization at the Russian capital has been postponed as long as possible.

It is reported on apparently good authority that the meeting of the zemstvos, which was scheduled for today, has been postponed.

Mukden advices say that early in the morning, after a long silence, the distant roar of cannon was heard, but where the fighting occurred is not yet known. There is no assurance yet that it means that a general fight is beginning.

AMERICANS TO PROFIT.

Russia Will Build a New Navy to Maintain Empire's Power.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 19. — America is likely to profit both directly and indirectly from the execution of the large naval programme which Russia is now elaborating.

The vital importance of the sea power has been Russia's bitterest lesson of the war, and the government is fully determined that the maintenance of the empire's position in future as a first class power will be impossible without an adequate navy. If the losses the Pacific fleet has already sustained should be followed by disaster to Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron it will be necessary not only to rebuild the whole navy, but to increase its strength. Some of the contracts will be placed abroad, owing to the limited facilities of Russian yards, and it is expected that at least one big ship will be constructed in America. The disposition is to turn toward France, Germany and the United States, and a great plant at Libau or on the banks of the Neva, directed by American brains and possibly in association with French and German enterprise, is one of the possibilities of the near future.

Among the Americans here negotiating with the Russian government is J. E. Wilson, who is trying to sell an invention of smokeless powder perfected by a Scotchman.

Mishap to Benbow's Airship.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19.—The airship of T. C. Benbow of Columbus, Mont., was cast loose in the aeronautic concourse at the world's fair, and it immediately ascended fifty feet. Just as the flying machine was about to clear the fence of the concourse the anchor caught and held it fast. After being released the hooks caught in a tree, and the machine after being up for nearly five minutes was brought to the ground again. There was only a slight wind blowing. When the airship's drag rope caught in the trees the position of the navigator was extremely perilous. The flying machine was pitching and tossing on the end of the rope, more than eighty feet from the ground, and it was only by the utmost exertion that he prevented himself from being thrown from the basket.

"Dutch Charlie," a Veteran, Dead.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Christian Kimmel, an eccentric German, better known as "Dutch Charlie," who had made his home in this city for years, is dead, aged seventy-one. Kimmel was believed to have been prominently connected in Germany, from which country he was forced to flee in 1848 with Carl Schurz and others who have since become prominent in American public life. He was at one time considered wealthy, but lost his fortune and died in extreme poverty. He served three years during the civil war and later in the regular army.

Fire at Bristol.

BRISTOL, N. H., Nov. 19.—A fire which threatened to wipe out the entire business section of this town destroyed eight buildings here, causing a loss of about $25,000. The fire started from an unknown cause in the large crutch factory of Calley & Currier and spread rapidly. The factory was destroyed, together with an additional building occupied by the same company, a sawmill occupied by Homer H. Hutchinson and two tenement houses.

Ship Masters Benefit by Wireless.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The immediate result of the opening of the naval wireless telegraph service on the Nantucket lightship has been the receipt of a number of letters from ship masters and companies operating steamships by the equipment bureau here inclosing sums of money to defray the expense of telegraph reports of ship movements in which the writers are interested. The bureau is returning these sums wherever possible.

Charged With Embezzlement.

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—State Representative Harry Buxbaum of this city was held for the grand jury in $5,000 by the municipal court on a charge of embezzling $2,000 from his former employer, James W. McClellan. Buxbaum was defeated in the Twelfth ward when he stood for re-election as a Republican candidate on Nov. 8.

SOUND BOAT BURNED

Steamer Mohawk Stranded Near Horton's Point.

TWENTY-ONE RESCUED BY BOSTON

Central Vermont Liner Was on Her Regular Trip From New York to New London—Boat and Cargo a Total Loss.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Twenty-one persons were rescued from the big freight steamer Mohawk of the Central Vermont railroad's fleet, which was burned to the water's edge off Horton's point, in Long Island sound. The watchman, a Swede named Larsen, is believed to have been burned to death. All the others on board, among whom were two women, were taken off the burning vessel by the freight boat Boston of the Fall River line shortly after 1 o'clock in the morning, and almost immediately there was a heavy explosion on the abandoned freighter, which apparently completed the destruction made by the flames.

The charred hull of the Mohawk now lies stranded on the inlet bar west of Peconic, and the vessel and cargo are a total loss.

The Mohawk carried a full cargo of general merchandise, including nearly a thousand barrels of sugar and considerable oil.

The fire was discovered as the vessel was passing Horton's point on one of her regular trips from this city to New London, Conn., and a few minutes later her entire framework was aflame. The Boston came up in a short time and went at once to her assistance. The rescues were made with much difficulty owing to the intense heat.

The Mohawk's men say that the fire was discovered by those in the pilot house soon after midnight, but its cause is not known.

Mrs. Charles H. Wilbur and Mrs. Julia Colby of this city, who were on the burned steamer, reached here much unnerved by their experience.

Mrs. Wilbur, who is the wife of the electrician of the Mohawk, said:

"Though we heard a gong, which I know now was the fire alarm, we did not understand that there was any trouble, and no one came to our stateroom, which was on the upper deck back of the pilot house, until we had detected the smoke and began to dress. Then Mr. Wilbur came and warned us to come out at once. With little clothing we ventured out of the room and were almost stifled by the smoke. Life preservers were thrown around us, and we were soon lowered over the side to the lifeboat and started on the rough trip to the steamer City of Boston. When we reached the Boston a ladder was swung over her side, but it was too short for us to reach it. Life lines were placed around us and as our boat rose on the crest of a wave we were literally thrown toward the ladder by our men. I caught a rung of the ladder and, steadied by the life line, reached the deck of the steamer. I was so excited that I did not know what was going on around me."

Mrs. Colby said:

"I never expected to escape alive, for the flames were sweeping down upon us and only the heroic work of Captain Barker and his men, who played a stream of water near us, kept us from being surrounded by the fire.

"To Engineer Benjamin D. Gresham we all owe a great deal. Knowing that an explosion was imminent with the small quantity of water in the boilers, he went down into the boiler room and filled the boilers. He reached the deck none too soon, for he was almost overcome by smoke as he emerged through the hatchway. Every man aboard the Mohawk acted the part of a hero."

The steamer Nashua, with Captain Baker and the crew of the burned steamer Mohawk in charge, have sailed from Providence for New London to replace the Mohawk.

Fisherman Lost In Gale.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Nov. 19. — The two masted fishing schooner Arthur D. Story arrived in port last night from George's banks, and Captain William Sloan reported the loss of one man and the injury of two others during the gale last Monday. The fishermen were caught by the gale off George's bank and tossed helplessly for hours. The crew of fourteen lashed themselves to the vessel, but suffered severely. During the height of the storm the main boom gave way. A piece of it struck Henry Morton and swept him overboard. He was lost. William Hughes was also swept overboard, but grasped a piece of rigging and saved himself. Henry McCann was struck by the swinging boom and seriously injured.

Eight Rescued From the Sea.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Nov. 19.—The Red D Line steamer Caracas, Captain Woodrick, from New York for La Guayra, arrived here with eight of her staterooms wrecked. The Caracas encountered a hurricane off Cape May on Nov. 13, and for thirty-six hours the ship was flooded. Three women passengers were nearly drowned. Captain Woodrick says it was the worst storm he had experienced in thirty-five years.

Their Little Election Bills.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 19.—John McKee, Prohibition candidate for governor, certified that his campaign expenses were $2,211.50, of which $568.80 was spent visiting forty-four counties, and $743 went to the state committee. Albert J. Boulton, People's party candidate for governor, spent $35. John Pallace, Jr., Democratic candidate for secretary of state, expended $2,869.70, which included a contribution of $1,000 to the state committee.

CAESAR YOUNG'S END

Mysterious "L. Black" a Defense Witness.

NAN PATTERSON'S HOPES RUN HIGH

A Would Be Witness Has Written That He Saw the Tragedy and Wishes to Testify, but Gave No Address.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The jury which is to try Nan Patterson on the charge of murdering Caesar Young, the wealthy bookmaker and horse owner, was completed before the close of proceedings before Justice Vernon Davis in the supreme court, and the actual trial will begin at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning. Assistant District Attorney Rand will make the opening statement and the taking of testimony will begin.

Eighty-nine talesmen were examined before the last juror was chosen, and the young defendant had exhausted all but two of her thirty peremptory challenges before the twelfth juror was accepted.

Before going back to her cell in the Tombs from the courtroom the young woman expressed herself as greatly pleased with the high standard of men in whose hands will rest the judgment of her fate.

She made known during the examination of talesmen, when she insisted that her counsel challenge a former bank cashier who has retired from business, that she would prefer to have hustlers on the jury.

Another talesman to whom she made vigorous objections and against whom a peremptory challenge was made was a bank clerk who displayed a knowledge of speculative deductions from correlative hypotheses. Miss Patterson said he was likely to tie the jury up by unnecessary arguments.

Then the prisoner insisted upon the peremptory challenge of James P. Powers, a real estate dealer, who had expressed sympathy for the widow of Caesar Young. Mr. Powers said that notwithstanding this sympathetic feeling he could impartially try Miss Patterson, and Lawyer Levy was about to accept him when the defendant entered her objection. She would listen to no argument, and the man who expressed sympathy for the widow had to go.

The young defendant was in a more hopeful mood today when she appeared before the judge. She fairly swept into the courtroom. Her whole demeanor seemed to have undergone an entire change. Her step had a fresh spring in it that was almost a dance, and she accomplished the distance between the corridor leading from the Tombs and the chair beside her father in less than a dozen sweeping strides.

Inspired with courage by the rapid accumulation of evidence in her favor she slept soundly throughout the night and ate a hearty breakfast. After this her spirits became even sprightly, and when a letter to which her lawyers attach much importance was shown her she squeezed the arm of her aged father, who was sitting beside her, in her enthusiasm over its contents.

The letter was written by "L. Black," and the writer said he had seen Caesar Young in the cab with a pistol in his hand. From that time on Miss Patterson's interest in the talesmen who were put on the stand and examined as to their qualifications to serve on her jury was vividly alert.

Federation Aids Textile Strikers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—By a unanimous vote the delegates to the American Federation of Labor decided to aid the striking textile workers of Fall River to the extent of $25,000 per week for three weeks. If by the end of this time it is found that the strike is not broken the executive council will if it sees fit continue the donation. The money for the purpose is to be raised by an assessment of a cent each week levied on each member of every labor organization affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Y., Nov. 19.—Two hundred of the principal business houses and all of the saloons but one closed their doors here yesterday afternoon when business men and clerks attended the special evangelistic services conducted by Rev. NEW YORK HORSE SHOW.

American Horse Again 1s the Fore In Class No. 72.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Again did an American horse achieve a decided victory over one from England when Enfield Nipper, W. D. Henry's crack pony, won the blue ribbon in Class No. 72 at the horse show in Madison Square Garden, defeating Oak Apple, a pony belonging to Robert Whitworth of Manchester, England, which had been brought here this year with its owner's expectation of carrying off high honors.

The contest was a close one, and Mr. F. Vivian Gooch, who judges this class, took a longer time than usual in awarding the prize.

The English horse had speed, good form and excellent manners, but failed in graceful motion when it was compared with Enfield Nipper. Oak Apple therefore received the red ribbon, while Barnston Lilly, owned also by W. D. Henry, got third prize. Hi Holler, who some years ago was a champion in his class, was highly commended.

What always proves to be the prettiest sight in the horse show was the competition in the class of Shetland ponies. None of the horses were any bigger than a large dog, and they were driven to veritable toy wagons by children.

The few hundred spectators in the garden applauded loudly as the little horses trotted on to the tanbark, and the children in the boxes shouted with delight.

Aberdeen of Pittsford and Bressay of Pittsford, owned by E. F. Hawley, were awarded the blue and red ribbons respectively. Monte Carlo, the tiniest pony of all, which was driven by Miss Natalie Watt, the daughter of T. L. Watt, who owns the animal, received third prize.

Sensation at Bennings Finish.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—An unattractive programme was converted into excellent racing by the sensational finish between Monacodor and Gold Fleur in the selling race for two-year-olds and the surprising work of Jane Holly in winning from Palette, a 3 to 5 favorite, in the sixth race, for mares three years old and upward. Jane Holly refused to go to the wire and delayed the start fifteen minutes. After she got away she led Palette around the course. Monacodor and Gold Fleur ran almost a dead heat, the former winning.

Jeffries Will Not Fight a Negro.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 19.—"The story that I have agreed to fight Jack Johnson is not true," said James J. Jeffries here. "I will never fight a negro. I am entirely in the hands of the press and people. Any white man they choose I will fight on six weeks' notice. Unless this is done before a great while I will retire from the ring and be the only retired champion."

Kentucky Field Trials.

BARDSTOWN, Ky., Nov. 19.—The final trials of the all aged stake were run by the National Fox Hunters' association here. There were eighteen hounds in the trials. Three red foxes were started. The hounds of W. Myers of Gallatin, Tenn., and a hound from Bowling Green kennels did best.

Rough Game at Medford.

MEDFORD, Mass., Nov. 19.—In a game characterized by rough playing the Amherst Aggies defeated Tufts here by a score of 11 to 0. The Amherst players played a much more aggressive game than did Tufts, but both teams were frequently penalized for offside plays.

Rip Won at Latonia.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 19.—Rip easily won the steepechase over the full course at Latonia, the other three horses throwing their riders after the start. All remounted except Weinman, who rode Allegiance. A stable boy took the mount on Allegiance and won third money.

Priceless Gifts From the Mikado.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Before leaving for St. Louis Prince Fushimi distributed money presents to the bicycle police who accompanied him through his various drives about the city and also to his coachman and footmen. As personal gifts from the mikado Prince Fushimi sent to Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Hay, wife of the secretary of state, teakwood chests mounted in solid silver, each containing priceless silks, embroideries, fans, carvings and other articles of Japanese workmanship.

Y., Nov. 19.—Special policemen have been sworn in here because of disturbances that followed the strike of a number of Italians who were engaged in digging trenches for the new sewerage system. Ice Stopped Six Hundred Workers.

MADISON, Me., Nov. 19.—Six hundred people were thrown out of employment temporarily at the mills of the Great Northern Paper company because of anchor ice, which stopped the water wheels. TRADE CONDITIONS.

R. G. Dun & Co. Report Business Retarded by Storm.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Business was retarded by the storm which interrupted telegraphic communication, but the loss was quickly recovered, and retail trade responded to the lower temperature, while a large jobbing distribution of holiday goods occurred. Fall River mills were reopened, but the operatives did not return in sufficient numbers to keep the machinery active, and there is still difficulty regarding the water supply in the Connellsville coke region, which handicaps the blast furnaces. Other commercial reports are encouraging, and, on the whole, conditions steadily improve. Gradual progress is desirable, providing less danger of such advances in prices as will curtail consumption.

Confidence is increasing, particularly in the steel and textile industries, and building operations are very vigorous for the season, while mercantile collections are more prompt. Farm staples are slightly cheaper in response to splendid dispatches from agricultural centers, and several freight blockades have delayed the delivery of grain and merchandise.

Railway earnings thus far reported for November are 8.6 per cent larger than last year. Foreign commerce returns show that October was the best month in this nation's history, and for the last week at this port there was an increase of $4,464,751 in imports, but exports fell $4,532,219 behind the same week of 1903.

Prices of securities established new high records for the year, despite exports of gold and a slightly firmer money market. Bank exchanges at New York for the week were 79.7 per cent larger than last year, chiefly because of activity in Wall street, and at other leading cities there was a gain of 19.5 per cent, more faithfully representing the increase in commercial channels.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for November amounted to $4,500,355, of which $2,253,509 were in manufacturing, $1,558,320 in trading and $688,526 in other commercial lines. Failures for the week numbered 217 in the United States against 249 last year and 27 in Canada compared with 17 a year ago.

ROOSEVELT AND THE SOUTH.

President's Letter to Colonel J. S. Mosby.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Colonel John S. Mosby received a few months ago a letter from Judge Roulhac of Birmingham, Ala., commenting on the attitude of the southern people toward the president personally. Colonel Mosby sent the letter to Oyster Bay, as he thought the sentiments expressed in it by a Confederate veteran would be gratifying to the president. He received a reply, which he did not publish during the campaign, as he felt that the president's motives in writing the letter would be misconstrued. The president's letter is as follows:

"That is a fine letter of Roulhac's, and I appreciate it. I have always been saddened rather than angered by the attacks upon me in the south. I am half a southerner myself, and I can say with all possible sincerity that the interests of the south are exactly as dear to me as the interests of the north."

NINE EXPLOSIONS.

Electric Headlight Plant Completely Destroyed.

FOUR KILLED, SCORES INJURED.

High Pressure Gas Tanks Blew Up Without Warning, Whirling Workmen Into the Street and Shaking Buildings Blocks Away.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Four persons were killed and a score of others were injured by a series of gas explosions that has completely destroyed the plant of the Pyle Electric Headlight company in South Chicago. The shocks of the explosions were so severe that all the buildings near the demolished plant were badly damaged, windows were shattered for blocks, and persons walking in the streets were thrown from their feet. Overpressure on tanks containing gas is believed to have caused the accident.

The dead are: Ralph Wells, superintendent; Amos Watkins, assistant superintendent; George Muehl, draughtsman, and Thomas Jennings, an employee.

The fatally injured are: William M. Maloney, blown from the third floor of the building, body crushed, and Alfred Cox, internally injured.

Many persons who were walking in the street near the plant were hurt by flying pieces of debris and were taken to their homes in carriages before their names could be learned.

All of the dead were buried under tons of burning timber and hot brick and iron, making it impossible to remove their bodies for hours after the accident occurred. Firemen poured water on the portion of the building in which the dead were thought to be buried until the flames were subdued sufficiently to permit of the four dead bodies being removed from the debris.

The scene of the explosion is the old Hyde Park gas plant, which passed into the hands of the People's Gaslight and Coke company several years ago with the consolidation of the gas interests in Chicago. Through lease the big plant is occupied partly by the Pyle National Electric Headlight company, which is largely engaged in supplying illumination for railroad coaches. This illuminant is forced into small retorts, which, when attached under the floor of a car, will supply it with light for months. In order to make this possible the retorts are subjected to an extremely high pressure. It was such a tank that caused the first explosion. Without warning of any kind it burst. Amid the debris workmen were blown out of the structure far into the street about the building. Before any one realized what had happened retort after retort exploded in such rapid succession that it was almost impossible to distinguish the detonations. There were nine such explosions in all, which left the plant in flames. Hard fighting on the part of fully a hundred firemen finally subdued the flames.

The total loss caused by the accident is estimated at $75,000.

Anglo-Portuguese Peace Treaty.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The Anglo-Portuguese treaty of arbitration, the signing of which was announced by King Edward at the state banquet at Windsor castle, was published last night. It contains only three articles. The first article provides that differences of a legal nature or relating to the interpretation of existing treaties which cannot be settled diplomatically shall be referred to the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague. The second article provides the mode of procedure prior to appealing to the court, and the third article provides that the agreement shall be concluded for a term of five years.

An Italian Vendetta Murder.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Nov. 19.—Charles Veniere, an Italian coal miner of Robertsdale, this county, was shot and instantly killed by Antonia Cunduani, a fellow countryman. Cunduani escaped to the mountains, but was arrested and brought to jail here. Cunduani accused Veniere of having killed the former's brother in Italy and, it is alleged, followed Veniere to this country for the express purpose of killing him.

Loretto Academy Destroyed.

CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 19.—Fire has destroyed all the buildings of the Loretto academy, located in this city, with their contents, causing a loss of $20,000. The academy was one of the oldest educational institutions in this section, having been established by the Loretto sisters during the war and conducted by them until last year, when it came under the control of the Benedictine sisters.

France Honors World's Fair Men.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19.—President David R. Francis and other officials of the Louisiana Purchase exposition have, it is stated, been decorated with the Legion of Honor insignia. M. Georges Gerald, the commissioner from France, conferred the decorations at a dinner given at his official residence Wednesday evening. President Francis was made a grand officer of the Legion of Honor.

Fire at Lancaster, Pa.

LANCASTER, Pa., Nov. 19.—Fire last night destroyed the Walker & Eby business block in the town of Gap, this county, causing a loss of $50,000. The principal loser is George T. Sellers, hardware, in whose store the fire originated through the explosion of a tank of gasoline. The Gap National bank and the Gap academy were also destroyed.

Plainfield, N. J., Nov. 19, 1904.

Lumberton, in the southern part of this State, is wrought up because of someone stealing its street lights. Up this way the street lights themselves are the biggest steals along the pike and nobody ever says a word.

The "Roosevelt Cabbage," originated by Samuel H. Greeley, near Burlington, is being exhibited around South Jersey. If the election had gone the other way the "solid South" might have come forward with the "Parker Peanut."

Confident of her acquittal, "Nan" Patterson is making her plans for the future and in a public statement says she will not go on the stage. She has been in the limelight so much of late the chances are that the public will appreciate her kindness.

Rahway's volunteer firemen have hit upon a plan to escape the nullification of the tax-exemption act. Realizing that there is no chance of a constitutional statute being enacted which will exempt firemen and soldiers from $500 worth of personal taxes, they have decided to petition the Common Council of that place to pay to the active members of the fire department $15 per man each year. The plan is a good one for it will hasten the day of a paid fire department in Rahway.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

Martin Cronce, of Essex street, who has been with the Potter Press Works, has taken a position in the blacksmith department at the Federick-Ayer shop.

The Pond employes responded to the 6:30 whistle this morning for the first Saturday in many months. It was a decided change but was welcomed gladly because it reminded them more than ever that "full time" is on.

The machinists' trade has been undergoing a boom at the Nixon shipyards at Perth Amboy, through an order from the Russian government for thirteen torpedo boats. The machine force was greatly increased and the men worked night and day in order to get the boats out. The first of the lot will be completed next week.

A report circulated that the Federick-Ayer Company had leased enough of its factory building to the Watson-Stillman Company, of Aldene, to accommodate 100 men, is denied by the officials of the former concern. The Aldene firm had a rush of orders on when its plant was destroyed by fire and to get some of them out a few of the machines at the Federick-Ayer shop have been rented. In all, not more than ten men of the Watson-Stillman Company will come to Plainfield.

Mrs. White and son, Phillip, of Hartford, Conn., who has been spending several weeks with Mrs. White's mother, Mrs. Williams, of West End avenue, will return home next week.

Mrs. Lewis E. Waring, who, on Election Day, met with an automobile accident, sustaining a fracture of the collar bone, is steadily improving under the care of Dr. G. W. Endicott. Miss May Waring, her sister-in-law, who was injured at the same time, also continues to improve.

charges are included in the estimates. After verbally explaining the three plans, Mr. Morse illustrated them with a series of stereopticon views showing the ground plan and several elevations of the building as it would be if any of the proposed plans were adopted. The stereopticon was in charge of J. Hervey Doane. The views were prepared by Willard M. Miner.

A large water color sketch showing the proposed new front was displayed at the close of the report. Photographs of this sketch were shown and sold to the members of the congregation.

When the full contents of the report had been noted, ballots were distributed and the vote was called for. Which of the three plans should be selected was not decided upon as the committee preferred to have one matter disposed of at a time and that can be taken up later in detail. Vociferous applause followed the announcement by Mr. Goodrich that those in favor of the enlargement were greatly in the majority. The meeting closed directly afterward.

The anniversary exercises were in every way a success and were gratifying to those who had worked hard to make them so. The committees which had charge during the week were as follows: General committee, Rev. Charles L Goodrich, J. E. Morse and Mrs. C. L. Goodrich; music, F. A. Weeks, Stay Raynolds, M. C. VanArsdale and Miss Margaret Weseman; press, Charles B. Morse; printing, J. A. Powlison; reception, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wadsworth, Mrs. and Mrs. Alex Millar, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Whiton, George E. Fuller and Philip Suffern; supper, Mrs. L. B. Morgan, Mrs. F. A. Weeks, Mrs. M. L. Harold, Mrs. J. M. Winant, Mrs. John V. Beekman, Mrs. Eugene Laing, Mrs. Floyd Fuller and Mrs. W. A. Mallard, assisted by Mrs. Everett Morgan, Mrs. Percy VanAlstyne, Mrs. George Lawson and Mrs. Dunning; forward look committee, J. E. Morse, F. A. Weeks and M. C. VanArsdale. The young women who acted as waitreses at the supper were the Misses Nellie Winckler, Ethel McIntosh, Jessie McIntosh, Josie Culberson, Alice Morgan, Ethel Millar, Ella Whitall, Emily Winant, Hattie Messersmith, Alberta Waterbury, Lulu Fuller, Margaret Weseman and Anna Barlow.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

Football practice was held in the borough park last evening, at which all the players werepresent. The practice was short and snappy and from the showing they made they will give Alis a good rubbing this afternoon on Crescent Oval. Manager Lake did not have any regular game scheduled for today but at the last moment he arranged a game with Alis.

An entertainment will be given in the Presbyterian church Monday evening by the Ithaca Conservatory of Music. Tickets may be procured of any member of the Society of Christian Endeavor.

S. H. Ramsey and family, who have been boarding at Mrs. Fisher's for the past few months, will remove to W. N. Apgar's house on Front street the first of the month.

The entertainment held in the Methodist church last evening was a merited success. The church was crowded to the doors, and a large sum was realized.

The work of replacing the wooden bridge on Mountain avenue, over Green Brook, may not be started until spring, as it is said that the demand for bridge iron far exceeds the supply at present, so it may be sometime before the contractor can begin the work.

Rev. Thomas Moon, of Glascow, Scotland, will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church tomorrow. Services will be held at the usual hours. The church stage will leave Dr. Westcott's corner for both morning the evening services.

Lovers of the strenuous game of football will see a good game this afternoon at Orange Oval. The Edward Clark Club eleven is considered a strong team, and the Orange F. C. eleven will have to work hard for a victory.

The Public Service Corporation has removed a number of the old electric light poles and are replacing them with poles much higher, so as to carry the wires above the shade trees.

A Model Newspaper.

In these days of keen newspaper competition it is gratifying to observe that "The Philadelphia Record" still holds its place as the foremost newspaper of Pennsylvania, a position it has occupied with honor to itself and credit to the community for many years. Not only does it lead in circulation, but its influence today is even stronger than it has ever been before, which is saying much. In the matter of giving the news it is invariably first in the field, while its editorial page continues to be a powerful champion of the cause of the people. Editorially "The Record" ranks with the best. Its opinions are not only sound and scholarly, they are fearless and independent as well. It truckles to no political power. It is deliberate in its judgment of men and measures affecting public life, and once those judgments are once formed there is no equivocation. What we most admire about "The Record" is its backbone. The success of such a paper is consequenty not to be wondered at. It has the people with it because the people realize that when it makes a fight it is fighting for them. This has ever been "The Record's" policy, to advocate the things that tend toward the public good. There have been times in the past when it has seemed to even antagonize its own interests by taking the unpopular side of a controversy, but has eventually demonstrated its farsightedness by bringing the public to its way of thinking. An illustration of this occurred more than a decade ago when, single handed and in the face of tremendous opposition, it advocated the introduction of trolley cars into Philadelphia. Looking back, it seems almost incomprehensible that such a condition of affairs could have existed. Many other illustrations of the progressive spirit of "The Record" could be cited, but the greatest lies in the fact that it is appreciated to the extent of boasting the largest circulation of any newspaper published in Pennsylvania.

The Real Horrors of War.

Nobody can realize the actual horrors of a great war like the Russo-Japanese conflict unless he is on the spot. No words can do it justice. The camera, however, can come nearer to making the picture realistic than anything else can. A photographer in the wake of the two armies has made pictures of the fresh battlefields that baffle description. The Sunday World has been enabled to get many of these photographs, and will present some of them next Sunday in a manner that will convince the most skeptical of the wisdom of Gen. Sherman's statement that "War is hell." See next Sunday's New York World.

Investigated Accident.

The Councilmanic fire committee has made an investigation of the accident to the fire apparatus on Election day afternoon, when one of the truck horses was severely injured, but no report has as yet been made. It is understood that aside from cautioning Driver Harrison to be more careful in the future, that no further action will be taken.

KNIGHTS OF MACCABEES TO HAVE A TENT HERE

ARRANGEMENTS TO BE MADE FOR ORGANIZATION'S INSTITUTION.

After several preliminary meetings, the organization of the local tent of the Knights of Maccabees was effected last night at a meeting in J. Frederick Huff's law office. State Organizer Fry, of Newark, called the meeting to order, and together with Deputy Organizer Jones, submitted the charter to the organizing committee, which was composed of A. E. Willard, F. M. Slater, J. L. Schermerhorn, Dr. F. J. Hughes and J. H. Hut.

With the addition of six signatures received last night the total number of charter members at the present time is thirty-seven. It is for the committee when the institution will take place, and as they will secure an initiatory team from New York to take charge of the ceremony, it is not definitely known when the event can be arranged.

State Organizer Fry made an address at the meting last evening in which he outlined at some length the workings of the order, its benefits, and the way in which each tent is conducted. He explained the purpose and use of all assessments.

THE DEACON'S FAITH.

IT WAS SHAKEN BECAUSE HIS PRAYER WAS ANSWERED.

He Petitioned for Rain, for Which He Was Grateful, But Objected Seriously to the Storm That Came with It.

The New York Weekly vouches for the truth of the story here told. In a certain rural section of New York, it says, the farmers were suffering great uneasiness for their crops, on account of a terrible drought of unusual duration. The knowing ones had all prophesied; the wise ones made their guesses as to when rain would fall, but all these predictions failed to bring rain to the parched fields.

At length the pious part of the community said that nothing but prayer would bring rain, so, one Sabbath morning, after Sunday school was over, one of the most pious members, a deacon rose and said:

"Well, brethren, you have all tried your signs and you've killed and hung up all the snakes you could find; the rain crow has croaked, but none of these has brought us rain. And no wonder; prayer is what we need. If you want rain we must pray for it, and we do need it. If we do not get a shower by next Friday our crops will be ruined. Let us all continue to pray in private. If rain does not fall by Wednesday, let us all come together at my house and pray for it till it does come. We will beseech Heaven with our prayers, and God will hear and answer them."

Wednesday came, but no rain fell. The heavens were as blue and clear as on a fine midsummer day in Italy. That night the neighbors all repaired to the deacon's with anxious faces and heavy hearts, but the deacon's face was cheerful.

"Oh, we will get rain this evening; we have not prayed earnestly. 'Ask believing ye shall receive,' and you will get full measure."

The prayer meeting was opened, and first one and then another prayed, until it became the deacon's turn to lead. Before his prayer was over, clouds began to gather, and the heavens were darkened.

The deacon took heart and began anew. The clouds became more dense, and soon the welcome sound of rain drops was heard on the roof. The deacon could pray no longer. They must all go out on the piazza, and watch the blessed drops as they poured down. The deacon walked about his piazza, rubbed his hands, and as the rain continued to pour down he would ever and anon exclaim:

"I told you so. Prayer was what we needed. You didn't pray with your hearts, but your lips."

Still the rain poured. After awhile the deacon began to look uneasy. Such pouring rains would wash his lands. Still it rained, and now the wind began to blow. The deacon's face was beginning to lengthen visibly. His lands were washing terribly, and the wind was tearing about in his new orchard, uprooting his fruit trees and breaking and tearing them up. Out in his back yard was the deacon's dairy, containing all his nice crockery ware. By and by it began to rock fearfully. With a look of mingled wrath and fear, out rushed the deacon and braced himself against the dairy. It tottered, but the deacon tugged and strained, and righted it again. Wiping his streaming face, he shouted:

"Oh, yes, Mr. Lord, I'll let you know I'm some myself," and he glared around fiercely to see if anyone disputed. But the wind still shrieked and roared around the dairy. The deacon braced himself and righted it for three successive times, but at last the wind, as if tired of its play, gave one mighty roar and, rushing upon the dairy, snatched it up, whirled it half round, and dashed it violently to the ground, breaking all the old man's cherished china and delf at one fell blow. The deacon, having narrowly escaped being caught in the fall, came slowly into the house, and turning, looked over his disasters with a look of deep disgust on his face, as he growled forth:

"Waal, nabors, the Lord has overdone the thing. Take Him on an average, anyhow, I believe He always does as much harm as good, anyhow."

Chinese Use Ancient Coins.

The antiquity of Chinese civilization may be inferred from the fact that at the present day there are in circulation coins which were minted 300 years before the Christian era, and bearing likenesses of emperors who reigned in those days.

SPOOK WITH A SHARP TAIL.

Horrible Ghost Works Great Reform Among the Colored Population in Rural Maryland.

The residents of Knight's road, a negro settlement on the outskirts of Allen, Md., are in high state of excitement because of the frequent visits of their one-time friend, Alexander W. Brewington, deceased. Brewington died about three months ago and, according to the statements of his friends, he has been prowling around the village at night for more than two months. He appears to his friends only at night.

One negro who has a family and could give no reasonable excuse for returning home in the early morning hours solemnly vows that never again will he attend to business matters after dark. He declares that he met the spirit of Brewington a few nights ago in a little skirt of woods near their church and the sight that met his eyes nearly scared him to death.

To a New York World correspondent he said: "I nebah in all my bohn days seed sich a uncommon sight. I wah jes' lak I's friz fas' to de yeath wid my mouf wide op'n, my eyes sot an' a-tremblin' like a dawg wid a half dozen agers. Couldn't talk, but I promis' de Lawd den an' dah in my haid ef He'd drive dat thing away I'd quit my foolishness and ten' church, n' I'm agwine for to do it. Dat thing had long ho'ns jes' lak a old-time ox an' a tale 'bout six foot, as sharp as a razah. De black smoke wah a-flyin' out ob his mouf lak it wah comin' out ob a steam injun. Wid a snort an' a slash ob his tail he cut down a lot of pine trees an' den lef—an' so did I. When it come good day I went to look at de damig and foun' de pine trees all a-standin'. No, boss, I'm done wid sin."

Farmers with peach orchards, melon patches and chicken roosts are highly pleased with the good work Brewington is doing.

HEAVYWEIGHT SAT ON HIM

Man Charges a Three Hundred Pound Bit of Femininity with Assault and Battery.

From Philadelphia a correspondent of the Chicago Inter Ocean writes that for sitting on the lap of a man Mrs. Mary Walsh, of Camden, was held in $200 bail.

She weighs more than 300 pounds.

Harry Carle, her victim, weighs 110 pounds. His friends advised him to bring a charge of attempted murder.

Although believing he could not have survived had Mrs. Walsh sat much longer, Carle said the facts did not warrant more than a charge of assault and battery.

Justice Barr was undecided whether sitting on a man's lap constituted assault, but as Carl insisted that he was suffering from the effects of his experience, he decided the case was one to go to a jury.

According to Carle, who lives at 939 Pearl street, he tried to prevent Mrs. Walsh's son from making noise in front of his house.

Later Mrs. Walsh appeared, when he was on his front step, and threw her 300 pounds into his lap.

Mrs. Walsh lives at Fifth and Borton streets.

Husband Airs His Grievance.

An unfortunate husband in Ohio, whose wife occasionally forgets womanly dignity, and gets fuddled, sent the following advertisement to the paper of his town: "I hereby give notice to my friends, and not my friends, that my wife ran away and stole money from the house, last Thursday. If she don't return in 24 hours I call us parted."

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

The New Woman

Danger Lurks In Hypnotism

A MEDICAL man who has dabbled somewhat in phychological matters advises mothers to "hypnotize" their children into being good. He tells them how to conduct the process of hypnotism on the unconscious infants. Let not mothers dare to hypnotize their children! The doctor is guilty of a crime in giving such advice. He is simply telling a mother how to paralyze her children's free will and eventually destroy it for life. Annie Besant, who knows more of occult psychology than any smatterer who trifles with it out of curiosity, said once in a lecture terrible in its vividness, "Better a drunkard should die of delirium tremens a thousand times over than that he should be cured by hypnotism." When opium is given to stop pain the nerve centers are merely paralyzed for the time, so that they do not feel pain. If the dosing is continued long enough and in sufficient quantity the nerves are deadened permanently, and the subject dies. Precisely the same thing happens on the mental plane in case of hypnotization. The will, the highest, royalest faculty of the intellect, is dwarfed, stunted and finally destroyed by repeated hypnotizing. The subject becomes semi-imbecile, an automaton in the hands of the hypnotist. There is danger in submitting even once to the hypnotist. A small part of his subject's will is thereby given into his hands, and he holds it ever after. The woman who lets herself be hypnotized even "for fun" knows not what she is doing. If I had space to tell you some of the facts known to me on this subject! One thing, however, be assured of—no human being can be hypnotized against his or her will. You have simply to set that king and emperor, your will, against the process. Hold your individuality against those who try to draw you into their societies or sects, into matrimony or doubtful financial enterprises.

Here is a sentence from a recent screed written by a white male against equal rights for women: "An inborn chivalry compels man to protect women and children." At the same time in the newspapers appeared a shocking story with the following headlines: "Men Trampled Women and Babes to Escape. Scenes of Cowardice at Fire That Cost Six Lives. Of Fourteen Victims All but One Were Young." What do you think of man's inborn chivalry?

In Paris Mme. Baill, a lady of fashionable society, has established an asylum for stray and homeless dogs. Thousands of canines are cared for every year by her. Now, if some fashionable society lady would only establish a home for stray and unwelcome babies, perhaps so many of these would not meet their death every year.

In St. Louis, while there at the fair, I saw beautiful women riding astride, dashing swiftly and safely along the broad suburban highways. Riding astride is all the fashion there, one is glad to note. Seated upon the cross saddle a woman can be quite as skillful a rider as a man.

I wonder if when the Almighty created women's hands he created them for the purpose of holding up women's trailing skirts?

What does George Eliot say? "It is better to be an old maid than an old fool."

It is a wonder more girls and women do not take up farming, gardening and live stock and poultry raising. In every one of these branches of rural occupation women over and again have proved themselves successful. Mrs. Meredith of Indiana long ago became famous for Shorthorn cattle. More recently Miss Mary E. Way, a Connecticut girl, has succeeded in turning a stony little farm into a miniature gold mine by her skill in rearing Holstein and Jersey dairy cattle. She accomplished in five years what the majority of men farmers cannot do in a lifetime.

Sh-sh-sh! Don't make fun of woman's rights advocates any more. They are getting to be the fashion.

There is nothing better for women than at least some years of money earning outside of their own homes. It gets a woman away from little fool personalities, the narrow, pitiable, me and my children, my daughter Jane and her children, we two families and no more, spirit. When a woman has the intellectual breadth to recognize that every other mother's children are just as dear to the Almighty as her own are or he would not have created them, then we may hope for the millennium.

Miss Pearl T. Campbell of Bayonne, N. J., won this year the Scott legacy medal and prize from the Franklin Institute for original invention. She has devised a process for taking the water from milk and leaving a solid which contains all its nutritive properties. This desiccated milk will be a boon in both tropical and arctic regions of the earth.

ECONOMY WON BRIDE

HAPPY RESULTS OF MR. YOST'S FIFTEEN-CENT DIET.

It Not Only Gave Him Back Health and Untroubled Sleep, But Also Centered Upon Him the Love of a Wise Maid.

Many a man has won a bride because of his money. Many a husband has his wife because he made clear to her in advance that life with him would be one long gastronomic feast, spread and maintained regardless of expense.

But Lewis Yost, Jr., is an exception. He won his bride because he knew how to live on 15 cents a day. She was Miss Mary Lallie of St. Louis. Yost lives there, too, and is a world's fair contractor. Life would have looked bright to Yost but for the Nemesis of indigestion. Everywhere it pursued him. To counteract its dread ravages Yost began the study of diet.

Starting merely as a medical precaution, he became an enthusiast over the new style of eating, and discovered that not only had it cured his indigestion, but that he had found a means of so reducing his table expenses that they nearly ceased to be an item in his bills.

He went to board at the home of Miss Lallie.

She was attracted to the young man, but marveled at his habits of life. "Why, he doesn't eat anything," she confided to one of her friends. Her own preference in the eating line ran to the solids—meats, vegetables, etc. It puzzled her to figure out how this sturdy young man could keep his vitality on a diet that seemed insufficient to support life for a child.

One day after they became well acquainted she questioned him, and even suggested that he might be wiser to conform more closely to the generally accepted menu.

"Why, my dear young woman," said Mr. Yost, "I can live on 15 cents a day, derive more benefit, and enjoy better health than you on your hearty course dinners."

Miss Lallie laughed. "In that case,"

FIFTEEN-CENT DIET WINS.

she said, jokingly, "you would make an inexpensive husband."

The incident did not end here. Inspired by his zeal to prove the wisdom of his regimen, and perhaps spurred on by some tenderer motive, Mr. Yost stuck to his wheat and nuts and waxed fat and healthy. His indigestion was long since a thing of the past, and he slept perfectly.

Miss Lallie looked on amused at first, but gradually gaining in conviction. She kept for a time to her regular food, but eventually found that her health was not nearly so good as that of Yost.

Several months passed. Yost continued to live on his 15 cents a day and gave such convincing proof of his system that she finally capitulated. Then an agreement was reached that if one could live on 15 cents a day, there was no reason why two couldn't survive and be happy on 30 cents.

So they married. His 15 cent regimen won her, and she is glad it did, because not only are they healthy and happy, but the greatest part of their income is left for the purchase of other things than food.

Mr. Yost has this to say for the system by which he won his bride:

"Our breakfast consists of coarse ground wheat, served with cream, dates, raisins, apples, fresh fruit in season, and entire wheat bread. For lunch we have the whole wheat bread, apples, dates, blanched almonds, and other nuts. Apple sauce, wheat muffins and wheat food figure in our supper. We never grow tired of this diet, for it is healthful and satisfying.

"If folks could only be sensible, thousands of dollars that are used in torturing the stomach could be put to better use. Variety is the spice of life in food. If people would use the whole wheat bread, nothing would be lost in vitality, and they would not need meat.

"This diet, together with carefully distilled water, costs but 15 cents a day, yet in health giving properties it is worth a hundred times that amount."

Music Reduces Hemorrhage.

A surgeon in the British army noticed that when a wounded soldier was taken to within an easy hearing distance of music, hemorrhage was greatly reduced or stopped. It is believed that the vibration of the air produced by the music causes the patient to become faint, in which case the action of the heart is so considerably lessened that the overflow of blood is reduced.

CAUGHT BY HIS TROUSERS

Tree Limb Holds a Night Prowler Until Officers of the Law Release and Arrest Him.

David Brooks was arrested on the limb of a tree in a yard at 544 Second street, Louisville, Ky., the other night by the police. David had been prowling about William Grom's rear yard, and when it was evident the family was alarmed, had thought it best to retire.

There is a tree in the Grom yard and a powerfully high fence. David thought to reach the one by climbing the other, and this he did just as Sergt. Davis, Corporal Gunther and Patrolmen Werhle and Horn, summoned from central station, entered the front yard. But drink was David's undoing. About one-fourteenth of what had been a quart of whisky was still in the bottle. From his position in the tree David leaped for the fence, but somebody—probably fate—had driven a nail, an old rusty nail, in the very tip of the limb, and there David's trousers caught. Straight through the seat of his newly acquired trousers the old rusty nail plunged, and there David hung. Had he drunk less freely he might have left only his trousers to be captured by the officers, but David hadn't drunk less freely, and so the charge of suspected felony was placed against him at the county jail

THERE DAVID HUNG.

"I didn't like these old pants when I bought 'em," said David, who is colored, "but that old second-hand dealer persuaded me to buy 'em."

KITTENS IN CLERK'S COAT

Cat Gives Birth to Family in Official's Garment and Refuses to Be Dislodged.

When business was done and it was time for everybody in the Tombs police court, New York, to go home the other afternoon "Charlie" Anthes, one of the clerks, reached for his coat. He found it had fallen to the floor and that the office cat had taken it for a bed. The cat seemed indisposed to surrender it. "Charlie" investigated, and found the cat had two reasons for refusing. Each was a kitten.

"Well, I'll be darned!" said the clerk. Just then the telephone bell rang, and

WHAT THE CLERK SAW.

"Charlie" answered it. When he got back and tried to take possession of his much needed garment he found the cat had reenforced with three more reasons, and the kittens were five.

"Keep the old coat," said the clerk, and, borrowing one from a friend, he left the cat in possession.

When he got up to the Seneca club at Twenty-sixth street and Broadway he found that the story of his experience with the cat and kittens had preceded him. Nearly every member of the club had a picture of a cat or a kitten, and handed it to "Charlie."

Lightning Plays Queer Prank.

Lightning played a queer prank in the home of Miss Ethel Spooner, at Harrisville, R. I., It entered her parlor, striking the bird cage, and the hook and chain by which it was suspended were thrown through the open door into the next room; the spring had disappeared, probably being melted by the bolt, and the cage itself was blackened and hurled to the floor. The canary that occupied the cage is still as lively as ever.

Courtship Long Drawn Out.

Bohemia is the country of long courtships. In no other part of the world are they so abnormally drawn out. It is not rare to hear of engagements which have extended from 15 to 20 years. An old man died recently in Prague at the age of 99, who had been courting a sweetheart for 62 years.

PRETTY LOVE STORY.

WHERE UNCLE JOE CANNON COURTED MOLLY REED.

A Romance of Ohio's Western Reserve Which Is Remembered with Pleasure by Scores of Happy Old Settlers.

Winfield (Kan.) Special.

The story of how "Uncle Joe" Cannon got his wife, as related by Col. S. E. Fink, of Winfield, Kan., is full of interest. Col. Fink was born at Canfield, O., the seat of Mahoning academy, where Molly Reed, who later became the wife of Speaker Cannon, was a school girl. The charms of this young woman, who was the flower of that then western settlement, are interestingly described by Col. Fink in his reminiscences of northeastern Ohio.

"That section produced some strong men and women," says Col. Fink. "Yankeedom, as a certain section of Ohio is called because of the Yankee settlers, was the center and heart of western abolitionism, the route of the underground railroad. In the days of the revolution the British burned the towns, villages and the homes of the people, and when the states ceded to the general government their lands Connecticut reserved this tract to reimburse its people, for their fire losses, and this Connecticut western reserve became the firelands of Ohio. The Connecticut Yankees immigrated to these lands and brought their abolitionism with them, and Yankeedom grew in Ohio.

"'Yankeedom' produced some mighty men—three presidents of the republic, Hayes, Garfield and McKinley. Others were Joshua R. Giddings, Ben Wade and Mark Hanna. This was the early home of Gen. Chaffee, the son of a lawyer, and William Dean Howells, the author. Howells set type on the Ashtabula Sentinel, and his octogenarian father still does business at the old stand.

"Oberlin college was described as the union depot on the underground railroad, and was the first to receive into its classes male and female, black and white, alike. The professors, when the fugitive slave law made hounds of men, refused to 'sick,' became the Wellington rescuers and for their pains spent months in the Cleveland jail.

HON. JOSEPH CANNON.
(As a Youth Speaker of House Was an Ardent Wooer.)

"In the early '60's, while these stirring events were being enacted and these mighty men were on the stage," says Col. Fink. "Molly Reed was a school girl in Mahoning academy at Canfield, on the southern borders of the firelands, ten miles south of where McKinley first saw the light of life, and seven west of where he spent his boyhood days and put on the blue of a soldier. Canfield was then a beautiful little city set on a hill, with broad streets, thickly set with trees, the home of a cultivated, intelligent people, an ideal school town. Molly Reed was a beautiful, bright, rosy-cheeked, cherry-lipped, and happy girl. She had many admirers. They came and then went with Molly's smiles or her frowns. Her beauty and her winsomeness made her the master, and her pathway was strewn with many broken hearts.

"In the summer of the great campaign, while the black clouds of disaster hung over the nation, Molly went to the then far-away prairies to visit her cousins and aunts. 'Uncle Joe,' then a boy lawyer, was fascinated by Molly Reed, and she in turn was won by him. In the face of this Molly returned to her home to await the coming of Joe in the springtime. One by one her companions learned, in confidence, of her betrothal until it became the village story that Molly was going to marry some fellow from the prairies.

"The marriage day had been fixed and the time of the coming of Joe was as widely known as that of her betrothal, But Joe did not come. It was before the days of railroads and the telegraph for Canfield, and news from afar came slowly. Some Pennsylvania Dutch were sprinkled among the Yankees, and one of these in sympathy and wonder said: 'Molly, vwat you dink, he cum still?' and she with candor and frankness answered, 'I still entertain a hope.' She spoke after the manner of her church, for Molly was a Methodist.

"Soon it became known that young Cannon was making his first political campaign, and as a candidate for district attorney, and when the battle was over he came to Canfield and carried away Molly Reed. There was sadness in many hearts when Molly and Joe left for their western home.

"On the prairies young Cannon and his pretty wife built their home. Since then over 40 years have come and gone, bringing renown to Joe Cannon, and with other joys he has been blessed with the love of three daughters. Molly Reed, or Mrs. Cannon, is dead now, but there are scores in 'Yankeedom' who still remember her."

SPORTING NEWS.

FOOTBALL.

There will be no school games this afternoon.

The Alis football team will play a game with the Dover A. C. this afternoon on Crescent Oval.

Ray Biglow, a graduate of Leal's School, now a freshman at Yale, has been picked for the 'Varsity football squad and is now on the training table.

The Orange Field Club football team will conclude its series on Thanksgiving Day with a game on the local gridiron with the champion Brooklyn team, one of the Indian League. The team is a little heavier than the local players and an interesting contest is anticipated.

The report that Clifford Smith, of the Orange Field Club football team, has severed his connection with the team and will not play football this season is denied. Smith will be behind the line for the O. F. C. this afternoon, and will finish out the season with that team.

ROD AND GUN.

George Mellick, of Manning avenue, is enjoying a hunting trip in various parts of New Jersey.

Harry Emmons, of this city, who has been hunting in Hunterdon county, has returned home with a lot of game.

BASKET BALL.

There will be no game of basketball on the local Y. M. C. A. floor Monday evening on account of the concert in the auditorium. Both the Men's team and the Business Men's aggregation had games scheduled, but both have been cancelled.

Mrs. Whitenack Dead.

After a lingering illness of several months, Mrs. Clarisa Whitenack, wife of Thomas S. Whitenack, passed away at her home last night. She was an active worker in the M. E. church. A husband and daughter, Mrs. John Kandelky, of Roselle, survive her. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the church. Interment will be made in the family plot at Bound Brook.

Sermon to Juniors.

The members of Franklin, Somerset and Benevolent Councils, Jr. O. U. A. M., have accepted an invitation to attend a Thanksgiving service to be held at the Park Avenue Baptist church on Sunday night, November 27. The pastor, Rev. A. E. Finn, will preach the sermon.

Jersey Columbia Alumni.

The Columbia Alumni in New Jersey has sent notices to the graduates of the Columbia Schools of Art, Science and Political Science, now living in this State, asking them to be present at a dinner to be given at the Continental Hotel, Newark, Thursday, December 15, at which time the formal organization of the New Jersey Alumni Association of Columbia University will be effected. Dr. Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and a number of leading professors at the university, will speak at the banquet. As there are a number of Columbia men in Plainfield and vicinity, it is expected that they will identify themselves with the new organization.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Jeremiah Manning, of 1054 Dunellen avenue, is seriously ill at his home, the result of a stroke of paralysis.

—The November number of The Lealonian is superior to previous issues of the publication. It is by far the best school paper received at this office.

—You cannot spend an evening more profitably than by going to the Y. M. C. A. Monday night when VanEps brothers and William E. MacClyment will give their second annual concert.

—Don't let turkey predominate Thanksgiving. Neuman Brothers suggest their prepared plum pudding, mince meat, fancy table apples, oranges and grape fruit, assorted nuts and many other good things which they have in great variety.

—An oversight in proof reading made the half-page advertisement of The Fair in yesterday's Daily Press say: "The sixth day of the $27,000 sale in New Jersey, and four days more and the sale is over." What it should have read was: "The sixth day of the $27,000 sale is now going on. Four days more and the sale is over."

—The Evening News of Cumberland, Md., in speaking of the concert company of the Ithaca Conservatory of Music, says: "The audience in point of numbers was double that of last year, when the same company was here. Should they return for another engagement, a hearty welcome will certainly await them." A silver offering will admit to the entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. this evening.

In Debutante's Honor.

In connection with the debut of Miss Virginia Hegeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Arrowsmith Hegeman, of Central avenue, on Wednesday evening, November 23, at the Park Club, Mrs. E. H. Ladd will give a dinner party at her home on Tuesday evening, November 29, and Mrs. W. T. Kaufman will also give a dinner party at the Park Club on Saturday evening, December 3. Both of these dinners will be in honor of Miss Hegeman.

Rain Drain at the Station.

For the purpose of carrying off surface water and preventing it from running in the cellars of the buildings, the New Jersey Central is having a drain built from the North Avenue station on the west side of the tracks to Park avenue, where it will be connected with the city storm sewer. The tenants whose buildings back up to the railroad at that point have for a long time been troubled with water in their cellars.

His Birthplace Questioned.

Max Freedland, of New York, arrested yesterday for peddling without a license, made everybody in the city court rub their eyes and take a second look at him this morning, when he told Judge Runyon he was born in County Mayo, Ireland. His Honor and the court officers doubted his word but nevertheless he escaped with a suspended sentence.

7TH-DAY BAPTISTS MEET

Conference of New Jersey District of Denomnation.

THE PROGRAMME

Rev. George B. Shaw, of This City Takes a Leading Part in Sessions at New Market.

The first session of the yearly meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptist churches of New Jersey and New York city, was held at the New Market church last night, when Rev. E. F. Loofboro, of the New York church, preached the sermon. This was followed by a prayer and conference conducted by Rev. E. B. Saunders, of Shiloh. Mr. Saunders has for some time been identified with the evangelistic work in the denomination, and his remarks last night were helpful and interesting. He brought news concerning the work being accomplished in New Jersey.

The services were continued this morning with a sermon by Rev. George B. Shaw, pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, of this city.

This afternoon there will be a Sunday-school service conducted by George R. Crandall, superintendent of the home school. Superintendents and prominent workers of schools in the denomination took part in this service.

Tonight there will be a welcome service and installation of Rev. Henry N. Jordan as pastor of the New Market church. Rev. L. E. Livermore will be in charge.

Discharged Soldier Sent to Jail.

Discharged from the U. S. Army only two weeks ago after serving a three years' enlistment, James McCann, of South Second street, was arrested in the West End last night for disorderly conduct. This morning Judge Runyon gave him his preference of $5 or twenty days and he was forced to take the latter. Catherine Coyle, who was in his company and who was also arrested, paid the $5 fine imposed upon her.

Approaching Marriage.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Louise Woodward Cloud, of Baltimore, and Hugh B. Reed, of Newark, brother of Charles A. Reed, of Myrtle avenue. The affair will be celebrated Saturday, November 26, at the home of the bride's parents in Baltimore.

LADY GREY IS HANDSOME.

Wife of the New Governor General of Canada Highly Esteemed by Her Associates.

London (Eng.) Special.

Lady Alice Grey, wife of the recently appointed governor general of Canada and hence prospective "first lady" of the dominion, is not, like her husband, of noble lineage. She was the daughter of a plain Mr. R. S. Holford who, however, was for a time a member of parliament. They were married in 1877. Their eldest son, Lord Howick, was formerly a lieutenant in the First Life guards.

LADY ALICE GREY.
(Talented Wife of the New Governor General of Canada.)

Lady Grey is a very handsome woman with large, regular features and a restful manner. She is rated as an intellectual woman, though she never parades her superiority over less clever friends. She is in the fullest accord with her husband in all his plans and upon several occasions in his career her advice and counsel have been of the utmost value to him. Her manners are simple and pleasing and her experience has been sufficiently wide to fully equip her for the difficult position of the mistress of government house in Ottawa.

Trailing Dresses in Disrepute.

Trailing dresses are banned in Prague, Bohemia, because it is believed they spread disease. The police of that city are required to arrest all women who wear them in the streets.

B. T. Barnes, at one time engaged in the confectionery business here, but now living in New York, was a visitor in town yesterday.

Charles H. Palmer and other commercial traveling men will address the Y. M. C. A. meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. There will be special attractive music.

BIG CROWD AT THE TRAPS

Gun Club's All-Day Tournament Largely Attended.

ELEVEN EVENTS

Professionals and Amateurs Participate—"Jap" Carries Off Most of the Honors.

By far the largest crowd that ever witnessed a shooting match in this city, gathered on the Holly farm, opposite the Driving Park, Saturday, where the tournament of the Plainfield Gun Club took place. Starting at 10:30 in the morning it continued until nightfall, compelled a cessation and during the intervening hours, fully 600 persons watched the professional and amateur marksman drop the clay birds. The affair was decidedly a success from any point of view and the promoters are entirely satisfied that the sport is by no means unappreciated locally.

There were eleven competitions in the tournament and trap shooters known throughout the country took part, although the professionals were not allowed to take any of the prizes. Honors for the day went to Charles Floyd, who is better known as "Jap," the winner of the Grand American Handicap. Although in the amateur class he beat the experts and captured first prize in nearly every event. Great interest centered in the special event for local shooters which brought out a lot of contestants. It was last on the list and though the greater part of it was shot by moonlight some good scores were made. Bert Johnson finished first, breaking thirteen out of the fifteen birds and winning a rifle. "Billy" McCarthy, of the local police force, won second prize, a silk umbrella. Elmer Cutting and Arthur Case tied for third place and Frank Terry, Harry Dreier and Henry Haurand tied for fourth.

Among the professionals in attendance were Frank Butler, husband of the world-famed Annie Oakley; "Jack" Welles, of Schoverling & Welles; "Sim" Glover, of the J. H. Lau Company; James Elliott, of Kansas City, the national champion, who won the $2.50 gold piece offered for the highest average made by professionals; Neaf Apgar, of this city; H. P. Williams, the western scout; Marshall Herrington, trap editor of "Shooting and Fishing," and W. R. Hobart, of Newark, eastern correspondent of "American Field."

Neaf Apgar assisted the club in arranging the tournament and so complete were the plans that not a hitch occurred during the day. Philip Jahn acted as referee and George E. Firstbrook as official scorer. Aiding them in various ways were the other members of the committee, Elmer D. Cutting, Elwood Sebring and Henry Vosseler.

The various events, prizes, winners and detailed scores were as follows:

PREACHED "SIMPLE LIFE"

Rev. Dr Schenck's Sermon on Live Topics.

LIFE TODAY TOO FAST

Minister Declared That President Roosevelt Really Lives a Simple Life in His Home.

From the subject "The Simple Life and the Simple Gospel," Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, preached a sermon of unusual interest last night. His thoughts were directed toward the principles of Christian living as presented by Rev. Charles Wagner, of France, who is now in this country preaching the doctrine of the "Simple Life."

Dr. Schenck took his text from 2d Corinthians, eleventh chapter, third verse: "But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtility, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ."

Rev. Charles Wagner.
Author of "The Simple Life."

Mr. Schenck said that contrary to the opinion of many it does make a difference what a person believes, and that it is through the strength of one's character that faith is shown. He said that he believed with Pastor Wagner that one should not live so fast and hasty, that one should live the simple life, devoting time to meditation, prayer and quiet, and that all should strive to follow God and not some one else. Dr. Schenck said that the simple life is the natural outcome of the simple gospel.

He referred to President Roosevelt, saying that outside of his busy life, in the quiet of his own home, he lives that simple life. He thought that the people today are living too fast and that a sufficient amount of time is not given to thoughts of Christian living, and it was this that he urged all to do, to try and live the simple life, which is a direct outcome of more thought and attention to the simple gospel.

During the service, Horace J. Martin sang a solo, very acceptably.

COUNTY COMMITTEE TO SEE INAUGURATION

HAMILTON F. KEAN ARRANGING FOR TRIP TO WASHINGTON MARCH 4.

Arrangements are being made by County Chairman Hamilton F. Kean, of Elizabeth, to have the entire county committee, which numbers sixty-five members, and perhaps three times that number of invited guests, go to Washington on March 4, to attend the inauguration of President Roosevelt. It is probable that a special train will go out from Elizabeth on Friday, March 3, arriving in Washington early Saturday morning, the day of the ceremonies.

Four years ago the committee took out 175 people, and it was said at that time to have been the finest train which ever left Elizabeth for any similar event. Invitations to attend the inauguration exercises at Washington with the County Committee are open, and anyone, by communicating with Mr. Kean, can arrange to go with the party.

SOLEMN VESPER SERVICE

Knights of Columbus Observe Annual Event.

IN ST. MARY'S CHURCH

600 Members of the Order From This City and Other Places Participate.

Fully 600 members of the order of Knights of Columbus from this city and other places, assembled in St. Mary's church last evening to take part in the solemn vesper service of Washung Council, No. 552, of Plainfield. In addition there were many other members of the parish and friends, filling the edifice to its capacity. It was the second service of this kind conducted by the local council and it was one of the most impressive ever witnessed in St. Mary's. Visiting Knights were present from Elizabeth, Bound Brook and other places.

The members marched into the church at 8 o'clock, fifty of them in the uniform of the Fourth Degree, lending a striking appearance to the body. The latter were escorted to their seats by forty altar boys, the while singing, "Onward, Christian Soldiers." Father J. W. Delehanty was the celebrant during the service, with Father Dunphy, of Dunellen, as deacon; Father Westman, of Cranford, sub-deacon and Father Frederici, assistant at St. Mary's, master of ceremonies. Additional voices greatly increased the effect of the choir's participation and the music was greatly appreciated. Miss Anna Daly, in a clear, sweet soprano, with much expression sang "Salve Regina," and solo work was taken by Joseph O'Keefe and Albert Matthews. M. J. Cashin was in charge of the choir.

Rev. Father Norris, of Deal, had been selected to preach the sermon but was unable to come. His place was acceptably filled by Rev. Father Gilfillan, of Trenton, who in part spoke as follows:

"Then all the world was at peace, there came one who fulfilled all that had been foretold of Him. He found the world scarcely prepared to listen to the new doctrines. He was to teach; it had been wrapped in luxury, and its thoughts were not those of the Man God, who came to deliver a doctrine entirely opposed to what the world had believed. It was a doctrine that taught man that his whole aim and business in life was to save his own immortal soul.

"This was indeed a strange, unheard of doctrine, and the unbelievers scoffed at it, and brought to death Him who preached it. It was a doctrine, however, that was destined to prevail, said the preacher, and history has shown how brilliantly successful was this faith that began so humbly, and finally won the homage and respect of the barbarous as well as the civilized, and ever since its first promulgation it has gone on increasing in honor and strength so that today it is the grand institution of the Catholic church that has been a comfort and a solace to untold millions. Here the preacher dwelt upon the Knighthood of old, and urged the members of the Council to be true and loyal to the principles of their order. These principles were truth, honesty, and above all loyalty to God and His church."

Wipe Out Church Debt.

According to the yearly custom, the annual report of the Y. M. C. A. was read at the First M. E. church last night by George M. Rittenhouse. At the services yesterday a sufficient sum of money was raised to pay for the recent improvements at the church. A week ago about $2,500 was raised and yesterday the balance, a little over $500, was raised. This will liquidate the entire indebtedness incurred by the improvements.

Tildon, pastor of Bethel chapel, officiated. The pallbearers were the Misses Nora Randolph, Helen Johnson, Henrietta Lewis, Mamie Foster, Ruth Johnson and Mary E Johnson.

WHO SHOT JAS. RADIN?

Doesn't Know Himself and the Police Are Mystified.

NOW IN HOSPITAL

Attended a Christening and Evidently Stood Around When Someone Got Careless.

James Radin, fifty years old, of Midway avenue, is in Muhlenberg Hospital with a bullet wound in the right arm and the police are endeavoring to locate the man who shot him. Radin says he hasn't the least idea and the investigation has so far led to the belief that he has no particular remembrance of himself for four hours yesterday afternoon.

Radin hurried up to Patrolman Kelley in the East End shortly after 7 o'clock last night and announced that he had been shot.

"G'wan," said Kelley, "I know you are. Don't bother with the majesty of the law."

Radin insisted that the kind of shot he meant included lead and Kelley finally consented to look at his arm. The bullet wound was plainly visible and in addition the coat sleeve was clotted with blood. The patrolman hurried Radin to the headquarters and Dr. Lufburrow advised his removal to Muhlenberg Hospital. The wound is not dangerous and the man will be out in a few days.

As near as can be learned, Radin attended a Polish christening on St. Mary's avenue yesterday and the chances are the shot was fired while he was there. Isaiah Curtis, who lives nearby, says he heard shooting in the house at 7 o'clock, but Radin says he stopped the bullet at 3 in the afternoon. He is unable to explain where he was from 3 until he met Patrolman Kelley and no one has come forward to help him out, except John Giles, who also attended the christening and was arrested early last evening for drunkenness. Radin was at the house when he went out for a new supply of oil of joy and no shots had been fired at that time, but he told Chief Kiely trouble was brewing and somebody might have gotten careless. The Poles at the house pleaded ignorance of any shooting and the police are mystified.

F. SCHMIDT DEAD.

Civil War Veteran Succumbed to Paralytic Stroke Saturday Evening.

Fridolin Schmidt, for many years a resident of the borough, died at his home on Duer street Saturday night from the effects of a paralytic stroke which affected him several months ago. He was in his sixty-fifth year and was a tailor by trade, having conducted his business on East Front street for a long time. He was a veteran of the Civil War, serving with Company H, Ninety-fourth regiment, New York Volunteer Infantry, but was not allied with the local G. A. R. post. He enjoyed a wide acquaintance both in the city and borough.

Surviving him are a widow and four children, the Misses Justina, Clara and Florence Schmidt and Raymond Schmidt. Funeral services will be held from his late home Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Joseph's church at 9:45.

MRS. J. W. SANDFORD DEAD.

Former Plainfielder Passes Away in New York.

Mrs. Mary J. Sandford, widow of Joseph W. Sandford, formerly of West Seventh street, died this morning at the home of Mrs. Harry Brewster, in New York, where she had been living.

Mrs. Sandford had been ill for some time and recently her condition grew so much worse that her death was expected at any time. She was an aunt of Fred Sandford.

More of O'Brien's Victims.

Arthur Malli and John O'Gorman, two Philadelphia men, telephoned Chief Kiely Saturday night, asking for a full description of O'Brien, the swindler caught here late week. Their request was complied with and yesterday they came to Plainfield to look at the man. They at once declared him to be the fellow that had tricked them out of $75 a short time ago.

"An Evening with the Presidents," will be enjoyed by the members and friends of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church on Friday evening. The affair will be in the form of a social.

AGED BUILDER SUCCUMBS

Jeremiah Manning, Well-Known Contractor, Dead.

WAS SEVENTY-THREE

Trustee of First Baptist Church and Dime Savings Institution—A Commissioner of Appeals.

Jeremiah Manning, for many years one of the leading contractors in this city, and who was one of the best known citizens, died Saturday night at 7:45 o'clock at his home in Dunellen avenue from a complication of diseases. He had been seriously ill for two weeks, although he had been complaining for several years.

Mr. Manning was born seventy-three years ago near South Plainfield. For thirty years he was a contractor here, during which time he erected many of the most prominent buildings and dwellings in the city. A few years ago he retired from business and was succeeded by his son, James Manning. He served the city as a Commissioner of Appeal for many years, his decisions always being considered fair and just. He was also a trustee of the First Baptist church and the Dime Savings Institution. As a citizen Mr. Manning always commanded the respect of his fellows. He possessed a stirling character and he made a host of friends by his uprightness and fair dealing.

Mr. Manning leaves a wife, a son, James Manning, two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Remsen, of California; Miss Katherine Manning, of this city; three brothers, L. L. Manning, Daniel Manning and Joel Manning, of this city; and three sisters, Mrs Katherine Rudolph and Mrs Charles Recap, of this city, and Mrs. Adeline Townsend, of Bound Brook.

The funeral services will be held from the late home tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be in Hillside Cemetery.

WATCHUNG HUNT CLUB GALLOPS CROSS COUNTRY

MEMBERS ENJOY LONGEST AND BEST RIDE OF THE SEASON.

Starting the hounds over the brown meadows in the vicinity of Colonel Holly's farm in South Plainfield, fifteen members of the Watchung Hunt Club and their guests presented a typical hunt scene as they galloped off Saturday afternoon, for their weekly chase.

With a good attendance and no accident to mar the pleasure of the occasion, the ride was one of the longest, and one of the best which the club has so far made. Crossing Park avenue a little below the Holly farm, the riders galloped over the meadows to Metuchen, encountering nothing but good riding ground, and taking plenty of fences. Arriving at Metuchen they took a straight route over the fields to Oak Tree, where they disbanded.

Those who rode Saturday were Miss Holly, of this city; Miss Noe, of Westfield; Miss Gertrude Parker and friends, from Perth Amboy; George O. White, of Glen Ridge; Chauncey Sayer, of Orange; Duncan Bulkley, of New York; Edward Otherman, of New York; Mr. Bourne, of Cranford; W. Webster, Charles Ismay, C. E. S. Bellows, Dr. Knott and R. A. Shebbeare, of this city.

The members of the club are anticipating an especial treat on Thanksgiving day, when they will hold the next hunt. The riders will start from the Colonia Country Club at 10 o'clock, and will cover about eight miles, before returning to the clubhouse, where a hunt breakfast will be given by Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Cruikshank, of this city. It is expected that a large number of out-of-town guests will be in attendance.

New Timetable on Central.

The new winter schedule of the New Jersey Central goes into effect Sunday, November 27. One of the important changes will be the discontinuance of the 10 o'clock morning express from New York. This train will stop here only on signal to pick up passengers for Philadelphia and points south.

Brick Paving Resumed.

The work of laying vitrified brick in Watchung avenue was continued this morning, and Street Commissioner Gavett hopes to have the same completed in about a week.

—The Union County Board of Freeholders will meet at Elizabeth tomorrow for the purpose of paying election bills.

FIREMEN HAVE HARD FIGHT

Third Story Blaze on North Avenue Yesterday.

ORIGIN A MYSTERY

Occupant of Apartments Declares Incendiarism for the Purpose of Robbery.

One of the hottest fires which the local department has had to contend with in many months, broke out shortly before noon yesterday in the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Maynard on the third floor of Woolston & Buckle's building on North avenue. Flames originating mysteriously in a closet had spread about the parlor, filling it with dense smoke that all but overcome everyone of the men who ventured in the place. The department was grently handicapped in battling with the fire on this account and the peculiar structure of the hall and rooms, yet the total loss was kept within $400.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard were attending church and smoke had been issuing from the rooms fully ten minutes when it was discovered by Harry De Mesa, who turned in an alarm from box 12. Driver Harrison, of headquarters, who was walking by the building, ran upstairs and had broken into the place when the department arrived. The flames had eaten their way out of the closet by burning the door off entirely and were creeping between the walls toward the roof when checked. A good part of the woodwork crumbled beneath the firemen's hooks, showing that the fire had been smoldering there a long time. One line of hose was stretched in and so effectively was it used that hardly a drop of water went through to the rooms of the Timbo Social Club on the second floor.

In speaking of the fire to Chief Doane, Mr. Maynard expressed the belief that it was the work of an incendiary for the purpose of robbery. A pocketbook containing $17 which had been in the closet was missing after the blaze had been extinguished but was found by one of Chief Doane's men later, with the money gone. Two boxes each containing a $5 bill, were consumed together.

The loss on the building will aggregate $300 and Mr. Maynard's will be about the same, both covered by insurance. The Maynard loss was principally on clothing and furniture.

A second alarm was received at headquarters yesterday at 5:30 for a slight blaze at the home of Isaac L. Elliott at 929 Watchung avenue. A member of the family struck a match to light a lamp and the head flew into nearby portieres. They were quickly pulled down and thrown out of doors, but an alarm was turned in from box 25 by someone who heard the cries. Further excitement in the Elliott home was caused by one of the small children rushing directly into the blazing mass through fright and was only saved from burning through quick action on the part of the mother.

REV. E. V. STEVENSON'S TALK TO ODD FELLOWS

ONE HUNDRED MEMBERS OF LOCAL LODGES ATTEND CHURCH SERVICE.

One hundred members of Queen City, No. 236, and Plainfield lodges, No 44, I. O. O. F., attended the services at Grace church last evening and listened to a special sermon by the rector, Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson. Though in other respects no different from the regular service, the sermon was directed especially to the lodge members, and its theme was appropriate to the occasion.

Rev. Mr. Stevenson, taking for his Biblical reference the story of the Good Samaritan, spoke of the purpose of lodge work, the good accomplished by them, and of the Good Samaritan principles which all lodges profess.

The rector also referred to the work of all organizations in the world, touching on the effects of large corporations, trusts, and other institutions. His remarks however, did not hinge strongly upon financial organizations, but referred rather to religious associations.

In conclusion Rev. Mr. Stevenson mentioned particularly the work of the local lodges, who as the speaker said, have done much during the years of their existence to further the "brotherhood of man, and the Fatherhood of God."

—New storm doors and a vestibule are being erected at the Park Club.

CUP WINNERS AT HILLSIDE

W. L. Glenney and Harold Robert Take the Trophies.

CLOSES COMPETITIONS

Concluding Play Attracts a Large Field—No Special Events Thanksgiving Day.

The concluding play for the Golf Committee and Gaston cups at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club on Saturday, attracted a large field. There was unusual interest, for W. L. Glenney, who won the Golf Committee cup, held the lead by a very small margin. His total number of points was 13 5-6. As those who contested on Saturday did not reduce his lead, he wins the trophy. Harold Robert won the Gaston cup with 22½ points. He had a long lead, his nearest competitor not having anywhere near that number of points. Although this marks the last play for the two cups in the weekly competition, there will be play on Thanksgiving day, which will mark the close of the active season. On that day there will be the semi-final and final play for the Greens' Committee Tankard and Holiday cup, morning and afternoon.

On Saturday, H. D. Hibbard won first honors for the Golf Committee cup with a net score of 76. H. W. Beebe finished second with a score of 79 and Leighton Calkins won the remaining point with a score of 80. O. B. Morgan just missed getting a point, his score being 81.

These scores were posted for the cup:

H. D. Hibbard, 83, 7—76; H. W. Beebe, 94, 15—79; Leighton Calkins, 81, 1—80; O. B. Morgan, 87, 6—81; T. W. T. Maxwell, 101, 20—81; E. E. Iremonger, 93, 11—82; Hugh F. Fox, 97, 13—84; W. L. Glenney, 84, plus 2—86.

For the Gaston cup the point-winners were A. E. Barclay, 96, 0—96, and T. W. T. Maxwell, 101, 1—100. This is the first year for this cup. Walter T. Gaston, an enthusiastic member of the club, offered the cup to be played for about on the same lines as the Golf Committee cup, except that the system of handicapping was a little different. The competition generally attracted a number of contestants, but toward the latter part of the season when it became known that Harold Robert could not be beaten in the competition, interest fell off considerably.

It has been thought wise by the Golf Committee not to arrange for any special events on Thanksgiving day, as most of the members prefer to spend a greater part of the day at home, and then the days are growing so much shorter that it would practically be impossible to hold the events in the afternoon with any degree of satisfaction. Altogether the past season has been an entirely satisfactory one and greater interest has been manifested in the fine programme arranged. An encouraging feature is that the women have taken a more active interest in events arranged for them, especially in the approaching and putting. While it is expected that there will be general play on the course after Thursday, it is not likely to continue long as the ground becomes very soft and soggy during the day, especially while the weather remains moderately warm.

—Messrs. Chas. Abel and Wm. Davis, of Plainfield, passed last week with the former's parents, hunting. It was just like election, one got them all; Abel shot quite a number, but Davis shot only one. I guess he enjoyed eating apples more than rabbits, or else was saving his shells for Fourth of July. They returned to the city Sunday evening through the snow storm with two dress-suit cases full—and a dozen on a string. Billy said the reason he could not catch any more was because Parker was not elected, but he may not tell his city friends his hardluck story.—East Hampton Notes in Clinton Democrat.

ROOSEVELT SPEAKS.

Dedication of St. Patrick's Church Hall.

"PRESIDENT OF THE SQUARE DEAL"

The Future of This Country Depends Upon the Quality of the Individual Home and of the Man and Woman In It.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—President Roosevelt made an address yesterday at the one hundred and tenth anniversary celebration at St. Patrick's church and the dedication of Carroll hall, the new parochial buildings and parish school. The Rev. Dr. D. J. Stafford, rector of St. Patrick's, acted as the master of ceremonies. Cardinal Gibbons, several archbishops and other dignitaries of the Catholic church attended the exercises, the former making an address immediately preceding that of the president. Dr. Stafford introduced President Roosevelt as "the man of even handed justice—the president of the 'square deal.'"

President Roosevelt thanked the rector and joined in the laugh which preceded prolonged cheering. Then he spoke as follows:

"It is a great pleasure to me to be present with you today to assist at the dedication of the school, hall and rectory of this parish, a parish whose one hundred and tenth anniversary we also now celebrate, for this parish was founded six years before the national capital was placed in the present District of Columbia. I am glad indeed to have been introduced, Cardinal Gibbons, to you, the spiritual representative, in a peculiar sense of that Bishop Carroll who played so illustrious a part in the affairs of the church and whose kinsfolk played as illustrious a part in the affairs of the nation at the dawning of this government. In greeting all of you I wish to say that I am especially glad to see children present. You know I believe in children. I want to see enough of them and of the right kind.

"I wish in the very brief remarks that I have to make to dwell upon this thought—the thought that ought to be in the mind of every man and woman here, the thought that while in this country we need wise laws honestly and fearlessly executed and while we cannot afford to tolerate anything but the highest standard in the public service of the government, yet that in the last analysis the future of the country must depend upon the quality of the individual home, of the individual man or woman in that home. The future of this country depends upon the way in which the average man and the average woman in it does his or her duty, and that very largely depends upon the way in which the average boy or girl is brought up. Therefore a peculiar responsibility rests upon those whose life work it is to see to the spiritual welfare of our people and upon those who make it their life work to try to train the citizens of the future so that they shall be worthy of that future.

"In wishing you well I wish you well in doing the most important work which is allotted to any of our people to do. The rules of good citizenship are tolerably simple. The trouble is not in finding them out. The trouble is in living up to them after they have been found out. I think we all of us know fairly well what qualities they are which in their sum make up the type of character we like to see in man or wife, son or daughter, but I am afraid we do not always see them as well developed as we should like to. I wish to see in the average American citizen the development of the two sets of qualities which we can roughly indicate as sweetness and strength, the qualities on the one hand which make the man able to hold his own and those which on the other hand make him jealous for the rights of others just as much as for his own rights. We must have both sets of qualities. In the first place, the man must have the power to hold his own. You probably know that I do not care very much for the coward or the moral weakling. I want each of you boys, and the girls just as much, and each of you young men and young women to have the qualities without which people may be amiable and pleasant while things go well, but without which they cannot succeed in times of stern trial. I wish to see in the man manliness, in the woman womanliness. I wish to see courage, perseverance, willingness to face work, to face, you men, if it is necessary, danger, the determination not to shrink back when temporarily beaten in life, as each one will be now and then, but to come up again and wrest triumph from defeat. I want to see you men strong men and brave men, and in addition I wish to see each man of you feel that his strength and his courage but make him the worse unless to that strength and courage are joined the qualities of tenderness toward those he loves, who are dependent upon him, and of right dealing with all his neighbors.

"Finally I want to congratulate all of us here on certain success that we have achieved in the century and a quarter that has gone by of our American life. We have difficulties enough, and we are long ways short of perfection. I do not see any immediate danger of our growing too good. There is ample room for effort yet left. But we have achieved certain results, and we have succeeded in measurably realizing certain ideals. We have grown to accept it as an axiomatic truth of our American life that the man is to be treated on his worth as a man without regard to the accidents of his position, that this is not a government designed to favor the rich man as such or the poor man as such, but that it is designed to favor every man, rich or poor, if he is a decent man who acts fairly by his fellows. We have grown to realize that that part of the foundations upon which our liberty rests is the right of each man to worship his Creator according to the dictates of his conscience and the duty of each man to respect his fellow who so worships him."

After a speech by Commissioner MacFarland the choir sang "America" and a number of hymns. The president joined in the singing, and the audience was not slow to follow. A number of the younger church officials followed the president to his carriage. He shook hands with them and called heartily as he drove away: "Goodby, boys. I am glad to have been with you."

TRAGEDY ON A TRAIN.

Heino Ludeen Killed by Unknown Men Near Elk River, Minn.

ELK RIVER, Minn., Nov. 21.—Heino Ludeen of Moorhead was murdered on a Northern Pacific freight train about two miles west of this place, and H. H. Kenner of Elberon, Ia.; A. M. Freeman, Rudolph Bjorquist and another companion from Moorhead, were compelled to jump from the moving train or suffer a similar fate.

The young men were beating their way to Minneapolis and got into a disabled passenger coach on a freight train at Staples, as did also two other men, all paying the train crew something for the privilege of riding. As they neared this place the two strangers waked the others up and robbed them, intimidating them with a revolver. When they reached Ludeen he refused to give up his money and was thereupon shot through the head. Rather than be killed outright the other four men did as they were bidden and leaped from the train. They escaped without serious injury and at once came to Elk River and reported the murder to Sheriff Ward, who telegraphed to Anoka to have the train searched. The body of the murdered man was found in the coach, but the murderers escaped.

SICILIAN PRINCE ASHORE.

British Steamer With 612 Passengers Stranded at Long Beach.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Captain Van Wicklen of the Long Beach (N. Y.) life saving station reports that the British steamship Sicilian Prince, from Marseilles, Naples and Palmero for New York with 612 persons aboard, went ashore at 5 o'clock in the morning about half a mile west of the life saving station.

The steamer lies in an easy position. The sea is smooth, the wind calm and the atmosphere smoky.

Five tugs, two of them wreckers, went to the scene of the disaster, and, waiting for high tide, an attempt was made to pull the Sicilian Prince off.

The tugs succeeded in moving the Sicilian Prince some distance, but she was not clear. Reports indicated that there was little hope of getting the steamship into deep water last night. Efforts were continued at full tide about 5:30 this morning. Fire island reported that it had been hazy offshore all day, with a light westerly wind. A moderate sea is running.

The Sicilian Prince went ashore shortly before the tide had reached its height, so that only at high water are the tugs able to move her.

Race War Imminent.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 21.—A race war is regarded as imminent at Fraser, Ia., where Thomas Albright, a white miner, was shot and mortally wounded by James Price, a negro. The white miners held a meeting and voted to refuse to work longer with the negroes. They accuse the negroes of having aided Price to make his escape, and the feeling is intense. There are from thirty-five to fifty negroes in the mining camp and about 1,200 whites. Both sides are heavily armed.

Sing Sing Prisoner Missing.

OSSINING, N. Y., Nov. 21.—A most unusual event, the disappearance of a prisoner, has occurred at Sing Sing prison. Charles W. Johnson, a life convict from Brooklyn, sentenced for killing a junkman, is missing, although he may be inside the walls. The authorities are inclined to believe he has secreted himself in some out of the way part of the prison building. Johnson is said to be somewhat weak minded.

Yacht Captain a Suicide.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Captain Edwin Ross, a well known yacht captain, committed suicide here by shooting. The cause of his act is not known. He had commanded yachts for the late Colonel Van Rensselaer Cruger and other men of prominence and was wealthy. He was a friend of President Roosevelt and a member of the same Masonic lodge.

Forest Fires In Tennessee.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 21.—A special from Jonesboro, Ark., says that the forest fires raging near that town are assuming serious proportions. It has not rained for two months, and the woods are as dry as tinder. Elmer Rancher, a railroad section foreman, has been badly burned while fighting the fires.

Railway Official Dropped Dead.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 21.—Charles A. Parker, second vice president of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and Pere Marquette system, dropped dead in his office here. Death was due to heart disease.

Police Officer a Suicide.

FITCHBURG, Mass., Nov. 21.—Martin S. Hall, sixty-five years of age, probation police officer for the past twelve years, committed suicide by shooting. Ill health is believed to have led to despondency.

TWELVE MET DEATH

Two Entire Italian Families Smothered by Flames.

ALL BODIES FOUND IN ONE ROOM.

Fire Spread With Lightning-like Rapidity In Crowded Tenement House, and Escape Was Cut Off.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Smothered before they could reach the rear fire escape in a burning tenement building at 186 Troutman street, in the Williamsburg district of Brooklyn, at least twelve persons met death shortly before 2 o'clock in the morning. The bodies of three other persons are believed to be in the building.

The firemen are searching for them. It is believed that the death list will equal fifteen. Twelve persons were injured, none, it is believed, fatally.

Two entire families, those of Maranio Triolo and Charles Polognio, are wiped out, the last living member of each being now in a hospital with no hope of their recovery. They are Charles Polognio, thirty-three years old, and Tony Triolo, thirteen years old, both of whom are terribly burned. Although, in the opinion of the coroner, all the dead were suffocated, the bodies were badly burned before they could be taken from the ruins by the firemen.

The burned tenement house is in the center of a row of three story tenements extending the length of the block and was occupied by Italians.

The fire is supposed to have started in the cellar of the grocery store of Antonio Giambalvos on the ground floor. The cellar was stored with inflammable material, and the flames spread with lightning-like rapidity. All the occupants were asleep at the time, and there was considerable delay in sending in the first alarm. The Giambalvos family lived in the rear of the store and succeeded in getting out of the building, but before the occupants on the two other floors were roused their escape had been cut off.

Before the firemen arrived the fire had communicated to the adjoining tenement, but here the occupants had sufficient warning, and all escaped.

The work of the firemen was greatly hampered for the time by the crowds of frightened Italians who filled the streets. The tenants in nearly all the neighboring buildings dragged their household goods out of the buildings and with them blocked the way of the fire apparatus.

All the bodies were found in the rear room of the third floor, and it was evident that all had been suffocated in their effort to reach the fire escape at the back of the building. The two who were rescued were found in the lower hallway soon after the firemen reached the scene. Working their way through the building, the rescuers discovered the heap of dead on the third floor and within a short time succeeded in taking out nine bodies, but the last was not found until after 8 o'clock in the morning.

In his intervals of consciousness Polognio cried for his wife and children, but the physicians fear the knowledge of their death would kill him and have not told him of their fate.

In their investigation as to the origin of the fire the police have been unable to obtain a statement of any kind from neighboring tenants. The street about the burned building has been crowded with Italians all day, but the police report that every one they have questioned regarding the persons burned or as to who occupied the building has refused to make any answer. It was with great difficulty that even the names of the victims could be obtained.

The dead are the mother and two small children of the Polognio family, Maranio Triolo, his wife and three children, Marie Ambrosio and her eighteen-year-old daughter, Mary Galigoni, eighteen, and Leonaria Grosseppi, aged thirty.

The total property loss is estimated at $10,000.

TALK OF NEW YORK

INTERESTING GOSSIP OF THE BIG EASTERN METROPOLIS.

THE YOUNG MEN IN POLITICS

Several Sons of Wealthy Houses Are Dabbling in the Game—Expense of Choosing One's Neighbors in a City.

NEW YORK — It used to be thought that a rich man had no show in politics. But now that so many Crokers, Murphys, McCarrens and McLaughlins have become rich in by and through politics the old jibes against inherited money do not "go" any longer. Some interesting figures in local political activities now are rich and well-bred young men. You might number the mayor. Though he began life as a reporter and politics as a $4,000-a-year clerk, he has command of wealth through his wife, a daughter of John G. Hecksher.

One of Mr. McClellan's friends is Congressman Francis Burton Harrison. Young Harrison's father was Jefferson Davis' private secretary when McClellan's father was organizing armies to drive Davis out of Richmond. Harrison's mother is known as a writer and in society. His wife is the daughter of a many-times millionaire of the Pacific coast. No man in local politics has a fairer future. Young as he is, he has been nominated for the lieutenant governorship.

A rival of Mr. Harrison in politics is his college classmate at Yale, Cornelius Vanderbilt, whose "cutting off with a million" in his father's will made such a stir, and who has declined a nomination for congress. Cornelius is the only one of the younger Vanderbilts who has shown business ability. He has a creditable fame as an inventor, and in the recent military maneuvers in Virginia toiled as a lieutenant in the dust. Incidentally he was knocked out by the heat, for he has not inherited the iron constitution of the old commodore.

March of Trade on "The Avenue."

WHAT the richer Vanderbilts have been doing recently is shown in a humdrum transfer of real estate on Fifth avenue. Here the family are gradually buying up plot after plot—in a region where land sells for from $6,000 to $8,000 per front foot—to control the neighborhood of their homes. They have stopped the march of trade up the avenue. It beats against Helen Gould's city house as a barrier and there stays. The Hotel St. Regis is above the dead line, but a place where you pay five dollars for one roast duck is not classed with ordinary hotels as a "nuisance."

The most notable achievements in this war of millions to prevent a natural development have been thus far:

One million paid by George Vanderbilt to buy a cellar opposite his house, on land that had cost $750,000 a few months earlier, where he feared that a sky-scraper would be erected.

William K. Vanderbilt paid $850,000 for three old dwellings opposite his French renaissance chateau, again to block a modern building.

Mr. Sloane, a Vanderbilt son-in-law, has now paid nearly $2,000,000 for three houses of better class in the same neighborhood. Upon part of the land thus "saved" Morton F. Plant has erected a "show place;" the great new Union club house is another high-class occupant, and two modern residences built to fence off other things still await an owner.

The problem of having "good neighbors" is quite as vexatious in the city as in the country, and costs more. None of these Vanderbilts ever spends more than three weeks in the city. As I before remarked, Cornelius is different.

The "Simple Life" Man.

TO A society thus occupied in wrapping itself in cotton wool, a message comes from luxurious France telling of "The Simple Life."

Charles Wagner is one of those men about whom you hear a great deal all at once after he has been growing in public esteem for years. He is a Protestant preacher in Paris.

Once, when I was in York, England, I had occasion to climb early one morning upon the top of a tramcar filled with workmen. To one of them I mentioned that I lived in Brooklyn.

"You know Dr. Talmage, then?" he asked.

"I do, extremely well."

"Then," said the man, earnestly, laying his hand upon my knee, "you can tell me—I read his sermon every week—does he practice what he preaches?"

Wagner does. He looks the peasant that he is. He is big and powerful in build, with heavy shoulders, a broad face and a manner of hearty simplicity. It is his theory that modern life is growing so complex that heroic measures are necessary; that we must get back to nature and natural ways of doing things. It is not a bad doctrine for New York.

Wagner comes endorsed by John Wannamaker; he goes to visit President Roosevelt, another sturdy specimen who enjoys a simple existence when he can.

I shall be surprised if there is not a campaign of "simplicity" this winter. I have reasons, one of which is that the movement is already well begun in England, where we get our thinking done, upon social topics. When it got so bad during the London season that there was no time to do anything save eat and sleep a change was bound to come. How about theaters, for instance? To live, even in London, a theater must close at such an hour that poor people, who are necessary to its success, and who must work next day, can get to bed. But how about the fashionables who at eight o'clock begin an hour-and-a-half-long course dinner? How much fun do they get out of the theater after that? New York has been aping these late hours.

I cite another sign. Comic operas fresh from London satirize the newest fad before it appears. They can, because the same men make the fads and the comic operas; men of brains, that is to-day. Society people invent nothing. The funniest thing on the stage to-day is a song and dance in "The Schoolgirl," where three clowns sing about simplicity, and introduce horseplay with tops, mechanical toys and butterfly nets. You remember the aesthetic craze and D'Oyley Carte's "Patience?"

The Harness Horses.

HARNESS racing has been more legitimate since the sharps discarded the wind shield, but public interest has gone with the records. However, the season lasts longer than it used, and there is talk that Lou Dillon may yet break records. The slowness with which the records of pacers and trotters have been whittled down of late suggests the query whether sulky time hasn't nearly reached the limit. The bicycle sulky with pneumatic tires and low seat knocked a few easy seconds off the records made by horses about equally good, but no improvement upon the pneumatic has been suggested, and the wind shield is discredited as introducing an unnatural condition.

But consider: John R. Gentry paced a mile as long ago as 1896 in half a minute more than the "even two." Star Pointer did the same, and later lowered the record to 1:59 and a fraction. Alix trotted a mile in 2:03¼ ten years ago, and the record dropped only a second and a quarter in nine years. The wind shield brought three pacers and three trotters within the two-minute class, but that, like Rip Van Winkle's drink, "don't count." Practically one minute was knocked off the trotting time in a century; if only one second and a quarter was lost in the last ten years of that time the process is slowing up.

Consider how, in the same ten years, bicycle records have dropped by fractions, not of seconds, but of minutes, without essential improvement in the make of wheels. The time may come when it will take wheelmen ten years to squeeze out a second or so less of time at the mile. I can remember Robert Bonner wisely speculating whether the man on the wheel would ever catch the horse at that distance.

The Shipbuilding Suits.

MUCH interest is centered in the suits against the shipbuilding trust. The fact that no poor people were bitten in this steal does not lessen interest, for it was the crowning outrage of "over-capitalization."

Senator Smith, of New Jersey, the receiver, has been selling the plants one by one There were eight, besides Schwab's Bethlehem steel works. The first four of the eight brought at auction a trifle over $700,000. The trust had been capitalized at some $67,000,000.

Never was steal more audacious. Nothing that could advertise it was lost sight of. Poor Leroy Dresser was brought in because he was a brother-in-law of George Vanderbilt, and that gave the conspirators a chance to whisper the Vanderbilt name. Lewis Nixon, the cleverest ship designer in the country, perhaps, but no financier, was exploited. It was nearly the ruin of both these men.

The personnel of the trust's victims adds interest. One of the largest sufferers hereabouts was Gov. Odell, a shrewd citizen, hardly the kind one would expect to see caught with chaff. Another victim was the widow of Fernando Wood, the war-time Tammany mayor of New York. Still another was Charles H. Kavanaugh, a knit goods manufacturer up-state. It is his suit that is to be tried.

An Ideal Location

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

YALE OUTPLAYED HARVARD.

Football Warriors of the Crimson Made Valorous Defense.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 21.—Outplayed at every point, but always making a defense so valorous as to draw cheers even from the partisans of her vanquishers, the Harvard crimson was trailed in the dust on Yale field by the score of 12 to 0, the same figures by which the sons of Eli overcame the tigers a week ago.

While the result had been foreshadowed in public opinion, the unexpected happened in so far as Harvard's fighting quality was concerned.

Harvard did worthily, and those who should know said at the end that the misfortunes of the crimson in the season just closed have been due not so much to lack of material as to poor organization and a mistaken system of coaching. Even to a layman it looked as though the point were well taken. There was no "devil" in the team, no steam behind its "get off."

When the opposing elevens romped on to the gridiron the difference between them hit the spectators at a glance. Yale's men were clean and shiney, flat from shoulder to thigh, while underneath the red sweaters of their adversaries were fat, beefy and seemingly soft bodies.

The sequel justified the impression. The Harvard men went up against the Yale line with all the ginger one could demand, but the moment they hit it they died. Again, when the New Haven lads were on the aggressive the Harvard men were bowled over like dominoes.

In effect Yale defeated two Harvard teams, for the lineup of the crimson was changed so often and so thoroughly that only one or two of the original players were left in it when the last whistle blew. The "man hurt" signal went up time and time again, and it was always a Harvard man. It was not that the game was more than ordinarily rough. It was because of the superior quality of the blue. Not a second of time had to be deducted on Yale's account, and her eleven were intact and hardly blown at the end.

Yale's excellent physical condition indeed should have enabled her to at least double the score, but she suffered an extraordinary streak of misadventure. Twice she had the ball close to Harvard's goal, and on both occasions it was literally stolen from her.

The game from the viewpoint of smart football was not up to the mark of former contests between these two teams. Harvard's defense was very good, her attack the simplest and least bewildering imaginable. The crimson used only six plays. The blue did not show its full hand, not even using the "tackles back" except when absolutely necessary.

A World's Record Swim.

HONOLULU, Nov. 21.—In the swimming races here Dan Renair won the 100 yard race in 1 minute flat, a world's record. The world's amateur record for 100 yards in the open air was held by E. C. Schaefer, an Australian, whose time was 1 minute 5 3-5 seconds.

Paterson Man Found Dead.

MAHANOY CITY, Pa., Nov. 21.—The body of a man of refined appearance was found in the woods above town stripped to the waist. There were no marks of violence about the body, no signs of a struggle and no valuables or money in his pockets. From letters and receipts taken from his coat and vest, found some distance away, the man is believed to be John T. Doyle of Paterson, N. J. The authorities are inclined to believe that the man was foully dealt with in some way.

Holley Jewel Robber Caught.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 21.—Schuyler Baird, an employee of a local transfer company, was arrested here and confessed to breaking open the trunk of Mrs. Holley, wife of Dr. Samuel H. Holley of Lexington, and robbing it of $20,000 worth of jewels while taking it to the depot. Mrs. Holley was on her way to New York to attend the horse show.

Cockrell to Replace Hecker.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The president has offered Senator Cockrell of Missouri the isthmian canal commissionership made vacant by the resignation of Colonel Hecker of Michigan and has also told him that if he feels that his health will not permit him to take this place the president desires to offer him a position on the interstate commerce commission.

Forty Arrests at Budapest.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 21.—As Premier Tiszg was leaving a meeting of his political supporters he encountered a hostile demonstration. He was greeted with shouts of "Resign!" and was pelted with snowballs. The police dispersed the crowd by a discharge of blank cartridges. Forty arrests were made.

THE NEWEST FABRICS.

Some of the New Shades Used In Autumn Dress Goods.

Heretofore melton cloth has been employed only for coats, and heavy ones at that, but this season shows many full suits of that handsome if rather stiff material, which is produced in many colors. Green in several shades is seen, and so is red, the favorite, however, being the dull, dark shade known among women as jonquil, though I am sure I never saw a jonquil of that color.

Naturally this melton cloth, being the reverse of pliable, is made into styles where little if any gathering is done and no plaits show on it. Each one of these suits depends upon the cut and finish and is exceptionally rich and handsome. Illustrated here will be seen such a suit. The skirt is cut quite plain, with only a trifle of flare at the bottom, and is tailor finished. A waist of the same is often furnished, made tight fitting and generally with small postillons at the back and some arrangement of a vest in front. These vest fronts are very dressy and usually very becoming. But there are women who prefer the soft blouse waists, and these are going to remain with us for the rest of this season at least.

Speaking of the velutina reminds me of the new fad for the crushed velutinas, or, as some call them, broadtail velvets. Broadtail in fur parlance means a sort of wavy effect on the black furs. It is very rich and used to be called moire astrakhan. These velutinas have a very thick and close pile, and this is crushed in the finishing in some way and makes a new material out of an old standard one. The newest colors are a sort of coppery red and a deep yellow with a golden brown cast, in some lights almost metallic.

The coat belonging to this suit in question has a plain front, and the back is made in two styles, one being plain in box shape and the other made rather wider all the way down the back and then held in with a strap across the back at the waist line. This fancy for straps in the back is one that has gained quite a large following. I forgot to mention the velvet cuffs and flat collars that are always found on this style of coat. Sometimes they are of a darker shade and again of exactly the shade of the melton, which makes it appear very different in some lights. Half a dozen plain black buttons close the front, which is always double breasted. Some have plain coat sleeves, while others have them made more or less fanciful. This style of costume is to be very general this season. In this connection we may speak of hats, as the hat is, when possible, made to match the gown and coat. In this particular case the hat is of fine felt of the same red shade and is trimmed with small, close loops of red velvet ribbon, set around the crown like a wreath, while another line of the loops lies against the hair on the right side to tilt the hat sharply to the left, which is against all established precedent.

Covert cloth in all sorts of unusual colors is among the favorite dress goods, and it must be admitted that it is very neat and ladylike. Cravenettes in gray, fawn, russet and dove gray are seen in the handsomest made up street gowns, some with jackets and others with longer coats, some even having regulation rain coats.

Velvet is so very much the rage this season that no one will be entirely happy until she has a gown or at least a coat of that superb fabric. Hats also are very rich and elegant made of it and wrought into shape by the featherbone shirring piping. The edges are generally left so that they form ruffles, the featherbone being run in two or more pipings about half to three-quarters of an inch from the edge. Long and rich plumes of ostrich or made plumes trim them.

Among the pretty new fancies is that of having sets of black velvet ribbon made into neckbands and bracelets. They are very becoming. The way to make them is to take a piece of inch wide elastic and ribbon one-third longer than the elastic, which should be stretched a little to fit the wrists, so that it will remain gathered when on. Then lay the velvet ribbon along and pull the elastic and sew the ribbon on the drawn places, repeating till it is all on.

WORLD'S FAIR FIRE.

Missouri Building Destroyed—Loss About $20,000.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21.—The fire in the Missouri building at the world's fair Saturday evening was not such a disaster as at first supposed. A great deal of the furniture was saved, together with most of the paintings and practically all the books.

According to President M. T. Davis of the Missouri commission, the loss sustained by the state will only amount to $20,000. This is explained by the statement of Mr. Davis that after the world's fair is over the building, which was the finest state structure on the grounds, would not bring more than $5,000.

"I am happy to say that inspection has proved that but ten paintings of Missouri's former governors and supreme court justices are so badly burned that they cannot be replaced," said Mr. Davis.

The loss was mostly caused by the destruction of furniture.

The Missouri historical exhibit has been temporarily placed in the Ohio building. Most of the books belonging to the State university will be returned to Columbia before the end of the week. Only a few of the books are damaged.

The mammoth relief map showing the topography of Missouri was not damaged in the least. All the furniture on the first floor was saved, while that on the second floor was destroyed.

During the remainder of the world's fair the Kansas City casino, on Model street, will be used by the Missouri commission as headquarters.

Not since the opening of the exposition has such an assemblage of Sunday visitors gathered on the grounds as that which crowded around the ruins of the Missouri building.

DOGGER BANK INQUIRY.

American and French Governments to Select Members.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 21.—Ratifications of the Anglo-Russian Dogger bank convention will be exchanged here between Foreign Minister Lamsdorff and Ambassador Hardinge. The principal modification of the British text of the convention as finally accepted by both powers will consist in clearly imposing upon the commission the task of locating the blame, irrespective of persons or nationality.

Both the American and the French governments have been informally apprised that they are expected to select members of the commission, and when the formal joint invitations are issued they will be expected promptly to announce the selection.

In order to obviate delay Emperor Francis Joseph has been selected to name the fifth member of the commission in case the four should be unable to agree.

Murder at Huntington.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 21.—Anthony Martin was stabbed to death on the street here by Burnie Coon, son of Councilman John Coon. Martin and Samuel Rittenhouse while walking along the street stopped a colored man and asked him for a match. Coon was passing in the opposite direction, and he made a remark that no gentleman would ask a negro for a match. The men came to blows, and Coon stabbed Martin to death. Coon also plunged his knife into Rittenhouse, making an ugly wound in the back, but he will recover. Coon walked up the street with the bloody knife in his hand and surrendered to the police.

Steamer Burned Near Marblehead.

SANDUSKY, O., Nov. 21.—The coal steamer Philip Minch, on its way from Fairport to Sandusky, was burned to the water's edge about eight miles east of Marblehead at midnight. The crew of seventeen men was forced to abandon the burning boat while several miles out in the lake and reached Sandusky in an exhausted condition, many of them half naked because of having been roused from sleep.

Cincinnati Suffers From Fire.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 21.—The Loring Andrews company, jewelers; the Rudolph Wurlitzer company, musical instruments, and the Pounsford Stationery company were burned out yesterday afternoon, with much damage to other firms on the south side of Fourth street, between Walnut and Main, in the heart of the city. The loss is estimated at $500,000.

Pastor Drowned at San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 21.—Rev. R. B. Taylor, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has been drowned in the bay. Dr. Taylor was a member of the sailing party of about twenty persons on board Captain McPherson's yacht. In walking along the edge of the boat he slipped overboard into the water.

Football Tackle Fatal.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 21.—Samuel Hess, a senior at Lehigh university, son of former State Senator J. S. Hess, is dead of concussion of the brain superinduced by being thrown in a flying tackle in a football game at Hellertown on Saturday afternoon.

Ex-Governor Thompson Dead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. — Hugh S. Thompson, former governor of South Carolina, is dead at his residence here. He was born in Charleston, S. C., in 1836. In recent years he was comptroller of the New York Life Insurance company.

British Vessel Wrecked.

CADIZ, Spain, Nov. 21.—The British schooner Protector is ashore near Rota. She will probably prove a total wreck. The vessel's crew has been landed safely.

A RUSSIAN PROTEST

Japanese Accused of Shelling Hospital Ships.

ACTIVITY ALONG THE SHAKHE RIVER

Russian Magazine Blown Up by Fire of Besiegers at Port Arthur. Japs Use a Peculiar Missile.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—A Chefu special dispatch says that General Balashoff, the head of the Red Cross society at Port Arthur, has sent on the torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny, which arrived here from Port Arthur and which was subsequently destroyed by her crew, a personal letter charging the Japanese with a violation of the rules of civilized warfare.

General Balashoff requests the publication of charges that the Japanese have deliberately disregarded the obligation of the Geneva and Hague conventions. He says that they have compelled the abandonment by the Russians of three plainly marked hospital ships in the harbor and that the wounded who were aboard the half sunken steamer Andara also had to be removed. These ships, says General Balashoff, were anchored where they did not interfere with the Japanese fire against the Russian warships. The general adds: "I have noticed several instances of a concentration of fire on portions of the city devoted almost exclusively to hospitals. Other instances of uncivilized warfare are numerous, but I have no time to write them. I scarcely have time to eat and sleep."

General Balashoff requests that his letter serve as a protest to the world against the tactics of the Japanese.

A Tokyo dispatch says that increasing activity along the Shakhe river seems to indicate the imminence of another great battle. The Russian feints, evidently intended to draw a Japanese attack, are uniformly repulsed. Army headquarters have received the following report from Field Marshal Oyama:

"At dawn a detachment of the enemy made an attack near Hsinglungtun. They were repulsed.

"Since then the enemy in the vicinity of Shakhe village have indirectly bombarded our positions with mortars and fieldpieces. They have effected no damage.

"A body of the enemy's infantry was discovered at Hsiamya and Hsiaoyantzu. We shelled them, and they fled in confusion to a neighboring village.

"The enemy have burned Huanglashetzu and villages to the southeast on the right bank of the river Hun."

A dispatch from the army before Port Arthur says that during the bombardment a shell from a Japanese naval gun exploded a Russian magazine near the arsenal. Operations against all the forts are proceeding as prearranged from Manchurian headquarters. The gunners shelled a Russian infantry force engaged in intrenching east of Reluchiangtun and also infantry in the rear of the villages, causing them to flee in confusion.

The Japanese after successfully mining have occupied a counterscarp on Sungshu mountain.

A Chefu report says that the Japanese are using a peculiar missile which looks like a long sausage. The Japanese throw it into the trenches, and it bursts, giving off an odor so foul that if it is not thrown out of the trenches immediately the soldiers faint. The gas is not fatal in its effect.

A Mukden dispatch says that the Japanese attack on Poutiloff hill has demonstrated the efficacy of the Russian defensive works. Two battalions engaged in the attack occupied the first line of the Russian trenches, but at the second line were caught in pits and entanglements and exposed to a galling fire. A Russian bayonet attack completed their demoralization.

Booker Washington at New Haven.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 21.—Booker T. Washington spoke last night at the United church, and long before the hour set for the address the building was packed, hundreds being unable to gain admittance. He spoke on "The Success of Negro Education." Mr. Washington gave statistics showing the good results of negro education not only in his own institution, but other schools and colleges of the south for negro youths.

Injured In Yale-Harvard Game.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 21.—As a result of the hard game he played against Harvard T. L. Shevlin, left end of the Yale football eleven, found it necessary to consult a specialist for an injury to his right ear. He underwent an operation for a ruptured vein, and unless some complication follows the injury will not prove serious.

Double Shooting at Ardmore.

ARDMORE, I. T., Nov. 21. — City Marshal L. C. Hughes has been killed at Mill Creek, and John Work, whom he was summoned to arrest on a trivial charge, was shot and fatally wounded. It is believed that Hughes was killed by a mistake by one of his deputies. It is not known who shot Work.

Sultan Makes Amends to Germany.

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—The German embassy at Constantinople has been officially notified that the officer and soldiers responsible for the recent attack upon Herr Eckhardt, German consular agent at Urfa, have been punished.

Killed by "Dead House" Whisky.

WIDOW WANTS HER SHARE

Dunellen Women Says She is Deprived of Her Rights.

B. F. LUCKEY'S ESTATE

Dr. Luckey's Mother Seeks to Prevent Executors Make Distribution to Heirs.

Matilda W. Luckey, widow of Benjamin F. Luckey, late of Dunellen, and mother of Dr. O. M. Luckey, of this city, has brought a suit in the Court of Chancery against the executors of her late husband's estate, seeking to restrain them from paying certain moneys in their hands to certain heirs of the dead man.

Mrs. Luckey charges that in making certain real estate transactions in the city of New York, before his death and after the making of his will, he promised to give her certain sums of money in consideration of her agreeing to join with him in making deeds for the transfer of the property.

The executors refuse to carry out the agreements alleged to be made between 'Squire Luckey and Mrs. Luckey.

The cause was heard at Chancery Chambers, Newark, yesterday, on a rule to show cause why the executors should not be restrained from paying the moneys out to other heirs instead of the widow.

The husband, it is alleged in the bill, died at Dunellen on October, 1903, leaving as his heirs at law, Benjamin F. Luckey, of Paterson; Dr. Charles M. Luckey, of this city, and the following grandchildren: Edwin J. Jeitles, Ralph N. Jeitles and Hamlet Jeitles, of Philadelphia.

On April 7, 1904, the bill avers that the husband executed a will in which he provided that his wife should receive "independent of her right of dower, all my real estate on Prospect avenue and Walnut street, at Dunellen, N. J. * * * in addition to the foregoing, my wife shall receive her dower in all other lands of which I shall die seized."

By a codicil to the will made March 6, 1903, Mrs. Luckey claims additional bequests. The codicil and will was probated in the Orphans' Court of Middlesex County on November 25, 1903, and letters of administration were granted unto Albert Winters and Benjamin F. Luckey.

Mrs. Luckey in her complaint alleges that before the death of her husband, he was the owner of a property on Forty-second street, New York, valued at $18,500, which he sold, and that at the time the sale was made, her husband, as an inducement to her for signing the deed promised to give her one-third of the price or its equivalent in real estate after his death, "and relying on his promise of her husband, she consented to the agreement, and affixed her name and seal to the conveyance."

After the making of the will, it is further alleged that the husband became possessed of a property on Bleecker street, New York, valued at $10,000. This property like the Forty-second street property, was afterwards sold under the same conditions.

The proceeds from the sales were deposited in the First National Bank of this city, and the complainant alleges the executors have taken possession of the entire amount.

"After my husband's death" says Mrs. Luckey, "I retained counsel to look after and protect my interests, but they failed to do anything in my behalf and allowed the time to elapse, when I had a right in the Orphans' Court."

Continuing the complainant alleges her husband wholly failed to perform his agreements and the executors likewise will not carry out the agreements alleged to have been entered into between the complainant and her deceased husband in relation to the real estate transactions in the city of New York.

She further charges that the executors are about to turn the moneys over to the heirs mentioned above, and in concluding her complaint asks the Court of Chancery to compel the heirs may be decreed to pay over and convey to her one-third of the proceeds realized from the sales of the New York properties.

MISS SCHAEFFER WINS APPLAUSE IN GRAND OPERA

PLAINFIELDER IN VERDI'S "AIDA" AT THE METROPOLITAN.

Miss Josephine Schaffer, formerly of Liberty street, this city, scored a brilliant success last night at the opening of the opera season in the Metropolitan Opera House, New York. She took the part of the High Priestess in Verdi's "Aida," and her work was of such a high character that she, with a number of other favorites, received an ovation, such as has seldom been seen in New York.

Miss Schaeffer has been a pupil of Heinrich Conried for some time, the well-known leader in opera having taken her abroad and given her the advantage of voice training with some great vocal teachers in Europe, who have recognized in her voice envisible possibilities. The result of her work abroad was shown last night, her rich soprano voice being one of the features of the performance.

While a resident of this city, Miss Schaeffer took part in several affairs given under the auspices of St. Mary's church and she was at one time leading soprano in the choir.

OBJECT TO ASSESSOR HAND'S REAPPOINTMENT

PETITION IN SECOND WARD TO BE PRESENTED TO MAYOR.

An apparent dissatisfaction with the work of assessment in the Second Ward has resulted in the drafting of a petition which is now being circulated among the residents of that ward requesting the Mayor-elect, James F. F. Buckle, not to re-appoint Charles H. Hand as a member of the Board of Assessors for the coming year.

Dissatisfaction with Mr. Hand's work as assessor, is reported to be the object of the request for dropping him. Mr. Hand has been a member of the Board of Assessors ever since the Board was constituted. He has for years been a contractor and engaged in real estate. For this reason it was understood that he was peculiarly fitted for the work of an assessor, having a general knowledge of the true value of real estate. The petition will be presented to the Mayor when he assumes his office, January 1.

COMPANY B WINS IN COMPETITIVE DRILL

WILL CARRY BATTALION BANNER FOR REST OF THE SCHOOL YEAR.

In connection with the regular weekly drill of the Plainfield High School battalion, a company competition was held yesterday afternoon at Company K's armory, which was won by Company B. The company was in command of Captain Freeman and First Lieutenant Palmer, both of whom took charge of the company for part of the drill. The competition covered all movements which the companies have had so far, and though there was no prescribed order of commands, both companies went through about the same manoeuvres.

By winning in this preliminary competition, Company B receives the rights to carry the battalion banner, which at the close of each year is contested for by the two companies. As the exhibition drill was not held last year, the method used yesterday for determining which company should have the honor, was agreed upon by the officers.

APPRECIATIVE CROWD ENJOY ENTERTAINMENT

VAN EPS BROTHERS AND MAC CLYMONT'S FESTIVAL OF MUSIC.

A thoroughly entertaining and attractive programme, which appealed to a large and appreciative audience, was the one offered by Fred and William VanEps on the occasion of their second annual banjo and mandolin festival at the Y. M. C. A. last night. The VanEps brothers were assisted by William E. MacClymont, pianist; Miss Marion Short, reader; W. W. Waters, musical humorist; L. T. Braman, banjoist, and an orchestra of banjo and mandolin pupils.

Attractive, varied and well arranged in every detail, the programme went off without a hitch, and the audience, which left the auditorium at the conclusion of the performance had none but congratulatory comments for those who took part. In securing the services of Miss Marion Short, and W. W. Waters, the VanEps brothers scored a decided hit. The former captivated her hearers in her first selection, "The Pied Piper of Hamelin," by Robert Browning, and after that she was enthusiastically received. From the time Mr. Waters produced his first seltzer, the audience was his, and he kept them in roars of laughter by his jokes.

With regard to the musical part of the programme, it would be impossible to say too much. The greatest proof of the success of the entertainment was its reception by the audience. Not a single number was unencored, and after their duet Messrs. VanEps were brought out twice. In solo work both Fred and William VanEps performed with admirable skill, their selections being features of the entertainment. Fred VanEps' rendition of "The Sleighing Party" was excellent, while W. P. VanEps displayed much talent in his selection from Moszkowski. William E. MacClyment was equally well applauded after his piano solo. The playing by Messrs. VanEps' pupils was excellent. These were the persons who composed the orchestra:

Story of a Jag.

Ten cents, one drink; ten drinks, one jag; one jag, one jug. Patrick Purcell owned the jag last night and Patrolman Saffron saw to it that he reached the jug. Judge Runyon talked kindly to him this morning and Patrick wept real tears, promised to do better and was then escorted out into the free ozone.

Borough Firemen's Quick Run.

Sparks from a defective chimney set fire to the roof of the Lindsay Dairy Farm residence on Mountain avenue, last night. Although a mile-and-a-half from headquarters, the borough department reached the scene in seven minutes and extinguished the flames. The loss is trifling.

FIRE THREATENS VILLAGE

Flames Break Out in Bound Brook Paint Works.

LOSS IS ABOUT $15,000

"Billy" Holbert Turns in Alarm and Chief "Nate" Titsworth Leads Battle Against Flames.

The big plant of the Standard Paint Works was badly damaged and a dozen houses were scorched by a fire which broke out in the storehouse of the former at South Bound Brook at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. At one time the entire village was threatened and was saved only by heroic work on the part of the Bound Brook firemen in charge of Chief Nathan Titsworth, formerly of this city, and the Standard's own department. They battled with the flames until 9 o'clock last night before the main plant and the neighborhood was declared out of danger. A conservative estimate places the loss at $15,000, partially covered by insurance.

The company's plant is just over the big Raritan bridge and directly on the Delaware and Raritan canal. When the flames were first noticed they were creeping up the side of the storehouse in which great quantities of inflammable material is stored in barrels. One of the first to notice the blaze and turn in an alarm was "Billy" Holbert, of this city, the well known minstrel man. The Bound Brook department was quickly on the scene and despite the danger of explosions from gasolene plunged into the fight. A gale was sweeping across the river at the time and the flames mounted high in the air and houses five blocks away had the paint blistered off. Luckily they were in an opposite direction to the main buildings and all they suffered was the burning off of a few corners.

A crowd of several thousand persons, many of them from this city, stood in the near vicinity to watch the firemen and in so doing exposed themselves to the danger of explosions. Several did occur, one of them rather severe and in the rush to get out of harm's way several children were knocked down and trampled upon. At one time it was thought the Plainfield department would have to be called upon for help but it was afterward decided it would not be needed.

BALTIMORE POLICE GET SWINDLER "O'BRIEN"

NOW STATED THAT HE INTENDS FIGHTING AGAINST CONVICTION.

The local police today turned over to detectives from Baltimore, Swindler James O'Brien, or McCabe, as his name now appears to be, and he was taken to the Maryland metropolis for trial. A long term of imprisonment stares him in the face but it is declared that he intends putting up a strong fight against conviction. He has relatives in Baltimore and he has been in communication with them since his capture here, apprising them of all the circumstances of his trouble.

Proof of McCabe's cleverness was revealed through his expressed willingness to go to Maryland without the trouble of requisition papers. He knew that Baltimore is one of the two cities in America which have no county government and his chances for a light sentence in an ordinary court were accordingly good, also, that if he compelled the authorities to take out the papers it would attract attention to himself. His plans miscarried, however, as the requisition papers were obtained and the Order of Knights of Columbus has appointed a special representative to gather facts of his career for presentation to the Baltimore prosecutor. Although not a member of the order, he is in possession of its grip and the greater part of its secret work, as well as that of the Masons, Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias.

Sheriff McMurtry to Rest.

Sheriff Calvin McMurtry, of Somerville, whose term of office will expire soon has decided to take a much-needed rest. For the present he will not engage in business. It is likely, however, that he will return to his old business, that of lumber, in the course of a few months.

Dr. Snodgrass to Speak.

At the meeting of the Men's Club, of the First Presbyterian church tonight, Dr. Snodgrass, pastor of the First M. E. church, will make an address.

GEORGE THATCHER'S EXCELLENT PORTRAYAL

A FORMER PLAINFIELDER WINNING LAURELS IN LEGITIMATE RANKS.

George Thatcher, the former well known minstrel man and resident of this city, is meeting with great success as "Sassafrass Livingston" in the western company of "A County Chairman." His interpretation of the part, that of a darky who works for any political party that will pay him for his trouble, is said to be far superior to the portrayal by Willis P. Sweetnam, who created the role in New York and who is now with the eastern company. Mr. Thatcher's salary has been advanced to $200 a week and it is said the management proposes placing him with the company that is to play a return engagement in New York.

Miss Mamie Thatcher, the comedian's daughter, has been travelling with her father since the death of her mother in New York several weeks ago. She takes no part in the play but is considered a member of the company.

CITES PLAINFIELD'S RAISE IN LIQUOR FEES

DEAN GESSNER SAYS ELIZABETH'S EXCISE BOARD IS ROTTEN.

Dean Gessner, of Elizabeth, a valiant foe of the liquor traffic, scored the Elizabeth Board of Excise from his pulpit on Sunday. The Dean had been talking about the sins of humanity and by a natural sequence of argument he fell to expatiating on the evil of drink. He showed how rampant it was becoming. Some communities were heading it off. Other procrastinated or let corrupt excise boards side with the saloonkeepers. "I read in the papers the other day how Plainfield had raised the saloon license from $700 to $1,000. Would our local Board of Excise do that?" "No!" he thundered, "and why? Because the local board is rotten!"

Dean Gessner told of the growth of the saloon in the city. He said the best energies of the men were sapped by saloons which no half-honest Excise Board would countenance. He could mention instances right out of his own congregation.

The attack on the Board was couched in the strongest terms. The Dean never minces matters.

An Obdurate Clergyman.

Rev. E. E. Jackson, as secretary, and Rev. Scott Wallace, as a member of a church council, attended a session held at West Park, near Asbury Park, last week, to inquire into the merits of the claim of the congregation for the resignation of the pastor of the Second Baptist church, Rev. H. A. Bolen. The question under discussion was as to whether Mr. Bolen should resign. He refused to get out, claiming that God sent him to the church and he refused to go until so instructed by Him.

Exercises at Schools.

Appropriate to the Thanksgiving season there will be special exercises at the Plainfield High School tomorrow morning. The recitations period will be short and will end at 11 o'clock. At the assembly following there will be extra music under the direction of Charles L. Lewis, of the faculty. Several new songs have been secured for the occasion, and there will also be several speeches by members of the school. There will be special exercises at all the schools appropriate to the occasion.

Mayor Smalley as Judge.

The Pad and Pencil Club has made arrangements to award a prize for the two best costumes at its country dance tomorrow evening. Mayor N. B. Smalley has consented to act as judge and will make his decision known immediately after the grand march. The latter feature is to be led by Charles Pawson's Possum Hollow band.

Monday Afternoon Club Meeting.

At the meeting of the Monday Afternoon Club yesterday afternoon, a paper was read on "Inventions and Discoveries Effecting Industrial and Commercial England." The paper was written by Mrs. John P. Stevens, but on account of her illness, it was read by Miss Margaret Tracy.

—With Thanksgiving but a day off the condition of the larder is the question of the hour. Neuman Brothers stand ready to fill it with anything in the line of mince meat, plum pudding, assorted nuts, oranges, grape fruit and all manner of vegetables.

TROLLEY CONDUCTORS KICK AT CASH REGISTERS

BELIEVE THAT MACHINES DO NOT RECORD ACCURATELY.

Since the installation of cash registers in the cars of the Public Service Corporation there has been more or less complaint on the part of the conductors, who claim that the machines or the auditors who compute the receipts are unfair. One of the conductors says that several reports have been received from the auditors stating that this or that conductor was short in his receipts, the amount in some instances reaching $5. The great complaint on the part of the conductors is that they are not allowed to be present when the day's receipts on their car are audited.

When a conductor completes his day's work the sheet, supposing to register the number of fares collected by him during the hours he is on duty, is taken out of the machine and forwarded to Jersey City. He turns his cash over to the official at the terminal and his responsibility unless a report comes back that he is short in his accounts. One instance was reported where a conductor was informed that he was $5 short, and his total receipts for the day were $13.

JUDGE PARKER REGRETS THE DEFEAT OF MARTINE

PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE SAYS HE FELT SURE OF PLAINFIELDER'S ELECTION.

Up to 12 o'clock today the latest addition to James E. Martine's collection of souvenir letters is one signed by a Mr. A. B. Parker, late of Keopus and now of New York. The postman brought it yesterday to Cedar Brook farm when Jim was in his library figgering out just what changes in the vote would have been necessary to insure his election.

After reading the letter through thirteen times, Jim grabbed his hat and rushed out. Half an hour later he was found seated in Flynn Brothers' shoe store reading the epistle from Keopus to a few faithful survivors of a landslide which happened to come this way on November 8. Mr. Parker expressed deep regret over Martine's fate and declared that he was so sure that the Plainfielder would be elected that he felt greatly disappointed over the unkind way the voters acted two weeks ago today.

FUNERAL OF MRS. WHITENACK.

Witnessed by Large Gathering of Friends in Plains M. E. Church.

In the presence of a large gathering of friends, funeral services were held yesterday over the body of Mrs. Carissa Whitenack in the Methodist church at Scotch Plains. They were in charge of Rev. George Angleman, of Piermont, N. Y., who had been a personal friend for many years, assisted by Rev. Warren D. Coon, pastor of the church. The former paid a glowing tribute to the Christian life of the deceased. The floral tributes were numerous and included several set pieces.

Interment was afterward made in the family plot at Bound Brook.

Rev. E. J. Crudup Dead.

Rev. E. J. Crudup, pastor of the Fillmore Baptist church, died at Muhlenberg Hospital, yesterday, following a two weeks' illness with pneumonia. He was pastor of the Fillmore church for several years, during which time he figured in several church squabbles which brought him into court. His last trouble of any importance was that in reference to an alleged poisoned cake which was sent to him.

Mrs. Spaulding Buried.

The remains of Mrs. Katherine F. Spaulding, who died Saturday night, on Hobart avenue, were taken to New York this morning on the 8:46 train, where services will be held in St. Anne's R. C. church, East Twelfth street. The interment will be in Calvary Cemetery, New York. The pallbearers were Michael B. Flynn, John Rafferty, Jr., Patrick Reville and John Payne.

Work for Keely.

The city merchants were complaining very much yesterday about the clouds of dust that were permitted to blow about in front of their stores. They expressed the opinion that if the streets ever needed sprinkling it was at this time. Besides, East and West Front street were more or less filled with old papers and general refuse picked up by the wind.

TURKEYS A LITTLE HIGHER

This Year's Prices in Advance of Last Season's.

LOTS OF POULTRY

A Few Facts and Figures Worth Studying Before Purchasing the Thanksgiving Supplies.

Though differing slightly in price and in quality from last year's assortment, there will be a fine lot of turkeys, ducks, chickens and game of all kinds in the local butcher shops this season. Nearly all of the butchers are carrying good sized stocks of game, and all are well supplied with ducks and chickens. As to turkeys, they are not as plentiful as in former years, and though in some stores they are bringing a higher price on the average they are about the same as the season of 1903. Most of the fowl are from Virginia, though Scheuer & Co. will have an assortment of fifty especially fine Jersey turkeys.

Reasonable prices prevail for ducks, rabbits and squirrels, especially at Roth & Co's. They are carrying a specially large assortment of the finest ducks. The prices of chickens will range from sixteen to twenty cents in nearly all the shops. As to weight the turkeys range from five to twenty pounds and are young, plump and tender. Endress is advertising the fact that not a single old bird will be in his store this year, as all are sent up direct from farms in the South.

Most of the chickens and turkeys in the local stores have been raised especially for food, and care and knowledge has been used to make them tender, juicy and good in flavor. For the most part they are the same that are sold in the markets in New York, and go for about the same prices, which run from twenty-five to twenty-eight cents, practially the same as last year.

Game is coming in steadily, and there is a brisk demand for rabbits, which are quoted at 50 to 65 cents a pair, the latter price for fresh killed and the former for cold storage rabbits. Quail cost from $4.50 to $5.50 a dozen; partridge, $2.75 and $3 a pair, and Mallard ducks $1.50 a pair.

The supply of fruit is abundant, and reasonable in price. Fine apples can be had for 15 to 30 cents a half peck, seckel pears 15 to 20 cents a quart, and quinces from 60 cents to $1 per basket. Oranges are listed at from 40 to 80 cents a dozen, and grape fruit 10 to 15 cents each.

Vegetables of every variety are shown in large quantities, and the prices remain about the same as last week.

MISSIONS HIS TOPIC.

Rev. Robert Mackenzie, of New York, to Speak at Crescent Avenue Church Next Month.

Rev. Robert Mackenzie, pastor of the Rutgers Riverside church, of New York, will be the speaker at the annual Union Praise service of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the Crescent Avenue church on Tuesday, December 13. His subject will be "Missions." Rev. Mr. Mackenzie is an interesting and a polished speaker, and his knowledge of this subject is extensive.

The two presidents of the societies will preside at this meeting, which is the only one in the year when the Home and Foreign Missionary Societies combine. There will be no other speaker and no business transacted, it being strictly a praise meeting. The members of the society at Warren and Hope chapels are also invited to the service and a social will follow.

To Plan for Outings.

There will be a meeting of the outing committee of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. in the association this week to make plans for the Friday and Saturday outings for the department through the month of December. It is the intention of the committee to make a schedule of all trips which will be taken, either in and about the city or out of town. They expect to make outing trips every Friday and Saturday, and will include several interesting expeditions.

No Dinner at Y. M. C. A.

On account of the fact that the women's auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. is busy with plans for the fair which will be held in December, the association will not give the dinner to the homeless young men and boys, as has been the custom in former years. This will be the first time for several years that the Y. M. C. A. has not given this dinner, and it is a cause of regret to those in charge that it will be an impossibility this season.

CAESAR YOUNG'S END

District Attorney Rand Scores Nan Patterson's Life.

"BOOKMAKER WAS NOT A SUICIDE."

Prisoner Visibly Affected When Prosecutor Spoke of Young as Man of Honor, Generous and Open Handed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—With her every emotion depicted on her quivering features, the flush of shame giving place to the pallor of fear and the look of scorn being supplanted by a disdainful curl of the lips, Nan Patterson heard Assistant District Attorney Rand accuse her of murdering Caesar Young, the man she had loved, and outline every detail of two years of her life at the opening of her case before Judge Vernon M. Davis in the criminal court.

For more than two hours Mr. Rand outlined the case to the jury, touching on the woman's life and her mode of living with delicacy and without any tinge of coarseness, but never for a moment letting the fact that he believed her guilty of murder escape him or the twelve men who listened with strained intensity to his every word.

Only once did Nan Patterson's feelings overcome her. That was when Mr. Rand in describing Caesar Young's life called him a man with the highest sense of honor, generous and open handed. Then the young actress dropped the heavy veil which she had lifted from her face after entering the courtroom, and a little convulsive shudder that swept through her form showed to all the emotions which were besetting her.

"With all his fairness and kindness of heart," Mr. Rand continued, "Caesar Young fell where many a good man has fallen."

It was then that a red flush mantled Nan Patterson's brow, and her eyes dropped for a moment.

Mr. Rand, in the opinion of all present in the courtroom, delivered a masterly address which left not the minutest detail undone. He stated emphatically that he would prove Caesar Young had no motive for committing suicide, while he averred he would produce facts to prove that Nan Patterson desired the life of the man who had befriended her.

He acknowledged that he had nothing but circumstantial evidence to work upon.

Mr. Rand's most impressive remark was when he said: "We have undisputable proof that Caesar Young did not kill himself. When the autopsy on his body was performed the physicians were surprised to find that the bullet had gone transversely across his body from left to right and had lodged in his shoulder. Caesar Young sat on the right side of the cab when the shot was fired, and his body fell to the left and across the woman's knees."

J. Morgan Smith, the brother-in-law of Nan Patterson, was directly accused by Mr. Rand of having bought the revolver which fired the shot that killed Caesar Young.

Mr. Rand's description of the life which Caesar Young and Nan Patterson led together sounded like a romance from some tale of fiction. "This is a tale of death and passion," was his apt description of all that had transpired. He told how Caesar Young had met the defendant on a train while on the way to California; how the woman had followed him from race track to race track, "exhibiting the same traits," said Mr. Rand, "as Mary's little lamb."

He told how Young was finally prevailed upon by his friends to leave Nan Patterson while they were in Los Angeles and described how after she had been sent east the actress had returned to California and refused to leave Young.

He told of Caesar Young's efforts to get rid of the woman and of her persistency in following him wherever he went. Finally Mr. Rand said, "Caesar Young determined to leave the woman at all costs and prepared for a trip to Europe with his wife, where he would be free from Nan Patterson's attentions.

"Thirteen hours before the shooting occurred," then said Mr. Rand, "the murder was planned. It was done with deliberation and with premeditation and therefore constituted an act of murder in the first degree.

"Young never carried a revolver in his life. When he left the house of his friend in West One Hundred and Fortieth street he told his wife he was going to get shaved and would also buy a hat. He urged upon her to be on time at the steamship pier. One hour and twenty minutes after he had left his wife and had said these things to her he was dead.

"We will prove that he could not, without the possibility of a doubt, ever have purchased the revolver that was found in his right hand coat pocket. His pocket is on the right side, remember, when he was shot on the left. He had no possible motive for suicide.

"He was a rich man, a very rich man," he continued. "He had everything to live for. He loved his wife and wanted to rid himself of this woman. He had planned a trip to Europe, and he even had gone so far as to start for the trip when he died. He could not, within the possibility of any reasonable doubt, have committed suicide."

William J. Junior, the policeman who was first to reach the cab after the shooting, testified that Miss Patterson was hysterical and crying. "Oh, Caesar, why did you do it?" "I asked the woman what had happened. She said the man had shot himself."

There was other interesting testimony, particularly that of Detective Quinn, who took Miss Patterson from the hospital where Young died to the police station. He said the woman said to him: "I don't want to live now. Why should he have killed himself." The officer said she fainted several times in the station house and that she asked him to kill her as she had nothing to live for now that Caesar was dead.

Insane Man Sentenced.

LEBANON, N. H., Nov. 22.—A sentence to the state prison at Concord for an indefinite period was imposed upon William Henry Wilkins after the government had accepted a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity to the charge that Wilkins had murdered his wife. The presiding justice explained the sentence by saying that it was not given for punishment, but that the defendant was to be kept in prison for the safety of the public "until discharged by due order of the law." The prisoner is not to be put at hard labor. Wilkins killed his wife, Laura, with an ax at their home in Wentworth.

Louis Palma Di Cesnola Dead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—General Louis Palma Di Cespola, managing director and trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, is dead at his residence, the Hotel Seymour, here, from an attack of acute indigestion. He was seventy-two years old. By birth an Italian nobleman, he achieved great distinction in this his country by adoption in many ways. He served with great bravery during the civil war and the famous plan to escape by means of the "Richmond tunnel," through which a few soldiers did escape and reach the Union lines, was conceived by him.

Spanish Ship Went Down.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—The British steamer Aros Castle, Captain Day, fifty-seven days out from Java with a cargo of sugar, has arrived here and reports the probable foundering on Nov. 15 of the Spanish bark Tafalla with her crew of fifteen men during the recent southern storm. The steamer stood by the sinking bark for two days, and on the second night the Spanish vessel disappeared. The condition of the Tafalla when the crew of the Aros Castle last saw the vessel was such as to lead them to believe that the bark went down during the night.

Sing Sing Prisoner Caught.

OSSINING, N. Y., Nov. 22.—Charles W. Johnson, the prisoner who was missing in Sing Sing prison Saturday evening, was caught late last night by a ruse. It was not believed in the prison that he had got outside the walls, but he had. Johnson had climbed the iron fence, which is the western boundary of the prison, dropped into the river, swam outward beyond the north wall and then up the river to the dock just north of the north wall and had concealed himself under the pier, where he was caught.

Ex-Postmaster Arrested.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 22.—Frederick M. Tibbals, who was dismissed as postmaster in Milford Saturday upon recommendation of Postoffice Inspector Robinson, who claimed to have found a shortage in the accounts, has been arrested on the charge of embezzlement and taken before United States Commissioner Wright, who held him for a hearing. The complaint against Tibbals is to the effect that he embezzled $500 of money order funds.

Gifts From Menelek.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—W. H. Ellis of New York, who took to King Menelek of Abyssinia the commercial treaty negotiated between that country and the United States, was at the White House last night and had a talk with President Roosevelt regarding his mission. Mr. Ellis presented to the president several weapons of unique and handsome design sent by King Menelek as a gift.

Kroonland Signals "All Well."

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The Sagaponack station has been in communication with the Red Star liner Kroonland, and all the fears for that vessel's safety are now proved to have been groundless. She was forty miles off Sagaponack when wireless communication was established, and "All well" was her first answer to the shore.

Strike Holdup In Argentina.

BUENOS AYRES, Argentina, Nov. 22.—The strike movement here has been resumed. The cab and principal telephone services are suspended, and the street car services are partly suspended. The railway men have held a meeting, but the companies say they have no apprehensions that their employees will strike.

Doan's Ointment is a never-failing cure.

For Piles, Eczema—all itching troubles.

New Jersey citizens endorse it.

A. H. Woodruff, of Valleburg, N. J., says: "For the benefit of those similarly afflicted as I was with hemorrhoids or piles, I want every reader of this paper to know that I suffered with attacks of this tormenting nuisance for over fifteen years. During that time I spent a lot of money trying "sure cures" and exhausted all my knowledge about salves and ointments and also the advice of my friends. One day while reading an advertisement about Doan's Ointment I concluded to make one more effort and I commenced the treatment. Greatly to my surprise the area of itching gradually contracted until it completely dried up. What is of considerable more importance to me, there is no indication of a recurrence."

Just such emphatic endorsement can be had here in Plainfield. Drop into L. W. Randolph's drug store and ask what his customers report.

RUSSIA'S FREEDOM.

Meeting of Zemstvo Delegates Stirs the Empire.

DECLARE FOR GENERAL AMNESTY.

Sympathetic Demonstrations In Various Parts of the Country—National Parliament Necessary For the People.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 22.—Interest in the meetings of the zemstvo representatives is intense. The war and all other questions are temporarily forgotten. Nothing else is talked of. Liberals from all parts of the empire are flocking hither, including many from Poland and Finland.

The situation altogether is unparalleled. Nothing approaching such a gathering has ever before been permitted in Russia. As evidence of the remarkable state of affairs it is sufficient to mention that one of the most prominent speakers on Sunday was M. Petrunkeivitch of Tver, who spent twenty-four years in exile and who had only been allowed since Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky's advent to come to the capital.

The zemstvo representatives adopted a declaration in favor of general amnesty for political prisoners and exiles.

Sympathetic demonstrations are reported in various parts of Russia.

"In order to secure the proper development of the life of the state and the people it is imperatively necessary that there be regular participation of national representatives, sitting as an especially elected body, to make laws, regulate the revenue and expenditure and control the legality of the actions of the administration."

The above is the final form of the declaration of the zemstvo representatives in favor of the election of a body not merely to participate in legislation, as at first reported, but to be intrusted with the framing of the laws of the empire.

The memorial setting forth the necessity of reform is all the more striking and impressive because the zemstvo presidents who signed it, while elected by zemstvo organizations, are confirmed by the government. The signatories also included five marshals of the nobility, the elections to which offices are also confirmed by the government.

The memorial will be presented within a couple of days to the minister of the interior, Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky, by a delegation composed of Presidents Shipoff, Petrunkeivitch, Prince Lvoff, Count Heider and Rodzianshy, the most prominent participants in the meeting.

The zemstvo meeting will now proceed with the discussion of the remainder of the programme, which directly concerns zemstvo work. It consists, first, of primary education; second, of the disorganization attendant on mobilization; third, relief measures for the families of those sent to war, and, fourth, Red Cross work.

The following message, signed by twenty-six prominent Finlanders, was also received:

"The undersigned, citizens of Finland, interested in the evolution of social and intellectual life of Russia, send their sincere and cordial salutations to the zemstvo representatives assembled in St. Petersburg to study the general circumstances which prevent regular development of Russian life. Now that the government has just proclaimed confidence in the people, the development of their moral, intellectual and social forces is henceforth opened to the powerful, generous Russian genius."

Plainfield, N. J., Nov. 22, 1904.

The grand opera at the Metropolitan last night was a great success according to the New York papers this morning which devote their accounts of the feast of music to a description of the gowns worn by the society women present.

Because the philanthropist made it a condition that his name be coupled with the project, a Harvard professor has declined a gift of $25,000 offered by Andrew Carnegie towards a fund for the exploration of the Pacific ocean's bottom. Mr. Carnegie's style of benevolence is not the kind which Americans applaud. It savors to much of high priced advertising for fame.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Will you please insert the following receipt for pumpkin pies in your valuable paper, thereby relieving the stomachs of that indigestible mass of what is termed New England pumpkin pies, but what realy is "The Yellow Peril," to all stomachs not made of gutta-percha—rubber, or cast iron: To one quart of milk, add two heaping spoons of stewed pumpkin, to this add sugar to taste, a pinch of salt and any desirable spice, beat all together constantly stirring till thoroughly mixed, and quite hot, then remove from the fire to cool, beat three eggs—whites and yolks separate, when mixture is cool enough, add yolks, thoroughly stirring, then the whites, fill pie as full as can be carried to oven, then fill with spoon till it can hold no more, being careful to have the pie-crust edge left a good inch over which should be turned over towards the inside of pie, and a little bent or curved to keep the contents from spilling over, bake in hot oven; when it looks well done try it in the center by carefully breaking the brown skim; if milky it is not done, if a whey follows the spoon, it is ready to take out; set it in a cool place, and if baked early in the morning it will be ready for a noon dinner.

Try it, all "ye cooks," and give us no more—stodge—pumpkin pies.

W. F. Barry Post, No. 73, G. A. R., of Rahway, has accepted an invitation to pay Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., of this city, a fraternal visit at the annual inspection of the latter Post this evening.

On account of the Jr. O. U. A. M. celebration in Newark on Thursday, in which the local councils will join, the weekly meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., will be omitted that night.

AMUSEMENTS.

The ninth week of George Ade's pictorial comedy, "The College Widow," at the Garden Theatre, New York city, has begun under the same conditions that have marked every performance since the metropolitan inaugural—that of crowded and pleased houses. Dorothy Tennant continues as the fetching widow, while Amy Ricard, Gertrude Quinlan, Lida McMillan and the town girls contribute to the success of the play. Among the other member of the company are Frederick Truesdell as the manly "Billy" Bolton, Edwin Holt, George E. Bryant, Dan Collyer, Edgar L. Davenport, Frederick Burton and Thomas Delmar.

STATE'S FAMOUS ROADS 2,200 MILES IN LENGTH

ANNUAL REPORT WILL SHOW INCREASE OF STONE HIGHWAYS.

The forthcoming annual report of Henry L. Budd, State Road Commissioner, of Burlington, and State Supervisor of Roads R. A. Meeker, of this city, will show that the last year has been one of much progress in the building of stone highways in different parts of the Commonwealth, notably in the southern counties. In the latter section, in several instances, roads have been constructed across meadows and marshes, separating the coast line from the high ground inland.

Probably the most expensive road across the meadows was built from Morristown, Cumberland county, to the West Jersey Railroad station. It is only a little over a mile in length, and cost $45,000. It saves those who wish to drive to the station a detour of nine miles, which was formerly necessary.

Nearly fifteen miles of improved roads have been completed in Ocean county this year, principally the main shore road from Toms River to Tuckerton. When this road is finished it will make a continuous good road all the way to Atlantic City, and in another year at least it is expected the good road system will be extended from Tuckerton and Toms River to Lakewood, to the Amboys and to Jersey City, where ferry and tunnel connections are made with New York.

Up to the present time there have been built by State aid a total of 1,186 miles of improved roads, which, with those built by municipalities, makes an aggregate of 2,200 miles in the Commonwealth. The State is accredited throughout the Union with occupying first place in the matter of good roads. At the St. Louis Exposition, New Jersey shows the only outdoor exhibit of road building, and for it has received a gold medal, and in addition, unlimited praise from foreign experts. The European commissioners who have seen the exhibit admit, that New Jersey has methods of road improvement not yet known in Europe.

Next year promises to be greater than this season for road improvement. An effort will be made to secure a generous appropriation from the incoming Legislature.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Use Press Want Ads.

—Wm. Debele, of the borough, is preparing to erect two houses at the corner of Somerset street and Summit avenue. They will contain all improvements.

—In view of the fact that there were a number of other events last night, the proposed euchre under the auspices of the Plainfield Camera Club was postponed indefinitely.

Officers Elected.

For the purpose of electing officers of the St. Mary's Guild, of St. Stephen's church, Netherwood, the members of the society met last evening at the home of the Misses Lillian and Sadie Bowe, of South avenue. These were chosen officers: President, Miss Edith Mattox; vice president, Miss Sadie Bowe; treasurer, Helen Borrup; secretary, Miss Mary Bremble.

Death of Infant.

Lawrence McCann, the ten-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCann, of West Third street, died this morning. The funeral will be held from the parents' residence tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, with interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

In Mrs. Potter's Honor.

Mrs. H. O. VanEmburgh, of Richmond street, gave a luncheon this afternoon to a munber of friends in honor of her friend, Mrs. H. S. Potter, who leaves Plainfield on Monday next for El Paso, Texas.

MRS. HALL PRESIDES AT WOMAN'S CLUB SESSION

EQUAL SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION IN SESSION AT JERSEY CITY.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of Madison avenue, honorary president of the New Jersey Woman's Suffrage Association, presided at the afternoon session held yesterday with the Jersey City Club in the Free Public Library, Jersey City. Rev. Antoinette Brown Blackwell, of East Orange, opened the session with prayer. There were several addresses of interest during the afternoon. Miss Mary H. Wasson, of the Newark High School faculty, spoke on the subject of teachers' salaries, drawing attention to the disparity in the amounts paid to men and women teachers.

"Probation Work," was discussed by Mrs. Caroline B. Alexander, assistant probation officer of Hudson County, and she related many new and helpful facts which strongly favor the continuance of the system along broader lines. She argued in favor of a probation officer in every county in the State. Mrs. Alexander spoke of the good work accomplished in Hudson County, as well as in other parts of the State.

Another interesting part of the afternoon programme was a paper presented by Miss Elizabeth A. Allen, principal of the Hoboken Training School. Her subject was "Women of Norway and Denmark," after which the afternoon session closed with a "question box," conducted by Rev. Anna H. Shaw.

Mrs. Minola Graham Sexton, of Orange, president of the association, presided at the closing session in the evening, the principal feature of which was an address by Rev. Anna Howard Shaw, on the subject of "Woman Suffrage Essential to a True Republic." She is president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Rev. Francis E. Whiteside, of Central avenue, preached at Bridgeport, Conn., Sunday.

There will be praise service at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church Sunday evening under the auspices of the choir.

The fourth annual sermon will be preached at the Mt. Olive Baptist church on Sunday night by Rev. M. E. Jackson, the pastor.

The Holy Name Society of St. Mary's church met last night, transacted routine business and completed arrangements for attending Father Clifford's lecture at the Casino tomorrow night.

The Young People's Association, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, will meet Friday night. Dr. Hedges will lead the service and the subject will be "How to Express Our Thanks to God."

A movement is on foot at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church to start a church paper. The scheme has been approved by the Session and will probably be undertaken during the coming month. The paper will be used for acquainting the members of the church and congregation with the church news. Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, pastor, is a leader in the enterprise.

Oh, Those Lodge Meetings.

Charles P. Young was taken suddenly sick on Saturday night, after returning home from the lodge here. Dr. Allen was called, who soon relieved the suffering man.—Clinton Democrat.

James Patterson, of West Front street, who was operated upon at Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday, is reported as doing well.

Best Running Candidate.

James E. Martine, the Democratic candidate for Congress in this district, proved to be one of the best running horses that the party had in this State. In almost every section he cut down Congressman Fowler's majority and in Union county, where both candidates live, he walloped Mr. Fowler surprisingly. In Elizabeth alone Martine ran 787 votes ahead of Parker, and beat Fowler's vote by 156. He was the only Democrat who carried the city. In Plainfield he ran 510 votes ahead of his ticket. Roosevelt's plurality in Union county was 5,280; Fowler's only 2,401. Had there been normal majorities in the district Fowler would probably have been defeated.—Washington, N. J., Star.

GOTHAM CHARACTERS

GOSSIP OF INTERESTING PEOPLE OF NEW YORK CITY.

"BREAD LINE" MAN DEAD

Louis Fleischman Was a Philanthropist in a Practical Way and Is Mourned by Many—Other Gossip.

AND the man who invented the "Bread Line" is dead.

Louis Fleischman was a brave officer in the Austrian army that Moltke broke at Sadowa; his medal, won there and bestowed by Emperor Franz Josef, was his most proudly valued possession. He came to Philadelphia in 1876 and started there at the Centennial the Vienna bakery. It is no secret that Yankee bread was in those days upon the average pretty bad. Fleischmann succeeded, came to New York and in the shadow of Grace church established a real Vienna cafe like those of his native city. At this point the Hungarian quarter reaches almost to Broadway from its center over near the East river. To-day there are 50 Hungarian cafes in that region less prosperous and less famed, but equally European.

There was much poverty in 1877, the ebb of the great panic, when Fleischmann began giving out every midnight, after the day's business was over, a loaf of stale bread and a mug of hot coffee to any man that asked. He was never afraid of "fakirs" waiting in all weathers for that inconvenient hour. As a matter of fact, most of the men who came to the "Bread Line" are genuine enough. The line is always longest on Sunday nights, because on Sunday men without regular work can get no odd jobs to do.

Never was a man's death more dramatic than Fleischmann's. The "Bread Line" forms long before midnight; it is a sort of club to the men, whose time is of no value and who talk together in low tones while waiting the dole. Fleischmann died about 10 o'clock of a Sunday evening when the line is longest and earliest in assembling.

Five Hundred Real Mourners.

MORE than usual the poor wrecks of humanity were oblivious of the little knots of gayly dressed and prosperous ones who had gathered to see the Line. It is one of the sights of the city; and not seldom some flaunting red automobile brings down a load of merry men and women who come perhaps to feel thankful that they are not as these, and who often end by pressing trifles of money into trembling and unnerved hands. Among them, too, passed this night the news of death. As midnight struck there were 500 men in that army of misfortune. I doubt if dead man had ever more sincere mourners. More than one of these men had been cheered and encouraged by personal words of hope by Mr. Fleischmann. More than one who now sees the Line no more was drawn from it back to better days by his quiet aid.

The "Bread Line" has figured in literature a hundred times. Once at least by Albert Bigelow Paine it was made the title of a novelette. In his story one of the most successful of American authors now is described as he was in his struggling days when trying to found a weekly paper. The story was so nearly true in the large and in the little details that it was hardly fiction. Paine himself was one of the thinly disguised characters, and three well known artists are minor characters. The hero, who is represented as an invincibly optimistic Col. Sellers of a man, perhaps it is as well not to name. In the story, the five men who have just agreed to found the paper happen along by the Line just as it is forming and in their golden dreams of wealth give generous largess to the men that stand there. And again they come to it after the last issue of the paper has been printed—this time themselves to take the loaf and the mug of coffee. That part was of course an artistic exaggeration.

According to the staid Philadelphia Public Ledger a dinner was given in that city to 18 persons recently by the Hon. Charlemagne Tower which cost $100 per plate, where the menu consisted only of oysters, chicken soup, mutton and lettuce—costly simplicity. Simplicity of another sort is the "Bread Line."

The Mayors of New York.

THE death of Franklin Edson so soon after William R. Grace leaves as living ex-mayors, Low, Grant, Gilroy, Cooper and Van Wyck.

Is there bad luck in being New York's mayor? Low's political prospects were clouded for 20 years by his successful mayoralty of Brooklyn getting tangled up with the Blaine fight in the republican party at its close. So far as elective office is concerned it was damaged again by his defeat a year ago at the polls after another good administration. Grant has done nothing in politics since his term ended, and has shone mainly as a social butterfly. Edson's death was hastened by the scandal of his wayward son, who stole money from a church, deserted his wife and finally killed a woman and himself while apparently crazy. Strong died in sorrow over the antics of his son; Putnam Bradlee Strong, whose escapade with the actress wife of a British nobleman was the scandal of all the miles that lie between New York and Yokohama. Besides, the failure of Strong's dry goods firm embittered his last years. Van Wyck is the only one of these men whose personal reputation suffered while he was mayor, which, of course, ends him politically. Grace and Gilroy were business men; and as they continued business men after their terms closed, they may be called fairly successful in spite of their dip into politics.

There remains Edward Cooper, very old, very infirm, very much beloved; the son of Edward Cooper, the friend and aid of Cooper Union; a slender, bowed, white-haired old man, like a memory of the past; a man who has served well and nobly in philanthropy and in politics.

Army Officers' Wives.

A STORM OF abuse has descended upon the high-held head of huge Gen. Corbin for daring to suggest that army officers should get the consent of the army department before marrying—such consent, as in Germany, presumably being conditioned upon the financial prospects of the happy pair.

An army officer below general's rank draws pay ranging from the $1,400 of the young second lieutenant to the $4,500 of the colonel after 20 years service. He has house room free in most cases, traveling allowances and the privilege of buying supplies at cost in commissary stores. Ten per cent. is added to his pay if he serves outside of the United States proper.

These sums do not sound so small outside of New York. It is probable that Gen. Corbin was speaking with the New York standard of living in his mind; perhaps even from the standpoint of one whose marriage with a wealthy woman has made luxury familiar. As a matter of fact, the second lieutenant's $1,400 is not very big here. A New York police patrolman gets that sum, lives in a tenement if he likes and has no exacting social standards to maintain. Under the circumstances the policeman is more likely to save money than the young army officer who marries on his salary.

Yet even in New York public sentiment is overwhelmingly against the Continental idea which practically requires an officer to marry a girl with a fortune of from $10,000 to $250,000, according to the grade and regiment of her affianced. It has always been the theory that a poor boy has a chance in our army or navy. Has he, if the government says he may not marry upon his salary?

The Madness of Wealth.

THE fact is, there is something in the air of New York that drives many people wealth-crazy.

A millionaire horseman gives at his country home a "nursery party," where the father of his wife appears as a Little Lord Fauntleroy with gray whiskers, and all the guests dress as babies of the story books.

By the time this letter is read, if no citizen has had the courage to protest, the automobile race for the Vanderbilt cup will have been "pulled off" on the public highways of populous Long Island, from which the "peasantry" have already been directed to keep their children and themselves for ten hours, and to "chain up their dogs and lock up their fowls."

The fairs in every county near New York have been captured from the farmers by rich suburban estate owners who go to them to see and be seen, and to caper about in infantile pleasures. Long Island has not yet ceased to gossip about the "hospital fair" at Mrs. Mackay's great house on Harbor hill, when the "common people" were practically invited to pay admission fees to see the members of the 400 at close quarters; when "Ollie" Belmont mixed drinks behind the bar and Mrs. Mackay herself, Mrs. Belmont, Mrs. Vanderbilt and other great ladies donned peasant costumes to sell toys and trinkets at fancy prices.

At Bernardsville, at Westchester, at Mineola, the summer people invent the devices of the idle to kill time, as if it were the great enemy. Always there is a race meeting going on somewhere; and the automobiles of society jostle at the entrance the haggard clerk who has fingered the money in his employer's till to back the little ponies against odds that amount to certainly for the "booky."

All this is very English, no doubt. But isn't there danger that the sound and the flashing of it all hide too much the humdrum millions who simply do their daily work, of the thousands who devote wealth and leisure to philanthropy? And these there are, even in New York.

An Ideal Location

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad
Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

AMERICA AND GERMANY.

Official Organ of the German Empire Comments on President's Words.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—President Roosevelt's speech at Washington at the unveiling of the bronze statue of Frederick the Great and the attendant ceremonies have pleased Germany. Reports of extraordinary length for the German press were cabled, including the speeches of the president and of Ambassador Speck von Sternburg. Leading articles expressing appreciation of Mr. Roosevelt's utterances appear in most of the newspapers. The semiofficial North German Gazette, which may be taken in this instance as representing general opinion, says:

"In Germany the celebration and particularly President Roosevelt's address will leave a lasting impression. The profound insight with which the president as a historian did justice to the personality of the great king and general and described his heroic and unwearied self sacrifice for a great political idea fills us in Germany with warm sympathy."

A Send Off For Earl Grey.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Lord Strathcona presided at a farewell banquet last night to Earl Grey on the eve of the latter's departure to assume the governor generalship of Canada. There were 200 guests, including the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Earl of Aberdeen, Mr. Broderick, secretary for India, and a number of other prominent gentlemen. Lord Strathcona proposed the toast, "The Dominion of Canada and the governor general elect." Earl Grey in responding paid a tribute to the great loyalty of the Canadians and said he looked forward with the greatest zest to five years' residence in Canada.

Ella Gesterling Temporarily Insane.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Suicide while temporarily insane over the loss of her betrothed was the verdict of the coroner's jury in the case of Ella Gesterling, whose dead body was found Saturday in the girl's apartments at the Vendome hotel. The death of the young woman, according to police theory, may have been the result of a "suicide agreement" entered into by the dead girl and Charles A. Parker of Cincinnati, a well known railroad official. Parker died suddenly in Cincinnati under circumstances that might indicate that he had taken his own life.

Quarrymen Strike.

SANDUSKY, O., Nov. 22.—Four hundred of the 600 men employed at the quarries of the Kelley Island Lime and Transport company are on strike because their working time had been reduced from ten to nine hours a day with a proportionate reduction in wages. The men made a counter demand of $1.75 per day of ten hours. That was refused, and a strike followed.

Laundry Burned at Bath.

BATH, N. Y., Nov. 22.—The washroom and laundry at the Steuben County almshouse were destroyed by fire here, and several other buildings were threatened. Several women in one of the buildings nearest the flames were taken out by firemen. The loss is $3,500 and is covered by insurance.

Railway Man Dead.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 22.—Major John C. Lewis, the traveling passenger agent of the Iron Mountain railroad, is dead here. He was seventy-four years old and was one of the oldest passenger agents in the United States.

FASHION'S FORECAST.

Checked Velvets Very Smart. Changes In Hats and Coats.

Black and red velvet in small checks is being made into ultra smart costumes. Trimmed with black silk in piped panels and with rather wide bands of black lace stitched upon a bloused jacket and sleeves, a gown of this kind is effective with the introduction of white lace and black velvet at the neck.

There is a fear that these new checks will share the fate of the black and white and blue and white cloth checked frocks which were so overdone in the spring. Still, for those who like to wear the very "latest" the costume in red and black checked velvet cannot be dispensed with and may be worn until it becomes common.

The walking skirt is seen in many varieties, mostly box plaited or kilted. It is longer than it was last winter, but still takes the upward tilt at the back.

Fine face cloths are the favorites this season, and the colors most in evidence are dark greens, bronzes, browns, copper and dull reds for day wear. For evening frocks velvets, brocades and silks of all kinds are made into stately Louis costumes for the matron, while the girls will wear the most fascinating tulles, gauzes, soft silks and painted chiffons and chiffon velvets.

USEFUL MORNING HAT.

The picture shows a stunning broad brimmed hat of white felt with a high, full crown of mauve velvet. A long buckle, together with two rosettes of shaded mauve and violet velvet, is the simple trimming. This hat is suitable for the morning promenade.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

MODES IN FURS.

Many New Pelts Added to Old Favorites This Season.

There are many startling innovations in fur land at present, and what strikes one in the new fashions are the extraordinary amount of trimming used on fur garments and the mingling of totally different skins with excellent results.

Those who invest in really good furs get their money's worth when purchasing the three-quarter length coats and do not pay more for style than for the skin, as is often the case. The warmth and comfort of the three-quarter coat will be appreciated in the cold days to come.

On many of the coats and wraps other trimmings apart from fur are employed, such as silks, embroideries, incrustations of velvet, beautiful laces and all kinds of buttons and clasps.

Chinchilla threatens to rival even Russian sable, and caracal in black and white will struggle for popularity.

A SEALSKIN BOLERO

Moleskin is at somewhat of a discount, although it will be used as a lining for long coats.

Among the lesser furs is musquash, and this pelt is being dressed in a new way to resemble sealskin. Bear, too, will be very much worn. Pony skin has been brought to perfection by dyeing and dressing. It now comes in lovely tones of brown and gray and is much used for motor coats. There will be a rage for white fox, which is very becoming to young people.

Fur edgings will be a great deal used—ermine, chinchilla and sable edgings on velvet gowns and coats, and mink, caracal and astrakhan on cloth and practical frocks.

The natty little coat illustrated is of sealskin trimmed with chinchilla and has fetching chiffon sleeve frills.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

NEW YORK WON.

Two Favorites and a Second Choice at Bennings.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Two favorites and a second choice were among the six winners at the Bennings track. In the first event Incense won easily from Juvenaga, the favorite, and Poseur had a hard race for the place, the latter winning by a scant head. Allumeur, the favorite in the first handicap, ran poorly. Mrs. Frank Foster led most of the way, but gave out at the turn into the stretch, where New York won with ease.

In the other handicap Colonsay made a formidable showing against the favorite and in a game fight at the finish wrested the place from Lord Badge. Jockey Shaw rode three of his mounts to victory, and Crimmins scored two more.

Racing at Cumberland Park.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 22.—Favorites and second choices captured most of the races at Cumberland park. Whirlpool in the fourth event was played for a good thing and might have won but for interference from Savoir Faire, who swerved badly in the run home. Steeplechase Jockey Gaylor has been suspended for the remainder of the meeting because of the poor showing made by his mount, Balzac, in the cross country number of Saturday.

Toledo at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Five favorites finished first here. The only upset occurred in the fourth race, at a mile and a furlong. Divina, the first choice, tried to wheel as the barrier went up and got away poorly. Toledo was off flying, and the others could not catch him.

Woman Makes Record Shoot.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—By breaking 967 two and a quarter inch composition disks out of a possible 1,000 from a twenty-five foot rise at the world's fair Mrs. A. Topperwein established a woman's world's record for free shooting. The time required for the shoot was one hour and forty minutes.

Gardner and Britt to Fight.

DENVER, Nov. 22.—Jimmy Gardner, the lightweight who defeated Rube Smith at the Denver Athletic club Friday night, has been matched to meet Jimmy Britt at San Francisco on Dec. 16. The two men must weigh 133 pounds at 3 o'clock that day. Gardner left for San Francisco last night.

Young Peter Jackson Won.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—In a fifteen round match for $1,000 at Whitechapel last night Young Peter Jackson beat Charley Allum of London in the sixth round.

True Story of Dogger Bank Affair.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—A member of the crew of the Russian cruiser Aurora writes that Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's flagship Kniaz Suferoff mistakenly in the fog of Dogger bank bombarded the Aurora, whereupon the Aurora, signaling, "We are being fired at," herself fired 350 shells at the British trawlers and the Russian fleet. This informant distinctly avers that there were two Russian torpedo boats with the first division of the Baltic squadron to which the Aurora belonged.

McGregor Goes to Prison.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 22.—Thomas W. McGregor, the clerk in the rural free delivery division of the postoffice department who, with C. Ellsworth Upton, was convicted of conspiracy to defraud the government on a pouch contract last year, has gone to the penitentiary to begin his term of two years to which he was sentenced. McGregor's appeal was dismissed a few days ago by the United States circuit court of appeals.

Fishburn Indicted For Murder.

ROANOKE, Va., Nov. 22.—A special coroner's jury has indicted Charles R. Fishburn, a young banker and broker, for the murder of Dr. Frederick Lefew, a prominent young physician, who died a week ago from a knife wound in the breast inflicted by Fishburn during a difficulty between the two men two weeks earlier. Fishburn is in jail, and tomorrow has been fixed for the day for his preliminary hearing.

A Kansas "Jack the Ripper."

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 22.—Mrs. J. R. Nickum, who was struck on the head with an ax in her boarding house here Sunday, died without regaining consciousness. Two hundred dollars in cash and some other valuables in the woman's dresser was untouched. Mrs. Nickum's body was horribly mutilated, bearing evidences of the work of a "Jack the Ripper." There is no clew to the murderer.

Queen Lil After an Appropriation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Among the passengers on the steamer Domano, which has arrived from Honolulu, were former Queen Liliuokalani and Congressional Delegate Kalanianaole. The former queen is still hopeful of securing an appropriation from congress to reimburse her for the loss of the former crown lands.

Sandbagged a Cashier.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 22.—George Rosenberg, cashier of the Pacific Coast Steamship company's office at Skagway, has been assaulted and robbed of $4,500 while alone in his office. The robbers ordered him to hand over the cash, and on his refusal they struck him on the head with a sandbag.

Comes to the Land of the Free.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A. F. Jaurett, the American newspaper man who was ordered to leave Venezuela by President Castro because he had expressed views in opposition to the government policies, arrived here last night on the steamship Philadelphia.

Togo's Fleet Capture German Steamer Batelan.

WITH SUPPLIES FOR PORT ARTHUR

Baltic Fleet Sails From Island of Crete For Port Said—Battle Imminent on Shakhe River—Japs Hold Da Pass.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—A Chefu report says that a Japanese official who is among the latest arrivals from Dalny states positively that a general attack upon Port Arthur has been resumed and a large magazine blown up.

Advices from Tokyo say that the navy department reports the capture of the German steamer Batelan while attempting to run the Port Arthur blockade. The department says that at 3 o'clock in the morning a Japanese squadron cruising off Yentao, near Talien bay, sighted a vessel steaming for Port Arthur.

The gunboat Tatsuta pursued and overtook the steamer. On board of the vessel was found a great quantity of winter clothing, blankets, medicine and corned meats.

Her captain said she was bound for Newchwang. The route and cargo of the Batelan were considered to be suspicious, and she was taken possession of and brought to Sasebo.

Increasing skirmishing along the Shakhe river seems to indicate the imminence of another great battle.

A dispatch from Canfa, island of Crete, says that the section of the Russian second Pacific squadron, commanded by Vice Admiral Voelkersam, sailed last night for Port Said. In this squadron are the battleships Sissoi, Veliky and Navarin, the cruisers Jemtchung and Almaz, the destroyers Biestiaschy, Bezumprechni, Bystri, Bravi, Bedovi and Buiny and the transports Gortschakoff, Voronej, Kitai Tambor, Kelv, Jupiter, Merkur and Vladimiroff.

Advices from St. Petersburg this morning say that a dispatch from Tientsin, printed here, stating that the American consul at Chefu has warned the state department at Washington of the imminence of the fall of Port Arthur is received with considerable criticism, the allegation being made that the dispatch was prompted by a desire to help the Japanese war loan.

Grand Duke Alexis, general admiral of the Russian navy, has presented to Emperor Nicholas a programme of ships to be built at Russian dockyards.

Doyle Met With Foul Play.

MAHANOY CITY, Pa., Nov. 22.—The impression that the man believed to be John T. Doyle, whose half nude body has been found near the Vulcan public road, was the victim of foul play for the purpose of robbery is strengthened by the extreme reticence of the officials after the coroner's autopsy. The stomach has been sent to a chemist for analysis.

SPORTING NEWS.

FOOTBALL.

The Orange Field Club was given a good reception by the Edward Clark Club, of Elizabeth last week, and was royally entertained. After the game the members were allowed to take a swim in the pool, and were given a supper.

The Thanksgiving game for the Orange Field Club team will be with the Navajo team, of Brooklyn, which has held the championship of that city for some time. The team is about three pounds heavier than the local players, but a good game is expected. The contest will take place at Brooklyn.

On account of the fact that the field was so slippery for the game Saturday between the Alis and the Dunellen elevens, neither side played well, and it would be hard to decide which team was superior. The Dunellens through their crack half back Peters gained more ground than their opponents, though they were weaker on the defense.

The Plainfield High School and the North Plainfield High School will contest on Crescent Oval this afternoon. The following will be the line up of the city team: Left end, Rockwell; left tackle, Bentley; left guard, Freeman; center, Bogart; right guard, Brager; right tackle, Jahn; right end, Jones; quarterback, Williams; left half, W. Douglass; fullback, Taylor; right half, J. Douglass.

The last practice of the year for the Orange Field Club football players will take place tonight. The team will play several more games though the last part of the schedule has not yet been announced. Since tonight's practice is the last one of the season, it is expected that all the candidates will be present. There will be important business transacted with regard to the next season's team.

BASKET BALL.

The Plainfield High School team will line up as follows in their game with the Hasbrouck team tomorrow at Jersey City: Thompson and Collier, forwards; Freeman; center; Stutsman and Gavett, guards. There may be others substituted. A large number of the students of the school will go along to encourage the team by their cheers and will attend the theatre in New York following the game.

On account of the fact that there was a concert at the Y. M. C. A. last night, there were no basketball games on the gymnasium floor. Both the Y. M. C. A. regular team and the Business Men's aggregation will play next Monday. For the former one of the hardest games of the season will be played, and they are practicing hard for the occasion. They will meet the 26th Ward team of Brooklyn, which is one of the strongest teams in that city.

The second game in the juvenile interscholastic league will be played tomorrow on the Y. M. C. A. floor. The game will be between the Whittier School and the Y. M. C. A. junior aggregation. This will be the first regular game for the Whittier School, and there is considerable interest evidenced over the coming struggle. Though Physical Director Henckle has not yet announced the line up of the Y. M. C. A. team, the grammar school boys will go on the floor as follows: Briggs and Loughlin, forwards; Alpaugh, center; Woodhull and Fountain, guards.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The Park Club bowling team, as stated in The Daily Press a few weeks ago, has joined the newly-formed Central Journal Bowling League. The Elizabeth Journal has offered a trophy to be bowled for, and in addition there are several money prizes, including first prize of $25 second of $15 and these individual prizes: First prize, highest average, valued at $15, second of $15 and third at $5 and a high score prize valued at $5. To qualify for average prizes the contestants must take part in twenty-seven games, three of which must be the last three in the schedule.

During the past few years the league has been composed of four clubs, the Park Club, the Roselle Casino, the Cranford Casino, and the Westfield Club. This year three new clubs were added, making seven in all. The new clubs are the Newark Bay Boat Club, the Elizabeth Club and the Jersey City Club, all strong aggregations. As now constituted the league is probably one of the strongest in the State and the schedule is sure to be an interesting one.

Last year the schedule called for a double round, but this extended the play too far into the spring. In arranging the schedule this year the number of games will be cut in half and will not require so much time as formerly.

F. O. Ball will have charge of the Park Club five and a determined effort will be made to have a winning team. There is some new material in the club this season and it is believed it will greatly strengthen the team's chances.

The tournament will begin on Tuesday night, November 29. That night the Parks will entertain the Elizabeth Club on its own alleys and the Newark Bay Boat Club will roll at Cranford Casino.

S. O. Groves, of Roselle, is president of the new league and Aubrey Smith, of Westfield, is secretary and treasurer. It is expected that the new schedules will be out within the coming week. Mr. Ball expects to announce his team within a few days, as he has had candidates on the alleys for some time and has about made up his mind as to who will compose the personnel.

DIAMOND DUST

Virgil Garvin, the baseball pitcher, who with his wife has been living at the Hotel Kensington during the past few months, leave today for St. Louis where they will visit the Exposition for two weeks. From there they will go to Excelsior Spring, Missouri, where they will remain until the baseball season opens in the spring. As yet Mr. Garvin does not know where he will play next season, but he may possibly join the Pacific Coast League. He has always had a desire to go to the coast.

Mrs. Fiske as "Hedda Gable."—Manhattan Theatre.

Mrs. Fiske and the Manhattan Company are making a great success of rivival of Ibsen's fasinating play, "Hedda Gabler". Mrs. Fiske' appearance in this play at the Manhattan for a single week last season, just previous to her going on tour, created a dramatic sensation, and now that times commensurate with its importance can be given at the Manhattan to this drama, it is safe to say that the sensation will be repeated, especially as "Hedda Gabler" on its revival will be played by the most distinguished company involving the more prominent of the Manhattan organization ever seen in this country in an Ibsen drama. Mrs. Fiske will play Hedda, John Mason will be the Eilert Lovborg, George Arliss the Assessor Brack, William B. Mack will be seen in his fine impersonation of Tesman, and Laura McGilvory will be the Mrs. Elvsted. This is a remarkable cast, and the results will be no doubt unusally notable from a dramatic viewpoint.

THANKSGIVING'S EVENTS

Holiday Will be Generally Observed Locally.

BUSINESS SUSPENDED

Churches to Join in Union Service According to Annual Custom—Society and Sports.

Thanksgiving Day will be generally observed in this city. The merchants will close their places of business and the druggists will close their pharmacies in the afternoon from 1 to 6 o'clock, according to the usual custom on holidays. As a majority of people stay and arrange to spend the day at home, the day's celebration is generally a quiet one. In the morning at 10:30 there will be a Union service at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church, will preach the sermon. Other pastors in the city and borough will officiate.

During the morning there will be nothing of a special character. At noon the annual dinner will be given to the inmates of the Children's Home in their temporary quarters on Muhlenberg place.

The members of Franklin, Somerset and Benevolent Councils, Jr. O. U. A. M., will leave town early in the morning for Newark, where they will join the Juniors of Essex County in a parade and a presentation of an American flag to the city. The trip will be made in special trolley cars.

There will be golf events at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club throughout the day. In addition to the semi-final and final play for the Greens Committee Tankard, regular event there will be play for two special cups for active members. One cup will be for the best gross score and the other for the best net scores. Players may compete any time during the day. If the players with the best gross score happens to have the best net score the handicap cup will be given to the player having the second best net score. In no case will either cup be awarded to the winners of the Holiday cup or Greens' Committee Tankard.

During the day and evening there will be a special programme at the opening of Saengerbund Hall, the structure having been rebuilt and made more attractive than ever. In the evening there will be the Star Course entertainment at the Y. M. C. A., and a dance at T. A. B. Hall under the auspices of the People's Social Club.

One of the special events will be the Thanksgiving dance at the Park Club in the evening. Preparations have been made for a good time. This will be under the auspices of the entertainment committee. In addition to these events there will be may private family dinners.

The circulating department of the Public Library will be closed all day tomorrow. The reading room will be open from 2 until 6.

On the gridiron there will be several attractions. The important games of the day will be between the Alis Club and the eleven from Madison; and between the Orange Field Club team and the Navajo aggregation, a crack eleven of Brooklyn. The latter will be a hard game for the O. F. C., and one which they expect will give them the hardest fight of the year. They will enter the game with the reputation of not having been beaten this season, and if they come out of the game with the same boast, it will be the result of hard fast playing.

The Alis team has already defeated the Madison A. C., though at the time of the first game several of the Madison players were unable to take part. The score of the original contest was 11 to 0. The visitors promise to bring a better team to meet the Alis Club this time, and they expect to make the local team hustle.

The Watchung Hunt Club will hold one of the final runs of the season. They will first meet at the Colonia Country Club, where they will be given a hunt breakfast by Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Cruickshank. After the breakfast they will ride for about eight miles. There are many visitors expected on this chase, and the affair promises to be one of the most attractive which the club has so far conducted.

The golf committee of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club has adopted these rules to govern tomorrow's play:

A ball played over the fence on the first, ninth and tenth holes, is out of bounds. No other out of bounds. A ball striking a telegraph or telephone wire or post, may be played over without penalty. A ball driven from the third tee into the ditch guarding the green, may be lifted without penalty. The filled-in pond to the left, on the second hole, is ground under repair; also the one guarding the fourth green. Any ploughed ground, or newly sowed ground, on the side of any green, is ground under repair. A ball played into the road, on the ninth and sixteenth holes, may, at the player's discretion, be lifted and dropped in or back of the road, under penalty of one stroke. A ball played into the road or beyond it, on the fourth hole, may be lifted and brought back (at the point where it went into or over the road) and dropped, under penalt of one stroke.

CLAASSEN DISMISSED ON EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE

PROSECUTOR UNABLE TO PRODUCE ANY EVIDENCE AGAINST HIM.

Before Judge Vail, of the Court of Quarter Sessions at Elizabeth yesterday, Prosecutor English after hearing the defense in the case presented by Vincent W. Nash, Jr., attorney for Jens Claassen, who was charged with embezzling $35 from Charles Arnold, the Liberty street butcher, moved to nolle prosequi the indictment.

Mr. English, in his motion to the court said, that Claassen had been arrested in this city early in September, for taking and keeping unlawfully money received from customers but that he could not find any evidence against the defendant, and that in his opinion the arrest never should have taken place, as the complainant could not show or prove that Claasen ever embezzled anything.

Upon hearing the facts Judge Vail granted the motion and discharged Claassen.

CITY TEAM VICTORIOUS OVER BOROUGH ELEVEN

HIGH SCHOOLS BATTLE IN UNEVEN GAME ON HOPE COMMON.

Outclassing their opponents in weight and team work, the eleven of the Plainfield High School had an easy victory over the North Plainfield High School team on Hope common yesterday afternoon by the score of 30 to 0. The city school scored at will, and after each kick off it was only a matter of how many plays it would take to put the ball over the line. Williams, the Douglass brothers, and Taylor were the stars from the city team, while Hamilton and Matthews did all they could to play against the heavy odds which the Plainfield team possessed.

The touchdowns were made by the following: In the first half, J. Douglass, round end; safety by VanArsdale thrown back by Taylor; Taylor through line; W. Douglass round end; W. Douglass, round end; score, first half, 25 to 0. Second half, W. Douglass scored on thirty yard run. Time called on account of darkness. Score finally, 30 to 0.

The line up of the two teams was as follows: P. H. S.—Left end, Leizeaux; left tackle, Bentley; left guard, Meaney; center, Bogart; right guard, Srager; right tackle; Jahn; right end, Flanders; quarterback, Williams; left half, W. Douglass; full back, Taylor; right half, J. Douglass. N. P. H. S.—Left end, Nischwitz; left tackle, Fisher; left guard, Steiner; center, Ammerman; right guard, Kipsey; right tackle, Mucok; right end, Ward; quarterback, VanArsdale; left half, Hamilton; full back, Matthews; right half, Webster. Referee, Cooley; umpire, Todd; linesmen, Burdis and Rugen; time keepers, Doane and Kenney.

Turkey Prices.

The poultry trade is not as great this year on account of the high prices but there is a great difference in the quality, at this season it being much better. The difference in cost between southern and northern turkeys and those raised in New Jersey is about three to five cents. Genuine New Jersey turkeys retailing here for thirty cents sell for thirty-five cents in New York today. There is much difference in the quality of turkeys and this accounts for the range of prices asked for the birds at various shops here.

High School Donations.

The usual donation of goods for the benefit of the hospital was received this morning at the Plainfield High School. A large number of serviceable articles, including canned goods, cereals and vegetables, were contributed. In addition a subscription of money for the Nurses' Home was received.

GOLF HANDICAP SYSTEM

Method Devised by Leighton Calkins, of the Hillside Club.

SOLVES THE PROBLEM

Plainfielder Contributes An Article to "Golf," Explaining the System.

The equalization of club handicaps is one that has been more or less of a problem at golf clubs throughout the country, and in a recent issue of Golf, a publication devoted entirely to the interests of the game, Leighton Calkins, of this city, and a member of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, contributes an interesting article in which he presents a system that has worked well wherever it has been tried. In fact it was a great success at the amateur golf tournament held this season at the Baltusrol Golf Club.

In explaining his system, Mr. Calkins says: "If all club members are handicapped on the basis of their average best play, no unfairness will exist in individual cases, and the winner will always be a man who has played his best game. The moment he gets off his game he will be out of the running. This certainly will stimulate practice. Only by proof that his game, not temporarily, but permanently, as far as can be judged, is inferior to what it was, can a player secure a higher handicap."

Mr. Calkins' system has been employed at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, this season, where there has been a handicap competition each week for a cup awarded at the end of the season to the player winning the most points. There are thirty players who have won points, but it is significant that of the four leaders, one is scratch player, another had a handicap of plus one and a third had a handicap of one. This is believed to be due mainly to the table for handicapping on the system invented by Mr. Calkins. According to this system, there is a committee of three to look after the handicapping. This is done on the basis of the player's best work, as represented by the average of their three best scores. The handicaps are reduced whenever record scores are made; but they are not raised when high scores are made. Mr. Calkins does not believe that handicaps should be raised the first season.

The rules under which players who fail to return attested cards are penalized, is that by barring them from the next competition whatever its nature. According to the system mentioned some allowance is made for unusual and exceptional scores. For a score of 71 or better a handicap of plus two is given and for scores of 72 or 73 plus one is given. A player making a score of 74 is put at scratch and above that score the handicaps are graduated from one to twenty-seven.

MUSICAL FETE PROMISED BY FAMOUS STRING SEXTET

ATTRACTION AT THE CASINO THURSDAY, DECEMBER 8.

A musical event of much interest will be the concert to be given at the Casino on Thursday evening, December 8, by the Richard Arnold String Sextet, of New York, assisted by Joseph McIntyre, pianist, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Lamson and Miss Sibyl Anderson, of this city.

Richard Arnold, who leads the sextet, and who will probably render one or more solo numbers, is, as is well known, the vice president and has been for many years the leading violin of the New York Philharmonic Society's orchestra. His sextet is one of the best and most favorably known organizations of this character in New York, every member being an artist of the first quality. Joseph McIntyre has recently become a citizen of North Plainfield, having moved here from Pittsburg, Pa., where for many years he has enjoyed an enviable reputation as an artist and professor of music. He received his musical education in Germany, having spent several years at the Royal School of Music in Berlin, under the instruction of Ruderff. Since his return to this country he has had a wide experience both as a performer and as a teacher. It is considered that it speaks well for the reputation of Plainfield as a musical center that a pianist of Mr. McIntyre's ability should select it for his residence, and we have no doubt that the citizens of Plainfield will appreciate this early opportunity of hearing him.

EMPLOYER AND EMPLOYE AIR THEIR DIFFERENCES

LATTER IS HELD FOR GRAND JURY FOR POINTING REVOLVER.

On complaint of Samuel Rushmore, of the Rushmore Dynamo Works, John Stewart, the night watchman at the plant, was held to await the action of the Grand Jury by Justice Mosher, yesterday. The plaintiff charges that he pointed a revolver at him and made threatening gestures without just cause.

Stewart has been watchman at the Dynamo Works for some time, having originally been employed in the factory. Some time ago, while at work Stewart had two fingers cut off, and as the result of his incapacity to work was appointed night watchman. Mr. Rushmore claims that last Thursday he had occasion to go to the factory after dark, and when he asked Stewart for the keys, the latter pointed his revolver at him and acted belligerently.

At the same time Mr. Rushmore was filing the papers against his employe, Stewart, through his counsel, Winfield S. Angleman, was preparing suit against his employer for the loss of his two fingers.

THANKSGIVING EXERCISES

City and Borough Schools Observe the Day.

PUPILS TAKE PART

Special Music and Appropriate Recitations Characterize the Exercises at the Various Schools.

In accordance with the usual custom the annual Thanksgiving services at the public schools were observed this morning, and though for the most part simple in nature they were appropriate to the occasion. In most of the departments the work of the morning was shortened, and about an hour devoted to commemoration of the day.

At the Plainfield High School, the recitation periods closed at 11 o'clock, and the pupils assembled in the hall at 11:30 for their usual exercises.

The song by the school, "For the Beauty of the Earth," opened the exercises in the Plainfield High School. This was followed by the selection "Praise to Thee, Thou Great Creator." Both were well sung, and led by Musical Director Charles L. Lewis. At the conclusion of these songs, a declamation was delivered by Theodore O. Gavett, of the senior class. It was entitled "Two Thanksgivings," and was spoken in a clear, distinct voice. A recitation entitled "A Colonial Thanksgiving," was delivered by Miss Ada Westphal in her usual pleasing manner. "Thanksgiving: A Reminiscence," written by Miss Jessie M. Maclay, was read by Miss Helen Whitney. The next number on the programme was an anthem by the school, "While the Earth Remaineth." A declamation "Thankful for Good Reading," followed, written by Lawrence Miller, and spoken by Arthur Whitney. Miss Gertrude Abbott delivered a recitation "We Thank Thee," after which a poem "Harvest," written by Miss Edith Jarvis, was well spoken by Miss Charlotte Taylor. Martin B. Stutsman's recitation "Thanksgiving," was a feature of the exercises. A solo and chorus "O Worship the Lord," by Charles L. Lewis and the school, was well received. The next number was an original recitation "The Thanksgiving Habit," by Miss Gertrude Hunter.

After an anthem by the school, "Praise the Lord, O My Soul," Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, was introduced as the speaker of the morning. Mr. Schenck's remarks were thoroughly enjoyed, and were instructive as well as interesting. The exercises were concluded with the singing of the song, "The Plainfield High School."

An attractive and well arranged Thanksgiving programme was the one by which the Whittier School celebrated the day at Franklin Hall this morning. "A Hymn of Praise" by the entire school opened the exercises, which was followed by readings, recitations, and compositions on Thanksgiving topics, by Theodore Sperry, John Bittenhouse, Helen Cruikshank, Marguerite VanNorden and Stanley Robins. In addition a chorus composed of members of the sixth grade sang "Breaking Waves," and the chorus, "St. George's Chapel" was sung by the entire school. As a conclusion to the exercises, Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, delivered an interesting address appropriate to the season.

Thanksgiving at the Franklin School was observed by appropriate hymns and Scripture reading at the regular morning exercises; also by special exercises in the individual rooms. The significance of the day was explained by the several teachers.

The exercises at the Bryant School were extensive, and included several songs by the school in addition to recitations and compositions by the pupils. Among those who took part were John Coughlin, Arthur Lewis, Robert Bellows, William Mann, Mabelle Koch, Eleanor Sperry, Schuyler Line, Amy Wisant and Leonard Lewis. The young people did well in their recitations and readings, and the selection of pieces was a creditable one. In addition to the recitations there were several songs by the entire school, and two selections by the entire fourth grade. The exercises concluded with the singing of "The Soldiers' Chorus," from Faust.

At the Washington School, the Thanksgiving exercises opened with a piano solo by Ernest Stevens, followed by a reading, "Thanksgiving Day," by Ethel Scudder. A dialogue between twenty-six members of the school followed, appropriate to the subject of Thanksgiving. After a recitation by Sadie Rottberg, the exercises were concluded with the singing of the "Harvest Song," by the school. In the Irving and Lincoln Schools, the story of Thanksgiving was briefly told in the class rooms, and simple exercises were held at the morning assembly. The pupils of the Irving School sang a Thanksgiving song, under the direction of Charles L. Lewis, and William Bailey delivered a recitation. Miss Petrie, the principal of the school, was presented with a handsome basket of fruit, the gift of the pupils.

Separate exercises were held in the borough High School by the upper and lower grades, those of the former beginning at 12:20 this noon. Recitations were given by Lawrence Milne, Margaret Bipkert, Ralph Kutz and Jennie DeMott; piano selections by Mabel Gano and songs by the entire gathering.

The primary departments began their programme at 2 o'clock and the following pupils took part: Ashley Burner, Edmund Keeney, Elmer Johnson, Ella Miller, Herbert Reynolds, Eddie Schorb, Mildred Dennis, Iola Sobenck, Ralph Smalley, Margaret Woolston, Edmund Wakefield and Hilda Story.

HER CLOTHING IN FLAMES, GIRL BECOMES HYSTERICAL

TIMELY ASSISTANCE SAVES HER FROM A TERRIBLE DEATH.

Miss Margaret Williamson, twenty-one years old, was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday afternoon, suffering from severe burns about the lower part of the body. She is employed as a domestic by John Wirth, of West Front street, and while ironing, her dress caught fire from a gas stove. She became hysterical as the flames enveloped her and she ran about the rooms fanning them into fierceness. Her screams were heard by Mrs. Wirth and John Gardner, who beat them out in time to save her life.

An examination at the hospital showed that while the burns are very painful there is no danger of their proving fatal. The girl's home is in Somerville, where her parents reside.

WILL WEST END OBJECT TO A GARBAGE PLANT?

BELIEF THAT THE DISPOSAL WORKS WILL BE STARTED SOON.

Among the matters that are sure to engage the attention of the Common Council during the first part of the coming year will be that in reference to a municipal system of garbage disposal. There were certain things that prevented the adoption of this system this year, but its advocates hope that no obstacles will present themselves when the Board of Health gets ready to ask for favorable action.

Just what action residents in the West End of the city will take if the city attempts to operate this plant, is not known, but they are likely to object strongly. When a public hearing was given this year on the matter, several prominent citizens protested against the intended operation of the plant, while a lengthy petition was also presented asking that the plan be abandoned. Inasmuch as the city has purchased the plant it is not likely that it proposes to let it stand idle, neither is it likely that it will be removed to some other part of the city. On the other hand it is safe to predict that the plant will be used and that too just as soon as the Common Council can see its way clear to adopt a system of collecting garbage. The Board of Health has the support of every physician in the city, as well as other citizens, while there are many Councilmen who favor the idea.

The city now owns the garbage disposal plant, formerly the property of the Plainfield Sanitary Company, it having been purchased recently for $2,100, just what it cost Jas. F. Buckle, who bought it. It is argued that for a moderate sum the plant can be put in first-class working order so that it will easily dispose of the entire collection of garbage in the city.

Funeral of Fridolin Schmidt.

The funeral services of Fridolin Schmidt were held this morning from the late home on Duer street at 9 o'clock and from St. Joseph's church at 9:45. Rev. Father Miller, rector, officiated at the services. There was a large attendance of friends. The pallbearers were William Bacon, E. P. Gavin, William N. Pangborn, Lewis M. VanDyke and Edward Havey. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

SCOTT POST ENTERTAINS

Inspection and Nominations Followed by a Reception.

M'VOY, COMMANDER

Department Commander James A. Atwood and Staff the Guests of Local Post.

The annual inspection of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., and nomination of officers was held last night, and at the same time the Post entertained delegations from the Rahway, New Brunswick, Elizabeth and Somerville Posts and also the Woman's Relief Corps from Elizabeth.

Among the department officers present were Department Commander James A. Atwood, of Trenton; Senior Vice Commander Thomas Atkins, of Roselle; Assistant Adjutant General E. P. Southwick, of Trenton; Past Department Commander John Lawrence, of New Brunswick, and Inspector Brown, of Somerville. The Post was highly complimented for its excellent showing and efficiency in doing the ritualistic work.

After the inspection these officers were nominated: Commander, Isaac L. McVoy; senior vice commander, Andrew Cox; junior vice commander, William Hand; quartermaster, John Naylor; chaplain, M. C. Debbins and Nathan Pennington; surgeon, I. L. Compton; trustees, William Hand, William C. Smith and M. C. Debbins. The other officers are appointive and will be named after the election of the commander.

Following the business of the evening the Woman's Relief Corps, of this city, and the corps from Elizabeth, were escorted to the Post room, where the rest of the evening was spent in listening to vocal and instrumental music and short addresses. All of the department officers gave interesting talks.

A feature was a vocal selection by Miss Evelyn Manley and Alfred Manley, the former representing Japan and the latter China. They were attired in oriental costume. Mrs. John Manley presided at the piano. Interspersing the other numbers patriotic songs were sung by all. The entertainment being over, a collation was served by the local corps. Mrs. Charles Westphal was chairman of the committee, and she was assisted by the other women.

Winfield Scott Relief Corps, No. 10, Auxiliary to Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., at its last meeting, was inspected by department inspector, Mrs. Amanda Wood, of Trenton. Among the department officers present were past national and installing officer, Mrs. James A. Atwood, of Trenton; department president, Mrs. Mary A. Decker, of Jersey City; department junior vice president, Mrs. Ines Lord, of Paterson; department treasurer, Mrs. Auguste M. Ladd, of Roselle Park; department patriotic inspector, Mrs. Andrew Cox, of Plainfield; department instituter and installing officer, Mrs. W. C. Smith, of Plainfield.

During the evening two candidates were initiated and a social time followed. The election of officers for the coming year will be held in December.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL ARGAIN SEEKERS.

Corns, bunions and ingrowing toe nails are successfully treated by Dr. E. B. Stowe, of the Babcock building.

Nash & Weber, the coal dealers, are prepared to deliver you the best quality of anthracite coal at low prices.

It makes no difference whether you get a shave, a hair cut, or a shampoo at E. B. Maynard's barber shop on North avenue, you are always sure of getting the best.

Just in time to get a good turkey for tomorrow at VanSickle's. The choicest on the market too. Don't fail to stop in on your way down town, and order a fowl at VanSickle's.

In case your Thanksgiving dinner is too much for your stomach, C. M. Nagle, the druggist, has the remedy. He has the cure for neuralgia, and dyspepsia, also. Better see him.

Do you need anything in the line of new gloves, neckwear, hats, or other gentlemen's furnishings? If so go to Greer & Greenwood. They have the latest and most approved style in everything.

There is no sign of waning in the popularity of the Nickle Yara cigar. It is made by M. C. Debbins, the Park avenue tobacconist, and he says that one trial is sufficient to make smokers use no other.

In preparing for Thanksgiving don't forget that H. H. Smith, of Park avenue, opposite North avenue, has a choice stock of home-dressed poultry, as well as fresh country eggs and butter, all at reasonable prices.

How much good milk and cream adds to a meal! It makes all the difference in the world whether you have good cream to whip or whether your cream won't whip at all. Trade with William Lindsay & Company, and get the good kind.

Don't forget ice cream in making up the list for tomorrow. It is the proper thing to wind up the feast, especially if it's Tier's. Send orders in by postal card or 'phone and they will be delivered tomorrow at any specified time. Remember, Tier's ice cream depot is at the foot of Bank place.

Flemington sausage—in bags—the kind that always pleases, is received fresh at R. W. Barnes' Park avenue store. Flemington sausage is regarded as the best in the local market and this season it is better than ever. Other seasonable groceries at Barnes' may be had by ordering them over the 'phone.

"The pies that mother made" are famous the world over but they were not a bit better than those made at Warnock's bakery. Delicious home-made mince and apple affairs they have not an equal in the city. Better order some for tomorrow's dinner or if preferred, ask for some of that sunshine or fruit cake. Warnock's French and American ice cream is without a peer.

It would be rather hard on the children and the older ones too, if the condition of father's exchequer prohibits the purchase of an expensive turkey. But then father should never allow himself to get in such a fix and he never will if he starts a savings account in the City National Bank. He and the other members of the family will be surprised at the rapidity with which the dollars will grow.

Cross' Fine Record.

Senator Cross, of Union County, with the fine record he has made during his legislative career, has earned for himself an enviable reputation, and his election to the Senate presidency would please the people of the State generally, as well as the members of his political party. The choice of a president remains with the party caucus, whose nomination is equivalent to an election. Eight caucus votes will therefore be sufficient to elect Senator Cross as presiding officer, and presumably that number of Senators will see the wisdom of the selection of the Union Senator as president.—Newark Advertiser.

THE CAB TRAGEDY:

Trial of Nan Patterson Unfolds at New York.

SKELETON PRODUCED IN COURT.

Driver of Cab, Policemen and Medical Men Give Testimony as to Caesar Young's Death by Pistol Shot.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Several unusual features were presented in the supreme court in the trial of Nan Patterson for the alleged murder of Caesar Young. Frederick D. Michaels, the cabman, described the cab in which Young met his death. He said that he heard the sound of a pistol shot and that Miss Patterson opened the trap a moment later and told him to drive to a drug store, but that he did not look into the cab. He then told what occurred up to the time when he reached the hospital where Young's body was taken.

During the day a skeleton and two pieces of skin from Young's second finger were produced in court by the prosecution. The skeleton was shown in order that the course of the bullet that killed Young might be traced. The state, it is understood, expects to use the pieces of skin in refuting the suicide theory.

The introduction of these exhibits caused a sensation in the courtroom, and for a time Miss Patterson seemed on the verge of collapse. The courtroom was crowded when the trial was resumed, and the corridors of the building were thronged.

Several policemen were put on the witness stand to testify regarding incidents that followed the arrest of Miss Patterson, and Police Captain Sweeney identified the revolver which, he said, was found in Young's pocket after the shooting.

Coroner's Physician O'Hanlon, who performed the autopsy, was called and said the cause of death was hemorrhage of the left lung, resulting from a bullet wound. By means of the skeleton he then showed the direction taken by the bullet.

Negroes Held Up Train.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 23.—Shortly before 11 o'clock six negroes who had been seen about the station here during the evening held up No. 36, a Pennsylvania railroad through express train, carrying valuables for Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and New York. The negroes went into the middle of the tunnel here, flagged the train with a lantern and as soon as it stopped jumped aboard. They failed to keep the trainmen from seeing them and, fearing detection, jumped off and fled.

The Pennsylvania at Boston.

BOSTON, Nov. 23.—The new United States cruiser Pennsylvania arrived in Boston harbor from New York for her official trial trip over the Cape Ann course. The Pennsylvania, like her sister ships, the West Virginia and Colorado, must attain an average speed of twenty-two knots for four consecutive hours in order to reach contract requirements. A meeting of the government trial board was called for to decide upon the time of the trial and make other necessary arrangements.

Swamped by Japanese Imports.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—The collector of the port of San Francisco says that an exceptionally large amount of Japanese goods are coming here and that the increase of importations has been so large that the custom house officials cannot handle the goods. The cause of the exceptionally heavy importations is that the Japanese people are offering their manufactures at low prices to help raise money for carrying on the war with Russia.

MOB READY TO LYNCH

Military and Police Held Lexington Jail.

THREE NEGROES IN PERIL OF ROPE

Officials Found It Necessary to Remove Prisoners to Louisville That They Might Be Safe From Violence.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 23.—The mob that threatened to lynch the negroes Garfield Smith and John and Edward Taylor, held in jail here for killing a white man last Sunday night and attempting to kill other white people, was dispersed as day dawned. The troops and extra police have retired, and the jail is guarded now only by deputies. It is believed that all danger of lynching is past. The preliminary hearing of the negroes was the cause of much excitement. They were taken to the courthouse in a patrol wagon guarded by twelve policemen. A large crowd had gathered at the jail, and the streets were lined with shouting people. The patrol wagon was driven at breakneck speed to the courthouse, where the negroes were held for the grand jury. The same exciting scene attended the return of the negroes to jail.

Smith and the two Taylors were taken under heavy guard to Yarnallton Station, seven miles from the city, and there put aboard a Chesapeake and Ohio train for Louisville, where they will be kept until the authorities believe it safe for them to appear for trial here.

Rev. R. O. Kirkwood has started a fund to buy a home for the widow and ten orphans of the murdered white man, and an effort to raise a large sum will be made. The finding of the six negroes armed with shotguns on the outskirts of the city shows there is an ugly feeling among a certain element of the negroes, which may lead to clashes with whites. However, negro preachers and the better class of colored people are doing their utmost to keep down the race feeling, deploring the acts of the murderers and counseling deference to the whites. The funeral of Moore was marked by no excitement. Authorities believe that the feeling will soon subside and that the men may then be brought back here for trial.

Thirty Negroes Jump to Safety.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 23.—Thirty negroes, men, women and children, penned in on the second and third floors of a burning Morgan street lodging house, saved themselves from death by jumping from windows into tarpaulins held by firemen, by groping their way to the street down smoke and flame filled stairways and by climbing through a scuttle to the roof and thence to adjoining buildings, to be taken down by firemen. Four women, injured in their efforts to escape, are at the city hospital. One of them is unconscious and will probably die.

After the arguments of the attorneys Judge Morris decided that as the man sued is a felon he is incompetent to defend the suits.

ZEMSTVOS CONGRESS.

Resolutions of Representatives Will Be Submitted to the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—The zemstvos congress here discussed and passed resolutions, which will be submitted separately to Emperor Nicholas through Minister Sviatopolk-Mirsky praying for the abolition of the state of siege existing in many cities of Russia; for amnesty to all prisoners punished by administrative process or without trial by ordinary process of law; for more favorable treatment of the question of primary schools, the necessity for which has hitherto not been recognized or admitted by the authorities, who, it is claimed, do everything to check and impede primary education, and for a more humane method of enforcing partial mobilization It is pointed out that if the military authorities would consult with the minister of the interior and the zemstvos much unnecessary harshness and resulting disturbance would be avoided.

The questions of the relief of the families of reservists and Red Cross work will be disposed of next, and then the conference will disperse.

The zemstvoists declare that the signature of the memorial by nearly all its presidents is eloquent testimony to the practically unanimous demand of the intelligent classes for representative government in Russia.

The final article of the zemstvos' memorial as it will be presented to the emperor is as follows:

"In view of the importance and difficulty of the internal and external situation through which Russia is passing this informal conference expresses the hope that the sovereign power will summon freely elected representatives of the nation in order with their cooperation to obtain for the fatherland an evolution of the state in the direction of establishing a new basis of law for mutual co-operation between the imperial authority and the people."

ATTEMPT TO DYNAMITE.

Union President Under Arrest—Men Armed With Rifles.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 23.—The gravest fears are entertained of a clash at the Eureka brass and iron foundry in Newport, Ky. The Cincinnati Founders' association armed all the nonunion employees there with repeating rifles before the men quit work last night. Just previous to this procedure the Cincinnati underwriters notified the company that its policies would be immediately canceled unless better arrangements were made to protect the plant.

Dynamite was found in a mold at the Eureka foundry. Soon afterward warrants were issued for Fred Rauhauser, aged twenty, a molder's apprentice, and for his father and Joseph Hollowell. If the expected explosion had happened the dynamite in the mold would have greatly damaged the foundry and endangered the lives of nonunion men.

It is stated that the apprentice confessed his participation in the plot to blow up the foundry and gave the names of fellow conspirators, one being an official of an organization with which he is connected. It is stated that the apprentice told where the dynamite cartridges were purchased and that he told his father about its purchase and the plot. The young apprentice had been considered a trustworthy employee. It is alleged he admitted that he received $100 to place the dynamite in the mold.

A warrant has just been issued for the arrest of Joseph F. Valentine, president of the Iron Molders' Union of North America, whose headquarters are in this city. Valentine is charged with aiding and abetting the attempted dynamiting at the Eureka foundry in this city.

But they make you miserable.

Doan's Ointment is a never-failing cure.

For Piles, Eczema—all itching troubles.

New Jersey citizens endorse it.

A. H. Woodruff, of Vailsburg, N. J., says: "For the benefit of those similarly afflicted as I was with hemorrhoids or piles, I want every reader of this paper to know that I suffered with attacks of this tormenting nuisance for over fifteen years. During that time I spent a lot of money trying "sure cures" and exhausted all my knowledge about salves and ointments and also the advice of my friends. One day while reading an advertisement about Doan's Ointment I concluded to make one more effort and I commenced the treatment. Greatly to my surprise the area of itching gradually contracted until it completely dried up. What is of considerable more importance to me, there is no indication of a recurrence."

Just such emphatic endorsement can be had here in Plainfield. Drop into L. W. Randolph's drug store and ask what his customers report.

FATALLY SHOT CASHIER.

Robber Got $8,000 From the Platte County Bank.

NORFOLK, Neb., Nov. 23.—A robber entered the Platte County bank at Platte Center, twenty miles south of here, fatally shot Cashier Barney Schroeder and escaped in a buggy. He is said to have secured $8,000 in cash.

Cashier Schroeder was at the teller's window when the robber appeared and, presenting a revolver, demanded the cash from the safe. Cashier Schroeder refused to turn over the money, and the robber fired at him, the bullet taking effect in the breast. Schroeder is said to be fatally hurt.

William Schelp, a clerk in the bank, was in a back room when the robber entered. As soon as the clerk heard the shot he gave the alarm, but the robber jumped into his buggy and drove off. The citizens formed a posse at once and started in pursuit of the robber, who was evidently alone.

The sheriff took up the pursuit in an automobile, the posse accompanying him on horseback. The robber was pressed hard about nine miles west of this city and finally overhauled. He took a close range shot at Charles C. Englehorn, whose horse shied and threw Englehorn into a barbed wire fence, where he received severe injuries. The prisoner, whose name is William Holden, was taken back to Platte Center, and Sheriff Carrig had hard work to save him from mob violence. He was positively identified by Schroeder, even though he had changed his clothing and removed a glass eye that he was wearing when he did the shooting.

Holden says his home is in Michigan. He is about thirty-five years old.

DIXIE STAKES.

Won by The Southerner In Record Time.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The Dixie stakes were won by The Southerner, with Odom up, at the Bennings track here in time that equaled the track record of 3:06 2-5. It was a three horse event, in which one of them, Andrew Mack, never once seriously figured. Ostrich took the lead at the outset and held it until well into the stretch, where The Southerner, the 3 to 5 favorite, who had kept so close to Ostrich throughout, wrested the victory by a half length.

Massa, at one time 40 to 1 and whose odds at the close were 20 to 1, was the surprise of the day, winning easily from the favorite. The Junior steeplechase was a contest most of the way between Vestment, the heavily played favorite, and Sunshine After Rain, the field trailing. Sunshine After Rain won by three-quarters of a length in a driving finish.

Two favorites were among the six winners.

WHERE IS KUROKI?

Japanese Commander Again Reported Dead.

PORT ARTHUR'S THREE DEFENSES.

Japanese Lost Five Hundred Men In Minor Attacks on Zandagan and Poutiloff—Cruiser Kuban Leaves Vigo.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Advices from Mukden say that reports of the death of General Kuroki are persistent in spite of denials and are revived by Chinese coming from the Japanese camps.

First Lieutenant Schupkoff, who has just arrived from Port Arthur, reports that the Russians have laid out three lines of defense, which the Japanese must capture before they can reach the city, after which the Russians can retire to the coast forts, which are the strongest of all. The garrison, which comprises more than 4,000 men, is in good spirits. Lieutenant Schupkoff believes that the fortress can hold out at least until the end of January.

The Japanese lost 500 men in the attacks on Zandagan of Nov. 17 and 18 and were evidently disheartened. When they renewed the attack Nov. 19 the Japanese sent out several battalions from Double Humped hill, but their movements lacked decision. The Russians opened fire from Poutiloff (Lone Tree) hill and a neighboring eminence. Several shells burst in the midst of the advancing Japanese column and quickly checked them. The Japanese also tried a turning operation at Chanlindza, but there also they were dispersed.

There was a slight encounter when a force of Russian scouts penetrated a short distance into the Japanese lines, but without much result.

A Vigo (Spain) report says that the Russian auxiliary cruiser Kuban, which arrived there Nov. 19, has sailed southward. It is reported that her condenser is damaged.

WRECK AT SWIFTON, ARK.

Hot Springs Special Hit a Freight. One Dead.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 23.—A special from Hoxie says: "Passenger train No. 17, southbound from St. Louis, known as the 'Hot Springs special,' on the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railway, ran into an extra freight train which was taking the siding at Swifton, a small town twenty miles south of here.

"Harry Wells, fireman on No. 17, was burned to death, and Engineer A. Degire of the same train was badly hurt, his arm being broken. Four persons, whose names were not obtainable, were seriously injured. Fifteen others were bruised and otherwise slightly injured.

The passenger engine was demolished, and three coaches and ten freight cars were burned.

The wreck was caused by the density of the smoke from the forest fires, making it impossible to see twenty feet ahead.

President Clark and General Manager Sullivan and Train Master Walter went to the scene of the wreck on a special train.

The estimated loss is $100,000.

CALVARY BAPTISTS ARE HOLDING A FAIR

PASTOR WALLACE HAD CHARGE OF LAST NIGHT'S ENTERTAINMENT.

Under the auspices of the Willing Workers of the Calvary Baptist church, a fair was opened in that edifice last night. It will be continued for ten days with new attractions every night. The principal feature last night was an entertainment arranged by the pastor, Rev. Scott Wallace. It represented a scene from the Bible. Six women and six men representing the twelve tribes of Israel appropriately attired, gathered about the pulpit platform. Two tall evergreen trees, to which were attached twelve kinds of fruit, stood as sentinels at either end. Running into the baptismal pool from the rear was a stream of water, on either side of which stood the men and women. Rev. Scott Wallace directed the tableaux, which lasted for over a half hour.

After the entertainment, all adjourned to the basement, where there was a sale of fancy goods, fruits, lemonade, groceries, while a postoffice furnished no end of amusemment. The general committee having charge of the fair comprised Miss Catherine Agee, chairman; Miss Josephine Dickerson, Miss Fanny Crite, Mrs. Sallie Thornton, Mrs. A. L. Holmes, Mrs. Mary Booker, Louis Booker, Mrs. Louis Booker, Miss Gertrude Council, Miss Rosa Rogers, Miss Nancy Mason, Miss Emma Davis, Miss Mary Furgeson, William Johnson, Ernest Craig, Miss Mary Carey, Miss Nora Carey, Miss Ettie Washington, Miss Sallie Carey, Mrs Anna Williams, William H. Jackson, Richard Harris, Mr. and Mrs. James Bolding, Miss Catherine Venable, Miss Lulu Scott, Miss Mary Hall and Spencer Conway.

Rev. Scott Wallace was in charge of the fruit and lemonade table, and assisting him were Miss Sylvie Agee and Miss Perry. At the meat table was Miss Catherine Agee, assisted by Richard Harris and Miss Annie Winston. Miss Fanny Crite and Miss Mary Tyner presided over the fancy table, and Miss Mary Booker and Louis Booker were in charge of the grocery table. At the postoffice was Mrs. Louis Booker. Letters were written to persons present and they were obliged to pay various sums to get them out of the office. At the dry goods table were Charles Halloway and Miss Mary Scrugga. The waitresses were Miss Anna Harris, Miss Sylvie Agee, Miss Mary Hall, Miss Mamie Foester and Bertha Agee.

Tonight the entertainment, in the nature of an old folks' concert, will be in charge of Miss Lulu Dempsey from the Mt. Olive Baptist church. She will be assisted by others from the same church.

Mrs. George Clark, of Lebanon, Hunterdon county, accompanied by her sister, were guests yesterday of Mrs. A. D. Edgar, of West Front street.

Letter-carrier J. W. A. Bauersachs, who has been off duty for several weeks owing to injuries received in a fall, is much improved and he hopes to work soon.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

Several of the local shops will suspend work over Thanksgiving, according to the usual custom.

Councilman Gloak, who recently passed through a severe illness, was out yesterday for the first and expects to resume his position at the Scott factory within a week or so.

The Levering & Garrigues Company has decided to build an addition to its plant at West Dunellen and has purchased a strip of ground for the purpose. The firm has been kept busy the past few weeks with a rush of orders and there are indications of a busy season.

The annual report of the bureau of labor and statistics, which is now being prepared, shows a marked decrease of the unemployed in New Jersey this year compared with last year. In 1903 the report showed 8.2 per cent. unemployed persons in all the industries of the State. This year, however, the report shows only 3.2 per cent. of unemployed. Last year's report showed that there were 1,811 factories in the State. The average number of employed was 217,927. The largest number of employed was 226,765 and the smallest number was 208,927, so that at some time during the year there were nearly 18,000 persons out of employment. This year there is a decrease of 5 per cent. in the number of the unemployed. This speaks well for the increasing prosperity of the workingmen in New Jersey under the Republican administration.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

The last football practice of the season was held in the borough park last evening and every player was present. Tomorrow's game is the last game scheduled for this season and the team will probably disband after the game is over. Although the team has been a strong one throughout the year they have not won any games and have lost three out of the five games played. The first game with Somerville ended by the score of 0-0. The next with O. F. C. was lost 12-0. The next was lost to the Edward Clark Club by the score of 6 0, and the next to O. F. C. 6 5. The game last Saturday with Alis ended by the score of 0 0, neither side being able to score. The fact that they have not yet won any games has not discouraged the boys any and they are going into the game tomorrow to win, so that they can claim that the season has not been an entirely losing one.

The posters advertising the entertainment which was given in the Presbyterian church Monday evening have been taken down, but they have already been replaced by another, and it is a picture of Sigurd Branner, a humorist, who will hold an entertainment in the chapel of the Presbyterian church on Thursday, December 8. Parts of the programme will be taken from "The Rivals" and "Rip Van Winkle," and as the humorist is widely known, he will very probably make a success of the entertainment.

The Whittier School football team will play their first game for this season tomorrow morning with a boys' team from Plainfield, and although they are rather late in opening the season, they expect to win all the games they play.

The union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Presbyterian church tomorrow morning as usual. Rev. Henry Jordan, pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, of New Market, will deliver the sermon.

The cottontails will certainly suffer now, for William Brokaw has bought a valuable rabbit hound and he expects to clear the surrounding country of rabbits on Thanksgiving day.

A dance will be given in Apgar's Hall this evening for the young people of the borough. The affair has been arranged by Blanchard Gardner and Ruliff Fisher.

John Logan, who has been confined to his home for the past week with a sore foot, will return to work at the Levering & Garrigues plant tomorrow.

The concrete foundation for the extension which is being added to the Levering & Garrigues Iron Works has already been commenced.

William Brokaw will raffle off several large turkeys in his pool room this evening.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Fanwood Council, R. A., held a large and enthusiastic meeting last night in the library rooms. Grand Secretary Alberts, Past Grand Regent Lightfoot and others of the Grand Council were present. During the good of the order speechmaking and cigars were in order. Fanwood is making a determined effort to pass the 150 mark in membership by January 1, 1905. Last year the council gained over thirty per cent. in membership.

An auction sale of farming implements and household goods will be held Friday afternoon at the Sheelen farm on Jerusalem road, Mr. Sheelen having decided to give up farming and will make his home with his son John, of Mountain avenue.

The "boys and gals" in town who will attend the country dance given by the Pad and Pencil Club tonight, are anticipating having a great time.

Miss Elsie Shott, of Peddie Institute, Hightstown, is spending her Thanksgiving vacation with her parents at The Manse.

A number of the members of the Brookside Gun Club will hold a clay bird shoot on the club's grounds tomorrow afternoon.

It is predicted that rabbits will be much scarcer after Thanksgiving as every local hunter is preparing to make a day of it.

Miss Emma Adams, a former teacher in the public school, but now of Middletown, N. Y., has been visiting friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew G. Carpenter, of Plainfield, have been visiting William O. Stansbury, of Mountain avenue.

Miss Sadie Reger is spending her Thanksgiving vacaion with relatives at Westfield and Morristown.

A number of young people from town will attend a dance to be held tonight at Berkely Heights.

Mrs. Maria Noble left yesterday for Newark, where she will spend the winter with relatives.

The Chautauqua Boys' Club holds its weekly meeting tonight in the Methodist church.

Services will be held at All Saints' Episcopal church tomorrow morning at the usual hour.

Miss Cora Miller has returned from a stay of several days with friends at Trenton.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

For some years no Thanksgiving services have been held in this place. There will be a service tomorrow at the Baptist church at 10 a. m., with an address by the pastor. The music will be appropriate to the occasion.

Superintendent Wilson visited the public school yesterday, and held a consultation with the teachers respecting matters of local interest to the school.

William Clawson and William Coulter have been chosen petit jurors from this township for the winter term of court to be held at the county seat.

Mrs. M. W. Payne returned yesterday from a two days' visit with relatives at Potters.

Mrs. Clark's Brother Dead.

Edward Martin, brother of Mrs. Robert Clark, Jr., of Jackson avenue, died at his home in Rahway, yesterday morning after a year's illness. He leaves a wife and daughter, Mrs. Elva Moffett. Mr. Martin was sixty-two years old and for thirty-two years he was in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Most of the time he was stationed at the Jersey City terminal as bookkeeper. At the time of his death he was freight agent at the Scott Avenue Station, Rahway. Several years ago he served Rahway as an alderman.

Diocese Incorporated.

The Roman Catholic diocese of Newark, which includes all of northern New Jersey, was incorporated yesterday by the filing of the necessary papers with the Essex County Clerk at Newark. The names of the trustees elected for the first year are the Right Rev. John J. O'Connor, bishop of the diocese of Newark; the Right Rev. John A. Sheppard, vicar-general of the diocese, and the Rev. Thomas A. Wallace, chancellor of the diocese.

Robert Slorah Surprised.

In honor of the fiftieth anniversary of his birth, Robert Slorah, of McDowell street, was tendered a surprise party by twenty friends, last evening. Dancing, games and ballads from the "Land of the Heather" made the hours pass swiftly and at midnight refreshments were served. The affair was arranged by the Misses Belle and Elsie Slorah and the participants met at the home of James Cullinan on Prescott place.

Colored Republicans Dined.

The Colored Republican County Committee was the guest of County Chairman Hamilton Kean in Elizabeth last night. The principal speakers of the evening were A. B Coosey, of Newark; Eugene M. Gregory, a clerk in the Supreme Court at Trenton, and H. C Hewlett, of Cranford, chairman of the committee. C. R. H. Hawkins acted as toastmaster.

—James Radin, of Midway avenue, who was mysteriously shot on Sunday, and who has been in Muhlenberg Hospital since, continues to improve. He was discharged today.

COUNTRY FOLK WILL HOLD FROLIC TONIGHT

ALL PLANS COMPLETE FOR PAD AND PENCIL'S ANNUAL EVENT.

Aiming tohave it attain still better success than the initial effort of a year ago, the Pad and Pencil Club has added the finishing touches to the plans for its annual counry dance in I. O. T. Hall this evening. Several hundred invitations have been issued and there are indications that not one of the lucky possessors will fail to respond. Bucolic costume has been called for and the committee is assured that the dancing floor will resemble county fair day in the far west because of the preparations for rural attire. To increase the originality in dress prizes have been offered for those appearing the most appropriate and the winners will be named by Mayor N. B. Smalley, himself a country squire.

Throughout the evening there will be numerous surprises for the attendants, not the least of which will be the issuance of "The Ripper," a specially prepared publication which will comment on local people and things in general with a free and easy style. At midnight, while refreshments are being served, the Bastleton Corners Quartette, fresh from singin' school, will render selections like "Jingle Bells," "Aunt Dianah's Quilting Party" and others in which all the gals and fellers can join in. The fiddlers will be from Dingman's Ferry and several of our young men who heard them over at Abe Conover's barn raising say they are all O. K. The dances will be mostly of the new-fangled, waltz and two-step style but there is going to be a good, old fashioned Virginia reel that promises to be a hummer. The decorations will be elaborate but strictly in keeping with the country idea.

The committee from the club which supervised the plans consists of George E. Firstbrook and Archibald Hacquer.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Wayne Clark, of Crescent avenue, have been to Moorestown, N. J., to attend the wedding of Mrs. Clark's sister, Miss Adele Nivin, to Cheston Stokes, also of Moorestown.

Miss Clara D. Williams, formerly of this city, who now holds an excellent position with the Metropolitan Insurance Co. at Bridgeport, Conn., returned home last evening after spending a few days with local friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Mailli, of East Front street, have arranged to hold a children's party at their country home during the holiday season. The family is spending most of the time at the New York home, coming to this city occasionally.

W. C. Smith, of Grandview avenue, went to Sayreville today to attend the funeral services of W. H. Smith, a friend, who was past junior vice commander of the Department of New Jersey, G. A. R. While in New Brunswick on Saturday he was stricken with apoplexy and soon after being taken to the hospital he died. He was well known in this city.

Fire Loss $40,000.

A second estimate of the loss to the Standard Paint Company plant at South Bound Brook from fire Monday night, shows it to have been $40,000 instead of $15,000. The blaze originated in the supply department and was caused by a lantern falling from a hook and striking the floor of the building exploded, scattering burning oil about the place. The company intends rebuilding at once.

Clinical Society Banquet.

The Plainfield Clinical Society will hold a banquet at the Casino on Tuesday evening, Dec. 6. Dr. Grossman, director of the Grossman School for Nervous and Atypical Children, will read a paper on "Observations of Atyphical Children."

JERSEY TEACHERS FIGHT FOR BETTER PAY

THEY WILL ASK THE AID OF THE COMING LEGISLATURE.

The school teachers of the State desire more money for their work and will make a fight for increased salaries at the coming session of the Legislature. The matter is in the hands of the New Jersey State Teachers' Association, which will hold its annual meeting in Trenton next month.

An effort is being made by the officers of the association to increase the membership with a view of presenting an imposing political front before the Legislature.

A circular has been sent out announcing the object of the association as being to further the general interests of school teachers. It tells of efforts which have been and are to be made for the securing of legislation for the increase of salaries.

The total membership of the association is 8,500, an increase of 1,000 over 1903. There are 9,000 teachers in New Jersey.

Erwin W. Young, for many years a resident of Plainfield and well-known by a large circle of friends, and now living in New York, recently had a novel experience on a deer hunt in Maine. Mr. Young accompanied by a friend, George H. Lowe, of Boston, made the trip in an automobile, going into the very heart of that vast game region in Maine known as Bangor and Aroostook. The hunters left Boston one Saturday and reached their destination the following Tuesday. They afterward continued into the wilds of the Maine woods, penetrating sections never before reached by automobile, some places it being necessary to clear the road. The sportsmen had great luck, shooting several deer and one moose. From the start to the finish of the trip the automobile did not break down once. The game was brought home in the auto.

Nov. 27: "An Inspiring Outlook in India"—Matt. ix, 36-38; x, 1-7.

By REV. WALTER J. YATES.

"As ye go, preach, saying, the kingdom of heaven is at hand."

"Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils; freely ye have received, freely give."

Other lands and other centuries have seen marvels of grace and wonderful transformations among men by the power of the gospel of Jesus Christ, but no age and no country has seen more rapid, substantial and extensive reformation of life than has taken place in India in the last half century. Nor has any other church been more signally prospered of God in this work than has our own.

A few years since the Christian world was startled by the news of thousands of natives in the Baptist mission fields in the southern parts of the peninsula forsaking their idols and ancestral faith and seeking the God of the Christians.

These scenes have been more than paralleled in our own work in the past few months. The number who would be baptized and gathered into the church is limited only by an ability to provide pastor-teachers who shall instruct these new converts in the Christian faith and practice. We must not make the mistake of the great Roman Catholic missionary, Francis Xavier, who in this same India baptized multitudes, but did not succeed in changing their heathenism because of lack of persistent teaching the ways of truth and righteousness.

A baptized heathen is little if any better than an unbaptized heathen either for this world or the next. He must be Christianized, which is much more than merely evangelized. This does not mean the change of costume or architecture or speech to conform to the customs of some foreign nation. But it means the purification of the spiritual nature from lust of carnality and cruelty and all evil things and the indwelling of the nature of purity and love; then the development of this in society according to the genius of each people in its own land and times.

The prospect in India was never before so inspiring as now. The people who come to us now are realizing the true nature of what we seek, as was not the case some years back, and they are coming from the sincere desire for the things of God and not for the superior advantages in trade and society they might receive from becoming Christians.

Again, we are using better agencies and using them more wisely and efficaciously than we have ever been able to do heretofore. We are not baptizing the heathen and then turning them back into their old channels of life to practice the degrading abominations of their former superstition. We are taking hold of every part of their life in home, in society and business and proving the purity and sanity of the gospel through it until it all reforms into new modes of doing and thinking.

Our schools and hospitals and presses and home visitation are making a new India in which dwell purity and hope and righteousness.

Then the extent of the field as it opens so rapidly to our agencies is inspiriting. In 1856 we planned to work in one small section and among people of but one language. Providentially the work has enlarged beyond all imagination of the pioneers, and now we are working among the Himalayan snows and on the south coast of the peninsula, and beyond the shores of Burma to far Singapore, on the Malaccan strait, we have followed the calls for aid and entered the open doors.

No member of our church, especially no Epworth League, should neglect to obtain a broad knowledge of our progress in India, our present condition and prospects and to pray for the coming of the kingdom.

Sincerity In Religion.

Christian practice as an evidence to a man's own self of the sincerity of his religion is much to be preferred to any discoveries or exercises of grace whatever that begin and end in contemplation. Sincerity in religion consists in setting God highest in the heart, in choosing Him above all things. But a man's actions are the proper trial what a man's heart prefers. To forsake all for Christ in heart is the very same thing as to have a heart to forsake all for Christ. But certainly the proper trial whether a man has a heart to forsake all for Christ's sake is his being actually put to it, actually doing it when other things come in competition with it or so far as called to it. Godliness consists not in a heart to intend to do the will of God, but in a heart to do it.—Jonathan Edwards.

The Right Sort.

A hard head is a great treasure if it is found in the way of righteousness. Religion is a frequent loser from the want of will force in its professors. This sort of energy that persists toward the good is like the X rays, which cannot be deflected and which ordinary obstacles cannot arrest.—Central Presbyterian.

Too Little Praying.

We have too little praying face to face with God every day. Looking back at the end, I suspect there will be great grief for our sins of omission—omission to get from God what we might have got by praying.—Andrew A. Bonar.

I Will Give You Rest.

It may be a long day's journey,
And our hearts may feel weary and old,
But start with the Master's blessing
And go back at night to his fold.

Back to the rest and comfort
That comes from a talk with Him.
At the sound of His "Well done!" or "Fear not!"
The cares and the worries grow dim.
—Forward.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 27.

Topic.—How intemperance hinders missions.—Rom. xiv, 13-21.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

In this chapter Paul enjoins the weak and the strong to treat each other considerately. If the strong can do what the weak cannot the weak are not to set themselves up as judges over the strong, for God is our judge. On the other hand, because the strong can rightfully do what the weak cannot they are not to press their rights even to the point where their exercise is injurious to their weaker brethren. Especially is this true when only such an insignificant matter as meat is involved. They were to give up no principle, yet would it pay to sacrifice a soul in order to assert the right to eat all kinds of meat because all was of God? Christ died to save the souls of men. Will we destroy him with meat for whom Christ died? No true Christian could take such a position. For mere gratification we are not to endanger immortal souls.

This truth may be applied to intemperance and missions. Intemperance has always been a foe to religion, and wherever it has gone on mission fields it has been one of the greatest hinderers of missions. Nothing else could result, and therefore it seems incredible that the same nation sends both religion and rum to the heathen peoples of the world. But it is the old story of personal gratification, personal gain. Eliminate the large profit of the liquor business, and where could you find men to own and manage them? If the New York subway saloon should lead to such a result it would mean a great element of success in the warfare against the saloon. Men will do almost anything for money, and hence the same vessel carries the gospel and the grogshop to the same people. But should we for personal gain destroy him for whom Christ died? Infinitely rather let us be poor all the days of our lives than to barter in the traffic of human souls.

That intemperance hinders missions is a self evident fact. The people who receive both rum and religion from another nation lose confidence in the religion when they see the results of the rum. The missionaries are discouraged. Those who come under intemperance's blighting curse are unfitted to be affected by the power of the gospel. In these and other ways missions are hindered by intemperance. Christian nations should stop the liquor traffic with the peoples of our mission fields. It is a burning shame to any nation to permit alcoholic drinks to be sent to the nations of the world who are in religious darkness and to whom its Christian citizens are striving to send the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. No nation should tear down and attempt to build up at the same time. The mission fields are surrounded with enough problems. Let us as far as possible eliminate the intemperance one, so that Christ may be the more exalted and the gospel placed in a more favorable light before the unevangelized nations of the world.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ex. xx, 13; Lev. x, 8, 9; Num. vi, 1-14; Prov. xx, 1; xxiii, 29-32; Hab. ii, 1-15; Matt. xviii, 7; Luke i, 13-15; Gal. vi, 1-10; Rev. xxii, 17.

Passing of Christian Endeavor.

The secretary of the young people's department of the Presbyterian home mission board reports that last year the Christian Endeavor societies were the only organizations in the church that did not show a deficit. "Passed" again!

More Endeavor societies were engaged in evangelistic and benevolent work last year than ever before. More pastors bore testimony to the loyalty of their young Endeavorers than ever before. More missionaries wrote to headquarters of their indebtedness to Christian Endeavor than ever before. In work for prisoners in our state prisons and among the soldiers the last year has been the best in the history of the movement. In view of these facts it is difficult to see how anybody can deny that Christian Endeavor is "passing." It is like the Empire State express—one can hardly count the telegraph poles along the way.

Last year's Pennsylvania state convention had a registered attendance of over 18,000. The New York convention had 3,300 registered delegates with an attendance at the meetings of over 5,000 day after day. Shades of our political fathers, what were you thinking of to allow an Endeavor crowd to "pass" your great caucuses and conventions in this way?—Rev. David James Burrell, D. D., LL. D., in Christian Intelligencer.

A Business Meeting In Prison.

A prison Endeavorer in the Frankfort (Ky.) state prison sends to an outside worker a very suggestive account of the way they hold business meetings in their society. "Instead of going through the same old routine," he says, "we first have read the written reports, and then after sentence prayers the roll is called, the secretary pausing long enough after each name to allow the member to take some part in the meeting. You would be surprised to see how many respond. Some offer short prayers or a testimony; others read Scripture verses or extracts from papers. The members of the choir usually sing."

In the Church of England.

Fifteen societies have been added to the Church of England union in the last twelve months, making sixty-two in all.

In New York City.

The New York city Christian Endeavor union embraces nearly 200 societies and has more than 7,000 members.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

The most wide-awake man in the country is Albert Herpin, of Trenton N. J.

He never sleeps.

Not for ten years has Herpin wooed tired nature's sweet restorer; not for a decade has he drifted off into dreamland and become oblivious to everything.

Ye Herpin is a healthy, happy man who enjoys life, and, far from being a sufferer from his protracted siege of insomnia, he says that he really feels that he needs no sleep.

ALBERT HERPIN.
(New Jersey Man Who Has Not Slept Soundly for Ten Years.)

Herpin's case has few parallels in medical annals. It has always been accepted that no human being can survive without occasional periods of sleep in which the nerves can be calmed and the tissues restored.

Yet Herpin goes right along, a living defiance of this basic principle of medical science. He is no museum freak nor charlatan. He has refused liberal offers to exhibit himself in public or to yield himself to physicians for scientific experiments.

Mr. Herpin's story of his long period of sleeplessness is more interesting than any account of it that could be unfolded by other observers.

"I think overwork first robbed me of the power to sleep," he says. "Twelve years ago I began a series of experiments to photograph on china and to stipple half tones on steel. In the course of this work my zeal and enthusiasm frequently kept me going night and day without a thought of rest.

"The first thing I knew I had reached the point when I could not sleep at all.

"I became worried and feared that some permanent ill-effect must result. But doctors and medicines failed utterly to put me to sleep. I consulted specialists, still with the same result. Then I began to notice that the loss of sleep was not hurting me a bit. My appetite was good, nerves under control, I could work just as hard, and my weight gradually increased until I tipped the beam at 180 pounds.

"'What's the use of sleeping at all?' I said to myself, and so gave up the attempt.

"From that day to this, ten years ago, I have never slept, and I never expect to again. I go to bed nightly at ten o'clock and remain until five, fully conscious all the time, and yet never dropping off for so much as a wink. I enjoy the rest and hate to get up.

"I presume you would have to describe my condition as a disease. And yet it isn't one that makes any difference, so I have resigned myself to being the one man in the country who can get along without slumber."

PREDICTS CHICAGO'S DOOM

Prof. Gilbert Says That in 3,500 Years the Windy City Will Be Destroyed by Water.

Chicago Special.

Prof. Grove K. Gilbert, one of the delegates to the international geographical congress, has attracted wide attention to himself by predicting that eventually the city of Chicago will be submerged in Lake Michigan. He gives the city, however, 3,500 years more of existence, explaining that the lake is only rising at the rate of eight inches each century. Prof. Gilbert is a native of Rochester, N. Y., and has been a government geologist for nearly 30 years. His investigations and writings have embraced a wide range of subjects, but he is best known through his studies in dynamic geology and physical geography. He has been president of the American Society of Naturalists and of the Geographical Society of America, and is now president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

FANCIES IN PLUMES.

Feathers Dispose Themselves In a Different Fashion This Season.

The fashion in feathers—that is, in the arrangement of ostrich plumes on smart hats—has undergone a change. Instead of trailing over a chapeau, as they were wont to do, the up to date hat has them bunched high up on the crown.

But there are exceptions to all rules, and the new lyre feather is this exception. It is formed by turning an ostrich plume, as it were, inside out and then putting it under a tight curling process. These lyre feathers are then trained around the crown or placed under the brim.

A GOWN OF EGLANTINE CLOTH.

This year a definite stand is extremely difficult to adopt in costumes, owing to the prevailing diversity of styles. Gowns and wraps have such essentially opposite points of interest. It is well to keep in mind that a complete change of style is contemplated in the skirt, which must be either ample and gracefully clinging or plain to a degree of tailor severity. Still, as a compromise, there are the intermediate modes whose skirts have shapely tucks or triple flounces.

For smart evening wraps there are two new materials, champanz and silk burlap. Both of these fabrics require the addition of eastern embroideries as trimming accessories.

A favorite length for an evening wrap is ten inches from the ground, although the three-quarter length is still very much seen.

The swagger gown illustrated is of a new shade—eglantine, a gray blue, with the blue tint predominating. This costume is carried out in chiffon cloth. The skirt is trimmed with ruffles of the same, put on with slight fullness. The severity of the long coat is dissipated by a natty little vest of tan suede and a braid trimmed bolero and wide revers. The sleeves are cut up in a novel fashion to disclose ruffles of suede.

LA MODE'S DECREES.

The Dolman a Revival of the Season. Trimmings For Smart Hats.

The introduction of the dolman is a revival of the season which possesses a certain interest. The new garment is more artistically constructed than it used to be when it took first rank among the fashionable wraps.

Ostrich feathers will be in great demand this winter, and the large, straight brimmed hats carry a perfect forest of these naturally shaded feathers. These hats are worn at a daring angle.

Panne velvet hats will be very much worn, and this variety of velvet is employed upon shapes where shirring and drapery are most effective. The ordinary velvet is more attractive when drawn plain over crowns and brims.

Anything on the strictly tailored sleeve line will be avoided on evening wraps or more elaborate coats, the omission being supplied by a cape effect. On visiting costumes, however, the sleeve will be large and loose, designed in three puffs to the elbow or a little beyond.

Quite original is the smart waist shown in the cut, with its "off the shoulder" yoke outlined with folds and a braided design. The fullness falls in gathers from this yoke and is supplemented down the front with a band of oriental embroidery.

LOOMIS DEATH MYSTERY.

W. H. Ellis, Back From Abyssinia, Questioned by State Department.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—W. H. Ellis, who left the United States last summer in company with F. Kent Loomis, the brother of the assistant secretary of state, on a trip to Abyssinia, where Mr. Loomis was carrying a commercial treaty between that country and the United States to be signed and who, after the mysterious death at sea of Mr. Loomis, was designated to take the treaty to King Menelek, spent some time at the state department in conference with the assistant secretary of state.

The assistant secretary questioned Mr. Ellis very closely regarding all the circumstances leading up to his brother's death. Mr. Ellis' replies were entirely satisfactory to Mr. Loomis. The department later issued a statement officially expressing its satisfaction with Mr. Ellis' explanation. This statement was as follows:

"Mr. Ellis reported to the department of state and deposited the receipt which he received from King Menelek upon the delivery to him of the signed copy of the commercial treaty with Abyssinia. He freely and cheerfully answered the searching questions put to him by the officials, who made careful inquiry into all the circumstances connected with his trip to Abyssinia. It was stated at the department that Mr. Ellis' explanations were of a satisfactory nature and that no blame is attached to him in connection with the tragic episode which occurred on his trip from New York to France in June last."

MANAGER MOORE A SUICIDE.

Lowell Coal Company Official Shot Himself Near Amherst.

AMHERST, N. H., Nov. 23.—Constant worry over financial difficulties has culminated in the death of Walter T. Moore, manager of the Lowell Coal company of Lowell, Mass., who committed suicide at his summer home in this town by sending a heavy charge of shot into his heart.

Moore arrived at his farm, near here, and soon afterward killed himself in a workshop near his house. Securing a shotgun, Moore fastened the stock of the weapon in a vise and, placing his breast against the end of the barrel, pulled the trigger. Moore was forty-seven years of age and is survived by a widow. The coal company of which Moore was manager is in financial difficulties, and Moore was to have met a committee of creditors in Lowell.

President Introduced Wagner.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—President Roosevelt introduced the Rev. Charles Wagner, the author, to an audience at the Lafayette Opera House yesterday afternoon, where, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association, he delivered a lecture on "The Simple Life." The president, who is a great admirer of Mr. Wagner, was given a cordial reception. He was introduced by District Commissioner Henry B. F. MacFarland and in turn presented Mr. Wagner to the audience.

Turkish-Bulgarian Riot.

SALONIKA, Nov. 23.—There has been a demonstration by 3,000 Turks at Kiupruli, demanding protection or permission to defend themselves against the Bulgarians. The demonstration assumed a violent form, and the Turks used their revolvers, killing or wounding several Bulgarians. Three battalions of troops from Uskub have reached Kiupruli.

FOOTBALL.

The last practice of the season for the Orange Field Club team was held last night preparatory to their game with the Navajo aggregation on Orange Oval tomorrow afternoon. The game will be called at 3 o'clock. The practice was a good one and nearly all of the candidates turned out.

Though not as successful as the season of 1903, the Leal's School players have every reason to feel gratified over their football year. While in the year before they established not only an enviable but an exceptional record by not being scored upon, they have defeated their rival schools in the immediate vicinity this season by a large number of points. The first game with the Plainfield High School was much more easily won than the one Saturday, in which the excellent work of Captain Wilcox told the story.

By winning the game against the Plainfield High School eleven, the Leal's team may without dispute claim the interscholastic championship of this city and vicinity as far as Westfield. Though defeated three games in the State scholastic league, the Leal's boys twice won from the Plainfield High School team, thus establishing the fact of the supremacy over the Westfield, and North Plainfield High Schools. Though there is a local team called the Cedarcroft, it is not representative of Cedarcroft School but is composed of outside players. Those who played on the Leal's team during the past season are Manning, Suffern, Curtis, Lawrence, Smith, Strong, Guteriez, Howard, Underhill, Glenney, Chapman, Daniel, Dallas and Wilcox.

AUTOMOBILING.

The Eagle Rock hill climbing contest, which will be held as usual this year on Thanksgiving day in West Orange, N. J., promises to be of unusual interest. The entry list for this classic event covers all types and styles of automobiles including some of the fatest cars in this country.

BASKET BALL.

There will be a hard practice for the Business Men's team of the Y. M. C. A. tonight and Friday night. They will play a game with the scrub team of the class, who expect to give them a hard rub.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The Y. M. C. A. bowling team will bowl a match game with the Suburban Club, of Fanwood, on Friday night at the local alleys.

HOPE DEFEATED.

Entirely Outclassed in Game Last Night Against the Bayview Basket Ball Team.

The Hope chapel basket ball team was confronted last evening by the fastest set of players that they have so far encountered, and the result was a victory for the Bayview Wheelmen by a score of 33 to 14. The score at the end of the first half was 19 to 7. It was unusual team work and speed that won for the visitors, and the Hope players, though they put up a hard fight, were entirely outclassed.

The line up and detailed score of the contest is as follows: Hope chapel—Dilks and Duckworth, forwards; Blimm, center; Emmons, Roseberry and Porter, guards. Bayview—Hahn and Donovan, forwards; Parker, center; Millar and Krause, guards. Goals from the field—Hahn, 3; Donovan, Parker, 4; Millar, 4; Krause, 4; Dilks, 2; Porter, 3; Blimm. Jacobs, who is well known here, give a lecture on his recent trip to Palestine, and the various young people's societies in the city and borough will be invited to attend. There will be special music at the service.

JAPS FIND USE FOR 'PHONE

Although Skilled in "Wig-Wag" System, Islanders Prefer More Modern Method.

While the Japanese are greatly skilled in the visual system of communication—the time-honored wig-wag" and heliograph—yet in the present conflict they have clearly demonstrated the superiority of the telephone and telegraph as a means of transmitting information from point to point, according to the Review of Reviews. Unlike the heliograph and flag systems, the electrical means of communication operates irrespective of weather, distance and topographical condition. It has the further advantage of being absolutely and entirely concealed from the enemy. It is shrouded in mystery, and there is no chance for the enemy to gain an advantage by reading signals, as has often happened in the past. The character of the country in which operations are being conducted has no effect upon present military maneuvers. Where bullock carts cannot penerate the Japanese have discovered that it is very easy to transport wire by having men carry it coiled upon their shoulders. These men advance the line at a rate of three miles or more an hour. The telephones are constructed of parts similar to those of commercial instruments, but are housed in boxes, which make them more easily portable.

COTTON MADE FROM WOOD

Complicated Process Used in France and Bavaria to Manufacture the Product.

Artificial cotton is now made from various woods, as from pine in Bavaria and from fir in France. In the French process, the wood, freed from bark and knots, and pulverized by a special machine, is steamed ten hours in a horizontal brass lead-lined cylinder of 3,500 cubic feet capacity, after which 2,000 cubic feet of bisulphate of soda wash is added and the whole is heated 36 hours under a pressure of three atmospheres. The fiber, thus made very white, is then washed and ground by a series of strong metallic meshes, after which it is given electro-chemical bleaching by chloride of lime. The mass is dried between two powerful rollers. The resulting pure cellulose is reheated in a tight metal boiler with a mixture of chloride of zinc and hydrochloric and nitric acids, to which is added a little castor oil, casein and gelatine to give resistance to the fiber. The very consistent paste produced is drawn into threads through a kind of draw plate. The threads are passed over gummed cloth, then immersed in weak carbonate of soda solution, dried between two slowly turning cylinders, and finally given solidity by an ammoniacal bath.

INDIANA MAGNETIC SPRINGS

That State Boasts of Three Wells Whose Waters Impart Strange Property to Steel Objects.

A reputable scientific publication is sponsor for the statement that there exist in at least three places in the state of Indiana springs or wells whose water possesses marked magnetism and is able to impart it to steel objects dipped therein. This property has been reported of other springs in various parts of the world, but such tales have been received by scientific men with caution, says Success. In this case the magnetism seems to arise from the fact that considerable quantities of carbonate of iron are dissolved in the water. When it stands for some time this decomposes into carbonic acid gas, which escapes, and magnetic iron ovide, which falls to the bottom of the containing vessel as a powder. When the decomposition has ceased, the water is no longer magnetic. These springs are said to cause perceptible deviation of a compass needle, and a knife blade immersed for five minutes in one of the springs is magnetized sufficiently to sustain needles by its point, retaining this property for 30 hours. The water corrodes locomotive boilers, but, when allowed to stand till the carbonate has all decomposed, can be used with impunity.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

Anti-Annexationists Sorry.

Those Bloomfield voters who, in the election last spring, defeated the project of their fellow-citizens to have the town admitted within the corporate limits of New Jersey's metropolis, are said to be sorry now that they did it. They have found their tax bills higher this year than the year before. One of the chief arguments against annexation was that it would cost more to be a part of Newark than to go it alone. Of course the contrary is the case. Bloomfield's tax rate last year was $3.10 when Newark's rate is only $2.27, and there is no comparison between what Newarkers get for their tax money and what Bloomfielders get for theirs.—Newark Advertiser.

Jersey's Famous Roads.

New Jersey leads all the States of the Union in the actual number of miles of permanent stone roads. It has led all others from the start, beginning to improve its roads somewhat earlier than the rest and keeping the advantage thus gained from that day to this. Other States, like Pennsylvania, have appropriated much more money than has this State, but their people have not taken the funds out of the State treasuries and expended them, with some of their own added, to build good roads. They have not seen the advantage of such a policy, even with New Jersey furnishing an object lesson of the most convincing character.

Yet New Jersey is not road crazy. From the time the State road law was enacted until the present time, the process of road building has developed gradually, always along conservative lines, never as rapidly as the people actually desired, until now there are 1,186 miles of road improved under State auspices and enough more built by municipalities without State aid, to make an aggregate of 2,200 miles of permanent stone roads in this commonwealth. These are the figures to be presented in the forthcoming annual report of Henry I. Budd, the State road commissioner. It is little wonder that, with its long experience in the very best methods of road building, New Jersey should have won the gold medal at St. Louis for its outdoor exhibit of permanently improved roads.

Last spring, it will be recalled, a serious break was threatened in the progress of road construction, because of differences of opinion between Governor Murphy and the Legislature, with reference to the amount of money that should be appropriated to this purpose. The Governor flatly refused to favor more than $350,000, while the demand for further road improvements in all parts of the State, particularly in South Jersey, led a majority of the legislators to insist upon a large appropriation. They passed a bill appropriating $375,000 and adjourned. The Governor vetoed the bill and called a special session to remedy this and other defect of legislation. The Senate again insisted on the larger sum and introduced a bill appropriating that amount, but the House introduced and passed a bill for $350,000 which the Senate wisely adopted as the alternative of having this amount or none at all.

Fully a million dollars of the State's money could be utilized in the coming year for improved roads if the Legislature would appropriate that sum; and this would mean that $2,000,000 more would be raised by counties, townships and municipalities under the State aid law, for the building of new roads. What is both marvelous and satisfactory about this, is the fact that South Jersey, while bitterly opposed to the road law at the first is now more anxious to expend money for improved roads than any other section of the State. In a year or two more there will, in all probability, be a completed system of good roads down the coast from Jersey City to Atlantic City and from thence across the State to Camden. No other State in the Union has such a system of good roads as New Jersey, and no other State has been so abundantly benefited. The roads have paid for themselves, half a dozen times over.—Newark Evening News.

LITERARY.

It would be impossible for a lawyer to make a reputation in his profession while continually thinking about medicine or engineering. He must think about law, and must study and become thoroughly imbued with its principles. It is unscientific to expect to attain excellence or ability enough to gain distinction in any particular line while holding the mind upon and continually contemplating something radically different.—Success.

Some extremely mystifying is to see a bit of a boy fakir, seemingly a very novice in his profession, sit down on the bare ground with only a rag of a cummerbund in which to conceal anything, pick up a twig of a green plant, strip off the leaves and turning them into large scorpions, hurl them among the spectators, clap his hands once or draw a ravelling from his clothes and rolling it up between his palms, suddenly toss a cobra several feet around the neck of one of the spectators.—Broughton Brandenburg in The Metropolitan Magazine for December.

Pearson's Magazine for December presents the unusually numerous collection of six special articles and eight sparkling pieces of fiction. "The American House of Lords," by David S. Barry, is the leading article, and tells of the perquisites and sinecures of United States Senators; as they are to convene on the first Monday of December, this paper is peculiarly timely. A sketch of the philanthropic career of the late Louis Fleischmann relates the history and the details of his world-famed Bread Line, one of the night sights of New York. Still another timely article is H. P. Burchell's "International Athletics," copiously illustrated with photographs.

The December Delineator, with its message of good cheer and helpfulness, will be welcomed in every home. The fashion pages are unusually attractive, illustrating and describing the very latest modes in a way to make their construction during the busy festive season a pleasure instead of a task, and the literary and pictorial features are of rare excellence. A selection of love songs from the Wagner Operas, rendered into English by Richard de Gallienne and beautifully illustrated in colors by J. C. Leyendecker, occupies a prominent place, and a chapter in the Composers' Series, relating the romance of Wagner and Cosima, is an interesting supplement to the lyrics. A very clever paper entitled "The Court Circles of Republic," describes some unique phases of Washington social life is from an unnamed contributor, who is said to write from the inner circles of society.

Addressed Men's Club.

At the meeting of the Men's Club, of the First Presbyterian church, last evening, Rev. Dr. Snodgrass, pastor of the First M. E. church, made an interesting address descriptive of his European trip. The talk, aside from being a delightfully entertaining one, was decidedly instructive.

BROTHERS HOLD REUNION

Thanksgiving of the Weavers, All Past Three Score Years.

THEIR WAR RECORDS

David, John, George and Peter Weaver Hold a Feast at David's Home in the Borough.

Contrasting the tender turkey and other Thanksgiving edibles before them with the hardtack and salt pork of forty years ago, the Weaver brothers, of this city and Somerville, held a unique re-union yesterday. There are four of them, Peter and David, of Plainfield, and John and George, of Somerset County seat, and each one of them served through the greater part of the Civil War and bears a record that many a veteran might envy. The dinner was held at David's home on Manning avenue and though there were many relatives present, the four brothers were given precedence in conversation and they recounted with great interest the time when they shouldered muskets and fought for the preservation of the Union.

The Weaver Brothers.

Each one of the brothers has passed the three score milestone in life but to observers it was hard to believe it. They were "boys" again and they joked and played pranks upon one another as they did before they donned the blue. Infirmity is a thing that is foreign to them and the little touch of rheumatism which Peter contracted in service and which bothers him ever and anon, considerately stayed away. Altogether it was a highly enjoyable affair to all present and one of the best the brothers have ever held.

During the progress of the dinner each member of the quartette related his war record which was as follows:

John, aged sixty-nine years; enlisted in Battery B, Second New Jersey Artillery, September 2, 1864, at Newark; was in the battles of City Point, Petersburg, Fort Steadman, Appomattox and was present at the surrender of General Lee in 1865. He was discharged at Trenton.

George, sixty-seven years old; enlisted September 23, 1861, in Company F, Ninth New Jersey Regiment; was in battles of Roanoke Island, Newbern, Fort Macon, Southwest Creek, Kinston, Goldsboro and Tarboro, N. C. He was discharged at Newbern, N. C., December 19, 1864.

David, sixty-five years old and Peter, sixty-two years old, have records identically the same, remaining with each other all the time. They enlisted twice, the first time on September 3, 1862, in Company A, Thirtieth New Jersey Regiment. They were in the battles of City Point, Aquia Creek, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Petersburg, Darbytown and Chapins Farm. In September, 1864, they enlisted again, this time in Battery E, Third U. S. Artillery. They were at the capture of Fort Fisher, under General Terry, and also Wilmington, Northeast Station, Fason Station, Fayetteville and Raleigh, N. C. They were discharged at Trenton at the close of the war.

MRS. SANDFORD BURIED.

Services Held From Her Late Home Wednesday and Interment at Hillside.

The funeral services of Mrs. Mary J. Sandford, widow of Joseph W. Sandford, were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the late residence on West Seventh street. The attendance of relatives and friends was very large. The floral tributes were exceedingly beautiful comprising cut flowers, wreaths, crosses and other forms of set pieces.

Rev. A. C. Nickerson, pastor of the Unitarian church, conducted the services, reading Scripture and making a short address. During the services several appropriate selections were rendered by the boy choir from Rev. Dr. Kittredge's church, 57th street and Madison avenue, New York. The interment took place yesterday in Hillside cemetery.

FIRE IN WALL PAPER STORE

Blaze at the McIntyre Building in North Avenue.

LOSS IS ABOUT $5,000

Spontaneous Combustion is Said to be the Cause of the Blaze.

Evidently starting from spontaneous combustion, fire broke out in the rear of the Persian Wall Paper Company's store in the McIntyre building on North avenue, Wednesday afternoon, and for a time threatened the entire structure. Fed by inflammable paper and paints, the flames swept in all directions and were creeping into the apartments on the second floor when checked by the firemen. The loss on stock will reach $4,500, while the insurance is but $2,000. The building loss is about $500.

Louis Goldfarb, the proprietor of the place, and his clerk, Miss Lottie Hepner, were seated in the office midway from the street entrance, when the latter noticed a light flickering in a corner in the back part of the store. She directed Goldfarb's attention to it and as he sprang to his feet to investigate, a sheet of flame shot up to the ceiling and was quickly followed by a crackling that showed a good-sized blaze was in progress. Both occupants had barely time to catch up their coats and hats and get outdoors before the fire was upon them. Goldfarb ran through a North avenue store to notify fire headquarters but in the meantime the smoke had been noticed by John P. Hall, who caused a alarm to be rung in from box 13, by Patrolman Overbaugh.

Several lines of hose were stretched in and by attacking the flames from the front and rear parts of the store at the same time, they were soon subdued. The firemen were greatly hampered in their work by thick volumes of black smoke that emanated from roofing paint and Captain Townley was all but suffocated at one time. He was down in an alleyway back of the building handling a line of hose, when the water was turned off at the hydrant and when it ceased to flow, the smoke and flame enveloped him. Because of the construction of the alleyway it was almost impossible for him to get out and he was in a dangerous predicament when the water began flowing again. The smoke filled all the apartments in the McIntyre building and also the Martin building adjoining, frightening the tenants and causing many of them to start removing valuables. John P. McIntyre, the owner of the building, occupies the second floor, the kitchen of which was the only part damaged.

Proprietor Goldfarb said today that as soon as his affairs could be arranged and the building repaired he would resume business.

PARK CLUB DANCE WAS WELL ATTENDED

CUSTOMARY THANKSGIVING EVENT ATTRACTED SOCIETY FOLK.

Under the auspices of the entertainment committee another one of the series of dances was given at the Park Club, last night, there being nearly two hundred persons present. Among these were many from out-of-town, while a number included those who are home from college for the holiday season. The clubhouse retained its beautiful decorations used at the reception given for Miss Hegeman on Wednesday night. The music furnished by a Newark orchestra was greatly enjoyed. It was 2 o'clock this morning when the affair terminated.

The patrons for the affair were Mrs. Robert McCutchen, Mrs. George A. Chapman, Mrs. Frederick Butler, Mrs. Walter Gaston and Mrs. S. St. John McCutchen.

GOLF SEASON NOW CLOSED

Final Contests on the Hillside Course Yesterday.

WINNERS OF TROPHIES

H. C. Munger Got the Holiday Cup and Dr. G. W. Endicott the Tankard.

Several interesting events marked the close of the active season at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, yesterday, and there was a large field out both morning and afternoon. In the morning there was a semi-final play for the Holiday cup and Greens' Committee Tankard, both handicap events. For the Holiday cup, H. C. Munger with a handicap of 11, beat E. R. Ackerman with the handicap of 25, 2 up and 1 to go; A. E. Barclay with a handicap of 17, beat W. L. C. Glenney, with a handicap of 20, 3 up and 2 to go.

The result of the semi-final play for the Greens' Committee Tankard was as follows: Dr. G. W. Endicott with a handicap of 12, beat E. B. Shoemaker with a handicap of 7, 7 up and 6 to go; E. E. Iremonger with a handicap of 11, beat Willard Wadsworth, scratch, 1 up.

In the afternoon this was the result of the final play for the Holiday cup: H. C. Munger with a handicap of 11, beat A. E. Barclay with a handicap of 17, 4 up and 2 to go.

This was the result of the finals for the Greens' Committee Tankard: Dr. G. W. Endicott with a handicap of 12, beat E. E. Iremonger with a handicap of 11, 3 up and 1 to go.

In the play for the best gross score cup, Edgar I. Serrell and W. L. Glenney were tie with an 82 and instead of playing this off the contestants consented to draw. Serrell won. He also had the best net score, but according to the rules of the competition he could not win both trophies and the one for the best net score was given to the next lowest player, T. W. T. Maxwell, who returned a score of 97, 20—77.

As previously stated yesterday's play terminates the regular competitions, but the course will be kept open as long as the weather will permit. The club officials are gratified with the result of the season's play, believing it to be the most successful in the history of the organization. It was planned to close the events a little earlier than formerly, owing to the fact that the days are getting shorter and hardly gives the contestants sufficient time to play.

BUXTON TO SUCCEED LEE IN COMMON COUNCIL

FOURTH WARD REPUBLICAN LEADERS SELECT A CANDIDATE.

Herbert Buxton, of the Jackson flats, has been decided upon by the Fourth ward Republican leaders, to succeed Robert L. Lee as a member of the Common Council from that ward.

The Fourth ward leaders are desirous of selecting a pro-license man for the vacancy, one who will vote for liquor licenses, and it is understood that Mr. Buxton will do this. There is no doubt but that he will be the choice the concurrence of the other ward Councilmen being counted upon by the Fourth ward leaders.

Mr. Buxton is now negotiating to purchase a property in the Second district of his ward and his change of residence would give the West End a representative in the Common Council.

J. F. Hubbard to be Re-Elected.

The Union County Board of Freeholders will meet on Tuesday, January 2, at Elizabeth, to organize for the coming year. Considering the overwhelming victory of the Republicans in the last election there is no doubt but that J. Frank Hubbard, the present director, will be continued as such. There is no opposition to him. It is said that Freeholder W. A. Westphal will continue his membership on the committees he is now serving on.

Father Clifford's Lecture.

A large and appreciative audience listened to a scholarly lecture by Father Clifford, of Bloomfield, Wednesday night at the Casino. His subject was: "The Eve of Catholic Emancipation in Ireland." The speaker was enthusiastically applauded throughout his talk.

Miss Kenyon's Dance.

Miss Kenyon will give a dance to the senior class of the Seminary on Friday evening, December 30.

UNITED IN THANKSGIVING

The Denominational Churches Joined in a Praise Service.

DR. CHAMBLISS' SERMON

Protestant Ministers Led a Large Congregation in Thanksgiving Yesterday.

The Union Thanksgiving services under the auspices of the Protestant churches of the city were held yesterday morning in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. There was an unusually large attendance and more than ordinary interest manifested. An anthem by the church choir opened the services, after which there was reading of sentences of Scripture by Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, pastor of the church. Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, pastor of the First M. E. church, read the President's proclamation, which was followed by the invocation and Lord's Prayer by Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor emeritus of the First Baptist church.

The reading of the Psalter was by Rev. George Mooney, pastor of the Monroe Avenue church. Then the choir sang "The Gloria," after which Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, read the Scripture lesson. A hymn preceded a prayer by Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, with the response by the choir.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church, preached the sermon, taking for his text, Psalm 31:8: "Thou Hast Set My Feet in a Large Place." The discourse was exceedingly appropriate and very impressive. In part Rev. Dr. Chambliss said:

"In some respects this day has a clearer voice in its appeal to us than our national Thanksgivings sometimes have. That is not to say that God has been any better or kinder to us than always in the past. It is only to confess the dullness of our souls that sometimes refuse to hear at all the notes of goodness in His Providence, or hear them only in muffled tones. Our hearts too often are like the fabled statue of Memnon, that made melody when the sunbeams fell on it warm and golden, that had only dismal wailings for the night-time. How strange it is that we who are Christians and not pagans, find occasion for Thanksgiving to God only in what is pleasing to our sensibilities, gratifies our wishes, or prospers our efforts.

"But sorrow, misfortune, loss disappointment, struggle, suffering, death—which our religion tells us are often the very best gifts of our Father's love—let such things shroud our path, and at once we sit down under some Jonah's booth in miserable questioning of God's faithfulness and goodness.

"And so of national life. If our country is striding onward in strength and glory, if confidence nerves the sinews of trade, and money is sound, and stocks are strong, and factories are running on full time, and harvests are bountiful, and health and order prevail; if victory has crowned the battle, and the dulcet pipe of peace soothes all the troubled land where late 'the wild alarm sounded from the tocsin's throat,' how ready then we are to sing, 'Oh, that men would praise the Lord for His goodness, and for His wonderful works to the children of men.'

"But when bleak adversity sweeps over the country, cutting chill and keen to the heart of the people, when the fruits of the field are cut off; when all financial panic smites the land and the mills are idle, and the shops are closed, and labor groans in misery, or perhaps cries out in wrath and lifts a vengeful arm; when war-clouds roll and burst in fury—how rare then is the religion that sees a smiling face behind the frowning Providence, and smiles back peacefully, confidingly, singing the while 'God's in His Heaven, All's right with the world.'

"Now I do not forget that everybody has been reading with greater avidity than usual, during the last few months—as always in a Presidential year—and I know very well that it would be all but impossible for a speaker today to present any fact or opinions relating to the conditions or prospects of problems of our country which would not be to every intelligent man and woman among you a twice-told tale. So the text which I have announced will be used only to remind you of a single aspect of the national situation, in which we may rejoice and give thanks, indeed, yet failing not to mingle humble prayer with our swelling praises. Was there ever another people in this world

HOLIDAY FOOTBALL GAMES

Both Orange Field Club and Alis Were Victorious.

SHUT OUT OPPONENTS

Madison A. C. Fell by the Score of 22 to 0, and Navaboes Were Defeated 17 to 0.

The local elevens both shut out their opponents on the gridiron yesterday afternoon, the Alis team defeating the Madison A. C. and the Orange Field Club players proving superior to the Navaboes, of Brooklyn. The score in the former contest was 22 to 0, and in the latter game 17 to 0.

Alis's playing was a better exhibition than any they have put up this season. The backs were fast and aggressive, while the line was stronger man for man than the Madison eleven. The score at the end of the first half was 17 to 0, the result of touchdowns by Phillips, Moore and Whitney. In the second half Whitney crossed the line again. Phillips kicked two goals. The line up of the Alis eleven was as follows: Left end, Thayer and MacNaughton; left tackle, Voorhees; left guard, Gwyer; center, Prince; right guard, Derby; right table, Egan; right end, Moore; quarter back, Phillips; fullback, Whitney; right half, Moore.

On Orange Oval, the O. F. C. fought two twenty-minute halves with the Navahjoes, and in the end came out ahead by the score of 17 to 0. The touchdowns were made in the first half by Smith, in the second half by W. McCullough and Tobin. Smith and Tobin each kicked a goal. The line up of the Orange Field Club was as follows: Left end, Emmons; left tackle, W. McCullough; left guard, Banks; center, Hollyer; right guard, J. McCullough; right tackle, Todd; right end, Shephard; quarter back, McVey; left half, Smith, fullback, Tobin; right half, Sherwin.

The Dunellen team won a great victory yesterday morning against the Somerville team by the score of 5 to 0. The touchdown which won the game was made by Culbertson, the star half back. The Dunellen team was badly outweighed, but they played the best game they have thus far been guilty of, and it was hard stiff work on the defense that kept the visitors from scoring.

MISS EDITH HUFF NOW IS MRS. WILLIAM HENRY

WEDDING AT HOME OF OFFICIATING MINISTER, REV. DR. SCHENCK.

Miss Edith Huff, daughter of Mrs. Helen Huff, of West End avenue, and William Henry, of West Fourth street, were married Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, of West Front street. The couple was attended by the bride's mother and her sister, Mrs. Julius Williams, of North avenue.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held at Mrs. Huff's home. The groom is employed as a machinist at The Pond Machine Tool Works. Both are attendants at Trinity Reformed church. They will live at 942 West Fourth street.

Rev. B. J. Crudup Buried.

The funeral services of Rev. B. J. Crudup, late pastor of the Fillmore Baptist church, were held yesterday afternoon from the church at 3 o'clock. The ministers in charge were Revs. Messrs. Love, Taylor, Bailey and Vaughan, all of Newark. There was a large attendance of friends. The interment was in Hillside cemetery.

William B. Emmons, of Codington avenue, is very ill with pneumonia.

Miss Sadie E. Huyler, of Levy Bros. store is visiting her grandparents at Three Bridges.

COUNTRY DANCE SUCCESS

Pad and Pencil Club's Affair Largely Attended.

MARTINE A GUEST

"Farmer-Orator" Judges the Costumes and Makes An Address—The Details.

Surpassing even the expectations of its promotors, the country dance of the Pad and Pencil Club in I. C. T. Hall Wednesday evening, proved the greatest social event of this nature given during the present season. Two hundred young people from this city and the suburbs were in attendance, garbed in typical rural costume and acting the part of rustic youths and maidens in a laughable way. The big dancing room was a wilderness of corn shocks, star, ears of corn and pumpkins, these decorations being beyond anything of the kind yet attempted.

Dancing was the feature of the evening but the versatile young men entrusted with the plans had arranged for numerous little pleasantries that greatly added to the enjoyment. The dancing order was contained in a miniature newspaper called "The Ripper," which said some very tart things about well known Plainfielders. Among those touched up were James E. Martine, J. T. MacMurray, Andrew McArdell, Chief Kiely, John Kenney, James Daley, William Foering, Harry DeMeza and Marcus Hoyt.

The Pennsylvania Band, led by George B. Cose, as drum major, and composed of Charles Pawson and James Conklin, fifers; Nelson Peterson, drum, and Leonce Texier, bass drum, was a grotesque affair and served the double purpose of making merriment and leading a march. The customary grand march was led by Charles H. Frost and Miss Mary Davies and as the long line of costumed figures wound in and out of the corn shocks it presented a novel sight.

The guest of the evening was James E. Martine, the "Farmer Orator," who acted as judge of costumes and declared those of Miss Mabel Gano and Arthur Unicon to be the most appropriate. The Democratic war horse also made an address in which he spoke highly of the local newspapermen and complimented the club on the success of the evening's affair.

A quartette composed of George B. Cose, Harry Blimm, Harry DeMeza and John Todd rendered old time ballads during the midnight intermission and refreshments of cider, doughnuts, crullers and apples were passed. There were other features wholly impromptu which added to those prepared, made the Pad and Pencil's second country dance a success.

The committee which had entire charge of the affair was composed of George E. Firstbrook and Archibald Haoquer.

THANKSGIVING CHASE OF WATCHUNG HUNT CLUB

BREAKFAST GIVEN BY MR. AND MRS. CRUIKSHANK AT COLONIA CLUB.

Largely attended and well conducted in every detail, the holiday chase of the Watchung Hunt Club was one of the most successful and thoroughly enjoyed affairs of the season. Before the hunt breakfast was given to the members of the club at the Colonia Country Club house by Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Cruikshank. There were about fifty present. Afterward, the riders started the hounds in the Savage farm near the club house, and set out on a nine mile run, which ended at Dog Tavern.

Among those who attended the breakfast and chase were Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Cruikshank, Miss Cruikshank, Miss Weir, Miss Noe, of Westfield, Miss Holly, Channcey Sayer, of Orange, George U. White, of Glen Ridge, F. K. Harrison, of Montclair, Eugene Smith, of Orange, Duncan Bulkley, of New York, Harry Bourne, of Cranford, L. E. Waring, Augustus Fisk, George Hisg, Dr. B. VanD. Hedges, C. S. Bellows, R. A. Chebeare, Louis Bathner, of Elizabeth, and Dr. Knott, of this city.

The next hunt of the season will take place tomorrow, and will start from Oak Tree at 3 o'clock.

Dunhams Hold Celebration.

W. C. Dunham, of this city, was one of a party of eighteen nephews and nieces that attended a Thanksgiving dinner given by George H. Dunham in New York, yesterday. Each of the guests received a handsome check as a present.

MISS HEGEMAN'S DEBUT

Brilliant Reception in Honor of B. A. Hegeman's Daughter.

FIVE HUNDRED GUESTS

The Affair at the Park Club Opens Social Season in City and Borough.

The reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Arrowsmith Hegeman, of Central avenue, for their daughter, Miss Virginia Hegeman, at the Park Club on Wednesday evening, was a brilliant affair and marked the opening of the local social season. The clubhouse never presented a more attractive appearance, handsomely decorated with a profusion of flowers, while the presence of so many richly gowned women and the unusually good orchestral music by VanBarr, of New York, all combined to make the affair the social function of the early winter season. Seldom has a Plainfield debutante been showered with so much honor.

The clubhouse was decorated with Southern smilax, palms and yellow chrysanthemums, while the lights were shaded with pink. Miss Hegeman received over one hundred floral gifts, most of which were American Beauty Roses.

Notwithstanding that there were over five hundred guests present, testing the capacity of the clubhouse, there was but little inconvenience during the receiving hours. After 11 o'clock there was dancing by the younger set and this was continued until 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Hegeman and Miss Hegeman were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Chapman Fisk, Mrs. Charles Matthews, Mrs. Francis deLacy Hyde, Mrs. J. Kirtland Myers, Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, Mrs. Frederick G. Mead, Mrs. Edward H. Ladd, Mrs. Henry A. McGee, Mrs. James R. Joy, Mrs. Augustus V. Heely, Mrs. Walter Gaston, Miss Edith G. Fisk, Miss Ursula Rowland, Miss Georgiana H. Smith, Miss Marjorie Fleming, Miss Dorothy Fleming, Miss Isabel Milne, Miss Nellie Valiant, Miss Margaret McCutchen, Grace Kaufman, of this city; Miss Elizabeth Weeden, of Brooklyn; Miss Helen Keeler, of Elizabeth; Mrs. Lavina Thorne, of Greenwich, Conn.; Miss Judith Longyear, of Boston; Miss Florence Sutton, of Boston; Miss Margaret Wynkoop, of Spring Lake; the Misses Alice and Theodora McCutchen, of Belle Haven, Conn.

Mrs. Hegeman and Miss Hegeman wore gowns of lace and the debutante carried a bouquet of bridesmaid roses, the gift of her brother, Harold A. Hegeman. The other women in the receiving party were handsomely gowned.

During the evening supper was served by a Newark caterer, and the arrangement was so perfect as not to interfere in any way with the festivities.

Following this reception will be several dinners given for Miss Hegeman. Those arranged are by Mrs. Edward H. Ladd, Mrs. W. T. Kaufman and Mrs. Francis deLacy Hyde.

Both Plainfield and North Plainfield society was largely represented, but a few of the prominent out-of-town guests were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. DeLano, of St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hardy, M. Jackson Crispin, of New York; Mrs. Harry C. Marshall and Bernard Marshall, of Duluth, Minn.; Captain Jans Bouge, U. S. A., of West Point; Allen B. Farmer, of Boston Miss Kellogg, of Elizabeth; James Brewster, of Hartford, Conn.; Miss Murray, of Cleveland, O.

Mrs. Kirch's Narrow Escape.

Learning that the receptacle in the steam boiler in the cellar needed more water, Mrs. W. H. Kirch, of Duer street, turned on the supply pipe a few days ago. Almost instantly there was an explosion and the damage amounting to $100 resulted. Fortunately, Mrs. Kirch escaped unharmed. Mr. Kirch was off hunting at the time and his wife did not know that putting water into the receptacle while there was such a big fire in the boiler would have a disastrous effect. Undoubtedly the boiler was overheated at the time.

Miss Wray to Speak.

Miss Sara Wray, of New York, will address the Y. M. C. A. meeting on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The late Col. H. H. Hadley, who was well known in this city, said that he considered Miss Wray the best lady speaker on the American platform. The choir of the First Presbyterian church will render special music.

William I. Marshall, principal of the Gladstone School, Chicago, came to T. S. Armstrong, of this city, twenty years ago with such a throat affection that he could scarcely talk. Mr. Armstrong suggested the use of his wild cherry and tulu troches, and he recently received an order from Mr. Marshall for one pound of them. He has been using the troches for the last twenty years.

LITERARY.

George Madden Martin interprets the real spirit of Christmas in a story in the December McClure's, which she gives the title "God Rest You, Merry Christians." It is a wonderful picture Mrs. Martin gives her readers, of a real home and real people in it on the night before Christmas, when most of the household have arrived at "the tears and tissuepaper stage." The situation is only saved from bedlam by the calm sanity of her heroine, who, catching, the true significance of the day, pours into it enough of good cheer, peace on earth and love to bring joy to all within her circle. Mrs. Martine makes keen though kindly analysis of the true and the false Christmas spirit, which is good reading for all at this season.

Common Council's Reorganization.

According to the usual custom the new Common Council will meet on Monday night, January 1, for the purpose of effecting an organization, such as the election of a president, janitor, naming the official newspapers, appointment of committees and other routine business. The Common Council will then adjourn to some future date in the month to transact whatever business there may come up. There is every reason to believe that Ralph L. Tolles will be continued as president for another year, and the general opinion seems to be that there will not be many changes in the committees.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. McGee, of the borough, who have been abroad for three months, will return home tomorrow.

Mrs. John Veghte, of Beechwood Heights, Bound Brook, has returned home after visiting Mrs. Fred L. Stillman, of West Fourth street.

PENNSYLVANIA WON

Quakers Shattered Cornell's Line at Will.

SCORE THIRTY-FOUR TO NOTHING.

Ithaca Boys Were Powerless on Offensive Tactics and Weak on Defense, Losing Six Touchdowns.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25.—The University of Pennsylvania football eleven closed one of the most successful seasons in the history of the institution by defeating the Cornell eleven by the score of 34 to 0. Pennsylvania scored four touchdowns in the first half and two in the second. Had it not been for penalties inflicted on the red and blue Cornell would never have been within striking distance of the Pennsylvania goal. The Ithaca boys were powerless on the offense until near the close of the game, when Pennsylvania had in an almost new team, and on the defense they were equally weak. Not a first down was earned by the visitors in the opening half, and only once during this period did Cornell hold for downs. Pennsylvania was penalized thirty-five yards in the first half and was set back forty yards in the closing period of the game.

Fumble after fumble occurred in the Cornell back field, and on nearly every offense she would lose the ball. The fumbling to a certain extent was due to the miserable passing of Wilder.

A feature of the game was the fierce tackling of the Pennsylvania boys. On nearly every scrimmage when the Cornell team had the ball there would be one of the visitors laid out. Stevenson, Pennsylvania's quarterback, was finally sent to the side lines by Umpire Edwards because of rough playing.

Cornell's playing was a disappointment to the spectators, but notwithstanding that the eleven was pushed from one end of the field to the other repeatedly, the little band of rooters made the field ring with cheers.

Pennsylvania's defense before the back field was weakened by the substitution of Folwell for Smith and Sheble for Greene was remarkable. If a Cornell runner got his body through the Pennsylvania line either Smith or Greene was there to double him back.

Stevenson, Zeigler and Piekarski were particularly strong on the offense. The former got away for several good quarterback runs, and the two latter ripped the Cornell line into shreds when called upon to advance the ball. It was a perfect day for football for the spectators, but uncomfortably warm for the players.

Seven rushes were sufficient for Pennsylvania to score her first touchdown, Zeigler, Piekarski and Smith carrying the ball. Reynolds kicked the goal, making the score 6 to 0 in favor of Pennsylvania five minutes after play began. Cornell lost the ball on downs, and Zeigler and Piekarski rushed it to the goal line, the latter making the second touchdown.

After this it was simply a procession, Pennsylvania pushing the Cornell eleven all over the field.

ON MARSHALL FIELD.

Chicago Downed Wisconsin by a Score of 18 to 11.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25. — Chicago, 18; Wisconsin, 11, was the score in the hardest fought football game played on Marshall field this season. The game was replete with surprises and critical situations, which kept the 18,000 spectators on the qui vive from the time of the first kickoff until the finish whistle blew.

The climax was reached in the middle of the second half. Eckersall caught the ball on the kickoff on Chicago's three yard line and started toward Wisconsin's goal. The Wisconsin men came thundering down upon him. Some of them were stopped by Chicago interference, and others Eckersall dodged until only Stromquist, Wisconsin's fullback, blocked the way to a touchdown. Dodging dangerously near the side line, the speedy little quarterback rushed by, the outstretched fingers of his opponent grazing his leg as he passed.

Two seconds later he was beneath a pile of squirming humanity behind the Wisconsin goal posts. He had made the record run of the season, covering 107 yards, to do which he actually ran 115 yards. The crowd went wild, Wisconsin rooters joining with the Chicago men in cheering the play. All sense of partisanship was lost in the general admiration for the magnificent play.

North Carolina Lost on a Fluke.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 25.—The University of Virginia defeated the University of North Carolina for the southern championship, 12 to 11, the Carolinians failing of a drawn battle by their inability to land a rather easy goal. The point that won the game for the orange and blue was the result of an accident in which a Carolina player figured. With the score 11 to 11 Virginia had a try for a goal. The ball was booted straight enough, but was too low to get over the bar, but a Carolina player standing beneath the posts jumped into the air and struck the ball, deflecting it upward and over the bar.

Fierce Gridiron Battle.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 25.—Illinois was defeated by Nebraska on Nebraska field before a crowd of at least 7,000 cheering football enthusiasts by a score of 16 to 10. The game was one of the most fiercely contested that ever occurred on Nebraska field.

John Hopkins Team Won.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 25.—Johns Hopkins University Football club defeated Randolph-Macon college by a score at 6 to 0. The game abounded in brilliant end runs by both teams and terrific line plunging by Hopkins. The local players by a series of line plunges pushed Blanck over the line for a touchdown early in the second half Blanck kicked the goal.

Go Between Got the Cup.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Two broken track records, an unprecedented crowd and the running of the Washington cup and the Chevy Chase selling steeplechase at Bennings were the feature events. The contest for the seventh Washington cup clipped one and two-fifth seconds off the record for the distance of the course, the favorite, Go Between, winning easily after allowing Queen Belle, a long shot, to set the pace to the stretch. The Chevy Chase steeplechase was a pretty three horse affair, Imperialist and Connover running neck and neck most of the way, with the long shot keeping a fair distance back. Imperialist finally drew away from Connover at the stretch and had a length to spare at the finish. King Carter, a 15 to 1 shot, winning first place furnished a surprise in the handicap steeplechase.

Galway Athlete Won.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—John J. Daly of Galway, Ireland, running in the colors of the Greater New York Irish Athletic association, has won the A. A. U. individual cross country championship of the Metropolitan district at Travers island. The team honors went to the Xavier Athletic association, which was the first to have five men cross the finish line. The junior championship and the individual honor was won by Michael Spring of the Pastime Athletic club of this city, and his club also took the team prize.

Racing at Nashville.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 25.—Ivan the Terrible, at 3 to 5 in the betting, was the best of the field of five two-year-olds in the Press handicap at five and a half furlongs at Cumberland park. Three favorites and a heavily played second choice, Outwal, were among the winners, and the ring, after having almost more business than could be accommodated, got considerably the worst of the argument. Anna Fitzhugh, at 25 to 1 in the last race, proved the surprise of the day.

Vernon First, Vanderbilt Second.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—More than thirty cars took part in the fourth annual Eagle Rock hill climbing contest, which was held at Orange, N. J., under the auspices of the Automobile Club of New Jersey. The fastest climber was driven by Vernon, who reached the summit in 1 minute and 20 seconds. This was 16¾ seconds better than the time made by the winner last year. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., was second in 1 minute 20 3-5 seconds.

Watson Was Outclassed.

WEBSTER, Mass., Nov. 25. — Sam Langford of Boston punched Andy Watson of Boston for twelve rounds at a meeting of the Lakeside Athletic club here. Watson taking his punishment gamely to the finish. Before the bout Watson refused to go on for a decision, although willing to box twelve rounds. Twice Watson was knocked between the ropes into the laps of the spectators. He was clearly outclassed.

Floral King at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 25.—Floral King's victory in the inaugural handicap was the most popular feature of the racing here. The Gardiner colt was a decided favorite in the betting, opening at 5 to 2 and closing at 2's. Rose Pen made the early running and was weakening when the pinch came. Floral King caught him at the stretch turn, shook him off in the final furlong and won with plenty to spare.

Rochester Defeated Tufts.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 25.—The University of Rochester defeated Tufts college on Culver field here by a score of 16 to 5. The visitors had a strong attack at the beginning and scored a touchdown in the first ten minutes. Rochester scored two touchdowns in the first half and one in the second.

Lafayette Defeated Lehigh.

EASTON, Pa., Nov. 25.—The Lafayette football team defeated Lehigh by a score of 40 to 6. The first half was productive of fine football, each side scoring 6 points. In the second however, Lafayette braced up and tore her old rival to pieces, scoring almost at will.

Prize Pig Cause of Fatality.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 25.—A quarrel over the disposition of a pig won by one of the parties concerned in a raffle here and which the other sought to purchase ended in a shooting affray in the north Italian quarter. As a result Luciano Izzi received three bullet wounds, which the physicians say will prove fatal. His alleged assailant, Antonio Pitisci, is still at large.

Monument to McKinley Unveiled.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—A monument to the memory of the late President William McKinley was unveiled here at the main entrance of the Golden Gate park. It is a symbolical statue of the republic, modeled by Robert Aitkin and cast in bronze.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Nov. 25. Morgan hall, the largest and newest of the dormitories connected with Williams college, has been damaged to the extent of $20,000 by a fire that started from a cigarette dropped in a room on the second floor.

HICKMAN, Ky., Nov. 25. — Milt Shaw, a prominent lawyer of this city, has shot and killed his uncle, Robert Buck. The plea is self defense.

STEEPEST TROLLEY ROAD.

It Ascends a High Mountain and the Track Hangs in Midair Here and There.

Los Angeles (Cal.) Special.

The steepest trolley line in the world is the electric road up Mount Lowe, in southern California. If one of the cars should jump the track the passengers would be plunged down the mountain side a distance of thousands of feet, but no such accident has occurred up to date, in spite of the fact that the coaches are run at a speed approaching a mile a minute around curves so sinuous that a boa-constrictor would have difficulty in imitating them. By the ingenious system of flanges it is made practically impossible for a car to leave the track.

MOUNT LOWE TROLLEY.
(In Many Places the Rails Seem to Be Hanging in the Air.)

On some parts of the line the rails seem to be hanging in the air. In such places the supports of the ties are anchored to the rocks with beams of steel, so that the vibration is scarcely perceptible, and there is no danger of the structure giving way. In spite of this security many a tourist who had planned to make the ascent has turned back with a faint heart at the first glimpse of the perilous looking suspension track.

The building of the road was a hazardous undertaking. Nothing so audacious in the construction of trolley lines had ever been attempted. In transporting the materials up the steep ascents burros were tried. If any beasts of burden are sure-footed under such circumstances burros are, but the little animals were unequal to the requirements, and the rails, ties and other materials of construction were carried up by men, who proceeded with utmost caution around the sharp curves, yawning chasms and ledges, where the workmen were often held in place by a line of rope in the firm grasp of their helpers above and below.

The cars were constructed without compartments, or even awnings, as it was desirable that the least resistance to the wind possible might be secured. A railing of steel surrounds the platform of each car, and no passenger is in danger of tumbling off unless he loses his head through sheer fright. It is unnecessary to erect signs on this line, warning pedestrians to keep off the track, for no pedestrians ever wander along the roadbed.

AMERICAN SOCIETY.

Thanksgiving Banquet at London Honors Choate.

ENGLAND READY FOR PEACE TREATY

Lord Lansdowne Said, "It Goes Without Saying"—Ever Growing Anglo-American Friendship Commented On.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The annual Thanksgiving banquet of the American society at the Hotel Cecil last night was marked by the presentation to Ambassador Choate of a portrait of himself, painted by Hubert Herkomer and paid for by subscriptions by members of the society. An unusual note for such a gathering was introduced by Sir Edward Clarke, who, proposing Mr. Choate's health, sarcastically derided the title "American" ambassador, declaring that the word American implied domination over the whole of the western hemisphere, which the United States does not possess and is not entitled to, as Great Britain is territorially a larger power on the American continent than the United States. Sir Edward suggested that a more suitable title would be Usena, signifying United States of North America.

Ambassador Choate, replying, said that Americans were quite satisfied with their name, and then referred to the recent election in the United States as a splendid tribute of devotion and affection to a great man. Having remarked upon the regeneration of public life in America, regardless of party, now in progress, Mr. Choate alluded to the ever growing friendship between Great Britain and America as reason for thanksgiving, and added: "I asked Lord Lansdowne if he was ready to negotiate a treaty of arbitration. 'Why,' said Lord Lansdowne, 'it goes without saying.'"

Continuing, Mr. Choate maintained that many things go without saying between Great Britain and America, above all that they should avoid all possible causes of offense and settle all differences by peaceful means. He paid a high tribute to the archbishop of Canterbury's "rediscovery of America," and dilated upon the value of visits to America by such men as the archbishop and John Morley.

The archbishop of Canterbury, proposing President Roosevelt's health, expressed his sincere thanks for the great hospitality with which he was received in America. He said America faced problems greater than the world had ever seen, but by a stroke of genius had found the man to conquer the difficulties. "We on this side," said the archbishop, "not less than brothers to you across the Atlantic, thank God and take courage because the destinies of America are safe in Roosevelt's hands."

English Esteem Choate.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The Daily Telegraph remarks that the great affection and esteem in which Mr. Choate is held in England is largely apart from his personal qualities and because of the affection in which he was held by the late Queen Victoria.

STAR COURSE AFFAIR PROVED TO BE ENJOYABLE

THE DE BARRIE GILL COMBINATION FURNISHED ATTRACTIVE PROGRAMME.

Talented dramatic readings, recitations, and delightful harp selections characterized the second of the Star Course entertainments at the Y. M. C. A. last night. There was a large audience, and the affair was thoroughly enjoyed. The entertainers were the de Barrie Gill combination, the only two harp company in America.

As a dramatic reciter, Mrs. de Barrie Gill was remarkable, her selection from Ben Hur, and from Quo Vadis being excellent. As a child impersonator, she is also good, and delighted her audience with her original recitations. It is rarely that an opportunity is given to hear such finished harp playing as the entertainment last evening offered, and it was appreciated by all who were present.

The committee which arranged and had charge of the affair consisted of Charles F. Meyer, Sr., John Wirth, August Wolf, William Gardner, Joseph Haurand, Carl Felber and Lawrence Fahn.

Defeats the Hasbrouck Institute Team by the Score of 22 to 17.

For the second time this season, the Plainfield High School defeated the basketball team of the Hasbrouck Institute. The game was played Wednesday afternoon on the Jersey City team's floor. The score was 22 to 17, and was the result of splendid playing on the part of the local team in the second half.

The score at the close of the first half was 13 to 9 in favor of the Hasbrouck team, and it was by a magnificent recovery that the victory was turned to the local school. Collier and Thompson were the stars, while the playing of Freeman at center was also commendable. The Plainfield High School lined up as follows: Thompson and Collier, forwards; Freeman, center; Gavett and Stutsman, guards.

Mrs. Francis Whitely, of the borough, who has been quite ill for several weeks, is recovering.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

Several citizens recently approached an official of the New Jersey Central, a resident of this city, asking him to have a walk laid from Park avenue to the North Avenue station on the west side of the track, similar to the one on the east side. The official explained that this would not be practical owing to the limited room and the fact that the U. S. Express Company occupy considerable room about the station on that side of the track.

Sixty-nine years ago yesterday the first railroad train was run into Plainfield over the New Jersey Central. The line at that time extended from this city to Elizabethport. At the latter place boats were used to carry passengers to New York. A man of the name of Martin, who lived here for several years, was engineer of the first train. He remained with the company a long time. There are only a few persons in this city now who remember the arrival of this train and they include Lewis E. Barkalow and Gerome Pack. It was with Mr. Pack that Engineer Martin lived for a time.

The Prudential and Metropolitan Life Insurance Companies, rivals in business, are both represented on the Electoral tickets. Uzal H. McCarter, of Newark, is an elector on the Republican ticket, and Haley Fiske, of Bernardsville, an officer of the Metropolitan, is an elector on the Democratic ticket. It may be said for the Newarker that he is a Jerseyman by birth, life and ancestry, while Mr. Fiske is one of the summer resident class. However, the argument often made may apply in this case—that an adopted resident deserves as much credit as one native-born, since he came to New Jersey by his own choice.—Newark Sunday Call.

A TALK AT FASHODA.

WHEN MAJ. MARCHAND FACED GEN. LORD KITCHENER.

Relations Were Strained to Point of a War Declaration—Tension Over, Sirdar Proposed Whisky and Water.

Paris (France) Special.

The Figaro publishes Col. Marchand's own account of his meeting with the sirdar at Fashoda in 1898. The principal feature of this communication, the interest of which is now purely retrospective, is Col. Marchand's version of the conversation between himself and Lord (then General) Kitchener.

"Major," he said to me, "I am sirdar of the Egyptian army, which I command in the name of his highness the khedive and the sublime porte. I have come to resume possession of the territories belonging to the khedive." Col. Marchand replied:

"General, I am Maj. Marchand of the French army. I have come here by the orders of the French government."

"It is not an English general who is addressing you, major. I am sirdar of the Egyptian army. I am acting solely for the khedive and the sublime porte, who are reconquering their dominions. I have come here to plant the Egyptian flag."

"General, Egypt has abandoned these regions and renounced sovereignty over them."

"What are your intentions, major?"

"I am awaiting instructions from my government, general."

"You do not wish to withdraw after the magnificent exploration which you have made?"

"No, general; I am awaiting orders."

"Have you been long without orders from France?"

"Some months, general; my orders are to wait here."

"I will put my boat Major at your disposal to return to Europe by the Nile."

"I thank you, general, but I cannot accept. I am awaiting my orders from my government."

"A good many things have happened while you have been en route."

"Whatever may have happened, general, military supremacy can only be established by combat.'

"'You are right, major, but I must hoist the khedive's flag. You do not want it on the fort, then?'

"'It is impossible, general. Place it over the village.'

"'I believe, major, that the official part of our conversation is now over.'

"'As you like, general.'"

Col. Marchand adds:

"Then suddenly resuming his good humor, he said:

"'Very well, let us take a whisky and soda.'"

COL. MARCHAND.
(French Officer Who Met Kitchener in Wilds of Africa.)

A Girl's Opinion of Boys.

A little girl wrote the following essay on boys: "Boys are men that have not got as big as their papas, and girls are women that will be ladies by and by. When God looked at Adam He said to Himself: 'Well, I think I can do better if I try again,' and He made Eve. Boys are a trouble. They wear out everything but soap. If I had my way the world would be girls and the rest dolls. My papa is so nice that I think he must have been a little girl when he was a little boy. Man was made, and on the seventh day he rested. Women was then made, and he has never rested since."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

HORSES RACE WITH TRAIN

Frisky Equines Jeopardize Lives of Passengers on Pennsylvania Road by Queer Pranks.

A pair of frisky horses, escaped from pasture, persistently stopped a Pennsylvania railroad express train near Pottsville, and by running ahead of the train in a long tunnel, jeopardized the lives of 100 passengers. The engineer noticed the horses on the track as he pulled out into the suburbs of Pottsville. Appearing to enjoy a race with the train, the tooting of the whistle failed to scare them from the track, and for a long distance the spectacle was presented of a fast train preceded by two splendid horses going at breakneck speed. It was an ideal contest between steel and steam and flesh and bone. Twice the train was stopped and the horses chased away, but each time the animals returned. A tunnel between Pottsville and St. Clair was finally reached, through which the horses sped, with the engine close behind, the whistle screeching continually, a wreck possible if they were struck. At the St. Clair station the horses were still galloping ahead, and it was necessary to lasso them to give the train a clear right of way.

VAST SUM FROM TOURISTS

Switzerland Annually Collects Thirty Million Dollars for Entertainment of Foreign Guests.

It needed a painstaking German to figure for us a set of statistics long desired, but of a sort that nobody cared to tackle the tedium or the difficulty of computing them. These figures are the annual number of tourists in Europe and the amount of money they spend. The German's estimates cover the totals in both items, and, large as their number is, the Americans do not constitute quite the whole of the globe's yearly nomad population. But what quantity of Americans do visit the old world and what amount of money they leave there may be guessed from this German's computations. Switzerland entertains through the year 3,000,000 visitors, who spend $30,000,000. Italy, the Riviera and Spain between them attract an expenditure of $60,000,000. The various great capitals in all cull $45,000,000 that come from the pockets of the 900,000 visitors to Paris, the 600,000 to London, the 500,000 to Berlin and the 350,000 to Vienna. The baths and seaside resorts accommodate 12,000,000 guests, who spend over $16,000,000.

ANTARCTIC SECRETS

MANY OF THEM DISCOVERED BY CAPT. SCOTT AND HIS CREW.

Expedition to the South Pole Returns and the Full Extent of the Work of the Explorers Is Learned.

The Discovery is safe home again in Portsmouth harbor after an absence of three years, and the fruits of the labors of the Antarctic Research expedition are apparent and have more than fulfilled the high expectations which were raised by the reports brought back by the relief ship Morning, and by the dispatches which the Discovery has given out at the various points where she has touched since leaving the vast ice fields of the great antarctic circle.

When the wonderful story of this expedition is known it proves itself to be "the best conducted and most successful expedition that has ever enter into polar regions, arctic or antarctic," as Sir

CAPT. ROBERT FALCON SCOTT, R. N.

Clements Markham has so enthusiastically put it. With a mass of scientific data and many valuable specimens and souvenirs of the trip the Discovery returns to enrich the world's knowledge. The two primary objects of the expedition were magnetic work and geographical discovery. Continuous magnetic observations were taken in the neighborhood of the south magnetic pole, but the data embodying the results will, of course, take a long time to work out. The chief additions to our knowledge of antarctic geography, made by Capt. Scott and his brave crew, have, however, already been made public. Wilkes Land, which is marked so prominently on all maps of the south polar regions, was found to be nonexistent, the Discovery sailing over the very spot where it had been charted. The great ice barrier proved to be afloat and pushing its way northwards at the rate of a quarter of a mile a year, and a vast continent, with ranges of high mountains, was shown to exist under the ice-cap of South Victoria Land. Mounts Erebus and Terror, near which the Discovery wintered, were discovered to be on an island, and not on the antarctic mainland, as had hitherto been believed, while the land at the east end of the ice barrier was found to be distinct from South Victoria Land, and has been named by Capt. Scott King Edward VII. Land.

During the two years that the Discovery was shut in the ice Capt. Scott and his men made various expeditions in different directions. The farthermost point reached was that touched by Capt Scott on his great dash for the pole, when he reached a point 82 degrees and 17 minutes south, thus breaking by 207 miles the record of Borchgrevink, who got as far as 78 degrees and 40 minutes in 1900, and penetrating more than 11 degrees further south than Capt. Cook, the first antarctic navigator.

In the second season Capt. Scott led another expedition inland to the westward. The plucky band reached a point 270 miles from the ship, in the interior of South Victoria Land, a vast continental plateau, which stretched away before them at an elevation of 9,000 feet. During the second season also a third extended journey was made by Lieut. Barne to examine the strait in 80 degrees south. The party was away 68 days and obtained detailed information respecting the exact point of junction between the barrier ice and the land.

MAP SHOWING ROUTE OF DISCOVERY AND FURTHEST POINT SOUTH REACHED.

In an interview with a press representative Capt. Scott paid a handsome tribute to the crew. "Every member of the expedition," he said, worked well together, "and the behavior of everyone was all that could be desired. I have not one word to say against the conduct of anyone from start to finish."

The king, who sent a telegram to Capt. Scott, congratulating the expedition on its safe return, has directed that a new medal for service in the polar regions shall be struck and granted to the officers and crew of the Discovery, in recognition of the successful accomplishment of their enterprise, while Commander Robert Falcon Scott, M. V. O., has been promoted to the rank of captain in the royal navy.

IRRIGATE IS CRY OF WEST

Much Desert Land May Be Reclaimed by Using System of Artificial Watering.

It is estimated that there remain in the dry region of the west about 600,000,000 acres of vacant public land, and that there is sufficient water available under proper storage systems, to irrigate about one-sixteenth of the whole amount. The area now occupied and irrigated is only 6,500,000 acres. If during the next 30 years only 20,000,000 acres more should be placed under irrigation, the land so reclaimed would provide homes for at least 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 people, as a very small area is sufficient to support a family where the farm is operated according to irrigation methods. The main drawback which has so far appeared in the development of the dry region is owing to the presence of alkali in the soil in some sections. It is found that after putting water on the soil for a certain length of time the tendency of the alkali is to rise toward the surface, and there is a gradual increase of the harmful salts near the surface. The waters used in irrigation, it is also found, contain alkali which helps to increase the deposits after the water dries away. After the alkali once begins to give serious trouble it has sometimes been necessary to abandon the land. The only remedy appears to be to furnish sufficient water to flood the land and soak out the alkali.

CATS RELISH GREEN PEAS.

Feline Gourmets Regard the Vegetable as Especially Dainty—Carrots Benefit Health.

It is generally supposed that cats are carnivorous animals, yet from investigations recently undertaken by a French cat fancier it would appear that vegetarians are to be found even among the feline tribe. Green peas, cooked, are among the vegetables most favored by these four-footed gourmets, and asparagus is regarded as an extraordinary dainty, even the white, hard stalks, usually rejected by the most fastidious "humans," being eagerly devoured. Haricot beans and sorrel are not much thought of, nor spinach, but cooked chicory and lettuce are more to their taste. Carrots are generally appreciated and are said to be beneficial to cat health. They are also excessively fond of maize, either green or even the hard grains when cooked. Fruit apparently does not appeal to puss, apples, pears, peaches and apricots falling to rouse her appetite. On the other hand, they show a decided taste for melons and bananas, while some were found to be absolutely greedy over cocoanut in any form. There is evidently likely to be an opening in the future for a cat's vegetable man to compete with the peripatetic cat's meat man of the present.

GRIM JEST OF KITCHENER.

Orders Issued Placing Regimental Schoolmaster at Officers' Disposal—Other Bits of Humor.

Lord Kitchener of the British army recently made an army order placing the regimental schoolmaster at the disposal of officers that they might have an opportunity to complete their elementary educations—a good instance of his grim humor. But it has often been demonstrated that the schoolmaster is needed among the British officers. Some queer, quaint efforts at composition have been made in brigade orders.

A certain major ordained not long ago that "reveille will be at 3:30 a. m. The brigade will parade at 4 a. m. The brigade will move at 4:15 a. m. The sun will rise at 5 a. m." It was during the guerilla war of 1901-2, after the building of the blockhouses, that it became necessary to check the habit of the men of sleeping outside the blockhouses for the sake of coolness and comfort. A certain staff officer thereupon issued the following order: "No one is permitted to sleep outside the blockhouse except the sentries."

Though the intention of this order is clear, its phraseology is not: "Men on outpost duty are forbidden to strike matches on the sky line."

Imprisoned Royalties.

France detains as prisoners of state in Algeria both the emperor of Annam and the queen of Madagascar, while in Martinique she keeps imprisoned the king of Dahomey, King Prempeh of Ashanti, along with his numerous wives, the queen mother and his children, are prisoners of Great Britain on the Seychelles islands. The savage king of Benin has taken the place of the great Napoleon as another of England's royal captives on the island of St. Helena, and in addition to these two African potentates Great Britain has several Indian rulers under detention since the loss of their thrones.

Sultan Has Queer Notions.

The first time the present sultan of Morocco saw a compass he was very inquisitive as to its use. When it was explained that the trembling needle pointed to the north uniformly he seemed interested, but incredulous. Finally he declared flatly that he couldn't believe the story; there must be some kind of clockwork about it. In a conversation with him an English visitor learned that in the sultan's mind Belgium is the leading country of Europe, because most of the arms used in Morocco are received from Brussels.

Child Marriages Increasing.

The custom of marrying girls when they are mere children of nine or ten years is increasing rather than decreasing in Bengal and other parts of India. The resulting racial degeneration is becoming so obvious that laws have been passed in several regions forbidding the marriage of girls under 14.

RUSSIANS BURN VILLAGE.

Japanese Pickets Driven In—Repulsed at Shakhe Bridge.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—A special from Manchurian headquarters of the Japanese army says that at midnight 600 of the enemy's infantry attacked Singliuntun. The Japanese advanced pickets, after resisting the attack for several hours, safely retired to the main body. The village was entirely burned by the enemy.

At dawn the enemy made several surprise attacks near the Shakhe railway bridge and at Paotzuyen, but the attacks were entirely repulsed.

The headquarters of the Japanese army before Port Arthur has reported that the conflagration in the buildings near the arsenal caused by the naval guns, which, as reported yesterday, began about noon, continued until 2 o'clock in the morning. It is probable that the stores of coal have been burned.

The only permanent forts in the possession of the Japanese are the two Panlung forts captured in August. They hold the advance works of the Rihlung redoubt, called Fort Kuropatkin; an intrenched hill, miscalled P. fort, Kobu hill, Sachitakiyama and One Hundred and Seventy-four Meter hill. They also occupy the caponiere, galleries and moats of the two Rihlung forts and North Keekwan fort.

A Mukden dispatch says that the Japanese have made a fresh attack on Poutiloff hill, but their advancing ranks were decimated by the Russian shell fire. Some of the Japanese secured lodgment on the slopes of the hill, but were driven out at the point of the bayonet, when the whole Japanese contingent fled. A similar attempt was made the same night south of Tedazou, which also was repulsed with a bayonet charge. The Japanese lost heavily, while the Russian loss was thirty killed.

A band of 1,500 Chinese bandits, with six guns, under Japanese officers, coming from the direction of the Liao river, was in conflict with three sotnias of border Cossack scouts near the station of Kaiuan early Wednesday morning. The scouts charged without giving the bandits' battery time to come into action. The bandits made feeble resistance and fled in all directions, leaving 200 of their number dead.

Presents For Jap Soldiers.

TOKYO, Nov. 25.—Several charitable organizations, headed by the ladies of the patriotic societies, are arranging to send New Year's presents to every soldier in the field. The contributions already assured indicate that there will be enough to give each soldier two presents. The people of Tokyo are contributing thousands of packages, each containing a number of useful articles.

Medal For Son of Don Carlos.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 25. — A Mukden report says that Don Jaime of Bourbon, son of Don Carlos, the Spanish pretender, has been decorated with the order of St. Anne with swords for gallantry in several engagements.

General Mobilization In Russia.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—An Odessa report says that the Russian government has decided to start in January a general mobilization throughout European Russia.

FIVE BURNED TO DEATH.

Italian Railroad Workers Perish In Old Grain Warehouse.

LANCASTER, Pa., Nov. 25.—Five Italians perished in a fire that has destroyed the old Noble grain warehouse at North Bend, between Christiana and Atglen.

For some time the warehouse had been used by a contractor who is building the Pennsylvania railroad extension through southern Lancaster county. Sixty or more Italian laborers slept in the building. One of them was washing a pair of overalls in a pail of gasoline when a spark from his pipe fell into the pail, causing an explosion that scattered the burning oil.

Instantly there was a panic among the Italians, most of whom had been asleep. They fought madly to escape from the burning building. One leaped from a window and was picked up with a broken leg.

It is believed that the five who perished were trampled upon in the rush to get out. Their badly charred bodies have been recovered.

Wicks Is Not "Dove."

JOLIET, Ill., Nov. 25.—J. W. Wicks, the Pontiac liveryman, who was arrested as a suspect in the Bate murder case, will be released, as it has been clearly demonstrated that he is not "Dove." The officials here held him in the belief that he might be wanted on other charges. The police declare there are no new clews so far in the murder mystery.

Hurled Man Into Quaboag River.

WEST WARREN, Mass., Nov. 25.—Engineer Hewitt, on the Boston and Albany division, reported that his locomotive struck a man on a bridge over the Quaboag river, a mile east of West Warren, hurling him twelve feet into the air and into the river. Four hours' search of fifty men last night failed to show any trace of the body.

The Marriage Question

Some Reasons Why It Is a Thorny One

"THANK you, why get married?" remarked the bachelor. "It only means a double expense, the wedding and the divorce."

Please do not think after this remark that any woman had been so unladylike as to propose to the bachelor. His remark only meant that he had had a good dinner and wanted to start a gentle argument.

"Oh, I don't know!" said his hostess, who rather had designs on the bachelor herself. "Lots of people are enjoying real old fashioned marriages even in these days."

"Old fashioned marriages!" chuckled the bachelor. "Why, my dear child, they were as torn by internal dissensions then as they are now. The only thing was they had to grin and bear things because divorced people were not in the swim."

"Oh, well, nearly all the trouble arises from the man's wanting to have his way!"

"I like that. Why shouldn't he in his own house?"

"But it isn't his house!"

"Argument No. 1! Well, at least if a man's house is not his own it is not his wife's to such an extent that she can invite her mother there to camp indefinitely. And let me tell you that much worn newspaper joke has a good deal of bitter foundation in it because the old lady very often puts into her daughter's head ideas of her own importance and of how Jim should be managed that prove very hard uprooting after she has gone."

"What about his relations—his mother's calm criticism of her, his sister's nice little sisterly remarks?"

"There's something in that, I must admit, and there's no doubt that when two orphans marry they have a larger chance of happiness than ordinary couples. I vote to pension the old people and that the visiting be done in their own houses."

"Yes, but that isn't all. Nothing makes a wife so miserably jealous as when her husband does things for his own family and thereby curtails her. The husband of a friend of mine is always doing things for his family. Lately he sent his sister's three children to the St. Louis exposition, and then when his wife said she would like to go he found he couldn't afford it."

"There's one man I know who makes his wife miserable. He has to go away on long business trips, and he never lets the lady know when he is about to return. Woe to her, however, if she is not right there sitting at the hearthstone waiting to receive him!"

"I think I know the man you mean, and when he is home he isn't much of a comfort and a joy. All he does is play chess every evening with a crony of his, while she sits and yawns."

"Well, some wives are so stupid that they drive their husbands to chess or drink. My! I'd divorce a woman who couldn't talk intelligently on things I cared about or say something original once in awhile."

"Then perhaps you wouldn't marry a woman for her face."

"Nor would I marry her entirely for her brains. I want a woman who is not so crammed full of knowledge that she cannot place two sofa cushions in an alluring position or superintend the making of a mince pie."

"After all, the allowance question has as much to do with married unhappiness as anything else. If before marriage the future husband and wife would decide on a settled arrangement of money matters—so much for the wife, so much for the house and so much for the bank—everything would be well. It humiliates and disgusts a woman quicker than anything else to have to stretch out her hand continually and beg for what after all is hers by right."

"If I could find a woman absolutely devoid of jealousy and one who could be a good chum, I believe I'd risk it," suddenly remarked the bachelor, regarding his hostess speculatively.

"You don't have to!" she remarked indifferently.

"No, but I think I want to!" he replied in quite a different tone.

MAUD ROBINSON.

HER MOTHER WROTE.

Nan Patterson Shows Plainly She Is Confident of Acquittal.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Nan Patterson, accused of the murder of Bookmaker Caesar Young, spent her first Thanksgiving behind prison bars, shut in with the fifty-two other women prisoners in the old building of the Tombs prison, now called the Tombs annex. It was naturally a sad holiday for her, and yet she seemed in more cheerful spirits than for several days past, chiefly because she is enjoying a two day respite from the withering ordeal of her trial.

In her demeanor the young woman showed plainly that she is confident of acquittal at the hands of the jury, though she dreads the arduous court sessions throughout which she must listen to the testimony of hostile witnesses. Her trial will be resumed tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

The girl got a heavy mail, including nine letters and various other written messages. One of the letters was a pathetic epistle from her mother, who is ill in Washington and recently suffered a relapse. Another was from her brother. The mother wrote:

"We expected you home for Thanksgiving. Now there will be none for us until you come home."

WANTED HAY TO SPEAK.

President Puts Ban on Cabinet Ministers' Speechmaking.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The president has practically established a rule that will interest those members of the cabinet who are in demand for speechmaking at public gatherings.

Senator Cullom presented to the president a committee of the Union League of Chicago who came to secure the oratorical services of Secretary Hay on Washington's birthday. Not receiving an affirmative response from Mr. Hay, the committee sought to enlist the good offices of the president in the matter.

The president frankly informed the committee that Mr. Hay's health was not sufficiently established to warrant him in undertaking at this time labor of the character involved in the invitation of the Union League and said that the secretary should not be asked to undertake it. The president improved the occasion to say that it was his desire that members of the cabinet should not be called upon to deliver addresses except on occasions where they might properly appear as public officers.

KING WAS SNOWBALLED.

Charles of Portugal and Hunting Party Enjoy Winter Sport.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—King Charles of Portugal and his party spent the last day of their visit at Chatsworth shooting in the pheasant preserves. The king, who is a magnificent shot, did great execution. The whole district was covered with deep snow, but the day was bright. Queen Amelie and the ladies of her suit joined the party at luncheon in a big marquee. While awaiting the ladies King Charles and the other shooters threw snowballs at a mark. This was too tame for the king, who, catching Marquis Desoveral, the Portugal ambassador to Great Britain, off his guard, made an accurate shot at the dignified diplomat. King Charles' example was quickly followed, and the whole party engaged like schoolboys in an active snow battle.

While none of the missiles actually hit his majesty, a number of distinguished personages were less fortunate. For some minutes the fun was fast and furious, the king being the most active and one of the most accurate among the fighters. The whole of the unusual incident was greatly enjoyed by a large number of spectators and rustics who had gathered near by in the roadway.

Auto and Dog In Mixup.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 25.—While Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Doolittle and Mr. and Mrs. George Doolittle were proceeding at a fair rate of speed in Congress avenue in their automobile a dog ran in front of the machine, became entangled in the forepart, affecting the steering gear so that the automobile became unmanageable. Mr. Doolittle was unable to stop it, and in a moment it turned completely over. All four occupants were caught beneath the car and were dragged several feet before the curbstone brought the automobile to a halt. Each member of the party was badly scratched and bruised, and George Doolittle suffered a dislocation of the arm. The dog, badly hurt, made his escape.

Liverpool Police Hold Wallace.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 25.—The police of this city have arrested James Wallace, who arrived here from Boston on the Cunard line steamer Saxonia. Wallace is charged with stealing stock certificates to the value of $30,000 from James Breitung, a banker of Marquette, Mich., by whom Wallace was employed as confidential secretary.

FUSHIMI LOST GEMS

Imperial Visitor From Japan Robbed at St. Louis.

SNEAK THIEVES OUTWIT SENTRIES.

How Jewels Were Taken Is a Mystery—Prince Had Jap Soldiers on Guard—A Woman In the Case.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—Prince Sananaru Fushimi, Japanese soldier and nobleman, who has been visiting the exposition since last Saturday, has departed for Philadelphia and will continue to tour America before returning to Japan.

In expression of his appreciation, Prince Fushimi bestowed many beautiful gifts, the recipients being Mrs. D. R. Francis, Mrs. Rolla Wells, wife of Mayor Wells; Mrs. Daniel Manning, president of the board of lady managers, and members of the exposition reception committee. The prince also was the recipient of many presents.

Prince Fushimi's apartments at the Buckingham club here were entered and gems valued at $5,000 intrinsically, but priceless as heirlooms, were stolen.

Two handsome diamond rings and one pearl ring belonging to Prince Fushimi and a beautifully embossed emblem belonging to A. Sato, grand master of the household of the prince, the gift and decoration of a European monarch to Mr. Sato, were stolen from the apartments of the royal visitors in the afternoon while the prince and his suit were visiting the world's fair grounds.

The missing jewels were the favorite ornaments of the mikado's cousin. He liked to wear them on all state functions, as their history was interwoven with his public life. Pinkerton detectives are now working on the case.

The theft is one of the most mysterious that has ever occurred in the local hotels and clubs. One of the rings is said to be a great solitaire, the gift to the prince from one of the emperor's imperial staff at Tokyo. The pearl ring, also a gift, was commemorative of some event in the prince's life. The third, a handsome gold band ring set with diamonds, carried with it associations of the prince's army life.

There was nothing about the rings to identify them as those of the prince except their great value.

When the emperor's cousin arrived at the club shortly after 2 o'clock all his valuables and money and that of his entire party were placed in the safe of the hotel. The rings which he wore, however, were taken to his room. It was his custom to wear many rings. On his retirement at night it is thought the rings were laid on the table in the prince's private room.

Throughout his trip every visit and move of the prince and suit has been conducted on strict military principles of discipline, and his punctuality has been frequently commented upon by his hosts.

What makes the case still more mysterious is the fact that two Japanese soldiers have been stationed in front of the prince's apartments since his arrival at the Buckingham, and in fact they have stood at the prince's call during his entire tour of the country.

It is suggested that there was more than one sneak thief and that while one of them, possibly a woman, engaged the guard in conversation the other quickly stepped into the room and took the rings and the decoration.

When Tumey overtook him the negro lunged at him with the knife, but missed, and the officer shot him.

that could appropriate the words upon so many grounds of right and fitness? Surely Emerson never spoke more significantly than when he said, 'America stands for opportunity,' for is not that the very synonym of our name?

"Whether you think of our territorial magnitude, already so vast, and of late years so strangely enlarged in some directions, for better or for worse, of the infinite variety and abundance of our national resources; or of that all but miraculous instrument, the Constitution of our country which, to quote the words of one of our distinguished citizens, 'for more than a hundred years, by its wonderful blending of strength and elasticity has stood the strain of conflict and met the demands of unprecedented progress without the necessity of change in a single essential feature.'

"Let me dwell a moment on only one or two of these enumerable particulars in which the greatness of our opportunity appears. It is true that extent of territory does not of itself make a nation great, but it will hardly be questioned that the wonderful power of our national life is tremendously reinforced by the extent and character of the domain which we possess. The Great American Desert—the very region whose incalculable value to the nation is at this moment being celebrated by the most splendid and stupendous exhibition ever presented to the world. And but little more than fifty years ago so able and amply furnished a statesman as Senator Benton declared his belief that there was not the remotest probability of our national boundary going beyond the Rocky Mountains.

"Thus Providence has prepared this country to maintain countless millions. It has been predicted that before the clock of the centuries strikes 2,000 there will be 200 millions of inhabitants in this land, and even then every man may be given more than double the space which Europe affords him today.

"Excepting the Philippines, already advancing toward capacity for self-government, and just as surely, we believe, towards independence with the glad consent of President Roosevelt and this whole country, irrespective of party, with this exception, our present island acquisitions, and any others that may follow in the course of events, bringing under our flag other tongues and other civilizations, will not disturb the national solidarity. They will soon be flooded with the outpouring of our distinctive life, every mark of essential difference will be swept away and before the century has run half its course they will be as thoroughly American as New Jersey or Virginia.

"We did not seek, we did not want these lands and the Philippines least of all. So far as any wish or purpose of ours was concerned, they were placed in our arms like poor little foundlings on the door-step of a hospital. But more pitiable still, they were not foundlings. They were claimed by a mother—God save the mark!—and they were committed to us as wretched children rescued by the law of humanity from the torturing grasp of that brutal mother. What then? We could not cast them out, to be picked up by any greedy power that might first lay hands upon them. No, this government said, and at first could say nothing less, 'they are mine—mine to carry, mine to nurture, mine to protect, mine to lift up and bless.' Yet who of us doubts, whatever faults may be found, that under the vast and utterly strange responsibilities imposed, the heart of the Administration has purposed nothing but the right and the best. This, then friends and fellow-citizens, is the 'larger place' in which God has set our feet.

"This world is coming, surely coming to the feet of Jesus Christ, the Great Son of God. Let our be foremost among the nations to bring it there, and that through the personal piety of its individual citizens. There is no other way."

After the discourse the congregation sang "My Country 'tis of Thee." "The General Thanksgiving," was led by Rev. Albert E. Finn, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, the congregation uniting. An offering was received for the Plainfield Relief Association. Following the offertory prayer by Rev. George B. Shaw, pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, the doxology was sung and the benediction was pronounced.

SAMUEL LUCKEY ESTATE ACCOUNTING IS APPROVED

DISTRIBUTION OF $23,000 TO BE MADE TO THE HEIRS.

In the Orphans' Court at New Brunswick, Wednesday, the final accounting of Albert Winter and Benjamin F. Luckey, executors of the estate of Justice Samuel Luckey, late of Dunellen, was approved.

The account showed the amount of the inventory to be $34,972 85 and the total receipts to be $35,882.56. Mr. Winter received commissions of $386.39 and Mr. Luckey fees of $311.82, the two executors agreeing that Mr. Winter should have $75 more than Mr. Luckey. Lawyer Craig Marsh, of this city, was allowed a fee of $750. The balance of the estate to be divided is about $23,000.

IRELAND'S EMANCIPATION

Story of Erin's Liberator Told by Father Clifford.

O'CONNELL'S WORK

Lecture Under the Auspices of St. Mary's Holy Name Society a Success.

The lecture delivered by Father Clifford, of Bloomfield, at the Casino Wednesday evening attracted a large audience. His subject was "The Catholic Emancipation of Ireland."

After thanking Father Egan, the rector of St. Mary's, for his kind words of introduction and expressing to the audience his appreciation of their flattering reception, of him, Father Clifford said: "The subject, ladies and gentlemen, which I have the honor to discuss before you this evening, like most of the questions which have furnished the data for religious and historical controversy in the past, labors under the initial disadvantage of being known in its main outlines, at least, to the least informed among you; that fact alone would seem to rob it of its interest and might well deter a more ambitious lecturer than myself from attempting to reopen it did I not remember that most of you who have come here tonight to listen to me are Irishmen, or the sons and daughters of Irishmen, or that all of you sympathize with Ireland because you share with her misunderstood and much-tried children in the bestage of a venerable and historic Faith. Yet it is no paradox to say that the question of the Catholic emancipation is for the descendants in this country one of the familiar of the historical problems, because it is identified in most minds with the splendor of a name which outshines all others in recent Irish history.

"The Catholic portion of the English speaking races of today, nos in Ireland only, but in the vast island continents, the southern seas, and most of all here in the United States of America, are so justly proud of the achievements of O'Connell, that their appreciation of the curious and complex movement in the direction of liberty, which began towards the close of the eighteenth century, and which it was the privilege, under Providence to carry to a glorious close, had become dimmed in consequence. As in every other prominent, and far reaching movement for the uplifting of humanity one man reaped where the others had sown—O'Connell entered with the labor of those who had gone before him, and because he brought these labors to so signal and so unselfish a close, the generations that have benefitted by his genius and his sacrifice, have kept his memory alive almost to the exclusion of every other name and every other force that compared with him to the long awaited issue. In this sense, therefore, it is hardly an exaggeration to contend that the greatest movement which began in 1771 and ended only in 1829, is still largely an unknown movement. It is an unknown movement for other and subtler reasons, ever than this, if one my find its sources in part in the drift of eighteenth century discussion in the speculations on government and progress of the rights of man with which Whigs and Doctrinaries in England and in France before the days of the French Revolution disturbed the dreams of the slow going and conservative in all ranks of society. One may detect its remote causes at work, too, in less lively quarters.

"The long lethargy, the social, if not the political sleep that penal system had injected for nearly sixty years into English every day life, and especially in the centers where ideas grow, and are fostered, reached at least upon the children of its projectors. Men began to ask themselves why they should be afraid of Catholics, seeing that Catholics had grown to be so poor and despised a portion of the body politics. Then came the inevitable change born of such self questioning Burke, Fiord Grattan, Fox, the two Pitts and Channing, filled the air with new and more generous principles of political expediency. The excesses of the French Revolution, which threw an army of 8,000 priests upon English shores, and compelled Protestants to see at closer hand, and in their own homes often, the real character of the religion they had so long endeavored to trample out of existence. The American struggle for independence, the unhappy controversies aroused by the veto question between the Milner and Cisalpine Club, and finally, the real fear that Burke's oft repeated prophecy might, indeed, come true, and that whatever

SPENT THE EVENING WITH THE PRESIDENTS

INSTRUCTIVE ENTERTAINMENT PROVIDED BY A CHURCH SOCIETY.

"An evening with some of our famous Presidents," was a pleasant form of entertainment provided for the members of the Epworth League, of the First M. E. church, last night, by the social committee, of which Miss Elsie Horne is the chairman. The affair was held in Vincent chapel, which was decorated with pictures of many Presidents and American flags.

The first part of the evening was devoted to the presentation of interesting papers on the lives of some of the Presidents. Miss Yoran read a paper on Jefferson. Rhey Snodgrass presented the life of Lincoln. Miss Ida Angleman told of the life of McKinley, while Louis Wilson read a paper on Roosevelt. Each paper gave principal incidents in the life of a President.

After the reading of the papers there were vocal solos by Mrs. Stephen H. Tugwell and Miss Gesswein, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Joseph Dunham. The rest of the evening was spent in a social manner and refreshments were served.

WILL HIGH LICENSE ABOLISH ANY SALOONS?

BELIEF THAT SOME DEALERS WILL BE FORCED TO RETIRE NEXT YEAR.

The recent action of the Common Council in raising the liquor license fee to $1,000, will, according to the opinion of several well versed in city affairs, have a tendency to reduce the number of licensed places. While it is not believed that the Councilmen had this phase of the question in mind when the fee was raised, there are some who think that one purpose for changing the fee was to rid the city of any undesirable drinking places.

A city official in speaking of the matter yesterday said that he did not know of any place in New Jersey where the liquor problem is handled more satisfactorily than here and where it gives so little trouble. That it is the desire of the present members of the Common Council to maintain this high standard, goes without saying, and it would not be surprising if Councilman W. S. Tyler should succeed in having his amendment to the ordinance to restrict the licensed district, adopted.

Friends of the saloons claim that with the present license fee of $700 very few dealers are making any money and with the increase to $1,000 they believe that some will be forced to retire. Friends of high license take the opposite view, arguing that the dealers are making money and that inasmuch as the police department and city court are quite largely maintained for the benefit of those who imbibe too freely and violate the city ordinances, the saloons and hotels should be made to stand a large part of the expense.

LOCAL FOOTBALL RESULTS

Summary of Games Played by Plainfield Teams This Year.

O. F. C. ELEVEN LEADS

Alis Also Makes a Good Showing—Plainfield High School and Leal's Results.

The football season having come to a close, a review of the games played by Plainfield teams is an interesting one. In respect to number of games played, and to points won, the Orange Field Club leads, closely followed by the Alis team. The Dunellen team made a fair showing in its last contest though in the first part of the season it encountered defeat on all sides.

With regard to the scholastic standing, the championship goes to Leal's, though in the matter of games played and the final result, the Plainfield High School leads. The North Plainfield school comes up in the rear. Leal's record received several hard knocks in the State Interscholastic league games.

The record of the Orange Field Club players for the past season is an enviable one. They have not been defeated once, and though they have had many challenges to their boast of the State 150 pound championship, there has been no team able to defeat them this season. It is a cause of regret to many that the contest between the Alis and the O. F. C. teams was not finished, as many believe that the older team could defeat the Oranges. It was impossible to make amicable arrangements between the two teams, however, and the dispute will remain undecided.

Among the teams which have fallen under the Orange Field Club's attack during the season are the following: Dunellen, Somerville, Flemington, Edward Clark, of Elizabeth, and the Navajoes, of Brooklyn. The total points scored by the O. F. C. is 89 to its opponets' 11.

Though they played fewer games, the Alis record is a good one. The total number of points won with Dunellen, Columbia Field Club and Madison A. C. is 71, while these teams scored only 5 points against them. The five points were made by the Columbia Field Club, of New York.

The Plainfield High School and Leal's team played against each other twice during the season, the first game going to Leal's by the score of 12 to 0, and the second by the score of 4 to 0. Leal's other games were with Carteret, Pingry, Montclair and Westfield High School. They won 49 points to their opponents' 56.

Besides the two contests with Leal's, the P. H. S. team played against Perth Amboy, Cranford, Carlton A. C., Cedarcroft, Rutgers Prep., and North Plainfield High School, winning in all 66 points against 57 scored by their opponents.

Mrs. Foster on Japan.

The Young Ladies' Missionary Society, of the First Baptist church, held a social meeting yesterday afternoon at the residence of R. J. Shreve, of Grove street. Mrs. F. C. Foster, of Newark, the president of the Farther Lights Societies of New Jersey, gave a talk on the Empire of Japan, using a wall map and a sand map in illustration. Her outline of the kingdom, customs of the people and mission stations was full of charm and interest.

Former Plainfielder Married.

Friends in this city have received cards announcing the marriage of Theodore Blydenburgh Smith, formerly of Westervelt avenue, and Miss Ella Searing Miller, of Morristown. The ceremony was performed at the latter's home Thanksgiving day. Mr. Smith has been living with his parents in Morristown since they removed from Plainfield and he is employed in the New York customs house.

Somerset Council Meeting.

The regular weekly meeting of Somerset Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., was held at the lodge rooms last evening, and was largely attended. Routine business was transacted, and a number of propositions for membership were received. At nearly every meeting of the lodge several propositions are received, and the membership is growing very fast.

Services Appreciated.

Frank Hedden was in charge of the carriages at the reception given to Miss Virginia Hegeman on Wednesday night and the dance on Thursday night at the Park Club, and his services called forth due appreciation. There were 118 carriages at the reception and fifty-seven at the Thanksgiving dance.

NAME LEE'S SUCCESSOR

Common Council to Fill the Vacancy on Monday Night.

AS TO CANDIDATES

To Accept Bond of Tax Collector—Spite House Matter May be Given a Hearing.

There will be an adjourned meeting of the Common Council on Monday night for the purpose of filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Robert L. Lee, who was chosen tax collector. This will probably be the principal business to come up. It is expected that Mr. Lee will qualify as collector by presenting his bond in the sum of $25,000.

While it is generally reported that the Fourth ward leaders will present the name of Herbert Buxton to succeed Mr. Lee as a Councilman from that ward, it cannot be said that the majority of the body favor him. It is generally supposed that Mr. Buxton's selection is a pro-liquor license move but the Common Council as now constituted has as its slogan "few licenses and high fees."

It is reported also that at least four names will be presented to Common Council from which a choice will be made for Mr. Lee's successor.

There will likely be some other matters to come before the Common Council, but they will be of minor importance as the bulk of the business for the month was transacted at the first adjourned meetig held after election.

It is not unlikely that the spite house matter may come up as the committee is said to be ready to make its report.

Trinity's Annual Remembrance.

The Missionary Society, of Trinity Reformed church Sunday-school, which has been engaged in collecting and purchasing articles of clothing, books, toys, dolls and other useful things, today shipped two boxes, one to Cloud Chief Sunday-school and the other to Lone Tree Sunday-school, Oklahoma. The boxes are valued at $35 and comprise the annual gift of Trinity Reformed church Sunday-schools to these schools in the west. It is so arranged that every member of the western schools will receive a gift of either clothing, a doll or a toy.

W. R. C. Dime Social.

Under the auspices of the Woman's Relief Corps a dime social and entertainment was held in G. A. R. Hall, last night. The attendance was large and the receipts gratifying. The programme consisted of vocal selections and recitations by Miss Mamie Smith, instrumental selections by Mrs. John Manley, vocal solos by Alfred Manley and recitations by Miss Try Mattox, after which there was a social time. Mrs. Andrew Cox was chairman of the committee in charge of the affair.

Fire at Cranford.

A fire which starrted in the easterly end of the two-story building, corner of North avenue and Alden street, Cranford, at midnight, completely gutted the building and resulted in a total loss of the contents. The firemen succeeded in confining the flames to the building and saving the bank building, telephone exchange and a large dwelling adjoining. The loss is estimated to be $3,000, partially covered by insurance. The building was owned by Hugo Fett.

Death of Mrs. Mooney.

Mary E. Mooney, wife of Phillip Mooney, died at her home on East Fifth street, yesterday, after a long illness. She was in her twenty-sixth year and came to this city recently from Bayonne. One child survives her. The funeral will be held from her late residence tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock and interment will be made at Barnegat Monday.

Robert Borrman Strong Dead.

Robert Borrman Strong, aged thirty-four years, son of Rev. Charles R. Strong, of Belvidere avenue, and well-known as an electrician, died last night at his home, 833 Webster place, of typhoid fever. He had been ill but a short time. He is survived by a wife. The funeral services will be held from the late home Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

No Cause of Action.

A verdict of no cause of action was brought in by the jury in the damage suit of Dr. George D. Herring against Charles Hand at Justice Hand's court yesterday afternoon. Though fought for a long time, there was little evidence brought out in the trial. S. S. Swackhamer represented Dr. Herring and William Newcorn appeared for Charles Hand.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Chambliss, of East Front street, enjoyed a portion of Thanksgiving Day with their daughter at Orange.

In repairing the building, Mr. MacDonald has planned to have it made one story higher and beautify it architecturally. Instead of a peaked roof as before it will be made flat, thus giving more room. EGYPT AND HER PEOPLE

Charles W. McCutchen Lectures in Warren Chapel.

LARGE ATTENDANCE

The River Nile, Cairo and Interesting Scenes Aptly Described in Detail.

Only recently returned from an eight months' trip abroad, the greater part of which was spent in the vast territory adjacent to the upper part of River Nile, Charles W. McCutchen, of the borough, addressed a large audience in Warren chapel, last evening, under the subject of "Egypt;" its land, people and religions." Experienced in traveling, Mr. McCutchen has the faculty of noting the most interesting persons and objects in foreign lands and his hearers derive the benefit.

According to his introductory remarks, the valley of the great river is 400,000 miles in area and is in reality a vast desert which is made fertile by the overflowing of the stream. Without it the great productions of wheat, corn and sugar cane, superior in many respects to those raised in this country, would be impossible. In addition its 1,500 miles of length is the great highway of travel, its bosom being dotted with thousands of picturesque boats of the type used before the birth of Christ. Since Egypt came under the control of the English, many modern methods in agriculture and commerce have been used but the people like to adhere to old customs and this is one of them.

Mr. McCutchen spoke highly of the work being accomplished by the American missionary societies in the Orient. From 12,000 to 14,000 pupils are receiving instruction in the schools at Cairo established by them and the natives are learning the value of an education. England has put an end to the tyranny practiced by the former powerful Khadi's and by lightening the tax burdens of the working people, has also done a great deal toward uplifting them.

Dwelling particularly upon the city of Cairo, Mr. McCutchen declared it to be one of the most cosmopolitan in the world. It is possible to stand at a certain point and note in the ever passing crowds on the street, the costumes of almost every nation on the globe. The Cairo citizen still clings to the loose flowing robes the same in every respect as those worn by Joseph when he made his journey to Egypt. The women have very little freedom and the speaker contrasted their narrowed confines with the many privileges enjoyed by their American sisters.

The speaker told in detail of the Mohammedan religion, which prevails in Egypt, and he declared the fidelity of its followers exceeds that of those in other countries. Although there is nothing tangible in their beliefs, it is a common sight to see merchant in the little street bazaars become oblivious to their surroundings and pay homage to their gods. They will observe their beliefs several times a day whether Europeans are watching them or not.

In conclusion Mr. McCutchen referred to the almost total absence of the liquor drinking habit in the country and declared that if America were as free from the curse it would be a happy state of affairs. The lecture was of absorbing interest throughout and was one of the most complete in wealth of detail that has yet been given in the city.

APPOINTED TRUSTEE.

Lewis Squires Will Wind Up Affairs of Big New England Concern.

Lewis Squires, of Watchung avenue, son of Henry C. Squires, was appointed as trustee by Referee Lewis, of Hoboken, on Thursday, to administer the estate and dispose of the assets of the Johnson Dunbar Mills Company, which went into bankruptcy last October. The concern operated large cotton mills at North Adams, Mass. The liabilities were $410,000 with assets of about $350,000.

Mr. Squires is a Plainfield High School boy and a graduate of Williams College. The position of trustee in this instance is an important one and the selection was made after careful consideration.

County Election Expenses.

The last election cost the taxpayers of Union county $15,000, an average of sixty cents for each vote cast. In Somerset county the expense was $5,250. It is said that additional polling places proposed before the next election will increase this sum in that county.

AMUSEMENTS.

The announcement issued last Saturday from the Belasco Theatre, New York, concerning Mrs. Leslie Carter and her new play, was almost sensational in its surprise. Speculation has been rife as to David Belasco's plans for Mrs. Carter this season. By some it had been reported, though without the authority or wish of Mr. Belasco, that Mrs. Carter was to appear in a half dozen different plays. Others have had it that she was to retire absolutely for one year. It is with considerable satisfaction, therefore, that Mr. Belasco makes the personal statement that not only has Mrs. Carter never had the slightest intention to take a season's rest, but that preparations for the new work have been going on steadily for more than a year, and that rehearsals will begin Monday morning at the Belasco Theatre.

"Woodland" is the name of the latest comic opera by Pixley and Luders. It is a production by Henry W. Savage, and is to be seen at the New York Theatre. The idea of melody is always associated with birds, so in building an opera in which the characters are all members of the feathered tribe, it may be imagined that some happy results have been worked out of the notion of placing birds on the stage to sing. But while the lark, the nightingale, the canary and the mocking bird suggest music, and they are all in "Woodland," there are other feathered denizens of the forest, such as the raven, the parrot, the owl and the rooster, not one of whom is especially noted for musical endowments but all of whom can be utilized for fun making purposes. These are also characters in "Woodland," and as there are no human beings in the piece, it may be imagined that a quaint, merry, melodious performance is given by the denizens of birdland.

ATTACK ON FOOTBALL.

Superintendent Draper Says It Is a Breeder of Many Evils.

BOSTON, Nov. 26.—The sixtieth annual meeting of the Massachusetts Teachers' association, which was opened here for a two day session, brought together not only leading state educators but also a number well known outside of New England. The general session was opened with an address on physical exercise by Andrew S. Draper, LL. D., superintendent of public instruction in New York.

Mr. Draper discussed physical training and athletics in schools. Speaking particularly of football, he declared that the game should be purged and saved from its attendant evils. He expressed his agreement with criticisms of football that it is a sport which induces professionalism; that it encourages real battle rather than open manliness; that it is too expensive for sport and gathers more money than ought to be under the control of students, and that it breeds loafing, gaming and drinking and does not make for educated effectiveness and sound living.

Five Horses Fell In a Bunch.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 26.—Several hard fought finishes added vigor to the sport at Cumberland park, but the talent was out of line. Only one favorite, Clyde, got the money, the defeat of Korea in the second proving an especially hard blow to the form players. In the steeplechase, after Bank Holiday and Russell Sage had fought to the limit, the verdict went to the former by a nose. Five horses fell in a bunch on the back stretch in the fifth race, Jockey Baird having two ribs broken and being possibly hurt internally. The trouble started when Travers, with Baird up, stumbled and went down. Our Sallie, Hot, Mizzenmast and Anna Fitzhugh following in an ugly looking mixup.

Racing at Bennings.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Two favorites finished among the winners at the Bennings course. Travers, Redfern and Tommy Burns evenly divided the riding honors. Preen, an 8 to 1 shot, in a bold bid at the finish of the fifth race, beat out the heavily played favorite, Oxford, by three-quarters of a length, and equaled the track record of 1:14 2-5. The highweight handicap for two-year-olds went to Dazzle, who kept close up to the front most of the way and won from Alforten in a drive. Race King, an odds on favorite, lost the second race to Out of Reach, an outsider.

Athletic Cup For Wellesley.

WELLESLEY, Mass., Nov. 26.—As a result of winning both the tennis and hockey events at Wellesley college the class of 1906 receives the cup given yearly to the class taking the highest number of points in the fall athletic meet. The tennis championship for 1904 was won by Miss Charlotte Thomas, '06, of Philadelphia, who defeated Miss Marguerite Mackellar of Germantown, Pa., winner of the championship last year.

Dan Patch's Fast Mile.

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 26.—Dan Patch, the world's champion pacer, went against time here, making the mile paced by a runner in 2:01 1-5. The time by quarters was 30½, 29½, 30, 30 1-5. With a strong breeze blowing against him the pacer slowed up in the stretch. Ten thousand persons witnessed the event.

Racing at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26.—Favorites fared badly, Mimosa and Dick Bernard being the only ones to finish first. Jade's race in the fifth was a miserable effort, and Federal, in the last race, was practically left at the post. Atlas unseated her rider in the first furlong of the first race.

World's Bantam Championship.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Pinkey Evans, a local pugilist, has left, accompanied by his trainer, Joseph Smith, for New York, where he will sail immediately for England to meet Joe Bowker for the world's bantamweight championship.

Vesuvian at Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—The six and a half furlongs handicap at Oakland resulted in the victory of Vesuvian, who showed some of his old time form, winning handily from Albula. In the last race Heather Honey beat Telephone a nose.

Hon. Francis B. Cooley Dead.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 26.—Hon. Francis Buell Cooley is dead here. He was eighty-two years old and was born in Granville, Mass. When twenty-five years old Mr. Cooley went to Chicago, where he founded the wholesale dry goods house of Cooley, Marwell & Co., from which sprung Field & Leiter, Marshall, Field & Co. and many other dry goods houses there. In eighteen years Mr. Cooley acquired a handsome fortune and came to Hartford in 1865.

Kaiser as Arbitrator.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—A secret treaty has been signed at Santiago, Chile, between the Bolivian minister at that capital, Senor Alberto Gutierrez, and the Chilean minister of foreign relations, Senor Emelio Bello, in which the emperor of Germany is named as arbitrator in any difficulty arising between the two countries.

CZAR AND ZEMSTVOS

Emperor May Grant Russia a Constitution.

ST. PETERSBURG LIBERALS REJOICE

Delegation Explained to Nicholas Their Plans to Save the Empire From Being Ruined by Revolution.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 27.—The unexpected may happen after all. The meeting of the zemstvos' "first Russian congress," as it is now called, may indeed work the inauguration of a new era for Russia. Emperor Nicholas, the initiator of the plan for universal disarmament, may turn back upon the reactionaries and crown his reign by granting to his subjects the constitution which his grandfather had already prepared when he fell by the hand of an assassin.

The basis of such a possibility is the insignificant fact that late yesterday afternoon the emperor received in the palace at Tsarskoe-Selo M. Schipoff of Moscow, M. Petrunkeivitch of Tver, M. Rodzianko of Ekaterinoslav and Count Heiden, four prominent members of the zemstvo congress, and listened at length to their views. It develops that when Minister of the Interior Sviatopolk-Mirsky presented the zemstvo memorial and resolutions on Nov. 24 the emperor was so deeply impressed as well by the contents of the documents as by the character of the signers that he immediately expressed the desire to personally receive a deputation of four. The zemstvoists therefore went to Tsarskoe-Selo by imperial command. At their audience, it is understood, they explained fully their position and reiterated the views expressed by the memorial that the salvation of the empire from ruin by revolution lay in the adoption of the general ideas expressed in the memorial. The emperor was greatly impressed by what he heard and asked many questions. While it is understood that he gave no indication of his purpose except the sympathy he displayed, the deputation when they returned to St. Petersburg were in high spirits. Naturally they declined to say anything for publication regarding the visit.

The news that the delegation had been given an audience by the emperor spread like wildfire through the city last night and created a tremendous sensation—rejoicing among the Liberals and amazement among the uncompromising supporters of the old regime. Earlier in the day the report was current that an immediate effect of the zemstvo meeting would likely be the realization of the plan for giving two elected zemstvo representatives seats in the council of the empire.

"All the members of the congress," said one of the delegates, "are large landed proprietors. A leveling process which would put the moujik on an equality with them must be prejudicial to their personal interests. In no other country in the world except Russia would you find men anxious to make sacrifices for an altruistic ideal. The same thing, however, happened with the emancipation of the serfs in the time of Alexander II., when many nobles advocated the measure, though it meant practically ruin for them personally."

Cuban Cities Are Clean.

HAVANA, Nov. 26.—There has been a conference between Dr. Guiteras, the yellow fever expert, and President Palma here, at the conclusion of which the following statement was given out: "It is incredible that alarm has been caused in Washington over sanitary conditions in Cuba because the United States sanitary authorities know that the conditions in Cuba are not such as to cause any disquietude and that the sanitary authorities of Cuba would promptly give notice of any quarantinable diseases if such existed."

Arrested at Funeral of Victim.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 26.—George Gay and his son, Lester Gay, were arrested at the entrance to the cemetery near Agency, Mo., on the charge of murdering Mrs. George Gay, wife of the elder Gay and mother of Lester. The woman's throat was cut, and the father and son claimed to have found her dead when they came in from the field for dinner. Mrs. Gay had just been interred when the sheriff from St. Joseph made the arrests.

Doyle Died From Exposure.

MAHANOY CITY, Pa., Nov. 26.—After hearing the result of the autopsy performed on the body of John T. Doyle of Paterson, N. J., by Dr. Joseph H. Klock a coroner's jury last night returned a verdict that his death was due to exposure resulting from dissipation. Doyle's half nude corpse was found in a lonely spot a quarter of a mile east of the borough Sunday morning.

Murdered Man Found In Street.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—The police are endeavoring to unravel the mystery surrounding the murder of an unknown Italian whose body was found on the sidewalk in front of a tenement house in the slums. The man was about thirty-eight years of age and had been stabbed in the back. One arrest has been made.

Peace Treaties Are In Order.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—News has reached here of the signing of a treaty between Peru and Brazil looking to the peaceful settlement of the boundary disputes between the two nations and the adjustment of claims arising out of the boundary line disputes.

ACROSS FIVE STATES

President Roosevelt and Party at St. Louis Fair.

HEARTY GREETINGS ALONG THE LINE

As Guests of the Exposition They Will Do the Great Show In Whirlwind Record Time, as Their Stay Will Be Short.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—President Roosevelt's special train on arriving here this morning did not go to the Union station, but was switched to the Wabash tracks and ran directly to the fair grounds, where the president received a great ovation.

President Francis and the officials of the St. Louis Exposition company met the presidential party on arrival. The weather was fine, and all St. Louis realized their joyful anticipations of Mr. Roosevelt's visit.

After traversing the five great states of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois en route to St. Louis the president and his party are guests of the officials of the Louisiana Purchase exposition.

During the sojourn in St. Louis the president, Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt and Secretary and Mrs. Loeb are the guests of William H. Thompson, treasurer of the exposition company. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson will be entertained at the residence of President Francis, while the remaining members of the party will be the guests of the Buckingham club.

The feature of the journey from Washington to St. Louis was the enthusiasm with which the president everywhere was received. Every station through which the special train has passed was thronged with people anxious even to catch a glimpse of the president. Stops were made only at division terminals, and at some of them hundreds of people had assembled to greet Mr. Roosevelt and to show their kindly feeling for him.

The president thoroughly enjoyed the rest he has had en route. The time he has spent chiefly in reading and in chatting with Mrs. Roosevelt and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson. At nearly every station where the train slowed down the president appeared on the rear platform of his car and bowed his acknowledgment to the enthusiasm of the people.

The most notable demonstration of the day was given the president at Pittsburg. The station where the train stopped for a few minutes was thronged, but only a fractional part of the crowd was permitted on the platform near the train.

To them the president expressed his pleasure at the opportunity afforded him to see them and added:

"You may depend upon it I will do all that in me lies to show you that you made no mistake on Nov. 8."

Throughout the run of the train through the city President Roosevelt remained on the rear platform of his car, bowing and waving his hat to the crowds of people assembled at every vantage point along the railroad track. The windows of the factories and shops along the line were filled with faces of eager workmen, who cheered and waved hats and hands as the train swept by.

At Steubenville, O., the station platform was banked with men, women and children, scores of whom waved American flags in extending their greeting to the president.

A live coon was presented to the president at Denison, where the special train stopped for a few minutes. After the president had greeted the people, addressing them practically as he had spoken at Pittsburg, and as the train was pulling out of the station a man swung the coon over the railing of the car platform and shouted:

"Take him, he will bring you good luck."

When the president laughed and shook his head deprecatingly, the man again shouted:

"You must take him. I'm a lifelong Democrat, and I wish you good luck."

Attached to the chain around the little animal's neck was a card bearing this inscription:

"Compliments of Tuscarawas County, O. Plurality for Roosevelt, 2,224; for Bryan in 1900, 613. Presented by D. J. Strope, Denison, O."

The coon will be taken to Washington and placed in the National Zoological park.

When the train pulled into the station at Columbus the president's car was immediately surrounded by a great crowd. The president was cheered heartily as he stepped out on the platform. He spoke briefly as follows:

"I want to say what a pleasure it is to me to be traveling through your great state and now to be at its capital. I have enjoyed my trip through the state, and, perhaps you will pardon my saying it, I enjoyed even more what you did on Nov. 8."

Myron T. Herrick, governor of Ohio, and R. H. Jeffreys, mayor of Columbus, entered the car and formally extended to the president the greetings of the people of the state and of the capital city.

As the train drew into Indianapolis at a late hour tremendous applause greeted President Roosevelt, who stood upon the observation platform bowing to the people, who scrambled eagerly for space close to the rear of the train.

When the applause had subsided the president expressed his pleasure at being able once more to visit Indianapolis, saying among other things:

"I have always thought a great deal of Indianapolis, and I now have reason to think more of her than ever. I thank you all for coming out here to see me, and I assure you that I appreciate it."

"What's the matter with Ohio?" yelled some one in the crowd.

"Not a thing," answered President Roosevelt, "and I want to tell you that there are a lot of other good ones." Leaning over the rail, the president said good naturedly, "What's the matter with Missouri?"

Deafening cheers greeted the sally.

After exchanging a few pleasantries with the people and bidding them good night the president retired.

The exposition management, police officials, government secret service officers and those in command of United States troops on duty at the world's fair, after several conferences, have completed arrangements for the protection of President Roosevelt from any possible harm during his visit to the exposition. The arrangements to guard him are most complete.

FUSHIMI GOT HIS GEMS.

Japanese Heirlooms Returned as Mysteriously as They Disappeared.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—Although Prince Fushimi's stolen jewels have been recovered, the greatest secrecy and mystery surrounded the matter. The police refuse to discuss it, and the management of the Buckingham club, where the robbery occurred and where the prince made his headquarters, is disinclined to throw any light on the matter.

When Prince Fushimi left for Philadelphia he took with him the beautiful watch, the solitaire pearl and bar rings incrusted with jewels which so mysteriously disappeared from his dressing room during his absence from his apartments. The jewels reappeared in the same manner that they disappeared.

The presumption is that one of the prince's attendants took the valuables and then, either because of contrition or cowardice, returned them to the place from which they were stolen.

New Mexico and Texas In Line.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Senator Newlands of Nevada has arrived in Washington, having attended the national irrigation congress at El Paso, Tex., en route. He regards this congress as one of the most important yet held and says that it will be fruitful of results. "It practically settled the controversy between New Mexico and Texas," said the senator, "and the international contest between the United States and Mexico as to the waters of the Rio Grande by bringing the delegates from New Mexico, Texas and Mexico into agreement as to the location of a great dam and reservoir at Elephant buttes, in New Mexico."

Carried a Joke Too Far.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26. — The hazing of Albert De Rome by his fellow students of the Mark Hopkins Institute of Art promises to result in severe trouble to those who participated in the affair. Louis De Rome of Oakland, an uncle of the youth, declares that he will cause the arrest and criminal prosecution of the persons who maltreated his nephew. Albert De Rome, the victim, is still without the full use of his lower limbs, which were partially paralyzed when he was subjected to repeated shocks in a miniature fake electric chair execution by a number of young men who had him completely at their mercy.

National Bank Fails.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 26.—The effort to carry through a huge mining enterprise is believed to be the chief cause of the closing of the Big Bend National bank at Davenport, Wash., yesterday. This enterprise is the driving of a tunnel into Palmer mountain, in Okanogan county, for a distance estimated at two miles, cutting many veins of gold and silver ore at great depths. For several years C. C. May, the president, and former Lieutenant Governor F. H. Luce, a director of the bank, have been backing this plan, and it is believed the bank has been involved by heavy loans to further the plan.

Well Cleared Himself.

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Joseph Well, suspected by the police of being Mr. Dove, the alleged murderer of Chauffeur William Bate, has cleared himself. He visited the Auditorium hotel and faced Edward Slavin. "Take a good look at me," said Well, "and tell me if you can identify me as Mr. Dove." "You don't look any more like Mr. Dove than I do," replied Slavin.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

R. G. Dun & Co. Report Business Retarded by Mild Weather.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Retail and jobbing trade was retarded by unseasonably mild weather and the interruption of another holiday, but manufacturers are extending operations as confidence is strengthened by the receipt of larger contracts for future delivery and many inquiries that promise to mature in something more tangible. Postponed orders of all kinds are being placed, reports from every prominent industry indicating that idle mills are reopening and the number of operatives gradually increasing.

Cotton spinning makes the slowest progress, but the statistical position steadily improves as stocks of goods diminish and the raw material declines nearer the point at which the mills can operate profitably. Other textile lines, footwear and practically all branches of iron and steel industry are gaining steadily.

Some delay is noted in the movement of freight, while railway returns for November thus far show a gain of 6 per cent over last year's gross earnings. Foreign trade at this port for the last week exceeds that of a year ago by $2,432,364 in value of merchandise exports and $1,533,309 in imports. Gold exports have at last raised rates for call loans, which checked the advance in securities. Bank exchanges at New York for the week were 81.5 per cent larger than last year, chiefly due to activity in Wall street, while at other leading cities the gain was 20.6 per cent.

Leading farm staples have declined somewhat in price level, after sharp fluctuations, especially in the option markets. Heavy exports of wheat from Russia, a larger quantity on passage, increasing receipts at primary domestic markets and a poor milling demand combined to bring quotations of wheat a little nearer normal, particularly at the northwest. As a partial offset the crop news was less favorable.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for November aggregated $6,861,857, of which $3,283,369 were in manufacturing, $2,791,355 in trading and $787,133 in other commercial lines. Failures for the week numbered 205 in the United States against 258 last year and in Canada 39 compared with 14 a year ago.

Thought to Obey Divine Command.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 26.—Death from fasting under an impression that he was obeying a divine command was the fate of the Rev. D. C. Buckles of Addystone, a suburb of Cincinnati. He was found dead in his bed after fasting forty days. He had been for years a local Methodist preacher of Clermont county. His license was not renewed last year, and he became an adherent of a religious body outside the regular denominations. To his former pastor, who pleaded with him, he said he was acting under direct command from God, and he would as a result be much more useful. His sister declared that her brother was not dead, but sleeping.

Said He Was Justified.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—"Yes, Frank shot me, but he was justified. I would have done the same to him," was the antemortem statement made to the coroner by Guy Roche, the gambler who was twice shot on Broadway and who now lies in a hospital with little chance of recovery. The statement was made in the presence of his alleged assailant, Frank Felton, who refused to take Roche's hand.

MUST RENEW ATTACK

Fort Arthur Must Fall Before Baltic Fleet Saves It.

STOESSEL TO MAKE CAPTURE COSTLY

Tokyo Prepared For Terrible Reports of the Impending Assault. Desperate Efforts Expected From Garrison.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The Japanese army has been ordered by the general staff at Tokyo to renew its attack on Port Arthur and to take the main fortifications at any cost.

Such a move has been expected to transpire as soon as the Japanese learned that the squadron's trip was an actuality and no mere demonstration. The authorities are prepared to hear terrible reports of the projected assault. While not hazarding a guess whether the fortress can be carried if the besiegers are utterly regardless of human life, they are confident that General Stoessel will be able to make such an attack one of the costliest operations in the history of war.

A dispatch from Tokyo says that the Japanese saps directed against Rhuling mountain, Sungshu mountain and east Keekwan mountain have reached the base of the center dispatches.

The defensive works outside the parapets of Rhuling mountain and Sungshu mountain have been captured, leaving the Russians in possession of the parapets only. The Japanese guns are shelling the parapets and inflicting heavy damage.

The occupation of the forts is expected shortly. If the forts are taken, the capture of Port Arthur proper seems to be assured within a short time.

The possession of the outside defenses of Rhuling and Keekwan forts enables the Japanese to place a sufficient force on the north front of the eastern ridge of forts to execute a sweeping movement against the battery positions on the crest of the western ridge of forts and Two Hundred and Three Meter hill, which as yet they have not captured.

A short dispatch from General Kuroki's headquarters says that reports circulated during the last week, that General Kuropatkin, in making a general advance, had pushed back the Japanese left a distance of three miles are wholly unfounded.

Both armies have strengthened their defense and accumulated supplies.

The Russians continue their reconnoissances in front of the Japanese left, but there has been no general engagement or change in the Japanese intrenched positions.

A dispatch from Mukden states that the Hun and Taitse rivers have been frozen over. The low stage of water in the Liao river impedes the transport of Japanese stores from Yinkow. The removal of the wounded from Liaoyang to Dalny is being executed with difficulty for the same reason.

Japan in a friendly spirit has drawn the attention of Great Britain to the supply of coal furnished by British vessels to the Russian fleet.

The Baltic squadron has arrived safely at the Bitter lakes, in the Suez canal. Under instructions the destroyers left the remainder of the squadron and went on to Suez, where they anchored, preceding the transports, which went through under electric light, arriving at 2 a. m. this morning. While the destroyers were passing through the canal the crews were stationed at their guns and torpedo tubes.

The cruisers and battleships left the Bitter lakes at daylight this morning.

Archbishop Ireland Denies.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Archbishop Ireland denied the statement sent out from St. Paul that Father John T. Harrison, former pastor of St. Joseph's parish, had won his appeal to the holy see at Rome. The archbishop said: "The report as published is wholly incorrect. There had been indeed a controversy in St. Paul, Father Harrison having been removed by the archbishop from St. Joseph's church as a consequence of his refusal to go where the archbishop had sent him and also had been suspended from his ecclesiastical office."

Wireless Told of Michael's End.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Jimmy Michael, the bicyclist, died at sea on Nov. 21, and his body was brought here on the French line steamer La Savoie, which reached her dock last night. Death was said to be due to congestion of the brain. Gougoltz and Petit Breton, two French cyclists who accompanied Michael, took charge of the body and sent a wireless report of the death in advance of the steamer's arrival.

Peace Treaties In Vogue.

BERN, Nov. 26.—The Swiss confederation has signed treaties of arbitration with the United States, Great Britain and Italy. The Swiss minister at Berlin also has been authorized to sign a convention with Sweden and Norway. The treaties are subject to ratification by the federal assembly.

Gunboat Eagle Hit a Rock.

BOSTON, Nov. 26.—The United States converted gunboat Eagle has been damaged by striking a ledge while leaving Bostou harbor to act as a stake boat for the trial of the cruiser Pennsylvania. The accident occurred Tuesday afternoon at low tide. The Eagle was floated soon afterward.

To "stand pat" may mean not to move forward.

If you are opposed to spite houses write to your Councilman expressing your condemnation of property wrecking. "Do it now."

It's a hundred to one shot that County Chairman Hamilton F. Kean thought on Thanksgiving day of the great victory he engineered for the Republican party on November and incidently that his brother will be returned to the U. S. Senate without opposition.

What bosh it is to believe that the Government seriously intends to investigate the Standard Oil Company, when that curse of humanity is greater than the party in power and can change the administration whenever it wills. Remember the beef trust investigation? Well, what did it accomplish.

District Attorney Jerome's agitation for a law allowing New York saloons to open after 1 o'clock on Sunday afternoons is typical of the man. If he is half the reformer he would lead people to believe, the great gallery-playing prosecutor would be more active in stamping out the violations of existing excise laws.

Advertising pays, says the Philadelphia Record. President Roosevelt was advertised in the magazines, together with colleges, soaps, household necessities and books, and Governor-elect Douglas, of Massachusetts, put full-page advertisements at regular space rates in all the big newspapers and smaller advertisements in the less important ones, and he kept them running for weeks. Therefore Massachusetts gave Mr. Roosevelt a plurality of 85,000 and Mr. Douglas a plurality of 35,000.

Attacks Trenton Organ.

Editor, The Daily Press:

The Daily Gazette, of Trenton, shows its spleen and animous in the late campaign when it says "If Charles O. Black refuses to resign from the Equal Taxation Commission the other members of that body should make every act and utterance of Mr. Black as conspicuous as possible." It is to be hoped that Mr. Black will not resign, but remain to fight the battle for equal taxation in our State. His acts and utterances have been made conspicuous, and through these utterances the public has learned much regarding the unfair methods in vogue with reference to assessments and taxation. Mr. Black's position through the whole tax controversy has been that of a dignified and patriotic citizen. Not one ungenerous or untruthful reference was made by him regarding his opponent. Upon Mr. Black's part the campaign was conducted upon a high plane. Such remarks as the above will not elevate the position in journalism of the paper that makes them.

Respectfully,
J. E. Martine.

Robert Lee, because he got a $2,250 job collecting taxes.

Rev. Dr. Snodgrass, because his church edifice is improved and the cost has been paid.

Newton B. Smalley, because he's still on the map.

Elias H. Bird, because the National administration will remain the same.

L. V. F. Randolph, because the people are aroused over "spite houses."

Frank H. Smith, because he stood pat with his party last fall and got a $6,000 job this fall.

James E. Martine, because he got a big complimentary vote here.

English Catholics might attempt their Irish brethren, at any rate who had been treated for over a century, as something little better than 'half slaves' might end in becoming whole 'Jacobines.'

"These men, the forces and movements and personalities, which, acting sometimes in opposition as the waters of a rising flood are wont to act, created at least, the condition of things that made it possible for O'Connel to succeed where many had failed.

"In a subject so vast in outline, and so many sided in movement, it would be impossible adequately to portray the characters who prepared the highways for O'Connell's march. Bourke, Fox, Grattan, Canning, and that most inscrutable, yet interesting of all personalities, the younger Pitt—what is the tale of their parliamentary work, to the sad story of English-Catholic compromise with schism, Erastianism, on the one hand, and Irish fidelity on the other? It was to the resolute stand taken by the Irish bishops that Emancipation was finally due, when English-Catholic noblemen and nearly the whole body of the English Vicars Apostolic, were ready to batter away the church's prerogatives for the dubious privilege of a franchise that would with neither dignity nor true political believe. What was hardest of all to understand was the attitude of the Holy See during this distressful period of controversy from 1808 to 1820, when Dr. Milner and the Irish Episcopate stood out against Mr. Charles Butler and the Catholic committee in England on the famous 'fifth clause or the veto question.

"This unhappy chapter in our history could only be understood if we remembered the condition of affairs at Rome, while Pius VII was a prisoner in Napoleon's hands." The speaker also alluded with great candor to the subsequent suspension pronounced at Rome in 1820 against Dr. Milner, who was prohibited from writing in the columns of the orthodox journal, under penalty of being deprived of his See.

"Milner's disgrace, at this moment of his career only served to enhance the man's title to gratitude at the hands of the Catholics when O'Connell's generosity and enterprise finally carried the day on April, 1829."

The speaker reminded his audience that his special treatment of the subject practically ended with the accession of George IV in 1820. "The history of the Emancipation movement, after that date," said the speaker, "was substantially [the history of O'Connell's career.

"The event had proved that the great Parliamentary victory which began with the Clare election, was but an episode in a large and a more protracted struggle on which the nerve and the tumult and the men's understanding were still with us. The emancipation of a creed, it was felt, howsoever much men might gainsay it, was but a step to the emancipation of a race.

"The Repeal movement of the first half of the nineteenth century was a logical prelude of an agitation of which the end is not yet."

PERSONAL.

—Several well-known society men of this city, will partake of a game dinner at the Casino, this evening.

—Peter Doeringer, head florist for Charles W. McCutchen, of the borough, who has extensive conservatories, is very proud of this season's success in flower and plant growing. A beautiful display of all kinds of flowers is to be seen, including orchids and roses. There is a new orchid which is attracting more than ordinary attention from lovers of flowers. Visitors are always welcome at the conservateries.

ZOOLOGY OF THIBET

SOME QUEER ANIMALS FOUND IN THAT STRANGE LAND.

Each Different Climatic and Physical Division Is Tenanted by Its Distinct Group of Animals.

In the course of a conversation on Thibet a sporting friend once remarked to the writer: "Oh! yes, that is the country where the llamas come from." This, of course, was a confusion between llamas and lamas; but although Thibet is not the home of llamas, it is, nevertheless, the habitat of quite a number of peculiar types of large wild animals. Indeed, no other continental area of equal extent, at least in the old world, can lay claim to such a unique and remarkable assemblage. To a considerable degree it would appear that this peculiarity of the fauna is due to the great elevation of the Thibetan plateau, which has involved special adaptations on the part of its animals. It must be borne in mind, however, that Thibet has several different climatic and physical divisions, each tenanted by its own distinct group of animals, which would appear to have originated from types inhabiting the adjacent lowlands.

One of the most typical animals of the arid plateau is the yak, or Thibetan bison, which is one of the finest members of the ox tribe, specially adapted for a cold climate by the mass of long shaggy hair on the tail and under-parts, which protects the vital organs when the creature is reposing on the frozen ground. The same area is the home of the kiang or Thibetan wild ass, a handsome red-and-white animal, with a large head and small ears, which appears to be somewhat intermediate between the horse and the true wild asses. Its nearest relative is the chigetai of Mongolia, but whether it is a local race of the latter or a species by itself is still a somewhat moot point.

Side by side with the kiang may be found two very remarkable types of antelope—namely, the chiru, or Thibetan antelope, and the goa, or Thibetan gazelle. The big-horned Thibetan argali, or Hodgson's wild sheep, is likewise a native of the arid plateau, and yields some of the finest and most coveted of sporting trophies. A smaller wild sheep is the shapu, the local forms of which have a wide range in central Asia, one race—the urial—being a native of the Punjab Salt range. On the other hand, the blue sheep, or bharal, is confined to Thibet, inhabiting the mountains to the south of the central plateau. It is a beautifully marked animal, with smooth olive-green horns.

Most of the other mammals of the high plateau belong to types relating to common Asiatic mammals. The snow-leopard, for instance, although a well-marked species, ranges westward at least as far as Gilgit and Chitral; while the Thibetan lynx is a race of the European lynx adapted by its pale coloring for a desert existence. The Thibetan marmot and the Thibetan blue hares, which are distinct species, belong to widely spread generic types.

Passing on to the mammals of the forest region of the Moupin district of eastern Thibet, and thence into the north-western provinces of China, we may first take the Thibetan snub-nosed monkey, the typical representative of a small group allied to the langurs, or sacred monkeys of India. An even more notable animal is the great panda, which appears to have the same distribution as the snub-nosed monkey. Although in appearance very like a small black-and-white bear, structurally this animal is allied to the long-tailed black-and-red panda of the western Himalaya, which is a relative of the American raccoons. Both the great and the long-tailed panda have the same peculiar type of short and somewhat cat-like face. Eastern Thibet is also the home of a small species of true bear, in which the color somewhat resembles that of the great panda, thus suggesting that in both cases it is connected with protection.

From the forests near Lhassa has been obtained a handsome and peculiar deer, know neither as the Lhassa stag or Thorold's deer, of the size of a red deer, but with a dark brown coat, a white muzzle, and flattened antlers with fewer tines. A still more interesting deer is the small Thibetan tufted deer, which is of the approximate size of a roebuck, but with rudimentary antlers recalling those of the Indian muntjac, and a plum-colored coat relieved with white. When first described, this deer was the only representative of its kind known, but two other species are now familiar in China. Little space remains to notice the shon, or Sikkim deer, which is, however, scarcely a true Thibetan animal, as its habitat appears to be the forest zone of the upper Chumbi valley.

LARGEST CUT-GLASS VASE.

Biggest Article of the Kind in Existence Is on Exhibition in St. Louis.

The largest piece of cut glass in the world, a vase as tall as a man, and as brilliant in every part as the finest small piece, has been completed in Philadelphia and shipped to the St. Louis exposition, where it has been placed in the industrial art display. The vase is five feet six and three-fourths inches in height, and every inch of it is perfectly worked in sunbursts, chrysanthemums and beaded and notched effects that shed prismatic rays of brilliance and luster. The sunbursts on the star are too large to be designated by that usual cut glass term, so they have been given a new name, the Louisiana Purchase star. In all there are 100,000 cuts or deep incisions on the vase, which required turning it 200,000 times. The vase weighs 200 pounds. It was produced by nine men, who spent 2,000 working hours on it. The man who made the blank is six feet seven inches tall. A shorter man could not have handled the great piece of glass. Twenty blanks were turned out before a perfect one was produced. The remarkable brilliancy of the vase is caused by the fusing in the glass of ten per cent. more lead than is ordinarily used. The vase is several times larger than the previous greatest piece of cut glass, completely dwarfing it.

BASKETBALL GIRLS QUIT.

Outlook for Coming Season Is Very Gloomy According to Captain of Eastern Team.

"Our outlook for basketball isn't very bright this year," remarked the captain of the senior basketball team of a well-known woman's college to a Philadelphia Press reporter.

"Our worst loss is going to be our center, who doesn't return to college this year because she is going to be married. Of course, I can forgive her, but just listen to the excuses the others offer: One girl writes that she can't play this year because the game makes her hands large, and her father objects to that. Another says she can't play because she always loses her temper when the umpire calls a foul on her, and that her mother is afraid she'll become a regular 'cross-patch.' I did expect something better of our goal defender, but here is her resignation along with the others, saying that she met a girl this summer who had played in that position at Bryn Mawr for three years, and she was such an aggressive, assertive person that she's afraid if she plays goal defender any longer she will become like the Bryn Mawr woman."

BROKER'S LUNCH COSTLY.

Sells 5,000 Shares to Pay for Meal and Finds That Stock Soars Three Points.

There is a good story told of a well-known broker, which, though rather expensive to him, serves to illustrate some of the methods which are in vogue during the period when the public is out of the market. In such times, says the Brooklyn Eagle, brokers get practically no commission business and they are simply gambling as much among themselves as if they sat down to a table with a poker layout. The incident mentioned occurred on a day when trading would be called wholly professional. About noontime the broker referred to decided he would get some lunch and that he would go and put in a trade to pay expenses. Consequently he went on the floor of the exchange and sold 5,000 shares of Metropolitan. He then went to lunch, stayed some time, and, on returning, found that Metropolitan had soared three points. He looked the situation over and decided to buy back the stock, and found himself not only out his lunch money, but about $14,000 besides. Ofttimes, however, it goes the other way.

MAIL MAN BRINGS LOBSTER

Gloucester, Mass., Fish Dealer Uses Service for the Delivery of His Wares.

According to the Grocery World, the very latest development of the mail order business is the delivery of fish in this manner. A fish dealer and packer doing business in Gloucester, Mass., announces this as a very large end of his trade. He deals only with the consumer and packs fresh lobsters, crab and shrimp in the proper shape for transmission through the mails, and purports to have sea food delivered at the door in almost any part of the country before it has lost the delicate flavors which are to be found alone in the fish fresh from the water. Not only are the fresh fish shipped in this manner, but salted fish, such as salmon, mackerel and codfish. Quite an extensive trade has been worked up by this individual. He has on his books standing orders to send quantities of fish at regular intervals, some persons engaging a regular weekly supply for an entire season.

Charcoal for Wounds.

At a cost of 25 cents Japanese doctors can dress the wounds of 500 men. They use a finely powdered charcoal obtained by the slow combustion of straw in closed furnaces. Sachets filled with it are applied to the wounds, and its antiseptic and absorbent qualities generally effect a rapid cure.

ABOUT THE HOME.

Commonplace Things the Up to Date HouseKeeper Ought to Know.

The old saying that a French family can live on what an American family wastes is not so well deserved as it used to be. Nowadays economy is one of the rules of every well ordered household, not the economy that pinches, but the economy that recognizes the value of little things.

For instance, it is remarkable how much fat accumulates even in small families. Odds and ends taken from chop bones, steaks, etc., make the best kitchen soap obtainable.

Save the fat in a covered dish until you have six pounds, then put it in a large pan with about two quarts of water. Let this simmer on the stove until it is all melted, stir it well and let it get cold. The grease will be cleared and will harden into a cake which can be removed. After cleaning the pan melt the grease again, adding a can of lye dissolved in a quart of cold water. Take the melted fat and mix into it the lye, then add two tablespoonfuls of ammonia. This must be stirred for fifteen or twenty minutes until it hardens. When perfectly hard it can be cut into cakes. This soap is pure and will float.

The best flowering plant for the house is without doubt the geranium. It is long suffering and will grow under almost any conditions. Nasturtiums will also thrive in the house and will blossom after February.

Many a plumber's bill can be saved by pouring a can of lye dissolved into boiling water down the kitchen sink. Dissolve the lye in a china or earthenware dish, as it corrodes tin.

There is a kind of enamel which dries immediately and which therefore gives a much more even surface under the unskilled hands of the amateur. In painting remember to use a soft brush; otherwise the marks of the bristles will show.

Candles in colored spring candlesticks with dainty shades make a most attractive light and glorify the plainest rooms.

If you cannot afford silver candelabra for your table there are pretty candlesticks of glass to be obtained for about 40 cents each.

A little sweet oil in a cup, mixed with a drop or two of vinegar, applied to the dining room table with a piece of canton flannel, will keep it highly polished.

HELEN CLIFTON.

INEXPENSIVE FURNISHING.

Interior Decorations Which Are Within the Limit of Every One.

The day is past when furniture must be expensive to be in good taste. A glance at the room depicted will convince every one of this. The walls are covered with deep red burlap. The wide casement windows have sash curtains of spotted muslin, the long curtains being of deep red denim or cotton armure. The desk, table and bookcase are of deep brown oak. The long chair is of red wicker with ecru and red cretonne cushions. The pictures on the wall are prints neatly framed in black passe partout. The floors are stained a light brown, and the rug is of a subdued shade of red, with a brown and green border. The fireplace, which is not seen in the illustration, is of brown oak and shaded red tiling. The rafters of the room are oak, and the ceiling is tinted a soft ecru.

R. DE LA BAUME.

Marrying Foreign Titles.

Ever and anon comes a rumor of the marital wretchedness of this or that rich American girl who married a dough faced dukeling or princeling with a long line of diseased or dissipated or crazy ancestry behind him and went abroad with him for the purpose of keeping him supplied with spending money. The strange thing about it is that anybody—the girl's parents, her friends or herself—should expect her to be anything else than miserable. How could she be?

The New Woman

Rivalry of Club Women Surpassingly Silly

Is the intelligent, broad minded club woman a masculine political office seeker that she should get down and struggle like a dog over a bone to get the presidency of any given organization? Is she a shallow minded society woman, making trifles into the important events of life, that she should bankrupt her finances to dress more extravagantly and give more costly entertainments than a sister club woman? Finally, is she an actual fool that she should break her neck, and stir up hatred and quarreling till all the club is set by the ears and the newspapers are making fun of the whole feminine sex just because of her determination to hold on like grim death to the presidency of her club term after term, if not generation after generation? One would like to know. The true club woman represents the highest and best development of the feminine sex—as far as it has got, which, maybe, is not saying much. The true club woman shuns, as she shuns original sin, personal following in her club. The personal following idea, even were the leader Martha Washington herself, would be death and destruction to a woman's club. The true club woman especially steers away from the vain and empty headed desire to hold on to an office forever, keeping other women out of it at the cost of justice, politeness and all good will. Rotation in office is the real life of a club. All members thereby get experience in parliamentary usage and the duties that accompany various posts. A woman's club is educational. Most of all, it should be educational in the direction of justice, sisterliness and letting other members have a fair chance. Squabbling like cats for the presidency of a woman's club is a disgraceful proceeding.

Employers everywhere want young, comely women to work for them, and who can blame them? So keep young if you have to work for your living.

To be pleased and gratified with just the common, everyday events of life—that is how to be happy.

One observes that the gentle masculine editors of the woman's page are still pegging away telling their readers how to remove blackheads and how to massage for wrinkles.

Dr. von Duncker of the German educational commission that visited this country to study our school methods says that American instructors teach pupils not to depend too much on others, but to help themselves. The doctor considered that the highest praise he could bestow on the instructor. Yes, it does us women proud, and we accept the whole compliment. Nine-tenths of the teachers of the United States are women.

The lady who thinks too much of her white hands to keep her rooms clean is, happily for the human race, not so common as she used to be.

What sight is more impressive than a fragile, delicate, 200 pound man sunken into a heap and sprawled all over a car seat, his feet a yard apart, his arms spread out like wings each side of a big, landscape hiding newspaper, while half a dozen gigantic athletes of women weighing no more than a hundred pounds each, slim and trim, swing by straps in front of him and look down pityingly on the frail masculine being in the seat?

Hotel Martha Washington, the first one for women in New York city, has been filled to overflowing from the beginning. Its success was so great that a second hotel, the Ratcliffe, for women exclusively, has been opened.

Captain Mystrom of the Swedish steamer Heros has opened new occupations for the feminine sex by hiring a woman cook and a woman steward. They have signed with him for a year and give such satisfaction that Captain Mystrom declares he will never have another man steward aboard his ship.

If some people trained their children as carefully as menagerie show people train their animals the earth would be full of the little angels of the coming race.

A woman lately applied for divorce on the ground that her husband had hypnotized her. She must have been a willing subject then. No human being can be hypnotized against his or her will. This not uncommon plea of women that they have been hypnotized into doing this or not makes one somehow feel ashamed of them.

When you start out to get employment or to canvass for something you wish to sell don't set in to snivel and tell everybody that you have seen better days, or that you are a widow with five children to support, or have a bed-ridden mother, or a lame dog in the hospital, or your husband has run away and left you. Not on your life! These utterances are not businesslike. Everybody has troubles of his own—quite as many as you have. Only those who keep their troubles to themselves succeed.

ELIZA ARCHARD CONNER

CONQUEST OF LHASA.

BRITISH HAVE NO REASON TO BE PROUD OF IT.

Picturesqueness of Invasion of the Sacred Capital of Thibet by English Troops Does Not Conceal Brutality of the Act.

New York Special.

In spite of the cold brutality of the British expedition into Thibet, the imagination is arrested by the thought of the opening of the gates of Lhasa to the outside world. No one spot on the surface of the globe, not even the north pole, has possessed for travelers and adventurers the charm of the Thibetan capital and the holy city of Lamaism. Many of the most daring explorers the world has known have been baffled by the hardships of the journey over the high and snow-swept plateaus, or by the ceaseless vigilance and relentless opposition of the natives. Nature and man have combined to guard the sacred Thibetan city, and only one or two choice spirits have been able to force their way into its forbidden precincts.

Among the most notable failures is the recent attempt of the greatest of modern explorers. Sven Hedin, who would have reached Lhasa had he not been turned back by the Thibetans, as he had already conquered the indescribable hardships that had turned back or destroyed so many previous explorers. The failure of Miss Taylor and that of Prince Henri of Orleans are also fresh in memory. The attempt by Mr. Landor, and his ignominous failure, is probably too mythical to be seriously accepted as part of the history of Thibetan explorations.

Yet Lhasa had been reached and pretty thoroughly explored before the English army from India invaded it. Father Huc lived there for months and left a fairly accurate account of the city and its inhabitants. Chandra Das also succeeded in reaching the sacred city, but his account is not very satisfactory. The most successful of all explorations was, as might have been expected, by a Japanese, Kawaguchi, who not only reached Lhasa and lived there for months, but thoroughly informed himself about the language, customs and life of the people. The account of this recent traveler had already opened the gates of Lhasa to thousands of readers throughout the world.

COL. YOUNGHUSBAND.
(Leader of the British Expedition for the Conquest of Thibet.)

It was not astonishing, therefore, that when Col. Younghusband entered Lhasa with his expedition he found the city familiar. It had been charted and described far more accurately than had been supposed. Indeed, it was no longer a mysterious city. But despite the fact that the bloom of discovery had been taken from the adventure, the entrance of the British expedition into Lhasa will probably take its place among the most picturesque and interesting events in history, alongside of the entrance of Cortez into Mexico, and Pizarro into the city of the Incas, and Marco Polo into the capital of Kublai Khan.

This picturesqueness, however, does not conceal the hideous brutality of the British expedition. There has not been in history a more unprovoked invasion of a peaceful country. There is absolutely nothing behind this murderous incursion into Thibet except the sordid wish of the Indian government to sell tea and opium to the Thibetans. The world should never forget, whenever it thinks of the degradation of the Chinese opium eaters, that opium was forced upon the Chinese by England merely to increase the Indian trade. England now repeats her ignoble record by forcing opium upon Thibet. Every Thibetan killed in the expedition was practically murdered. It is greatly to be deplored, truthfully observes a writer in Gunton's Magazine, a New York publication of the highest standing, that the British expedition could not have been checked, even if it had been necessary to destroy the entire force. It will help, together with the seizure of Kimberley, the extinction of the Boer republics, the murder of Hindus at the mouth of cannon, to make the unmatched record of crime and shame that constitutes a part of the history of British "imperialism."

Wolves Attack a Horse.

Joseph Wenzel and wife, who live near Nash, three miles from Ashland, Wis., had a hair-raising experience with wolves while they were returning from berry picking. They were several miles in the woods, and had their horse, harnessed to a buggy, hitched to a tree. Hearing several howls, they ran to where it was tied and found it surrounded by a pack of five wolves. The horse broke the hitching strap and started through the woods, the wolves after it. The buggy was caught in between two trees before going far, and the wolves were right upon it, when Mr. Wenzel appeared upon the scene with his rifle and put the brutes to flight.

OUR NEXT SERIAL

Is a stirring and delightful story of the North Country Mr. Bacheller loves so well. It is a tale of the days when the French emigres, fleeing from the Reign of Terror, built their chateaux and mansions in the northern counties of New York; the days when England tried issue again with the young republic, and when Darius Olin, quaint, rugged, wise and at all times truthful, with young Ramon Bell, two types of the men who helped to make America, rode into the Lake Champlain region to adventure, love and danger. It is a rare story of Yankee valor, Yankee humor, Yankee pluck.

FATAL TROLLEY ACCIDENT

One Killed and Many Hurt When Car Overturned.

CREW WAS ARRESTED

Mishap Occurred at Roselle, and Was Caused by Failure of Brakes to Work.

One man was killed, a dozen men and women were seriously injured and every one of twenty-five passengers in a Public Service Corporation trolley car bound from this city to Newark was hurt just before 7 o'clock Saturday evening, when the vehicle turned turtle at a sharp curve at First avenue and Locust street, in Roselle, after a wild run down a hill a quarter of a mile long on First street.

DEAD.

Charles Tattam, 43 years old, 100 Beacon avenue, Jersey City.

INJURED.

Mrs. Fanny Harris, 324 East Third street, this city, arms badly gashed; nearly bled to death; taken to Elizabeth General Hospital; will probably recover.

Mrs. Benjamin Doyle, of Cranford, head badly cut, and bruised; in serious condition.

Mrs. Tattam, niece of the man who was killed, of Rahway, bruised and cut about head and body; taken home in carriage.

Miss Yates, of Paddock street, Rahway, a friend of the Tattams, cut and bruised about head and body; taken home in coach.

Charles Kaylor, of Garwood, severely gashed about nose and chin.

Edward Eggers, of Cranford, badly injured about the head.

Mrs. Edward Eggers, of Cranford, injured about the body.

Mrs. Mosher, mother of Mrs. Eggers, shock, bad bruises and cuts and chest severely injured.

John Baird and his daughter, Annie Baird, of Mill street, Paterson, both injured about the head.

Mrs. Irish, of Westfield, badly cut and bruised about the head and face.

Harry Woodland, North Plainfield, hurt about head and body.

Joseph Carlson, of Cranford, hurt about head and body.

Not one of the persons in the car escaped injury of some sort, but the others than those whose names are given were not badly injured, and after giving what assistance they could to those less fortunate, they disappeared without their identity becoming known.

Failure of air and handbrakes and one of two sand boxes to work properly on the First avenue hill is given as the cause of the accident. The car was No. 1702 of the Dunellen and Newark line. It was in charge of Motorman Louis W. Drake and Conductor Charles W. Harrell, both of this city. A few seconds after starting down the hill the car gained a speed greater than Drake had expected. When several blocks away from Locust street, which is a private right of way for the trolley tracks, and where the curve from First avenue is so sharp as to be almost a right angle, he attempted to check it.

The car was then going at a speed subsequently estimated to have been not less than twenty miles an hour, and on a heavy down grade. To his horror he found that the air brake would not work. Then he attempted to apply the hand brake in an effort to at least partially stop the big, heavy car. That, too, failed to work. Drake knew that the sharp curve at the foot of the decline was only a few seconds of time away from him, for he could plainly see a group of red light lanterns, which is the caution sign for all motormen approaching the spot, which has long been recognized as dangerous. He looked into the car at the twenty-five passengers, who had noticed the unusually high speed at which they were traveling, and, unmindful of the impending danger, were apparently enjoying the sensation. He dared not alarm them by making them aware of the conditions, so he redoubled his efforts to make the brakes work, and at the same time spread sand on one of the rails, the other sand box failing to operate properly. When the foot of the hill was reached he was still struggling to avert the then inevitable accident, sticking to his post with grim determination, but to no purpose.

As the forward wheels of the car struck the curve in the rails the front end of the car raised into the air half a dozen feet, and as the rear trucks left the track, the car turned completely over and fell in the roadway with a loud crash.

Motorman Drake and Conductor Harrell were thrown from the car, the

C. A. REED'S BROTHER WEDDED IN BALTIMORE

H. B. REED, OF NEWARK, MARRIED TO SOUTHERN SOCIETY BELLE.

The marriage of Miss Louise Woodward Cloud, daughter of Daniel Cloud, president of the Maryland Savings Bank, of Baltimore, and sister of Miss Virginia Woodward Cloud, the authoress, to Hugh Bertram Reed, of Newark, took place Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride, 2,517 North Charles street, Baltimore. Rev. Edward Barnes Mier, rector of Christ church, performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was preceded by her three brothers, William Woodward Cloud, Daniel Cloud, Jr., and Warren Buckler Cloud. Charles Arthur Reed, brother of the groom, was the best man.

The bride belongs to one of the oldest families in Baltimore and she is an accomplished young woman. The groom is a practicing lawyer in Newark. He formerly resided at Somerville and later in this city, where he studied law with his brother, Charles A. Reed.

Among those from here who witnessed the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Reed and daughter, Miss Madeline Reed. There were also guests from Somerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed will be at home, at 83 Ridgewood avenue, Newark, after January 15.

HIGH SCHOOL MUSICIANS GIVE AN ENTERTAINMENT

BANJO AND MANDOLIN CLUBS PLAY TO LARGE AUDIENCE.

Successful both from a musical and from a social standpoint, the first entertainment of the season under the auspices of the Plainfield High School Banjo and Mandolin Clubs went off without a hitch Saturday evening.

The assembly hall of the Franklin School was well filled when the first number was rendered by the mandolin club. The selection was the "Assembly March," and was well played. The club has been trained by Samuel B. Howe, Jr., of the faculty, and Saturday evening showed the value of his instruction.

A recitation, "Seeing Things at Night," was the next number on the programme, and was spoken in a pleasing manner by Miss Helen Whitney. A chorus by the glee club was followed by a selection, "Crescent Queen," by the mandolin and banjo players. Both these numbers were much applauded, and deserving of their reception.

A feature of the entertainment was a recitation entitled "The Rivals," by Miss Edith Hanford. Chester H. Briggs' mandolin solo, "The March of the Third," was also a favorite, and Mr. Briggs was obliged to play an encore. Following the reappearance of the mandolin club, when it played the "Venetian Beauty," S. A. Howe and Chester Briggs played a delightful mandolin duet, "The Director's March." This was longly applauded, as was also a banjo duet by William Briggs and Gerth Williams. The latter played the "Berkeley March" in a spirited manner.

The concluding number on the programme was a chorus by the glee club, "The Fisher Crew's Return." At the end of the entertainment a short informal dance took place and was enjoyed by a large number. The proceeds will be devoted to defray the expenses of the Boys' and Girls' Athletic Associations. The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Chester Briggs, chairman; Charles Titsworth and George Bentley.

Brick Paving Completed.

The work of laying vitrified brick in Watchung avenue, between North avenue and East Second street, was completed on Saturday and within a few days the southside of the street will be opened to traffic, the cement taking a little time to set. The job has been pronounced equal to the best in the State and it is predicted that the brick will wear at least ten years before any further attention is needed.

New Through Line Schedule.

Commencing today the Public Service Corporation inaugurates a new schedule for its through line, operating a less number of cars. This is due to the natural falling off of travel in the winter season. The new schedule calls for four cars each way, two each way in the morning and the same number in the afternoon.

JR. O. U. A. M. COUNCILS ATTEND DIVINE SERVICE

OLD GLORY COUNCIL, D. OF L., ALSO PRESENT.

According to their annual custom, members of the local Jr. O. U. A. M. Councils, Somerset, Franklin and Benevolent, attended divine service in the Park Avenue Baptist church, last evening. A large delegation from Old Glory Council, Daughters of Liberty, was also in attendance, which added to the regular congregation, filled every seat in the church. The pulpit was draped with the American flag and others were placed on each side.

In a preliminary address, Rev. A. E. Finn, the pastor, welcomed the Juniors and reviewed the cardinal principles of the order. They were in many respects the same as those of the church, he said, and they should be encouraged in upholding them, especially with respect to placing the Bible in schools and the right for man to worship God according to the dictates of his conscience. Afterward the clergyman gave the fourth of his series of sermons on the Prodigal Son, without making any especial comparison appropriate to the gathering.

Y. M. C. A.'S GOOD WORK SUBJECT OF AN ADDRESS

J. S. TICHENOR'S INTERESTING TALK AT TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH.

The address by J. S. Tichenor, International secretary for army and navy work of the Y. M. C. A., made an address at Trinity church last evening, encouraging from the point of view of the work which has been accomplished, yet the speaker's words were full of significance of the great work which is still to be done in both the army and the navy, together with countless other organizations of men.

"The Y. M. C. A.," the speaker said, "bridges the wide chasm, which is undoubtedly growing in width between large organized bodies and the church. The Y. M. C. A. reaches the laboring classes, and brings them into the church; it founds its associations in army posts, where there is the greatest amount of evil, and on board the ships its Christian influence is felt."

It was with vivid exactness, that Mr. Tichenor told of the work which the Y. M. C. A. has accomplished not only in the mentioned districts but all over the world. He quoted statistics showing that whereas it is undeniably true that young men are drifting further away from the church, it is the Y. M. C. A. that reaches out its hand to assist them back to the church.

In conclusion the speaker said that it was not the aim of the association to take the man, when he is in the depth of evil, but to begin with the boy, and so mold his life that he will be as true in fighting for Christ, as for his country.

TOBACCO AND LIQUOR.

Sunday-School Superintendent Says People Who Drink Also Smoke.

In reviewing the Sunday-school lesson for yesterday, which was a temperance one, George H. Batchelor, superintendent of the First Baptist church, spoke emphatically concerning the evil effects of liquor. Mr. Batchelor made a comparison in which he said that invariably all persons addicted to the use of liquor were users of tobacco and that many persons who are users of tobacco eventually become users of liquor.

Note Valid, Dated on Sunday.

Final decision in the contract case of John S. Sills, of New York, against James Totten and J. W. Mundy, was delivered by Justice Vail this morning, and declares that the defendants' note though dated on Sunday is nevertheless valid. The contention brought by the defendants was that as the note was dated on Sunday, February 28, it was void. Testimony showed however, that the note was mailed to Mr. Sills on Friday, and the court decided that it was valid in consideration of this fact. H. C. Runyon represented the plaintiff, and V. W. Nash, Jr., appeared for the defendant in the case.

Peter Briscoe Buried.

The funeral services of Peter Briscoe, aged sixty years, who died on Friday night, were held this morning at 8 o'clock from St. Mary's church, Rev. Andrew M. Egan, rector, officiating. Later the remains were taken to Newark for interment in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

FOR LIQUOR SALOON LIMIT

W. S. Tyler to Introduce Another Good Measure.

COUNCIL MEETS TONIGHT

To Restrict Districts in Which Liquor Can Be Sold is the Object.

Among several important measures that will engage the attention of the Common Council at its adjourned meeting tonight, is an ordinance which Councilman W. S. Tyler, of the Third ward, will introduce. This ordinance, as has been previously spoken of, is designed to limit and restrict the district in which saloons and drinking places can be located. Mr. Tyler had this ordinance in mind when he offered his amendment to the ordinance to license inns and taverns, which provided for an increase of the fee to $1,000, and which was adopted on the final reading at the last meeting of the Common Council.

It is well remembered what a fight there was last March when there was an effort to locate a drinking place on West Front street for which privilege John Goff made application. The opposition to the movement became so strong that Mr. Goff's application was denied and even Michael Watson came mighty near losing his license, there being but one vote in his favor.

Owing to the opposition to these licensed places in the Fourth ward, Mr. Tyler became convinced that an ordinance restricting the district to the business part of the city would be a good thing and it would effectually settle the question of licensing a place outside of the business district. It is confidently believed that if Mr. Tyler introduces this ordinance that it will go through, the present makeup of the Common Council being such as to predict its adoption.

The vacancy in the Common Council caused by the resignation of Robert L. Lee will be filled. The candidates mentioned for the place are Herbert Buxton and Walter C. Dobbins.

BASEBALL TWIRLER BECOMES A BENEDICT

GEORGE WILTSE IS WEDDED TO A SYRACUSE GIRL.

George Wiltse, one of the star twirlers of the New York National League team, last season, and a brother of Louis Wiltse, of Madison avenue, was married last week at his former home in Syracuse, N. Y., to Miss Della Shafer, of that city.

The wedding was quietly performed by Rev. Mr. Ryan at his rectory in Syracuse. The couple was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, of Somerville, where the groom has been residing for sometime, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wiltse, of this city. After a honeymoon the couple may take up their residence here.

SIGNED THE PLEDGE FOR TWELVE YEARS

JEREMIAH GRIFFIN GOES ON THE WATER WAGON FOR LONG DRIVE.

By taking the pledge for twelve years, Jeremiah Griffin escaped with a suspended sentence when arraigned in the city court on a charge of drunkenness, this morning. Jerry solemnly vowed that he would never drink another drop of liquor until 1916 rolls around, s'help him, and the kind-hearted cops were so impressed they forgot to tell Judge Runyon he has said the same thing a few other times. Chief Kiely was delegated to see that he remained true to his word and Jerry went out a free man but with the knowledge that the sleuths will be on his trail for the next 144 months.

William Kenna, overcome by West End "red eye," went to sleep on a Grant avenue porch, Saturday night. He paid the city $5 for the lodging and for the intervention which saved him from freezing to death.

Thomas Sims, a West Ender, went to New York Saturday, to see his brother off to Scotland. The parting called for numerous toasts and both Sims' were taking a double view of life when the ship sailed. Thomas still had trouble with his eyes and feet when he returned to Plainfield and a bluecoat had to take him in. He was let go on suspended sentence.

THANKSGIVING MUSIC AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

SPECIAL SERVICE UNDER DIRECTION OF HOWARD CASE.

Appropriate to the harvest and Thanksgiving season, the chorus choir of the First Baptist church gave a special musical service, last night, under the direction of Howard Case, organist. The programme was opened with a prelude on the violin by Miss Florence C. Wohlfert, accompanied on the organ by Howard Case.

Then followed the rendition of several anthems, including "Sing to the Lord of Harvest," Barnby; "Lovely Appear," Gounod; "Praise to the Great Creator," Shackley; "Just as I Am," Neidlinger, and an offertory duet, "O Lord, the Light of Heaven," by Miss Harris and Mrs. Ward.

During the service, the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chamblies, gave an appropriate discourse.

The choir was augumented by Mrs. Clayton M. Nagle, John Stetner and William Barlow, Jr. The solo parts were taken by Miss Lucelia C. Harris, soprano; Mrs. F. M. Ward, contralto; William Holmes, baritone, and George Smith, tenor.

MISS MARY DUNNING ON MEXICAN MISSIONS

SPOKE TO CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH SUNDAY-SCHOOL PUPILS.

Appropriately combining a harvest and a mission service, the regular session of the Sunday-school of the Congregational church yesterday afternoon was a particularly interesting one. Both the junior and primary grades were united in the service, which was at once significant of Thanksgiving and of harvesting in the mission fields.

Miss Mary Dunning, who is a member of the Congregational church, and a worker in Mexico was the speaker, and she told in a delightfully interesting manner of the laborers who have devoted their time to missionary work in Mexico, and of the results of their efforts. She showed by her interesting stories of the life in Mexico, how much more the children of this country have cause to be thankful than those who dwell in Mexico. Miss Dunning also emphasized in a beautiful way appropriate to the subject of the afternoon, "the need of reapers in the foreign lands, and especially in Mexico."

In addition to Miss Dunning's remarks, there were several recitations by members of the junior department, and a group of nine girls gave a flag exercise, which concluded in a grand march. In this march all the countries where the Gospel is taught by missionaries were represented by their flags. The exercise was a pretty one, and was well done.

Miss Dunning has been associated with missionary work in Mexico for some time, having come to this city a short time ago from Somerville.

D. of A. Entertainment.

Martha Washington Council, No. 23, D. of A., conducted an entertainment in its rooms Saturday evening. The programme consisted of vocal and instrumental selections, recitations and readings. The committee which had charge consisted of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Allen, Mrs. Lant, Mrs. Angleman, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Archie Niles and Mrs. Fritts.

Fire Loss Adjusted.

Edwin Maynard, whose apartments in the Woolston & Buckle building were recently damaged by fire, settled with the insurance company Saturday, for the loss on furniture, through Elston M. French. The amount paid was $365. The owners of the building settled their loss for $300.

Contract Case Easily Settled.

The contract case of Harry Swartz against Jacob Fass, of the Paris Cloak and Fur Company, has been settled by the payment of five dollars. The plaintiff has returned to work on a salary of three dollars a week less, though he originally sued for $102 90.

What Was It All About?

Republican County Chairman Hamilton F. Kean and James E. Martine, the defeated Democratic candidate for Congress, had a heart to heart talk on Broad street, Elizabeth, on Saturday afternoon.

—Once tried, White Label canned goods are always used. They are superior to other brands in many ways. Neuman Brothers are the local selling agents.

HEART CLUB ENJOYS ITS ANNUAL DINNER

MEMBERS AFTERWARD GRACEFULLY SUBMIT TO "ROASTS."

According to the annual custom, the Heart Club, comprised of New York business men living in the Second and Third wards, who enjoy the game of hearts while going to and from the city every day, gave a game dinner at the Casino on Saturday night. The affair was an enjoyable one throughout. In connection with the dinner it has been Stuart H. Patterson's pleasure to furnish the game for the dinner. Every fall he spends some time hunting in Maine and he has always been successful in shooting a deer. This year he captured a fine one and it was this that helped to make up the dinner served Saturday night.

After the dinner the members had a good laugh over a number of humorous toasts given by Evarts Tracy and Leighton Calkins. They were satirical and not a single member of the club escaped, the "hits" being well distributed and enjoyed by all alike.

REAL FOX ENLIVENS RIDE OF THE HUNT CLUB

EIGHTEEN MEMBERS PARTICIPATE IN A LIVELY CHASE.

The regular weekly run of the Watchung Hunt Club Saturday was an unusually exciting and successful one from the fact that a real fox made its appearance. A farmer having notified the master that a fox had been seen in a certain neighborhood, the members anticipated good sport as they met at Oak Tree preparatory to starting out.

The hounds drew covert near the Lehigh Valley Railroad at a point about a mile north of Oak Tree. When the huntsmen were beginning to think that it would be drawn blank, the fox broke covert to the south and was "viewed away" by S. A. Cruikshank. Very speedily were the pack on the scent and going away in hot pursuit followed by the field of eighteen riders.

The fox took a southerly course across Woodland avenue, round the old Holly farm and across the Lehigh Valley Railroad towards Metuchen, affording the riders a delightful gallop over the high ground. Near Metuchen the fox doubled back, cleverly giving its pursuers the slip in the woods near the railroad tracks.

The chase was one of the most enjoyable which has yet been held and the attendance is a proof of the increasing popularity of the club. Applications for membership are constantly being received, and already there are a number of out of town names on the list of members and applications. Among those who have recently joined the club are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hyde. Next week the huntsmen will start from the Martine farm on Watchung avenue.

Denman Out of the Game.

Charles H. Denman, formerly manager of the Westfield Baseball Association team stated on Saturday that under no consideration will he manage a ball team next season, adding that he is through with the management of a team. He also said that there is not enough money in Plainfield to induce him to assume the management of a team here. The foxy baseball manager seemed to feel that a great load was taken off his shoulders with the termination of the past season, for he then practically decided not to continue in that capacity another year.

Sheriff Cooper Moves.

Sheriff Edward Cooper has moved from his farm at Warrenville to Somerville, so that he may more easily attend to the duties of his office. He will draw the petit jurors for the December term of the Somerset county courts tomorrow.

In Honor of Debutante.

Mrs. William T. Kaufman, of West Seventh street, will give a dinner on Saturday evening in honor of Miss Edith Fisk, daughter of Mrs. Chapman Fisk, who will make her debut at the Casino on Friday night, December 2.

NEW PHASE IN WILL CASE

Death of Recluse's Brother Complicates the Situation.

BATTLE FOR ESTATE

Counsel for Contesting Heir Asked That Questions in Lord Case be Decided by a Jury.

The death of D. Porter Lord, the half brother of Miss Alleine Lord, the eccentric recluse of Somerville, who died leaving an estate valued at about $60,000 to public and charitable institutions, which occurred at his home in Montclair, Saturday, has somewhat changed the aspect of the sensational will case in which he was trying to break his half sister's will on the ground of lack of testamentary capacity and undue influence.

Mr. Lord had been indisposed for some time and at his age of 80 years, his demise was not unexpected. Major Dungan, counsel for Mr. Lord, the caveator, says, however, that the will will still be contested on the same grounds by the executors of the estate of D. Porter Lord.

On Friday in the Orphans' Court at Somerville, the application of Mr. Lord, for the hearing of the questions involved in the caveat of the will of Alleine Lord to be held before a jury in the Circuit Court, was heard by Judge Schenck.

Dungan & Reger, in behalf of the caveator, argued as the questions involved were matters of fact they should be decided by a jury.

James L. Griggs, H. K. Gaston and Bayard Stockton, counsel for legatees under the will, contended that as this was an unusual proceeding strong reasons should be given for pursuing any other than the usual course in such cases before the Orphans' Court.

In reply Major Dungan said the powers and jurisdiction of the Orphans' Court were purely statutary and that the Legislature in 1874 had added a statutory provision to the Orphans' Court law pertaining to the certification of the questions of fact relating to the probate of wills to the Circuit Court. He said that since that time a number of cases had been so certified—some in cases involving only a single point.

The Lord will case is a most spectacular one and there are hosts of witnesses to be examined. This move to take it to the Circuit Court is considered by the legal talent as a master stroke made by Dungan & Reger.

Judge Schenck reserved his decision in the matter one week.

EXCHANGED PULPITS.

Rev. Dr Zelie Preached at First Baptist Church.

Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, exchanged pulpits with Rev. Dr. J. A. Chamblies, of the First Baptist church, yesterday morning, and delivered a strong and impressive sermon. His main thought was that Christianity was something that a person should not weary or tire of, but should be used continually every day. He told of a certain person who had made it possible for a college to award a prize of $500 in gold every year for proficiency in a branch of study. This gold could be received as money or in the form of a medal, according to the wish of the recipient, but he doubted whether any winner of the prize would choose the medal, preferring to have something which would be of direct benefit. The incident he used to illustrate how some persons use Christianity as something to look at and admire, instead of something to use every day and as a help to living.

Mr. Buxton's Position.

Herbert Buxton, of Madison avenue, who is mentioned as the probable successor to Robert L. Lee, as Councilman from the Fourth ward, says that he has not been asked to make any pledge, neither has he made any pledge, as to possible action regarding liquor licenses, or any other city matter, in case he is chosen to succeed Mr. Lee. He further states that he would insist on being free to act according to his own best judgment if elected to fill the position.

Historical Society in Session.

The regular monthly meeting of the Somerset County Historical Society will be held this afternoon in the First Reformed church chapel, Somerville. Rev. W. H. VanDoren, of Griggstown, will present an historical paper.

Preached at Hope Chapel.

The pulpit at Hope chapel yesterday was occupied by Rev. George B. Shaw in the absence of Pastor Howard, who is visiting relatives in Chicago.

It is planned to issue on Thursday of each week items of library news. This will frequently take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. AMUSEMENTS.

Klaw & Erlanger's production of "Humpty Dumpty" began its second week at the New Amsterdam last Monday evening. The attendance the first week was the largest in the history of this great theatre, with a tremendous advance sale daily. No array of adjectives that could be marshalled by the most enthusiastic writer on theatrical affairs would overpraise this wonderful spectacle. It is not only a bewilderingly beautiful treat to the eye, but it appeals in other ways as well. Its comedy, artistic in every sense, provides humor; its musical side supplies many brilliant numbers pleasing both to the trained and untrained ear; its ballets present most beautiful dances, groupings and processions and the pantomimic and sensational interest is supplied in the clown, harlequin, pantaloon and columbine and in the marvelous acrobatic feats of the demon and his gnomes. Such a generous measure of entertainment was never before presented in any New York production. That this fact is appreciated is amply shown in the enthusiastic applause that accompanies every feature, and in the expressions of satisfaction heard on every hand as the audiences leave the house. Every patron receives his or her money's worth of solid entertainment. "Humpty Dumpty" is now "the real thing" in New York.

TAFT AT PANAMA.

Received by President Amador—Welcomed to Isthmus.

PANAMA, Nov. 28.—Secretary of War Taft and party arrived at Colon yesterday on board the United States cruiser Columbia. Mr. Taft was received on shore by Vice President Arosemana and other Panama officials, General Davis, commander of the canal zone, and Minister Barrett. After a conference with the American congressional delegation Mr. Taft went by a special train to Panama, where he was officially received by a committee and quartered at the residence of Mr. Wallace, chief engineer in charge of construction of the Panama canal. He was received by President Amador and the Panama cabinet at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. After greetings had been exchanged Mr. Taft said:

"It is a pleasure to bring the greetings of the president of the United States and to congratulate Panama upon the propitious beginning of a long and prosperous life; in fact, a life that is to be a peaceful one and one in which the president and people of the United States are most willing assistants. The United States has no intention in the isthmus other than to build the canal for the benefit of Panama, the United States and mankind. There is no desire to exercise further power. I will in the next few days confer on those matters about which discussion has arisen and hope to reach a solution full of honor to both countries.

"I have the great honor to present the personal greeting of President Roosevelt and expressions of profound good will."

President Amador, in reply, said:

"Your arrival in Panama and the purpose that brings you is the highest honor this republic has received since it was born. The government and people will know how to appreciate this new proof of sympathy, with which the United States has desired once more to distinguish us."

President Amador later in the day returned Secretary Taft's official call.

The first conference between Secretary Taft and President Amador took place at Government house this morning.

Two dredge men from Chicago, the first engaged for work on the isthmian canal, have arrived here. They are William Bates, dredge engineer, and Philip Bates, his brother, crane man. They were engaged through the offices of the International Brotherhood of Steam Shovel and Dredge Men, the members of which organization will be hired for the work.

The engineers will receive $190 and the crane men $165 a month on the canal.

Men employed will be furnished free transportation from New York to Colon and return. While in the government service they will be provided with board and room free and will be cared for in government hospitals if sick.

"Absurd and Ridiculous," Said Hall.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 28.—Dr. David Schley Schaff, professor of church history in the Western Theological seminary, Allegheny, refused to comment on the statement issued by Dr. Charles Hall at Chicago concerning the report that the Union Theological seminary of New York had changed its faith. Dr. Hall, who is president of the Union seminary, said if the statements credited to Dr. Schaff were true he branded them as absurd and ridiculous. Dr. Schaff when told of Dr. Hall's words refused to make any comment because it would not be fitting on the Sabbath. He intimated, however, that his original statement must have been incorrectly quoted.

Quickstep Drifts a Derelict.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—Somewhere in the northern seas the old barkentine Quickstep, waterlogged, deserted and rudderless, is drifting a derelict. Her crew of ten men have been landed in this city by the steamship Homer after undergoing nine days of privation and hardship and losing all their personal belongings. The Quickstep's crew were taken from the disabled vessel by the steamer Tampico, Captain Roberts, bound from Seattle and Tacoma to San Pedro.

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 28.—According to the police, Ida Englehardt, a young German woman under arrest here, has confessed that she roasted her infant before a furnace fire until it had been fatally burned. The young woman was employed by Moses T. La Forge in Paterson. Mr. La Forge found the infant in an ash barrel. The child was alive, but parts of its body were badly burned, and the little one died in a hospital later.

CHARGED THE FORTS

Nakamura and Saito Lead Desperate Attack.

STUBBORN RUSSIAN RESISTANCE.

General Assault on Port Arthur Meets Check From Stoessel's Force Now at Bay—Fighting at Sintungtun.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—Special advices from Tokyo say that a general attack on Port Arthur is progressing. Generals Nakamura and Saito, leading specially trained bodies of swordsmen, charged into the Russian forts and engaged the Russians in a hand to hand and bloody encounter.

Imperial headquarters has just issued the following announcement:

"The works for our attack having been nearly completed against Sungshu mountain at Port Arthur and the forts lying eastward therefrom, a general assault has been made on the positions, but owing to the enemy's stubborn resistance our object has not yet been accomplished. The fighting still continues."

Advices from Manchurian headquarters of the Japanese army say:

"A body of the enemy's infantry has attacked our troops in the vicinity of Sintungtun and Shaotaou, but the attack was completely repulsed by us.

"The enemy's artillery posted to the east of Ta mountain vigorously shelled the vicinities of Machuantzu and Kuchiatzu, but we suffered no damage.

"On the right bank of the Hun river a body of the enemy's cavalry attacked Mamachies, but was driven back by our force.

"The enemy set fire to Shangtsaimen, and most of the village has been destroyed."

A Mukden dispatch says that the Japanese attempt to turn General Rennenkampff's left, as reported by General Kuropatkin, has failed.

The Japanese are reported from Chefu to be repairing the cruiser Kassuga and ten torpedo boat destroyers. They have established a subnaval base on the Elliott islands, a short distance east of Port Arthur.

A Chefu report says that many of Admiral Togo's vessels are being docked and repaired in preparation for eventualties.

There is also a rumor that the Japanese assault on Port Arthur has been repulsed with heavy loss.

JAPAN'S POSITION.

Premier Katsura Gives Outline of the National Feeling.

TOKYO, Nov. 28.—Discussing the war and the domestic, financial and political conditions of Japan on the eve of the assembling of the diet at Tokyo Premier Katsura said:

"To insure peace in the orient and to safeguard our national existence is the aim and purpose of our empire, and no sacrifice shall be too great for successfully effecting this purpose.

"Russia, beside violating her pledges in Manchuria, crowned her overbearing and aggressive policy by extending her arms to the Korean peninsula.

"We were highly solicitous to preserve peace, but had no alternative except that of war, which was forced upon us. Russia allowed herself to be deceived and slighted our empire, for she never believed that Japan would draw the sword of war. Then, after suffering repeated defeats on land and on sea, Russia perceived the mistake she had made, and, having discovered the seriousness of the situation, began to take adequate measures.

"The case was different with us. We were alive to the seriousness of the situation and were prepared for exigencies.

"Russia must see that the war cannot be concluded by the issues of a few battles. With us the war means life or death, and not one of our 45,000,000 brethren remains ignorant of the vital issue at stake.

"We are prepared to sacrifice our last man and our last cent for this war.

"Everything seems to hinge on the fall of Port Arthur, but I do not console myself with the thought that the capture of that ill fated fortress will bring the war to a speedy termination. Its capture will give occasion for renewed plans for warfare by Russia, and I am watching keenly for such new developments.

"Before a great national problem our people unite, and friends and opponents join hands for the accomplishment of our national purposes. With the great problem of the war before them, the people of our nation have become as one man. We have no war party and no peace party as Russia has; but, on the contrary, our nation is one and united with a determination to fight to the last extremity.

"The prices of commodities have been slightly increased in Japan, but our financial and economic conditions remain unaffected. This has probably surprised our enemy, for it exceeds our own expectations.

"We are redoubling our energies, working diligently, living frugally and going forward in this war unhesitatingly."

ENGLAND'S NEUTRALITY.

Lord Lansdowne Warns Traders of Supplying Contraband of War.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—Foreign Minister Lansdowne has written a letter to the chamber of shipping, chambers of commerce and other similar bodies giving further warning with reference to British colliers and the Russian Baltic squadron, explaining that British owners chartering their vessels for such purposes as following the Russian fleet with coal and supplies might render themselves liable to proceedings under the foreign enlistment act, the applicable sections of which he quotes.

Lord Lansdowne then refers to the fact that a similar question arose during the Franco-German war, when Mr. Gladstone laid down the principle that such colliers would to all intents and purposes become storeships to the fleet. "Therefore," concludes Lord Lansdowne, "although neutral traders may trade in contraband at the risk of capture, they should bear in mind the conditions of the English laws."

Baltic Fleet Through the Canal.

SUEZ, Nov. 28.—Vice Admiral Voelkersam's division of the Russian second Pacific squadron sailed eastward from Suez yesterday morning, escorted by Egyptian coast guard cruisers.

Submarines For Vladivostok.

CRONSTADT, Nov. 28. — The two lake submarine boats purchased by Russia through a New York shipping house have arrived and will be shipped to Vladivostok by rail.

LABOR CONGRESS.

Federation In Favor of International Arbitration and Sanitation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—The American Federation of Labor at its session complied with the request of former Secretary of State Foster and went on record as being in favor of international arbitration.

The convention voted to do all in its power toward beautifying and making more sanitary the cities of the United States.

The report of the committee on building trades councils recommended the affiliation of the building trades alliance with the American Federation of Labor, the enactment of a law giving mechanics and laborers prior claim in liens and the obtaining of a strong employers' liability act. The report was unanimously adopted.

President Gompers spoke of a rumor that had gained some currency to the effect that an effort would be made at the next session of congress to take from government employees the right to become union men. He said that he did not credit the rumor, but if the issue should come organized labor would vehemently express itself and fix the responsibility for such an un-American act.

After singing "America" and "Auld Lang Syne" the convention adjourned sine die.

Queens County Courthouse Ablaze.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The Queens county courthouse was partly wrecked by fire Saturday. Chief Croker, who went from Manhattan to fight the flames, said the building would have to be rebuilt. In that case the loss would be $300,000. For several weeks roofers had been at work on the courthouse. Just before noon one of the tinsmiths must have set fire to the roof inadvertently with his hand furnace, for soon after that time Deputy Sheriff Semler discovered smoke and flames issuing from the roof. The heavy dome of the building was burned and fell, and several persons barely escaped being hit by falling debris which was afire.

Fushimi at the Quaker City.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—Prince Fushimi of Japan, who is now in this city, spent a quiet Sunday. Accompanied by his suit the prince visited the stock farm of B. R. Clyde of Bryn Mawr, a suburb, where he remained the greater part of the day. The prince gave an informal dinner in his apartments at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel. Among those present were Clement A. Griscom, father of the United States minister to Japan; Mr. Clyde, Richard H. Taylor, of the state department, Washington, and J. Franklin McFadden, honorary consul of Japan in this city.

Fatal Result of Quarrel.

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 28.—William Williams, a wealthy young man of this city, who is charged with the death of T. D. Lee, a traveling salesman of Boston, has been released on $2,000 bond. Williams and Lee had a quarrel in a saloon here. Williams is said to have knocked the traveling man down with his fist, Lee's head striking the concrete floor of the saloon and fracturing his skull. Lee's widow resides at Roxbury, Mass. Lee was sixty-five years of age.

Want Consul Recalled.

LIMA, Peru, Nov. 28.—It is reported here that Senor Martinez, the Chilean minister to the United States, will request the state department at Washington to cancel the authorization of Charles S. Winans, American consul at Iquique, Chile, to take charge ad interim of the Peruvian consulate at that place. The request, it is stated, will be founded upon a charge that Mr. Winans has given improper bills of health to steamers leaving Iquique.

Colonel Sands Dead at Logan.

LOGAN, O., Nov. 28.—Colonel Alexander C. Sands is dead here, aged seventy-five years. He was for years the Republican leader at Cincinnati, where he founded the Daily Chronicle, which was afterward merged into the Times-Star. He was United States marshal for the southern district of Ohio for years following the civil war and held various official positions in Cincinnati.

Fatal Fall Downstairs.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Andrew J. Barton, manager of the Delphi Opera House at Lestershire, is dead here as a result of a fracture of his skull caused by falling down a short flight of stairs. He was sixty-six years old.

Second Victim of Gas Dead.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Miss Jennie Andrews, aged fifty-two, who was found overcome by gas here beside her friend, Mrs. Mary B. Gibbs, who was asphyxiated, died yesterday.

ROOSEVELT'S TRIP.

Quiet Sunday After Hurricane Rush Through Fair.

PRESIDENT HEADED A PROCESSION

Party Attended Second Presbyterian Church, Guarded by Secret Service Men and Cavalry—Left For Washington Last Night.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 28.—In sharp contrast with the strenuous experience of Saturday, when a hurricane effort was made to view the mammoth Louisiana Purchase exposition in nine hours, President Roosevelt's Sunday here was passed quietly and uneventfully. Rest and recuperation from the fatigue of Saturday constituted almost the sole idea of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt and their immediate party.

After a late family breakfast at the residence of William H. Thompson, the treasurer of the Exposition company, who entertained the president, Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt, Secretary and Mrs. Loeb and Dr. P. M. Rixey, the president and party attended divine service at the Second Presbyterian church.

Careful precautions were taken by the officers to insure the personal safety of the president. Watchfulness was not relaxed for an instant. The president's carriage was surrounded by secret service officers, and two picked sergeants of the Eighth United States cavalry rode, one on each side of the carriage, both going to and returning from the church. As the president's carriage stopped at the church entrance the crowd could restrain its friendly feeling no longer. Hearty cheers were given for the president, which he acknowledged by raising his hat.

The service was conducted and the sermon preached by the Rev. Dr. S. J. Niccolls, pastor of the church, the lesson being read by the assistant pastor. The subject of Dr. Niccolls' discourse was the glory of the kingdom of God and the progress it is making in the world. No reference was made by the pastor in his sermon to the president, and only the usual supplication was offered in his final prayer for the safety and wise conduct of the president of the United States. On his return trip from a drive in the afternoon the president was followed by a procession containing more than 200 vehicles. President David R. Francis of the Exposition company, in company with some of the party, visited the art galleries on the exposition grounds. Among President Francis' guests on this little trip were Governor Van Sant of Minnesota and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, the president's brother-in-law and sister.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Roosevelt, Secretary and Mrs. Loeb, Dr. Rixey and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were entertained at dinner at 8 o'clock by Mr. and Mrs. Francis at their residence. After the dinner the president and party returned to the Thompson residence. At 10:15 o'clock they left in carriages for the exposition grounds, where their special train was held ready for their departure for Washington.

Holdup Men Shot Bartender.

DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 28.—Frank Holycross, a bartender, was fatally shot here in a desperate fight with three holdup men. The men were heard planning to stop a train, and while a traveling man ran to notify the police they entered the restaurant, and the fight with Holycross followed. The bartender knocked down two of the men, and the third shot him. A dozen shots were fired. The shooting attracted a crowd, and the man who shot Holycross held the men at bay while his companions loaded their revolvers. The three desperadoes escaped.

Tramp Suspected of Murder.

LEICESTER, Mass., Nov. 28.—A man giving his name as John Riley, who closely answers the description of the tramp believed to have murdered Mrs. Emma Richards Brigham in a patch of woods a few rods back of her home on Friday afternoon, was cared for in Westboro on Friday night by Deputy Sheriff William Magner. The officers hold the theory that this tramp, whom she had befriended, murdered Mrs. Brigham for the $34 or so she is believed to have had in her clothing.

W. C. T. U. Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—Delegates to the national convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, which opens here tomorrow, occupied many pulpits in the churches in the city yesterday. A mass meeting was held in Olivet Presbyterian church last night under the auspices of the Young Woman's Christian Temperance union.

At World's Fair Gate.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 28.—The department of admissions of the Louisiana Purchase exposition has issued the following statement of the attendance: For the week ended Nov. 26, 699,552; for the smallest month (May), 1,001,341; for the largest month (September), 3,651,873; total attendance to Nov. 26, 18,317,457.

Trade War Will End.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 28.—As soon as the new Russo-German treaty is ratified Russia expects to open negotiations for the revision of commercial treaties with other powers. One of the most important results doubtless will be the ending of the trade war with the United States.

Body Found In Canal.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Nov. 28.—The body of John Moore, a stonemason, sixty years old, was found in Varick canal. It is believed that death was due to accidental drowning.

Watson got more votes than Parker in Nebraska, but there is no evidence that Bryan was shocked at the result.

It is understood that William S. Tyler will introduce a measure in the Common Council tonight which has for its object saloon limits, that is a restriction of the territory in which liquor may be sold. Such a move is highly proper and is in line with other good ordinances which the energetic and able Third ward councilman has fathered.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

The Whittier School football team was defeated in their second game of football on Saturday morning by a boys' team from Somerville by the score of 15 5. They were outweighed considerably by their opponents and were also crippled by the loss of several of their regular players whose places were filled by outsiders.

Fritz, the mascot of the Whittier School football team, showed his thankfulness for being housed by a sympathetic person on Saturday night by devouring a large pot roast and a large package of lamb chops which were lying on a table, and very probably Fritz will hereafter sleep out of doors.

The remains of the Republican banner which has hung over Washington avenue, near the postoffice, for nearly two months, has at last been taken down in a much battered condition by the banner committee.

The party from here who attended the P. H. S. Glee Club musical in Plainfield on Saturday evening, expressed their satisfaction by saying that they would attend all such future entertainments.

The local football team will celebrate the victory of their last game by a dinner in Hotel Nelson, New Market, some time next week, but the date has not yet been arranged.

The weekly game of crap is still played in Dewey Park every Sunday and steps should be taken to prevent it as it is getting to be a nuisance to the residents of that vicinity.

Miss Amy Sampson and Miss Ethel Rogers have returned to the Trenton Normal School, after spending their Thanksgiving vacation at their homes.

Mrs. Isaac Davis, of North avenue, is seriously ill at the home of her mother in Far Hills. It is feared that typhoid fever will develop.

G. A. Brakeley returned this morning to Princeton University, after spending the Thanksgiving vacation at home.

Hughie Birch has resigned his position at the Levering & Garrigues plant and has returned to his home in Passaic.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The first of the series of revival meetings was held last night at the Methodist church. Evangelist Rev. George W. Coon, of Boston, was the speaker and will have charge of the meetings which will be held for several weeks if an interest is manifested by the people. Rev. Mr. Coon is a well known evangelist, a good speaker and one who has been very successful in the work elsewhere. He will be assisted in the work by the pastor of the church, Rev. Warren D. Coon. The meetings are to be wide-awake, short pointed and helpful preaching. Good spirited singing, special music, both vocal and instrument, will be introduced at each service. Meetings are to be held every night in the week, excepting Monday and Saturday, at 7:45. Besides this a children's service will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Last night's meeting was well attended and from the interest shown the work will be a most successful one.

Interest in the weekly shoot of the Brookside Gun Club seems to be dying out. At Saturday afternoon's shoot only a few of the members were out to enjoy the sport at the traps. The lack of interest, to a certain extent, is due to the open season for game, as many of the members prefer live targets to clay birds.

Special Collector Henry Guerrier sold the Clarence Lambert property at the town hall, Saturday afternoon, for delinquent taxes. The property was bought in by Township Clerk Edward L. Hand, for the township, as no bidders were present. This sale cleaned the delinquent tax list on real estate.

Yesterday was the first real touch of winter, a white blanket of snow nearly half an inch in depth greeted the residents when they arose. Some of the old weather prophets in town claim this is only one of the thirteen snow storms due this winter.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

At the request of several persons interested the sale of lands for taxes which was advertised to take place heretofore, has been adjourned until December 16. The collectors reports that many of the delinquents have settled, and that more have promised to do so before the above date. In order to save the delinquents the extra expense and embarrassments this course was deemed advisable.

THE SACRED LAMAS

THEY HAVE ABSOLUTE POWER IN THE FORBIDDEN LAND.

The Various Orders of the Priesthood Are Exceedingly Rich—A Modern Day Mystery to Be Solved.

In a most high place of the earth dwells that high personage, the lama, for Lhassa, the abode of the Dalai Lama, is up some 11,000 feet above sea level. In the mysterious country of Thibet, the "Forbiden Land," inhabited by people of Mongolian race, flourishes that corrupt form of Buddhism known as lamaism.

And until recently here flourished the great Dalai Lama, all his life reverenced as a god, a most wonderful Holiness. But alas for pomp and pride, the Dalai Lama was first brought to book by the aggressive, demanding English; and then the Chinese emperor, over-lord of Thibet, neglectful of the divinity hedging the priest-king, deposed the Dalai Lama and substituted in his place the Teshu Lama.

What effect this summary dealing with sacred things will have upon the Thibetans remains to be seen. It is whispered among Mongolian merchants in that corner of eastern Russia where white man and yellow man come together in the market place that the Dalai Lama is not in hiding, but is dead; has been put to death by some lama monks. To support this theory is the fact that for some time previous to Col. Younghusband's victory over the Dalai, the latter was harassed by the attitude of not a few of his subordinates; he had to indulge in wholesale deposings of his ministers, and was kept busy trying to put down murmurings in the great monasteries, or lamaseries.

State and church are most closely allied in Thibet, lamaism combining a corruption of the Buddhist religion with the control of the government, Thibet being a hierarchy under two ecclesiastical-political sovereigns, called lamas. A French writer, M. L. de Milloue, says that since the beginning of the ninth century the history of Thibet has been merely the history of the clergy, who have almost absolute power over the people. In the matter of things religious, lamaism is characterized by elaborate ceremonials of worship, and the devotees have a host of deities and saints to whom to pay reverence. Chief pontiff is the Dalai Lama, a race of priest-kings that has ruled over Thibetan affairs 700 years. The Dalai Lama is supposed to have an immortal soul, successively transmigrated from one body to another. The lately deposed Dalai Lama traced his line back to a very mythical beginning, appeared to his people the incarnation of Buddha.

The question now is, not where the Lama's soul has flown, but what has become of his body. Could the mysterious monasteries tell if they would? Has one of their "executioners" set free the soul from his last known body? Dreadful tales are repeated of the dark doings that sometimes go on within the doors of the lamaseries, and it takes no great stretch of the imagination to think of the lamas as regicides.

Let us glance for a moment at the working of these institutions. The monasteries generally are very rich, the Thibetans being a religious people and giving to the priesthood ungrudgingly. There are different sects of lamas—red, yellow, black and white lamas. Most numerous are the yellow lamas, and equally powerful but not of such numbers, the red lamas. The white and black lamas are the craftsmen and laborers about the monasteries. The monks do not by any means spend all their time over long prayers and in attendance at the numberless religious rites, but are actively engaged in trade and carry on an extensive money-lending business.

About one-eighth of the male population of Thibet are lamas, who are recruited from all classes, anyone being eligible to join the brotherhood. Before becoming a full-fledged lama (high priest) the novice must spend years in study and preparation. In the monasteries are to be found servants, novices (Chibbs), and lamas; at the head of all a Grand Lama.

CHICAGO LIKES PICKLE DIET

Western Metropolis Has Become the Largest Consumer in the United States.

That Chicago is becoming the greatest pickle eating community in the United States is a claim made by the Tribune. It is said that inside the city limits is one of the most extensive pickle works in the world, that in the matter of acres in cucumbers and onions, the number of hands employed and the variety of goods of this character there is nothing to beat it. But the country districts are fast gaining in this business, especially in the growth of cucumbers. Some of the big wholesale grocers of the city are establishing pickle houses in many different sections of Indiana, Illinois and Michigan. They make contracts with the farmers to plant a certain number of acres, agreeing to take the entire product at stipulated prices. A large building is erected in such a community and the work of pickling is carried on in it. Farmers find cucumbers a profitable crop. Last year a pickle factory was established at Sycamore, Ill., and the first crop has been an entire success. One man took at one picking from an acre and a half cucumbers that netted him $24.87. It is estimated that there are from 15 to 20 pickings, so that if the balance of the crop turns out in proportion to the first picking, the land will be found to be profitably employed. The city of Chicago and its suburbs is the big market for this product, which shows that our people have a tooth for sour things as well as for sweets.

STIFF SHIRT IN DISFAVOR.

Soft-Bosomed Article Gains in Popularity and Manufactories Are Heavy Losers.

All the shirt manufactories of the country are heavy losers on account of the latest whim of American shirt wearers, according to the statement of a Glens Falls (N. Y.) agent, who represents one of the large concerns. He says that in the last year and one-half the stiff-bosomed shirt has gone into decided disfavor. Large numbers of men who have never worn anything but stiff-bosomed shirts now insist on having soft shirts for both winter and summer.

"It is utterly unaccountable," said the agent. "The stiff shirt is a businesslike garment. It wears well and looks well. But the men of the country will not have them any more. The result is that shirtmakers have their business reduced to practically one season. It used to be that stiff shirts were sold for winter and soft shirts for summer, but it is so no longer. Of course there will always be a sale of stiff shirts, but it has become so limited with such suddenness that the makers have lost money."

MANY DESERTIONS IN NAVY

Navigation Authorities Astonished at Number Who Take French Leave of Service.

Desertions in the navy are increasing to such an extent as to give the naval authorities the gravest concern. The condition is not admitted in the bureau of navigation, but the reports received there from the ships on home and foreign stations contain statistics of desertions that are of alarming proportions. No one is able to understand why there should be such illegal withdrawals of the men from the service. It is all the more surprising when it is considered that the payment and privileges of the enlisted men have been made as attractive as possible say the authorities, and all for the purpose of creating contentment among the bluejackets. One reason given is that the punishment of the culprits who are apprehended is altogether inadequate and amounts to an easier existence than that of those who do their duty. The situation is so menacing that the authorities are devising some means of keeping the enlisted force up to its required strength.

SOME HARMLESS OATHS.

"Tinker's Dam" and "Twopenny Dam" May Be Used in Select Circles Without a Qualm.

In the United States it is common to say that you "don't give a tinker's dam" for something or other. Our English cousins, in similar circumstances, say "a twopenny dam." Each of these apparent oaths is harmless, and may be used in polite society without a qualm. Rear Admiral Casey, noticing a look of surprise on the face of a friend when he said "tinker's dam," observed: "I guess you think I'm swearing, but I'm not. A dam is a contrivance resorted to by all tinkers in their work." The phrase "twopenny dam" was first used by the great duke of Wellington. His administration of the British army was attacked, and he astonished the house of lords by replying:

"I don't care, and the British army don't care a twopenny dam for any of these criticisms." Then he explained that "a dam was an Indian coin of the value of twopence."

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark.
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

A WOMAN PEACE ADVOCATE.

Baroness Bertha von Suttner and Her Visit to America.

One of the most distinguished speakers at the recent international peace conference in Boston was an Austrian lady of noble birth, Baroness Bertha von Suttner of Vienna. After the close of the conference the baroness made a tour through several American cities, speaking with wonderful eloquence on the cause to which she has devoted her life—universal brotherhood among nations and peaceful arbitration instead of war. In the furtherance of this sacred cause Mme. von Suttner has visited many of the crowned heads of Europe and pleaded with them to use their influence in doing away with murder by war. She considers one of earth's leading peacemakers to be King Edward of England.

During her brief visit to America she also called by invitation on President Roosevelt. Him she found sincerely and zealously attached to the international arbitration policy. It was about the time of her visit that his invitation to the powers to consider another peace congress at The Hague was issued.

In the movement for the abolishment of war Baroness von Suttner hopes for much from American women. She, who was one of the chief original promoters of this grand movement in Europe, says that there it progresses in spite of the fact that a woman is its apostle. Here it would gain ground because of the advocacy of women. The first thing to do is to convince American womanhood that war is not a necessity; then will be thrown all the powerful influence of the feminine sex in this country on the side of peace among nations. She believes the women of America have opportunity for development and for helping in the progress of the race toward civilization such as their sex has not had before in the historic age.

Baroness von Suttner believes, too, that in the United States a new humanity, a higher race, will arise because of our opportunity. Though a born and bred aristocrat, accustomed to the social life of the highest courts of Europe, Baroness von Suttner turns from it all to praise enthusiastically democracy in America, to hope fervently that social caste and rank may never during our existence as a nation gain foothold in the United States, which she calls a blessed land.

The baroness was born Countess Bertha Minsky in Prague, Bohemia, in 1843. Her father was a field marshal in the Austrian army, in which two of her uncles also held the rank of general. She was trained in the accomplishments thought necessary to adorn an

MME. VON SUTTNER.

Austrian court lady. She is a brilliant musician and so excellent a linguist that she speaks the English language more musically and correctly than seven out of ten American women themselves do. Of the society women of Vienna, far famed for their vivacity, grace and exquisite gowning, Countess Minsky was one of the most brilliant. Her intellect from her earliest girlhood, however, was too vigorous and comprehensive to content itself with social nothings. The venerable Emperor William I. of Germany was one of her stanch friends. In a printed sketch of her life appears a letter written to her by the gallant old soldier-emperor, thanking her for a photograph of herself which she had sent him. Her liveliness and intellectual resources made many a pleasant hour for the venerable ruler.

She was the intimate friend of the Empress Elizabeth of Austria, who met so tragic a fate. The young countess' life was as gay and brilliant as any girl's could possibly be, yet her mind was always on more serious work, particularly work for universal peace. This last seemed her mission. In 1876 she was married to Baron Adolf von Suttner, who was seven years younger than herself. Until the baron's death two years ago the pair lived an ideally happy life. Soon after their marriage both began to do literary work. Novels, essays and sketches came rapidly from the baroness' vigorous pen, so vigorous that none of the thousands of readers who were fascinated with her work dreamed it was done by a woman. None was more surprised than the editors for whom she wrote were when they found their contributor—"B. Oulot," as she signed herself—was a woman.

In 1889 was published "Die Waffen Nieder" ("Lay Down Your Arms"), and Bertha von Suttner became world famous. The book is a novel, a plea for universal peace.

Trimmings Seen on Smart Day and Evening Creations.

Mousseline is utilized in combination with velvet for dressy hats.

The high crowned picture hat, the mushroom shape, the shepherdess, the cowboy and the torpedo turban are found side by side in the most modish shops.

Panne and miroir velvet, moire silk and lightweight furs make smart and pretty headgear.

All kinds of plumage are marvelously popular, as well as long ostrich feathers and Prince of Wales tips. Long, slender cock's feathers, called mephisto, are worn, together with quills innumerable, some of which are made of painted leather.

Chrysanthemums and roses are the preferred floral garniture this winter.

Coq de roche, that bright flaming orange, is a color that is flaunting itself bravely at present, but is too popular to be very long smart, the prophets say.

Wood brown and bronze green are two of the leading shades in millinery. Blue is also conspicuous, and magenta is an old color being revived.

For theater wear capelines of drawn tulle embroidered with gold and bordered with very narrow fur are much worn. The crowns are composed sometimes of a single large rose.

The attractive toque pictured is of hunter's green paon velvet trimmed with a puffing and a quaintly fashioned rosette of shot green taffeta. An aigret of a lighter green, toning delightfully with the color scheme, hangs gracefully at one side.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Simplicity the Trend of Present Styles—The New Coiffure.

In the matter of hairdressing the plait to a great extent is returning to favor. In one of the new coiffure arrangements effected with the plait the front hair is unaltered, being very full and bouffant and combed over a frame. The plait is wreathed around the back of the head, losing itself finally in the soft puffs on each side. In other cases it is brought from a cluster of little rolls on the top of the head nearly to the neck and is caught with a jeweled slide, the end being tucked into the hair.

The tendency of fashion is to free itself from eccentricities. In skirts, for instance, those overloaded with gatherings, puffings and ruchings are put aside for those trimmed only a little above the knee or around the bottom in a very froufrou fashion. In lightweight, full, clinging skirts a thick cord of crinolette is sewed at the foot so light and elastic that it is scarcely noticeable. Heavier fabrics are weighted with lead to keep them in place.

In the cut is seen a Parisian costume of chocolate velvet. The blouse bodice is gathered by means of braid at the shoulders and at the waist. Two ruches of the panne velvet border the fronts. The girdle is of satin, on which are set motifs of embroidery. The plastron and deep cuffs are of white lace and have tiny ruchings of panne. The skirt consists of three gathered flounces edged with plaitings of velvet.

STRANGE OLD HOUSE.

EVEN TRAMPS ARE SHUNNING ITS UNLOCKED DOORS.

For Two Years the Property Has Been Vacant and No One Has Come to Either Claim or Inhabit It.

A Hartford (Conn.) paper says there is standing in the western part of the town of Seymour, not far from the banks of the Housatonic river, a house that has been deserted almost two years, and yet, while there is a small colony of Italians living not far away and tramps roam through this region as they do in all parts of Connecticut, nothing in the house, apparently, has been molested and it, with all its furniture and belongings, is just as it was left when the owner was taken away to the hospital to die, nearly two years ago. The beds in the house have their coverings in place, the kitchen and other furniture has not been touched, and the curtains at the windows are in place, even old muslin curtains, in addition to the regulation paper shades are found at some of the windows. The house is not locked, and has not been, and yet no one except a curiosity hunter ever crosses the threshold, and tramps do not, as would naturally be expected, hold out there during the winter.

Last week a party of five young men and women camped out on the west bank of the river and occupied a log cabin. A woman from Bristol was the guest of one of the campersout for a day, and during her stay at the camp an excursion was made to the "haunted house," as it is called in that section. They were warned in broken English by an Italian living near by not to go near the house, but they persisted and found its condition as stated above. One of the women took away with her a book of an ancient date, and one of the men of the party secured an old-fashioned potato masher for use in the camp. When they were ready to return across the river four went in a large rowboat,

POTATO MASHER SOUVENIR.

while the Bristol woman was paddled across the river in a canoe. This woman and the man speculated much as to why the house was left desolate, as they did not know the story at the time, and they conceived the idea of frightening the other members of the party, who had preceded them, by palming off on them a story of a smallpox case.

When they reached the shore they proceeded to carry out their plan, and the woman who had the book hurled it as far as her strength would allow, and the man sent the potato masher spinning toward the river. Seeing that their story was being taken for the truth the perpetrators of it at once told the other members of the party that it was fiction; but the orginators of the story, the more the matter was talked over, came before long to believe it with the rest. It was so probable an explanation that it was with feelings of anxiety that the advent of the owner of a steam launch that goes up and down the river was awaited that evening in order that the party might learn the truth about the deserted house. He said that the man who owned the place outlived most of his near relatives, and that a few years before his death he drove out of the place his only living relative, a stepson, and that the latter came back to die on the threshold of the house a few years later. The old man then lived alone in the house until a sore developed on his leg and he was taken by the town authorities to a New Haven hospital for an operation. At that time he expected to return to the house and it was left as any house would be. The operation was fatal, and the old man was buried in New Haven. Whether there are any heirs to the property, which, in any case, is not of much value, is not known, but it is certain that some kind of a story of ghosts or haunts has been started to keep the Italians and tramps away from the place.

Sponges on the English Coast.

Although the best sponges come from the Mediterranean, where divers bring them up from the rocks in the depths of the blue sea, a goodly number may be found on the shores of England lying about the beach washed up by the tide or covering rocks or sticking to shells into which they have bored. The shore between the marks of high water and low water has been called Sponge land. Within these limits sponges of many colors may be hunted for in the pools. They brighten the brown beach, these scarlet, orange, yellow, green, white, gray and black patches of sponge. The sponge one usually sees is the skeleton of the jelly-like living animal, and several of these skeletons make pretty ornaments.

FATAL FIRE AT FLUSHING.

Charred Body, Supposed to Be That of Daniel Hogan, In Ruins.

FLUSHING, N. Y., Nov. 28.—In a fire yesterday one man and eight horses were burned to death, three large stables and a carriage manufactory were entirely destroyed, another large stable was wrecked, and half a dozen other buildings were damaged. At one time the entire business section of Flushing was threatened.

The fire started in a stable owned by L. Boyer & Sons, and owing to defects in the fire alarm system it was nearly half an hour before the village firemen were notified. When they reached the scene the flames had spread to adjoining buildings and were beyond control by the local department. Apparatus and men were sent from Long Island City and other nearby points, and after several hours the spread of the fire was checked.

The Boyer stable was entirely destroyed, and a charred body, supposed to be that of Daniel Hogan, was afterward found in the ruins. Here four horses were also burned. Fifty-five horses were taken from the stables of Frederick C. Ayer, a liveryman, and four others were burned, with the building.

The Joseph Van Nostrand carriage factory was destroyed, and the stables owned by Henry McCreedy were wrecked. The total loss is placed at $30,000.

FRANCE, SPAIN, DENMARK.

None of the Powers Has Declined Roosevelt's Peace Plan.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—It is announced at the state department that Spain has accepted in principle the president's invitation for another peace conference at The Hague, reserving for further discussion the fixing of a date for the meeting.

Ambassador Jusserand called on Secretary Hay and repeated what French Foreign Minister Delcasse had said to the effect that the American initiative for the reassembling of The Hague peace conference had received a most sympathetic welcome. It was stated that France had accepted the invitation in principle, with a reservation as to the date for holding the conference.

Denmark likewise has accepted the president's invitation. None of the powers addressed on the subject has declined the invitation.

Suicide Said to Be German Prince.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 28.—A man believed to be prominently connected in Germany committed suicide by hanging himself in his cell at the central police station here yesterday. He was registered as Max Rickhardt, Germany, and was called "the German prince of many aliases." Letters were found addressed to Liddie Lang, Reichenback, Saxony, Germany, and he repeatedly said she was waiting there for his return. He was arrested last Tuesday at the Grand hotel, where he had registered as Clement Christian Luteren and charged with being a hotel thief.

The Situation at Fall River.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Nov 28.—With conditions so far as the great mass of workers is concerned practically unchanged, the textile strike in this city, involving nearly 26,000 operatives, has reached the nineteenth week of its continuance. Following their practice of the past two weeks, the cotton mill owners will today throw open the mill gates and invite such of their former employees as are willing to work for wages 12½ per cent less than they formerly received to return. There is nothing to indicate that a considerable number will be thus attracted.

Train Suicide Dying.

ALTOONA, Pa., Nov. 28.—A man supposed to be H. C. Sollenberger of Chambersburg, Pa., attempted suicide on the western express of the Pennsylvania railroad by shooting himself in the head. The attempt was made between Gallitzin and Cresson. He is dying at the Memorial hospital, Johnstown. His railroad ticket was from Chambersburg to Sterling, Ill.

Thieves Got $8,000 at Morristown.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Nov. 28.—Thieves entered the Winslow residence here and stole $8,000 worth of jewelry belonging to Miss M. L. Winslow. The most valuable single piece taken was a cluster of diamonds worth $2,000. The thieves gained entrance through a second story window.

FUSHIMI AND FAIRBANKS LOOK ON

Annual Army and Navy Contest Fiercely Fought—Final Verdict Was 11 to 0 For Military Players.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—In the presence of Japanese royalty and American officialdom, both military and naval, and under the eyes of 30,000 persons West Point defeated Annapolis in a game that deserves to be called stubbornly fought.

The annual army-navy game can always be depended on to bring out an assemblage which for genuine, whole souled enthusiasm and picturesqueness of appearance is excelled by no other American out of door gathering. Of course the observed of all observers was his royal highness Prince Fushimi, who, with his suit, occupied seats on the navy's side of the field, accompanied by Mayor Weaver and C. C. Harrison, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. All the Japanese wore frock coats and silk hats and watched the match with close attention.

Vice President Elect and Mrs. Fairbanks occupied seats on West Point's stand, while Secretary of the Navy Morton was the center of a large group in a box on a stand appropriated by the sailors.

The final verdict in the contest was 11 to 0 in favor of the soldiers, and all the scoring was done in the first half, when the West Pointers consistently outplayed the middies.

The second half was a different story, for, although deprived of the services of about half her best men, who had been retired to the side line with injuries, Annapolis rallied desperately and for the greater part of the half really fought the soldiers to a standstill. Once the navy fought her way for fifty yards without losing the ball, only to be held by a quarterback kick on the third down only twenty-two yards from that passionately desired touchdown. For the better part of the second half play was in the army's territory, but as darkness drew on the army's strength returned, her attack recovered its earlier vigor, and she was only twenty-five yards from her enemy's goal and going strong when time expired.

All the same, it was an unexpectedly stubborn and skillful defense that the sailors put up; a defense which surprised the many who had expected a rather easy victory for the soldiers and which reflected great credit on the work of Paul Dashiell, the Annapolis coach. It is more than likely that, had not an Annapolis back clumsily handled a punt, the army would have been forced to content itself with a single touchdown, and the score would have been only 6 to 0.

Neck Was Broken In Auto Smash.

BARRINGTON, R. I., Nov. 28. — James Donahue of Providence was thrown from an automobile and instantly killed near here yesterday afternoon. Benjamin F. Blackington, a companion, escaped uninjured. The automobile suddenly swerved to the right and crashed into a telegraph pole. Donahue was thrown a distance of fifteen feet and was dead when picked up. His neck was broken and his skull fractured. He was thirty-seven years of age and a native of Putnam, Conn. The primary cause of the accident is not explained.

Ground to Pieces by Express.

STAMFORD, Conn., Nov. 28.—Frank Egnu, twenty years old, was ground to pieces by a southbound express train near the depot here yesterday afternoon. About four years ago he was run over by a train and crippled, one of his feet being cut off, and a short time after that he was struck again, this accident injuring his head, so that at times he has been out of his mind. It is supposed that he wandered on the tracks while in an unbalanced state.

Call It a Bad Precedent.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—Regret is expressed in the London morning newspapers that there is no provision in the Anglo-Russian convention for the punishment of those who may be found responsible for the Dogger bank affair, and the Morning Post sarcastically declares that Great Britain has created a precedent for permitting foreign navies to fire on British vessels with virtual impunity.

Fatal Peritonitis From Football.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 28.—Calvin Farmer of Sac City, Ia., seventeen years old, is dead as the result of injuries received in a football game with the team from Lake City on Thanksgiving day. The lad was playing left halfback and was thrown while carrying the ball, injuring his stomach. Peritonitis later developed, and the sickness resulted fatally.

VIENNA, Nov. 28.—Socialists to the number of 10,000 made a demonstration against the government before the residences of Premier von Koerber and other ministers and then tried to invade the town hall. SPECIAL MARSHAL TACKLED THE WRONG MAN GETS MUCH THE WORSE OF IT IN A MIX-UP.

Special Marshal Dennis Regan, of the borough, who has a propensity for getting into mix-ups, appeared as complainant against Joseph and James Acker before Recorder Doud, Saturday night, charging them with "assault and battery with intent to kill." Regan's eagerness to convict them led to their discharge as the recorder declared the case was beyond his jurisdiction and should be looked after by the county authorities.

The trouble took place Saturday when Regan ordered the young men off the Cadmus property along Green brook near West End avenue. He swore at them needlessly and James invited him into the street to have "satisfaction," not knowing that Regan was a special marshal. The invitation was accepted and when Regan emerged from the battle he had to be taken to Dr. Buchanan's office for repairs. Witnesses to the affair telephoned Mayor Smalley, the borough fire department and police headquarters in their anxiety to have Regan rescued.

INAUGURATION PLANS.

Governor - Elect Stokes, Unlike Murphy, Wants Simple Ceremony.

In some quarters there is much interest manifested in the plans for the inauguration of Governor-elect Stokes in January. It is well known that Governor Stokes is averse to display and it is therefore pretty certain that the gorgeous ceremonies which attended Governor Murphy's inauguration will not be repeated when Governor Stokes becomes the chief executive of the State.

The proposition of an inaugural ball is opposed by practical politicians, because of the ill feeling such an event usually engenders among those who are overlooked, or who believe they should be invited, and because also of the dissatisfaction that ensues because some get invitations who have no right to be there.

The inaugural ceremonies, no doubt, will be very simple and will probably consist of the usual programme in the Opera House at Trenton, the swearing in of the Governor and the reception in the afternoon and evening at the State House.

WEDDING RECEPTION.

Seventy-Five Friends Honor Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hann Recently Married.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hann, of the borough, who were recently married, were tendered a reception at the home of the former's mother on Somerset place, Thursday evening. During the evening piano solos were given by Miss Mabel Kiernan and phonograph selections by John Shroop.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hann were the recipients of numerous presents, among them being a piano from the bride's mother. There was also a profusion of silverware, bric-a-brac and cut glass.

At the Crescent Avenue Church.

The regular monthly praise service at the Crescent Avenue church last evening was especially appropriate to the Thanksgiving season, both from the musical standpoint and from the substance of the sermon. Rev. Dr. Zelie, the pastor of the church, took for his text "I come into his halls with thanksgiving and into his courts with praise."

Mrs. Barker Dead.

Mrs. Julia A. Barker, widow of David D. Barker, a former resident of this city, died yesterday at the home of her son, Erastus B. Barker, 243 Roseville avenue, Newark, from which place the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Interment private. Mrs Barker was the grandmother of Edmund Rushmore, of Sycamore avenue.

former from the front platform and the latter through a window from a point near where Tattam, the only person killed outright, was sitting in the car. Both were injured, but neither seriously. All the passengers were thrown the length of the car and piled in one end. Some of them were fastened down and crushed by portions of the wrecked car and others were able to struggle free from the mass of humanity. Help came from the Roselle Club stables, directly in front of which the accident occurred and in a few minutes all the injured were being temporarily cared for.

Motorman Drake and Conductor Harrell were placed under arrest after the accident but the latter was subsequently released on his own recognizance. Drake is still in the county jail and will be held until after an investigation by the authorities. He is the son of Charles Drake, of West Third street, and has been considered one of the best and most careful motormen on the road.

Inquiry at the Elizabeth General Hospital this noon gave word that Mrs. Harris is doing nicely and that her complete recovery is assured. When she was first taken to the institution her condition was critical but she rallied soon after the flow of blood from her wounds was checked.

The other Plainfielder injured, Harry Woodland, of Grandview avenue, is detained at his home under the care of Dr. Adams. He was sitting directly opposite the man who was killed when the crash came and was tossed about from one end of the car to the other. He was bruised about the entire body and may be injured internally.

FIRST NUPTIAL EVENT IN LOCAL SYNAGOGUE

MISS MARY BRANT AND AARON LEVINE ARE MARRIED.

The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Weltman, of New York, and was one of the most elaborate ceremonies that has taken place in the structure since its dedication.

Following the wedding adjournment was made to Company K armory on West Front street where a reception took place that lasted until nearly midnight. The groom is a conductor on the local trolley line and is widely known throughout the city. The guests in attendance were from this city, Newark, New York, Brooklyn and many other places.

COUNCIL'S ROUTINE WORK

Petitioned to Open Kensington Ave. to Park Ave.

AN OLD CEMETERY

Councilman Daniel Supplies Information Concerning Pound Family Plot.

In the routine order of business at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council last night a petition for electric lights on Field avenue, between Eighth street and Stelle avenue, was referred to the proper committee, and the Public Service Corporation, through W. R. Causebrook, local manager, informed the members that on and after January 1, 1901, the city would be charged for all gas consumed in the public buildings, which has heretofore been furnished free of cost.

A petition was received from Stephen A. Ginns and thirty-five other property-owners asking the Common Council to open Kensington avenue from Prospect to Park avenues, giving among other reasons for this improvement the advantage in having a continuous road from Park avenue to the golf grounds, Muhlenberg Hospital, the Plainfield Driving Park and New Brunswick, and that the road would open up the petitioners understood, into a plaza that is to be laid out in that section of the city. Accompanying the petition was a map. The petition and map were referred to the street committee.

Mr. Daniel reported on the communication received from the State President of the Daughters of the Revolution asking for information regarding an old unused cemetery in the south-eastern end of the city, which the organization desired to fence in and maintain as a Revolutionary landmark. Mr. Daniel stated that he had furnished the petitioner with the necessary information. He said that the plot referred to was known as the Pound family cemetery.

Mr. Daniel said that, just as he anticipated there might be some technical defect in the bond of Tax Collector-elect Robert L. Lee, the bond was not ready for presentation for approval, and he moved that when the Common Council adjourn it be to meet tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock, at which time it would be ready.

Mr. Bullock reported back several petitions referred to him, one being a request from Bateman Thatcher for permission to build an addition to his house on East Fourth street. The second petition was for a fire alarm box corner of East Second street and Richmond streets. This had previously been granted, as was also a petition for a fire hydrant at East Third and Richmond streets. The fire box referred to was moved from the corner of East Second and Berckman streets.

RANDOLPH'S STATEMENT

President of Consolidated 'Change Is Aroused.

ITS MAIN POINTS

Members Must Not Trade on Clients Property—Supervising Books.

The many recent failures of brokerage houses trading on the Consolidated Exchange have caused so much comment that President L. V. F. Randolph, of that Exchange, who lives here, gave out a statement yesterday in which he outlined the position of the Exchange. He said incidently:

"There is no evidence now in the hands of the administration that any one of the houses that have recently failed were engaged in what is distinctly known as 'bucket shopping.'

"Apparently the transactions of each one of these houses were all faithfully executed.

"In a large and excited business, where the market moves rapidly, it is sometimes difficult for houses to keep track accurately of the actual amount of capital in their business. It has become a serious question as to whether the Exchange itself ought not to exercise such a care—that is, to have such knowledge of and supervision over the books and affairs of its members as to form a better protection for the floor itself and for the clients of the members.

"The position is now taken earnestly by the executive management of the Exchange that in no sense should its membership be permitted to trade against the property of its clients, whether in the form of stocks or of capital."

BOROUGH SCHOOL BOARD AGAIN AFTER TRUANTS

MEMBERS DETERMINED TO PUT AN END TO THE PRACTICE.

The Borough Board of Education took up the truancy question again, last evening, and is to act drastically in two cases. The truancy committee reported that it had been decided to make one arrest during the coming week and another a short time afterward.

Chairman Cooley reported work on the new school to be progressing favorably, although it had been held back two weeks because of lack of proper colored terra cotta. Superintendent Wightman announced that the new structure has shut off the light in one of the present class rooms and by vote it was decided to place factory ribbed glass in the windows to overcome the trouble. Mr. Valiant stated that $5,000 additional insurance had been placed in the new building, making $15,000 in all, and Mr. Joy reported that the teachers' committee is investigation the new tenure of office law and would have something to say about it at a later session. Bills amounting to $3,130.41 were ordered paid.

ADVERSE TO SALOON LIMIT

Introduction of the Measure Causes Lively Debate.

LAID ON THE TABLE

Councilman Tyler Consents to Have Action on the Subject Postponed —Provisions of Ordinance.

The introduction by Councilman W. S. Tyler of his proposed amendments to the ordinance to license inns and taverns, which provide for the restriction of the district in which saloons and other drinking places may be established, to the business section of the city, caused a lengthy discussion at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last night. The matter resulted in such a storm of protest on the part of a majority of the members that on Mr. Daniel's motion, the amendments were laid on the table, after a free and full discussion was allowed. It seemed to be the general opinion that too much haste was being shown; that more time should be allowed for a consideration of so important an ordinance. In the face of the opposition Mr. Tyler gracefully retired and said that if it was the wish of some of the members he was perfectly willing that the amendments should go over another year.

There were two amendments offered by Mr. Tyler for the better regulation of the sale of malt and spirituous liquors and they defined the district in which liquor could be sold. This district included that part of the city lying between Green brook and West Fourth street, Watchung avenue and Central avenue to a point one hundred feet distant beyond these avenues so as to take in both sides of the streets.

The second amendment provided that no saloon shall be located within 250 feet of a school, church or any house of public worship and prevented the transfer of the license to any other person in case of death, removal or for similar causes whereby the license might be forfeited, and it further provided that the amendments would not be applicable to persons who held licenses prior to its adoption, that is persons now outside of the prescribed district would not be affected so long as they continued to do business, but if their license should terminate at any time and not be renewed another application could not be granted for this place. Mr. Tyler moved the adoption of the amendments on the first reading, and to allow a discussion Mr. Garrigues seconded the motion.

Mr. Gloak at once wanted to know if the amendments had been discussed at any length by other members, he professing a lack of knowledge concerning the proposed action.

Mr. Tyler replied that he had sent a copy of the amendments to Mr. Randolph, the other member of the license committee, for the purpose of getting his views concerning them.

Mr. Randolph then stated his position in a most emphatic manner. He did not doubt that it would be a good thing to define the saloon district, but as a member of the Common Council from the Fourht ward he could not conscientiously vote for the amendments. He thought the matter should be left open to further discussion and on these grounds he entered a protest against their adoption. He expressed the belief that the matter was so fixed that the amendments would be carried any way. "If I had my way," said Mr. Randolph, "I would not vote for a single license, provided I was sure that liquor could be kept out of the city, but there are people who have cases of liquor sent to them here, as dry goods and these same people order liquor through their grocers and have it delivered to their homes. This is all right for those who can afford that sort of thing, but there are others who cannot and they have some rights. The people of the other wards seem to think that those in the Fourth ward are a lot of ignoramuses. I think I am voting right in voting against the amendments."

Mr. Gloak said that such an important ordinance should be seen by every member and that duplicate copies of it should be sent to each one so that due consideration could be given to the subject.

Mr. Murphy said that he only understood the amendments in a general way, most of his information having been gained through the newspapers. He, too, considered the matter so important that every member should have a copy of the amendments. He then proposed a recess to consider the changes. A motion to that effect made by Mr. Murphy was subsequently lost by a tie vote of five to five, and the discussion was continued.

Mr. Randolph again spoke on the question, stating that if Mr. Tyler could propose a method to do away with speak-easies he would be glad to know of it. He said that the Common Council had cut out saloons, but that speak-easies were springing up all over and if the city wants that sort of thing the action of the members was all right.

Mr. Daniel explained that there are two motions not debatable, one to adjourn and another to take a recess, and while the motion to take a recess was before the Common Council and he really had no right so discuss the question, he would like to amend the motion offered by Mr. Tyler that the amendments be adopted on first reading, by moving to lay them on the table. This motion finally prevailed.

Mr. Tyler then asked those who strongly objected to his amendments to carefully study them and be prepared to vote at the next meeting, provided there was a disposition to adopt them this year. He explained the necessity of action on some other night besides the one on which the amendments would come up for final adoption.

Mr. Murphy then stated that he would be out of town tomorrow night, when the Common Council will meet again, and as he did not originally favor the amendments, preferring to know more about them he would not be prepared to vote. He could not understand why anyone should object to a recess, it being the only way to quickly reach a decision.

Mr. Tyler replied that he had no desire to press the vote, but if the amendments were to go into effect this year it would be necessary to take action soon.

Once more Mr. Murphy spoke on the question. This time he said that he considered the ordinance one that would restrain future Common Councils in their action on license applications and he thought the principle a wrong one. He then quoted Blackstone to prove that his position was well taken, concluding with the statement that while his views on the license question do not agree with those of other members he did not believe that the present body should dictate the policy of future Common Councils.

President Tolles, after asking Mr. Garrigues to take the chair, entered into the discussion. In the present form he said that he objected to the amendments and would oppose them. He cited the fact in case a liquor dealer should die the money he had paid for a license would be a loss and some provision should be made to see that full value is received. He believed that the Common Council should be careful in passing such ordinances and the one proposed did not seem to be fair to the dealer or the man who wants to take a drink occasionally. He said that it would cost some people almost as much to go back and forth to a saloon as it would for the drink. He also spoke of the Netherwood Hotel adding that without a bar license the place would not pay and the proposed amendments would affect the future of this hotel.

Mr. Daniel was another member to enter his protest to the amendments, stating that he opposed the ordinance in its present form. He was under the impression that the liquor question in this city was well handled and although a license was granted to a man, in reality it was to the place known as a saloon or hotel where large sums of money are expended in fitting these places up. Such amendments as Mr. Tyler proposed he believed were inclined to affect property rights. He understood that the Netherwood Hotel, which had been licensed, was not likely to resume right away, but with the license question in the hands of the Common Council applications in the residential districts can be refused if thought best. For these and other reasons Mr. Daniel said he would vote against the ordinance.

The other members having expressed their views, Mr. Tyler thought it about time to have his say. He commenced by stating that the saloon question is so distinct from the liquor question that the application of rules in one does not work successfully in the other. Continuing Mr. Tyler said "There are no two members in this body that exactly agree concerning the saloon. It needs to be controlled by a strong hand, although not necessarily abolished. It is the paramount duty of the members to see that these places are well policed and that no more harm than is absolutely possible results therefrom."

Mr. Tyler then explained his amendments where they refer to the area, stating in simple language the definition as to the territory included in it.

"This is not a new matter with me," continued Mr. Tyler. "I have taken pains to discuss it with members of the Common Council during

C. C. RANDOLPH ELECTED

Selected to Fill Vacant Seat in Common Council.

HIGHAM NAMED HIM

No Other Candidate Mentioned—Fourth Ward Voted Nay.

To the surprise of those present in the lobby, as well as several members of the Common Council, Charles C. Randolph, of Dunellen avenue, son of former Councilman Isaac Randolph, of West Front street, was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Robert L. Lee at the adjourned meeting held last night. Councilmen Garrigues, Higham, Daniel, Bullock, Murphy, Wilson and Tyler voted for Mr. Randolph while Councilmen Gloak, Frank DeW. Randolph and President Tolles voted against him the last on the ground that he did not know the candidate.

The Fourth Ward members not wishing to assume the responsibility of naming a successor from their ward to succeed Mr. Lee, Mr. Higham undertook the task. He moved that the Common Council proceed to fill the vacancy. This motion adopted he then nominated Charles C. Randolph whose name had hitherto not been mentioned publicly. Mr. Wilson seconded the nomination and the vote was seven to three in favor of Mr. Randolph.

It was expected that other nominations would be made but when the members from the Fourth ward waived their right to the member at large from the Third ward it was practially a certainty that there would be but one nominee. Both during the election and after the meeting many inquiries were made as to who Mr. Randolph was. It was plainly evident that he was not generally known among the members.

Mr. Randolph has been a resident of Plainfield all his life and at present he resides at 1125 Dunellen avenue. He is manager for a Newark concern engaged in the manufacture of tar roofing for buildings. He is identified with the Monroe Avenue church and is a member of Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. and A. M. His friends predict that he will be a good representative in the Common Council. He is elected to fill the vacancy in the Common Council until the next annual election.

M'CARDELL ACCUSES BULLOCK OF BAD FAITH

EXCITING SCENE AT THE CITY CLERK'S OFFICE LAST NIGHT.

Andrew McCardell, of the Fourth ward, and Councilman William Starr Bullock, one of the First ward councilmen, engaged in an altercation at the City Clerk's office last night which caused a mild sensation in Republican political circles. Just before the Common Council met and while a coterie of its members and politicians were gathered at the City Clerk's office, Mr. McCardell, it seems, accused Councilman Bullock of some alleged breach of faith, being incensed because the latter would not support Herbert Burton as a candidate to succeed Robert L. Lee, who had resigned as a member of the body. Mr. Burton was the recognized candidate of the Fourth ward leaders, but the majority of the councilmen, it was generally believed, were not favorable to him. The ire was passed time and again between Mr. McCardell and Mr. Bullock and there was an invitation to settle the dispute in a fistic encounter to which Mr. Bullock seemed agreeable. Finally Mr. McCardell assured the Councilman that he would settle the affair at another time and the heated argument ended.

Case to be Appealed.

The case of Charles Hand and Frank Smith against Dr. George Herring, on contract, which was decided in favor of the defendant at Justice Hand's court Friday afternoon, has been appealed. The jury, though the suit was for $150, brought in a verdict of no cause of action, and in addition allowed the defendant $10 for expenditures.

Relief Corps Fair.

The members of the Woman's Relief Corps are planning to hold a fair during the second or third week in January. There will be a meeting of the women tomorrow night at the home of Mrs. William C. Smith, of Grandview avenue, and the various committees will be selected to arrange for the fair.

VAN NESS SUIT SENSATION

Executor of J. R. Marsh Brings Foreclosure Proceedings.

TRIAL AT NEWARK

Lawyer VanNess' Testimony Produces Startling Facts Concerning a Transaction.

When witnesses commenced to testify in the matter of the suit brought by George W. Marsh, of North Plainfield, administrator of the estate of the late John R. Marsh, of Scotch Plains, against John K. VanNess, of this city, to foreclose a mortgage of $3,500, appeared yesterday there was an atmosphere of mystery and suppressed excitement in Vice-Chancellor Emery's court room, in Newark, which was almost filled. Among those present were several policemen and Chief Kiely, of this city, who remained in the corridor adjoining the court room while the defendant was on the stand.

The defendant VanNess, who is a lawyer practicing in New York city in 1891, obtained a loan of $3,000 from John R. Marsh on property in this city. Mr. VanNess alleged that he paid a usurous bonus for the loan, and that he paid Mr. Marsh, prior to the latter's death, $500 for which he never got a receipt. He claimed also that he paid for a release for a portion of the property.

At a former hearing Mr. VanNess testified that the negotiations for the $3,000 mortgage were conducted by Samuel Allen, a resident of this city, who finally secured the money, less the bonus. Mr. Allen corroborated this testimony after Mr. VanNess was excused from giving further testimony on account of his health. This was the status of the case when it was resumed yesterday.

When recalled Mr. VanNess completed his direct examination, but protested that he was unable to undergo cross-examination by Judge P. H. Gilhooley, counsel representing the complainant, whereupon W. S. Angleman, counsel for Mr. VanNess, called the latter's physician, Dr. Long, who stated to the court that the witness was a paralytic subject and would be exhausted if subjected to longer examination. The court finally decided to permit the witness to stand aside temporarily.

Mr. Angleman then called Colonel R. J. Haire, a well-known criminal lawyer, of New York city, who testified to paying Mr. VanNess $1,000 in cash a day or so before the defendant asserts he paid the late Mr. Marsh the $500 for which he received no receipt.

Colonel Haire was submitted to a very rigid cross-examination by Judge Gilhooley, who asserted that the money was paid to Mr. VanNess in the presence of a Mr. Russo and W. S. Straut. The witness admitted under Judge Gilhooley's probe that the money was paid over to VanNess as a payment to secure the property covered by the mortgage.

"Was the deal ever completed?" asked Judge Gilhooley.

"No, it went no further," replied the witness.

When W. S. Straut was called he testified in corroboration of the preceding witness with reference to the $1,000 payment to Mr. Van Ness, and he was also submitted to a very rigid examination. He testified that he had returned from service as a volunteer in the Philippines in 1901, and that he had been connected with Colonel Haire's office at the time the money was paid.

"What is your business now?" asked Judge Gilhooley.

"I go to New York."

"What do you do there?"

"I visit saloons."

"What for?" persisted counsel, but on Mr. Angleman's objection the answer was not insisted upon.

The hearing was adjourned until Dec. 7.

Keep Crowd Back at Fires.

It has been suggested that inasmuch as the fire truck carries a rope which is supposed to be used at fires to keep the usual crowd back of the danger point, that it would be well to use it. An illustration of the necessity of this was shown last week at the fire in the wall paper store on North avenue. It was with difficulty that the crowd was kept back and when Chief Doane arrived he had trouble in getting through the mass of people that had congregated there.

Will Study Old Testament.

NO CORONER'S INQUEST

Lewis Drake, the Motorman, Held For Manslaughter.

IN TROLLEY WRECK

County Prosecutor to Lay Facts Before the Grand Jury—P. S. C. Officials Active.

Although Motorman Lewis Drake, of this city, is still held in the county jail at Elizabeth, on a technical charge of manslaughter, it was declared today that no coroner's inquest would be held over the body of Charles Tattam, of Jersey City, who met death in the fatal trolley wreck at Roselle Saturday night. It was also said that no action would be taken by the county prosecutor with the exception of calling the attention of the Grand Jury to the case, provided no criminal complaint was made by the relatives of Tattam.

County Physician Westcott said yesterday that in his judgment there had been no criminal negligence and that the loss of a man's life in the disaster was due to an accident. Prosecutor English telegraphed the family of the dead man that it would be necessary for them to make formal complaint if they wished an examination, but as yet they have not answered.

Officials of the Public Service Corporation have been conducting an investigation in their own behalf but they refuse to make know what discoveries were made. Drake's version of the accident, that his brakes failed to work, is generally accepted and there is no feeling against him. The wrecked car was examined but nothing could be discovered that would be of use in the event of a trial.

The condition of Mrs. Fannie Harris, of this city, who was seriously hurt in the accident, and who is in the Elizabeth General Hospital, is reported today as being much improved, and every hope is entertained of her ultimate recovery, unless some unlooked for complications arise. Harry Woodland, of the borough, is also doing nicely as are all the others who were more or less injured.

Frank Bergen, counsel for the Public Service Corporation; Chandler Riker and Thomas N. McCarter, officials of the same company, were in Plainfield yesterday on business pertaining to the wreck. They called on the Plainfielders injured and conferred with relatives about circumstances relating to it. It is also understood that they conferred with Conductor Harrall, of Church street, who was on the ill-fated car.

EPISCOPALIANS ELECT VESTRYMEN FOR YEAR

ANNUAL PARISH MEETINGS IN THE LOCAL CHURCHES.

Wardens, vestrymen and delegates to the diocesan convention were elected at the annual parish meeting of the Church of the Holy Cross held in the parish house, last night. Those chosen as vestrymen were T. U. Dudley, George M. Holstein, Frank B. Browne, William L. Saunders and C. M. Burt. Dr. J. H. Carman was elected senior warden and Charles L. Nichols junior warden. The delegates elected to attend the next diocesan convention were Dr. J. H. Carman, Charles L. Nichols and William L. Saunders.

At Grace church E. H. Booth was elected senior warden and Marion S. Ackerman as junior warden. Those vestrymen were chosen: Charles E. Brooks, W. T. Gough, W. T. Pellettier, Lewis G. Timpson, Julius E. Erickson, Arthur Masters, O. G. Waring. These delegates were chosen to attend the next diocesan convention: W. E. Lowe, Charles Ball and John B. Dumont. The vestry met afterwards and organized by electing Marion S. Ackerman as secretary and O. G. Waring treasurer.

The report of the work of the cartor, Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, showed a very satisfactory condition, as did also the report of the treasurer.

D. A. R. Election.

The annual meeting of Continental Chapter, D. A. R., was held at the home of the regent, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, in Madison avenue, Monday afternoon, and the following officers were elected for the coming year: Regent, Mrs. D. H. Howland; first vice regent, Mrs. D. P. Hall; second vice regent, Miss Brown; registrar, Mrs. J. G. Foster; secretary, Mrs. W. W. Currie; treasurer, Mrs. S. R. Struthers. The organization has $300 in its treasury.

LITERARY.

The novel complete of Lippincott's Magazine for December is timely and taking. It is by Alden March, an editor of the Philadelphia Press, and is called "A Darling Traitor." It pictures all the intrigue and human frailties of a great political campaign, and, besides, it tells a love-story most fascinating and most real. The "Darling Traitor" is a fresh youngster who knows the town as only such kids can, and his dereliction wins a husband for one of the nicest girls in recent fiction.

Anne Warner, creator of Susan Clegg, and a favored contributor to the Century and other leading magazines, has written the daintiest of Christmas stories for the December Red Book, under the title "As Queens are Wedsmith." A young mother who is also a literary woman, her publisher, and her little girl, are the characters in the tale, which is bound to please by the charm of its thought and its diction. It is interesting to note that Anne Warner's first novel was written under the title, "As Queens are Wed," but this name was changed at the desire of her publishers.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The best play she has ever had," is the concensus of opinion delivered by the critics on "Mrs. Black Is Back," in which Miss Irwin appears at the Bijou Theatre. The usual coon song hit is looked for and found. "Bible Stories" is a cooney coon warble, and bids fair to succeed the old "Bully" song to the title of "The Best Coon Song ever Written." It tells of the good old Bible stories in a coon dialect and in the quaintest of coon descriptions. Jonah's voyage of discovery in the whale winds up: "Well, Jonah pressed the button, and the whale he did the rest." Miss Irwin's engagement at the Bijou is limited, but only by the conditions of her bookings.

HAHNE & CO.'S CHRISTMAS.

New Jersey's Greatest Store Makes the Grandest Display Ever Presented by This Well-Known and Popular Establishment.

A magnificent Christmas spectacle, the grandest ever presented by any New Jersey store, is now open to the public in Hahne & Co.'s superb twelve-acre establishment, Newark, and will be continued until Christmas Day. The scene in this popular store will be akin to a dream of Fairyland, or an imaginative reproduction of the life, light and beauty of the palace of the genii.

Upon entering the store the visitor's attention will be immediately directed to the biggest Santa Claus ever seen in a merchantile establishment in any city of the world. The figure stands twenty-five feet high; his head five feet, six inches high and about twelve feet in circumference; his boots are six feet tall; nearly 170 yards are required to make his cloth coat. A very polite old chap is he, for he has a bow of recognition for everyone who enters the grand court. The decorations, the music, the beautiful pictures presented by the various displays of goods, the many free exhibitions and the delightful spots where one may sit down and rest, make Hahne & Co.'s store the ideal shopping centre of the eatsern States, New York not excepted.

Twelve acres of Christmas gifts is the choice this grand store invites people of Newark and vicinity to come and inspect. Such dolls have never been seen here before. Thev are the nearest approach to nature that can be produced. Toys? Why, Santa Claus makes them by the thousands for Hahne & Co. All the newest toy freaks in mechanics and electricity; toys from Germany and Switzerland; toys made in America and China, are in the vast stock of Hahne & Co. Then there are fancy furniture, rugs, curtains, cut glass, bric-a-brac, furs, lamps, pianos, boxed dress patterns, fashionable ready-made garments, handkerchiefs, lace sets, jewelry, pictures, silver goods, fancy toilet goods, gloves, Regina music boxes, Victor talking machines, cigars, smokers' novelties, etc.

There is one rational way to treat nasal catarrh: the medicine is applied direct to the affected membrane. The remedy is Ely's Cream Balm. It restores the inflamed tissues to a healty state without drying all the life out of them and it gives back the lost senses of taste and smell. The sufferer who is tired of vain experiments should use Cream Balm. Druggists sell it for 50 cts. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York, will mail it.

—The thirty-first annual convention of the National W. C. T. U. will be held in the Baptist temple, corner Broad and Berks streets, Philadelphia, November 29 to December 4, inclusive.

MATTINGS

SHADES

BACK FROM ST. LOUIS

Roosevelt and World's Fair Party En Route.

CRANK GERMAN ARTIST ARRESTED

President's Special Speeding Toward Capital—Stop Made at Pittsburg, Where Car Platform Speech Was Made.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—After trying to force her way into the residence of William H. Thompson at St. Louis for the purpose of painting the picture of President Roosevelt Miss Maria Herndl, said to be a glass painter from Munich, Germany, who says she occupies studio quarters in Milwaukee, Wis., has been arrested by secret service men here.

She appeared to be about thirty-eight years old, was fairly well dressed and showed refinement. She walked up the steps, rang the bell and explained to the butler in broken English, after giving him her card, that she had written to the president a week ago that she intended to call upon him during his St. Louis visit and paint his portrait on glass.

Detective Viehle of the secret service seized and led her down the steps. He sought to persuade her to return to her stopping place, but persuasion availed nothing, and the woman was finally placed under arrest.

It was learned after investigation that Miss Herndl was released at the police station after having been questioned at length and satisfying the authorities that she meant no harm to the president. She said that she had a painting of George Washington on display in the Varied Industries pavilion and was anxious that it be viewed by President Roosevelt. When he failed to see it on Saturday she decided to call on him on Sunday to persuade him to see the picture.

The special train bearing President Roosevelt to Washington from St. Louis arrived in Pittsburg last night at 8:30 o'clock and departed ten minutes later. A large and enthusiastic crowd was present at the Union station, and cheer after cheer greeted the chief executive when he appeared on the platform of the rear car. The president said: "I am pleased to again get to Pittsburg after an absence of a little over eighteen hours. I have been to St. Louis to see the fair and thoroughly enjoyed myself. I have also had the privilege of greeting American citizens in the states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri, which I appreciated."

A large squad of police and detectives were lined up on either side of the train during its stay in this city, and every precaution was taken for the president's safety.

Just before the president's train pulled out of the exposition grounds at St. Louis a woman leading a Texas steer that had a pair of horns with a spread of nearly four feet approached the car in which the president was. She was stopped.

"Try to lift me," she suggested to the officers. She proved to be the "magnetic woman," who possesses the peculiar power of preventing anybody, however strong, from raising her from the ground when she so wills it. She had found the steer at one of the shows on the grounds and had brought it along to show to the president. At the suggestion of the officers she led her curious pet away.

At Dennison the president was greeted by a great crowd of school children. On the journey to St. Louis the president was presented with a raccoon, which is being taken back to Washington. In some remarks at Dennison the president referred to the gift. He said:

"I want to tell you all good evening and to say how pleased I am to see you again and to tell you that the coon is getting along well. He feeds on everything and shows a little inclination to feed on every man too. The fair was a most beautiful and wonderful scene, and I am very glad I went. I was glad to see the fair, but I am still gladder to see all of you here, the people of these states and Missouri. I wish you good night and good luck, especially the little folks."

After a sojourn of two days in St. Louis which proved an experience thoroughly delightful and almost unique President Roosevelt is now speeding toward Washington. Few stops will now be made en route, and it is likely that the president will make no extended remarks at any of them.

Leiter-Campbell Wedding Today.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The marriage of Miss Nannie Leiter, daughter of the late Levi Z. Leiter and sister of Lady Curzon, to Major Colin Campbell of the English army will take place at noon today at the home of Mrs. Leiter, on Dupont circle. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, rector of St. John's Episcopal church.

Parson Shot at Judge on Bench.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—Rev. Isaac Selby of Australia, plaintiff in a damage suit, shot at Superior Judge Hebbard here while the latter was on the bench. The bullet came within an inch of the judge's head and lodged in the back of his chair. Selby was at once removed to the city prison and charged with an attempt to commit murder.

Kaiser's Envoys Doing the Fair.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 29.—Count Schmettan and General von Loewenfeld, envoys of Emperor William to attend the unveiling of the statue of Frederick the Great at Washington, called to pay their respects to President Francis of the exposition.

WOMAN OF MYSTERY

Boston Man Brings Suit to Recover $190,000.

DEFENDANT, ALLEGED FORGER, GONE

Mrs. Jessie Leroy Chadwick, Claiming to Be Worth $5,000,000, Said to Resemble an ex-Convict Named Lydia Devere.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Mrs. Jessie Leroy Chadwick of Cleveland, defendant in a suit brought against her by Herbert B. Newton, a Boston business man, for the recovery of $190,000 lent in promissory notes which, he declares, were given under false representation, and who in personal appearance is said to resemble the convicted forger, Lydia Devere, has left the Holland House here, in which she had for many months been a regular and an honored guest. It is said that Mrs. Chadwick claimed to have deposited securities to the value of $5,000,000.

The circumstances of her sudden departure presented all the elements of the dramatic. Up to Saturday evening Mrs. Chadwick had been blissfully unaware of the storm that was about to break over her head, even though she knew that Mr. Newton had entered suit against her for the recovery of his money and that the western newspapers were hot on a trail of coincidences which seemed to suggest a connection with Lydia Devere, who in 1891 was sentenced to nine years' imprisonment in the state penitentiary of Ohio and was subsequently pardoned in 1893 by Governor McKinley.

The striking likeness between Mrs. Chadwick and the Devere woman further accentuated the coincidence.

The greatest ingenuity had been exercised by the hotel authorities to conceal the fact of her departure. The clerks were instructed to say that she was not in the hotel, but they said it in a way to excite the suspicion of the reporters.

The court issued subpoenas for both Mrs. Chadwick and Irl Reynolds, secretary and treasurer of the Wade Park Banking company.

Mr. Reynolds has declared that he did not know whose name was signed to the alleged note for $500,000 payable to Mrs. Chadwick, that he was not holding any such note among the securities in his possession belonging to Mrs. Chadwick and that he did not even know of any such note being in existence.

He said he did not believe there was such a note and said there were no diamonds or other jewels in his possession among the securities he holds for Mrs. Chadwick.

According to a Cleveland paper, Mrs. Chadwick has masqueraded at different times under the aliases of Mme. Devere, Lydia D. Scott, Mme. Clingao, Mrs. Elizabeth Bigley and Mrs. Dr. Hoover.

Under these names, it is alleged, she operated as a spiritualist medium, moving mysteriously from town to town, leaving a trail of forgeries in her wake. She told fortunes, it is charged, borrowed money, engaged in great financial transactions with others as backers and was always plentifully supplied with money.

It was in 1897 that Dr. Leroy Chadwick, one of Cleveland's most distinguished physicians, returned to that city with the wife he had married in Canada. Dr. Chadwick was rich, and his practice brought him an enormous income. The woman he had married possessed great beauty, notwithstanding her forty years of age, and her regal manner and air of suave distinction and high breeding carried her at once into the homes of the most prominent in the city of Cleveland.

No question as to her antecedents was ever asked in Cleveland, as the fact that she was the wife of Dr. Chadwick was enough to assure her a welcome in the most exclusive social circles in the city.

Deputy Collectors Must Be Fit.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—President Roosevelt has issued an order amending the civil service rules so as to include within the classified service the positions of deputy collectors of customs and the chief collector at each port. Future appointments, therefore, must be based upon competitive examinations. The order affects about 400 positions.

PLENTY OF PROOF.

From People You Know—From Plainfield Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced in the face of evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Plainfield, of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it:

Mrs. Margaret Reville, of 733 West Third street, says: "For a long time I was troubled with a lame and weak back and I never found anything which gave me any relief until I obtained Doan's Kidney Pills from L. W. Randolph's drug store and began to use them according to directions. It was only a short time before I felt the good effects and from that time on I improved steadily under the treatment. My back pained me and was so weak and sore that I dreaded to bend and when I had a cold or overexerted myself I suffered severely. I used several different kidney remedies but got little if any relief. I give Doan's Kidney Pills all the credit for my improvement. I think they are a fine medicine for a lame back."

RUSSIA FOR PEACE

Roosevelt's Proposals Accepted by Czar's Government.

THEIR FIRST ARBITRATION TREATY

Count Lamsdorff Accepts Note Presented by Charge d'Affaires Eddy on Behalf of the United States.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 29.—The Russian government has accepted the proposals of the United States for a joint treaty of arbitration. The American proposal was submitted to Russia in the form of a note from Secretary Hay, which was presented personally to Foreign Secretary Lamsdorff by Charge d'Affaires Eddy, Nov. 27. Count Lamsdorff has replied accepting in principle in behalf of the imperial government the text of the treaty, but indicating that Russia would propose some slight modifications. These are expected to be drafted in a few days, and the final consummation of the new rapprochement with Russia will not long be delayed.

Although it was known that the American government was desirous of negotiating arbitration treaties with all the principal powers, the fact that Russia had already been approached with a direct proposition did not leak out until Count Lamsdorff had accepted it.

The rapprochement is expected to have a splendid effect on Russo-American relations, especially as it marks Russia's first adherence to an arbitration treaty with a foreign power.

Considerable of the credit for the prompt action upon the proposal of the United States belongs to Charge d'Affaires Eddy. The existence of a treaty or even a suggestion that such a step was contemplated, was not generally known in St. Petersburg last night.

ECHO OF GURNEY INCIDENT.

British Ambassador at Washington Was Ready to Pay Fine.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Announcement is made at the state department that it received from the British ambassador at Washington a check for $25, the amount which a Massachusetts magistrate fined Hugh Gurney, third secretary of the embassy, charged with exceeding the speed limit for automobiles in Massachusetts.

The check was received immediately after the magistrate apologized for his conduct and was promptly returned to the ambassador by the department with a cordial note informing him that as the arrest of his secretary was unwarranted the fine was irregular and could not be received.

The announcement of these facts is made by the state department that it may be known that the British embassy was ready from the start to make all appropriate amends.

Arrest In Leicester Murder Case.

LOWELL, Mass., Nov. 29.—A man giving the name of Carl Brett was arrested here last night on suspicion of being the murderer of Mrs. Emma Richard Brigham of Leicester. The suspect, the police say, answers the description of the man wanted. He could give little information concerning himself. He claimed to have worked in Cambridge last week and to have gone into the country, where he remained over Saturday. He could not satisfactorily account for his whereabouts on last Friday, the day upon which Mrs. Brigham was killed.

Brigham Pleaded Not Guilty.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Nov. 29.—Charles E. Brigham, indicted on the charge of murdering Mrs. Celia J. Smith at South Londonderry, pleaded not guilty before Judge Peaslee of the superior court here. Testimony indicated that the defendant was mentally unsound. Mrs. Smith was beaten to death in her bed. Brigham, who lived in the same town, disappeared, and after a search lasting over a month he was arrested in Lewiston, Me.

Stole an Elmira Horse and Rig.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Nov. 29.—Elias S. Cooper was arrested in this city last night on the charge of stealing a horse and carriage from G. M. Hollister of Elmira last Wednesday. The horse and wagon were located in a livery barn here. He was taken to Elmira this morning. Cooper was sent to Auburn prison from this city three years ago for a criminal assault on a young girl.

Cement Works Strike Broken.

EASTON, Pa., Nov. 29.—The backbone of the strike at the Vulcanite cement works, near Phillipsburg, N. J., was broken when 200 of the 400 Hungarians who quit work because they were not paid more than $1.35 a day returned to work. There have been no disturbances for the past day or two, but the sheriff and his 100 deputies are still on guard.

Robber Fatally Shot.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Nov. 29.—In a battle between a posse of citizens and three robbers at Fonda, Ia., one of the robbers, whose name is not known, was shot and fatally wounded. The other two escaped, but a posse is in pursuit. The small amount of booty secured was found on the wounded roober.

No Yellow Jack In Cuba.

Plainfield, N. J., Nov. 29, 1904.

The New York Herald is making a fight for tunnel communications with New Jersey, contending that the suburban district in New Jersey is but a part of the great metropolis. It argues that a tunnel would have the effect of adding to New York's wealth and prosperity.

That the good man who identifies himself with a political ring is sure to lower himself in public esteem is well illustrated in the case of Governor Samuel Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania. For years he was looked upon as the ablest and most upright of Philadelphia jurists and had gained a reputation, not only throughout that State, but in the surrounding States as well as a man of profound legal learning. Then his cousin, the late Senator Quay, elevated him or lowered him to the chief executiveship of the Keystone State, and what a sad record he has made since. If he is remembered for nothing else, the odium of the "press gag" law and similar bad measures will be linked with his once splendid name forever.

Though Common Council has postponed action on Mr. Tyler's measure to establish a saloon limit in the city, it is hoped that the proposed ordinance will be passed after a full consideration is had. There is no unjust feature in the bill drawn by the Third ward councilman and as a whole it is greatly to the interest of the community. There can be no question that saloons should not be allowed to invade the residential portion of the city. The evil effect, both morally and financially, of allowing liquor places to be located in the home district may be seen in other cities of this section. They should be confined strictly to the business portion of the city where they rightfully belong and it is a sensible thing to define the exact limits territorially.

the past six months and I do not care to act hasty. I sent a copy of the amendments to Mr. Randolph. (First I had heard of it, exclaimed Mr. Randolph,) and I sent a copy to President Tolles. The object of these amendments is this. The saloons ought to be where they are now and not allowed to grow. Every year the various license applications are discussed and personality enters into every application. I have not drafted an ordinance to suit the license committee, if I had I would have changed it in many respects, but I have tried to make it suit the majority of the members. The principle in the matter should actuate the decision of the Common Council.

"Let us restrict the district and thus prevent saloons being established in the residential sections. We consider the Netherwood Hotel as out of business and not a success with or without a bar. However, there is nothing in these amendments to deprive the hotel of a license if the members deem it wise that one should be granted there. As for the possibility of the death of a saloon keeper, I think they are all a hearty and husky-looking lot of men and not likely to die soon. I think there is a fallacy there as already expressed. I do not favor an increase in the number of saloons in the prescribed area. I protest that saloon licenses are property rights. This is not so in any sense of the word." In conclusion Mr. Tyler said that he had no objection to the matter going over another year if the majority of the members felt that way.

In response to Mr. Daniel's request, Mr. Tyler explained that many of his ideas regarding the amendments were obtained from a similar ordinance now in force in Milwaukee. In that city Mr. Tyler stated that there was strong opposition to the adopiton of such a plan, but now it had gained favor to such an extent that any attempt to repeal it would result in the defeat of the official attempting this.

The amendments were then laid on the table and further discussion terminated.

Beginning this evening, the Catholics at Cranford will conduct a fair which will end on Saturday evening, December 3. The fair will be held in the assembly hall, near the station, and will be open for children Thursday and Saturday afternoons. Father Westman has charge of the affair.

The semi-annual sale under the auspices of the Ladies' Sewing Society, of the Swedish Pilgrim church, Saturday evening, was both a social and a financial success. Fancy articles of all kinds, hand embroidered, were offered for sale, and clothing, ornaments and pretty articles both useful and ornamental netted a sum of $135, which will be devoted to the church fund. A large number of people attended the sale, and a thoroughly pleasant time was enjoyed by all. L. T. Lindholm acted as auctioneer. The committee in charge of the affair was Mrs. Augusta Brant and Mrs. G. A. Brandt.

AMUSEMENTS.

Fritzi Scheff, a new comedy opera "The Two Roses," gorgeous production, handsome costumes, pretty chorus, splendid company—there's a combination that should fill the Broadway Theatre, New York, to overflowing for many nights to come. With one successful season to the credit of his new star, Charles B. Dillingham deliberated carefully before he selected the vehicle for the frisky Scheff's second tour, realising that another season of big success meant that the fascinating prima donna would reign quite alone in the world of light opera. Mr. Dillingham seems to have chosen well, for in "The Two Roses" by Stanislaus Stange and Ludwig Englander, he has found a comedy opera that meets every demand of music lovers who wish a fair share of good natured fun along with their melodies. The general atmosphere of Miss Scheff's new offering is pastoral. Even the star effervesces her way through the apple orchards and rose scented gardens of an eighteenth century country estate, although long before the first act is ended, the bubbles of her good nature have overflowed the rustic simplicity and quite inundated the more soberminded characters. Anything too closely associated with repose would not appeal to Miss Scheff, and in the opera she frolics along first as a dashing French girl, next as a vivacious barmaid and finally as a French prima donna arrayed in all the striking finery of the woman of fashion. She sings as she goes, of course, arise, love songs, concert waltzes; she tests the full range of her splendid vocal powers; she coquettes, romps, laughs, makes love; she does the dozen or more things that have endeared her to the public; she—in short, she is Fritzi Scheff at her very best.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 29.—The unprecedented spectacle of a former chief judge of the court of appeals arguing a case before the court from which he resigned to become a candidate for the presidency of the United States will be presented here on Tuesday of next week, Dec. 6, when, as he is expected to do, former Judge Alton B. Parker appears to argue the first case in which he has made public appearance as counsel in many years.

The case is that of Elizabeth Reich, plaintiff-appellant, against Edith La Bau Dyer and Lillian La Bau Aymar as executrices of the last will and testament of Alice V. La Bau, deceased. Mrs. La Bau was an aunt of William K. Vanderbilt, and the litigation grew out of a transaction concerning real estate known as the Brentwood farm, adjoining the estate of Mr. Vanderbilt in the town of Islip, Suffolk county. The property was conveyed to Mrs. La Bau by Mrs. Reich as security for a loan, it is claimed, with the understanding it was subsequently to be purchased by Mrs. La Bau. The present suit is for the difference between the amount of the loan and the purchase price, which was $40,000. The amount involved is $39,639 and interest since March 1, 1897.

Charles Strauss is the attorney of record in the case and has conducted it thus far. Judge Parker, it is stated, will argue it before the court of appeals at the request of Mrs. Reich's husband, whom he has known for years. Mr. Reich was a frequent caller at Esopus early in the campaign, and there was talk at one time of his opening a hotel there for the accommodation of visitors to the presidential candidate.

A NAVAL DISASTER.

Fatal Explosion on British Torpedo Boat.

PORTSMOUTH, England, Nov. 29.—A singular accident, resulting in the death of two men and injuries to a number of others, has occurred in Portsmouth harbor. Two launches belonging to the British torpedo schoolship Vernon were engaged in an instructional course of sweeping the harbor for mines when suddenly an explosion occurred on board one of the launches, which immediately sank. Those who were on board of her were thrown into the icy water and were rescued with difficulty.

Two men were drowned by the sinking of the Vernon, and the second launch was so seriously damaged that she also sank.

The official report says that the explosion was due to an unsuccessful effort to fire a counter mining explosive charge used during the sweeping operations.

Will Put Down Lawless Gang.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 29.—Italians of the better class in and around Carbondale are organizing a society to rid their colonies of the members of the lawless gang which for the past year and particularly for the past month has been committing outrages that would put the banditti of their native country to shame.

BAD BOY IS CHECKMATED.

How a Wise Old Bachelor Persuaded His Squalling Nephew to Shut His Mouth.

A bachelor is not usually credited with a knowledge of the proper treatment of children, but sometimes, says the Chicago Inter Ocean, they step in where angels fear to tread. A confirmed specimen, who is pretty well on in years and not very fond of children went to see a married sister the other day, and found her trying to amuse her little boy, aged five years.

Not long after he arrived she stepped out of the room to attend to some household duty of other, leaving him alone with the child. The latter eyed him dubiously for some minutes. He was a spoiled child if ever there was one, and had no idea of making promiscuous acquaintances. The bachelor tried to make the little one laugh, but all he got for his antics was a sour look.

Finally, without any warning, the child burst out crying. Here was a quandary, to be sure. He didn't dare to pick the boy up and soothe him. His attempts in a verbal line were dismal failures What should he do? Finally a thought struck him. He looked at the crying youngster, and the crying youngster looked at him through his tears. He was evidently much pleased with the impression he was making.

"Cry louder," said he.

The child obeyed.

"Louder yet," urged the bachelor.

A yell went up that would have done credit to an Indian.

"Cry louder still," insisted the man, and the boy did his best to obey.

"Louder!" fairly howled his uncle.

"I won't!" snapped the infant, and he shut his mouth with a click and was quiet for the rest of the day.

THE BLUFF THAT FAILED.

Mr. Staylate Attempts to Fool His Better Half, But Instead Is Fooled Himself.

A clock in a near-by tower had just tolled off the hour of 4 as he arose unsteadily from the card table, where he had sat for three hours, stretched his weary limbs, bade his comrades goodnight and started in the direction of his home.

After a half hour's walk, in which all the lamp post and telegraph poles insisted on getting in his way, he arrived at his home, took out his bunch of keys, at last found the elusive keyhole and softly opening the door and discarding his shoes at the foot of the stairs, climbed heavenward on all fours. With cat-like footsteps he crept across the threshold of his bedroom and proceeded to undress. He heard his wife move restlessly, which made him hurry, and in doing so he upset a chair. Stepping quickly over to the cradle in the corner he commenced to rock it violently.

"Is that you, John?" came his wife's voice from the bed.

"Yes, dear," he replied.

"Well, what in the world are you doing?" she asked.

"Why, I'm rocking this blamed kid to sleep."

"How long have you been there?"

"Since 11:30."

"Well, John, I think you had better get right into bed, as I have the child in here beside me, and, moreover, I've had him here ever since 11 o'clock last night."

HANDSOME WRAPS.

Elaborate Outer Garments and Their Proper Accompaniments.

The other night I went to see "Becky Sharp." Mrs. Fiske is an actress who attracts an audience of well dressed women. They looked like a garden of marigolds with a few scarlet poppies thrown in and a lot of red skinned onions scattered around promiscuously. Many were all in white, like stately lilies, while a few wore black, but black so covered with white lace on the waists that the effect was like cobwebs over the frozen grass. The picture was one of radiant color and beauty. Never before, I think, have I seen rich colors in such general use. Heretofore it has been considered vulgar to appear in public in such deep reds and yellows, to say nothing of the russets and browns—but there are so many shades and colors that I despair of telling half their glories. Beautiful woman, however, is always more beautiful than ever in the latest new thing with which she decks herself.

Hats were largely in evidence before the curtain went up—big, flat, high and overloaded with enormous ostrich plumes—and these hats, instead of lying flat, as they have done for two seasons, are now so arranged that they stand high and curl over in graceful shapes. The wraps, too, come in for quite a good share of admiration, and there was just a little ladylike craning of the necks to see some of them. The wearers came sweeping down the aisles with heads poised in accordance with the beauty and value of the wrap, and when at last seats were reached the happy wearers stood quite a half minute, turning slowly, so that all there saw and straightway became so envious that they lost half the meaning of the opening act. These wraps are like loose sacks in shape, generally with a fold in the center of the back, and the sleeves are big and elaborate. White broadcloth or white ribbed velutina, or in some cases heavy white silk, makes the richest.

A few very light pearl grays are seen, and white in its variations of ivory, cream and oyster is often employed. These garments are lined with some contrasting silk, satin or rich heavy brocade. Most of them are without collars, but all are heavily embroidered or incrusted with lace. This lace is naturally of a shade differing from the material as far as possible and still remaining white. If the garment is mat white, the lace is ivory or cream, and so on. The effect is elegant and stylish, while its value is patent to all. A few wraps are high in the neck, with small storm collars made very stiff with featherbone, so that while flexible they are sufficiently firm, and others are bordered with some rich fur around the collar and on the sleeves and also down the front. Swansdown,

THREE-QUARTER WRAP.

after having been relegated to the place where out of date styles are kept, has been brought forward and is seen on many of the elegant evening wraps.

When the handsome wraps have been fully admired they are slowly removed with that beautiful assumption of utter ignorance of the presence of another being in all the big place which only the fashionable woman can display, and then the waist beneath is seen in all its glory. White, with embroidery and lace, is the favorite color. What did the world ever do without lace and chiffon? A few waists are red, some golden brown, some gray, others lilac or pink, as one's complexion makes advisable, but all are slightly pouched still and made with folds rather than fine plaits. Embroidery in which are mingled metallic threads, spangles or fine cut jet is seen. One suit under observation had a dark velvet skirt, a pale lilac silk waist fairly covered with ivory lace, heavy and thick, and over this was worn a medium short cape, heavily wrought with a wide pattern in cut jet.

Very smart are some of the three-quarter cloth wraps of the season made along the lines of the old fashioned manties of the sixties, but modified to meet up to date requirements. The wrap illustrated is a stunning new example carried out in fine black face cloth. The full, long shoulder capes are trimmed with braid and ornaments of the new silk braid variety. The wrap itself is stitched many rows about the edges and fastens at the throat with graduated lengths of cords on which are handsome dangles.

HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

Women on The Farm

Many Are Without Civilized Conveniences

At the St. Louis fair I visited the village of the Moros, most barbarous of the Philippine natives. It was about 6 o'clock, when the tiny women of the tribe prepare supper. Some big, fat, lazy Moro men were smoking in a group. A woman not five feet high left one of the huts with a heavy water pail in her hand. She passed the men and spoke to one of them. He did not move, and the thin armed, hollow chested, weak looking little female creature passed on to the fountain, a considerable distance away, returning shortly staggering under the weight of that huge pail of water.

The strapping hulk of a fellow still squatted upon the ground where she had left him. As she came by the group she spoke to him again, this time in tones of expostulation, then entered the hut.

Presently, when the big hulk of a man got "good and ready," he sauntered off and returned soon with three little wisps of wood under one arm. It was the task of the male Moro to split them into kindling. He squatted upon the ground near the hut. A small girl brought him a hatchet. Then in the most leisurely manner, too lazy to stand up or stoop over, the fellow split the kindling wood. When he had split the little sticks the small girl carried them into the hut.

After returning home I read a terrible story of the kidnaping of a lovely girl by some ruffians, who pounced upon her while she was getting water from a well. The well was 400 yards, nearly a quarter of a mile, from her home. The path to it lay through some clumps of scrubby trees. There were signs of a desperate struggle around the well.

The young lady was the prettiest girl in the neighborhood, the dispatch added, and her father was one of the wealthiest farmers in that part of the country.

Now, will you tell me wherein this wealthy farmer in one of the leading states of the American Union was one whit superior to or more civilized than that fat hulk of a Moro savage who let his weak little wife stagger under a load heavy enough for a donkey while he squatted upon the ground, smoking and looking peacefully on? It was in the dusk of the evening when the beautiful country girl was kidnaped, and no doubt her father and the other men of the house sat and smoked peacefully while the daughter lugged water to cook their food with from a well a quarter of a mile away.

Bathrooms; hot and cold water in the house; underneath it, to warm it throughout, a furnace which the men take care of in winter, saving the women's time and strength for other duties; improved machines for churning and washing, the new lightweight domestic and cooking utensils that have superseded the heavy old ones in most houses—how many of these things are to be found in the home of the average American farmer?

A woman of the new west who lately visited the east says eastern farmers' wives work themselves to death, wither and grow old and die, the husbands looking complacently on, knowing it is the custom for a man when one wife departs to get another, which he can readily do owing to the abundance of women in the older states.

Undoubtedly a large number of farmers' wives are worked literally into their graves. Undoubtedly, too, the overwork frequently comes from want of conveniences wherewith to accomplish their laborious tasks. Again undoubtedly this unfortunate condition of things is often the fault of the women themselves. The average man is not deliberately brutal, only thoughtlessly so. He does not know what conveniences his wife needs for housekeeping. If she will take him when he is first married and his heart is still tender and gently, yet firmly and without ever letting up, insist on labor saving conveniences, then farm existence would cease to kill off two women to one man.

SIEGE OF PORT ARTHUR.

Russia Claims Repulse of Japs With Great Slaughter.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Advices from St Petersburg say that the Japanese assault on Port Arthur has been repulsed with enormous loss to the besieging forces.

Leading specially trained bodies of swordsmen, Generals Nakamura and Saito charged into the Russian fortresses and engaged them in a hand to hand encounter. A report to the imperial headquarters at Tokyo says that the general assault against Sungshu mountain and the forts lying eastward of that stronghold is being fiercely carried on.

A Mukden dispatch says that General Kuropatkin is the possessor of a new twenty horsepower automobile, with which he is able to rush at high speed from one part to another of the line, twenty-five miles long. Kuropatkin wishes to secure twenty automobiles specially constructed to carry ammunition speedily in emergencies. He will only use them in winter, when the Manchurian roads are in excellent condition. On his first trip in the new automobile Kuropatkin's only comment was, "I have the advantage of General Shafter."

The attack by the Japanese upon General Rennenkampff's position has resulted in three days' fighting at Tsinkhetchen, near Da pass. Though the Japanese have been repulsed, the fighting still continues. The Japanese have succeeded in placing several big siege guns in position, with which they will be able to seriously harass the Russians.

General Sacharoff has telegraphed as follows from Mukden:

"The Japanese attack on Tsinkhetchen was checked by our artillery fire, and the fighting ceased at 6 o'clock in the evening. At no point did the enemy advance nearer than within 600 paces of our positions. In the midst of the battle a blinding snowstorm caused a suspension of hostilities, and when the weather cleared a turning movement against our right flank was observed, but it was checked."

Rojestvensky Off Swakopmund.

CAPE TOWN, Cape Colony, Nov. 29.—A dispatch to the Argus says that Admiral Rojestvensky's division of the Russian Second Pacific squadron is coaling off Swakopmund, German Southwest Africa.

General Kaulbars For Mukden.

ODESSA, Nov. 29.—General Kaulbars, commander of the Third Manchurian army, left Odessa yesterday afternoon for Mukden, where he expects to arrive Dec. 14.

"Like the Home of Jeff Davis."

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 29.—Governor Vardaman received a telegram from President Francis of the world's fair stating that President Roosevelt had visited and greatly admired the Mississippi building while at the fair Saturday. The governor wired a reply containing the following: "It is of course gratifying to the people of Mississippi to know that they have done one thing that the president of the United States approves. Doubtless the president's admiration of the Mississippi building is due to his admiration of Jefferson Davis, of whose last home it is a replica."

Excitement of Football Game Fatal.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 29.—Rev. Dr. William M. Paxton of Princeton university and seminary is dead at his home here after a two weeks' illness. Dr. Paxton was in his eighty-first year, and his death was the result of a paralytic stroke, caused by overexcitement. With his family he attended the Yale-Princeton football game and manifested great interest in the contest. When he returned the doctors were summoned at once, and it was found that he was suffering a stroke of paralysis.

Lost $7,000 at "English Faro."

BUFFALO, Nov. 29.—Peter Forrestel, a saloon keeper of this city, has been indicted by the grand jury and charged with conspiracy to defraud Frederick Warren and Samuel Atkinson of this city out of $2,000 and $5,000 respectively in that he induced them to go to New York to engage in a game of "English faro," in which they were to win. Warren and Atkinson allege that they lost $2,000 and $5,000 respectively. Forrestel was arraigned, pleaded not guilty and gave bail.

Ten Fishing Boats Seized.

EASTPORT, Me., Nov. 29.—A message has been received here saying that ten fishing vessels, owned in Eastport and Lubec, were seized by the Canadian fisheries protective cruiser Curlew, near St. George, N. B. Two of the vessels are of the naptha auxiliary type, but the others are sailing craft. The value of the boats and their equipment aggregates more than $20,000. Captain Prett of the Curlew decided they were operating in Canadian waters illegally.

Jimmy Michael's Funeral.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The remains of the late Jimmy Michael, the Welsh bicycle rider who died suddenly on board the steamship La Savoie at sea, will be interred in Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn, this afternoon. Judge D. Cady Herrick, the democratic nominee for governor of New York, was born at Esperance, Schoharie county, in April, 1847. When six years old he removed with his father to Albany, where he received a classical education. He afterward read law with Gen. Lyman Tremain and the elder Judge Peckham and in the Albany law school. He was admitted to the bar in 1868. He, however, studied still further after admission, in order to fully qualify himself for a successful career.

JUDGE D. CADY HERRICK.
(Nominated for Governor by the Democrats of New York.)

After having thus spent over a year with Hungerford & Hotaling young Herrick commenced the practice of law in 1870. He very soon exhibited the result of ample preparation and full study by the skill and ability he displayed, though his income was for a time not embarrassing in its magnitude. He had the experience in the early days of his profession of some celebrated cases, and made an energetic though necessarily unsuccessful defense of Emil Lowenstein for the murder of John D. Weston.

Judge Herrick ran for district attorney in 1877, but was defeated. He succeeded, however, in reaching that office in 1880, and was reelected in 1883. He was afterward appointed corporation counsel by Mayor Thacher, and in the fall of 1891 was elected to the supreme court, third department.

Judge Herrick supported Bryan and the democratic platform in 1896. When Senator McCarren was chairman of the special committee appointed in Saratoga to carry out the preliminary work of the state campaign in 1898 Judge Herrick was mentioned as a candidate for the governorship, and it was said David B. Hill was in favor of his candidacy and that he would also have the support of the Croker-Murphy combination of that period.

PLANT BREEDERS AT WORK

Government Experts Desire to Produce an Orange Tree That Will Thrive in the North.

Washington (D. C.) Special.

It is the hope of botanists in the employ of the government of the United States that they may bring into being an orange tree which shall be as sturdy as the apple tree; which in December shall bear its wreaths of snow and in May its garlands of bloom, and which when summer comes shall yield fruit as good as that sweetened and gilded in the south sun. Botanists not only hope to do this; they believe they will do it.

This does not involve the doing of aught against nature, but looks to the correction of some unnatural incapacity or incompleteness in the plant

HARDY ORANGE TREE.
(It Has Withstood One Cold Winter in City of Washington.)

which bears the dessert orange. It is an effort to make the citrus tree from which is obtained the most gracious orange as hardy and as insensitive to cold as the citrus tree from which is obtained the least gracious orange. By crossing a citrus tree which grows in the north, and which bears the unedible fruit, with a citrus tree of the south, it is sought to beget a plant in which shall be combined what is good in each.

That form of citrus which grows farthest north is a Japanese shrub, citrus trifoliata. It may be seen in the United States as far north as Massachusetts. Its use is only ornamental. Its fruit, under favoring conditions, attains the size of a wild persimmon and is globular in figure, tawny and bitter. Its kinship with the commercial orange might be suspected by a man strongly suspicious, but not otherwise.

FAMOUS WILL CASE ENDS.

Fayerweather's Bequest to Colleges Held Good by Courts.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The famous Fayerweather will case has been decided by the supreme court of the United States here in favor of the colleges. The case involves a bequest of about $2,500,000, made to twenty different colleges by the late Daniel G. Fayerweather, a leather merchant of New York, who died in 1890.

The will was attacked by Mr. Fayerweather's widow and two nieces, fraud being charged. The case was pending in the court for many years and has been before the supreme court on several occasions. The last decision on it was rendered by the circuit court for the southern district of New York and was favorable to the colleges.

The heirs then appealed to the supreme court, but the opinion affirms the finding of the circuit court. The opinion of the court was delivered by Justice Brewer and held that the case had been previously adjudicated.

The beneficiary colleges are Bowdoin, Dartmouth, Williams, Amherst, Wesleyan, Yale, Columbia, Union, Theological, Hamilton, Rochester, Cornell, Lafayette, Lincoln, Virginia, Hampton, Maryville, Marietta, Adelbert, Wabash and Park.

AT BENNINGS TRACK.

King Pepper Won the Handicap Over Cloten, the Favorite.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Only one favorite—Gamara, at odds on—won in the six events at the Bennings race course here. King Pepper, at 15 to 1, in the handicap for three-year-olds, won handily, while Cloten, the favorite in a big field, barely succeeded in landing place money from Mamie Worth. The largest field of the day, in the fourth race, in which nineteen two-year-olds were entered, Chimney Sweep, who took the lead at the stretch, won in a driving finish with Festoon. The selling race for three-year-olds and up at a mile distance was won very easily by Andrew Mack, the least thought of the four candidates.

Jimmie Lane, with Shaw up, was one of the surprises of the day, taking the honors easily from Arsenal, with Palette, the odds on favorite, finishing third from the last in the fifth race.

Racing at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29.—Gregor K., Au Revoir and Astarita, none of them hard pushed, were the winning favorites here. Homestead, winner of the fifth race, carried considerable money.

Governor Elect Adams at Denver.

DENVER, Nov. 29.—Governor Elect Alva Adams came to Denver from his home in Pueblo and will remain until after the banquet to be given in his honor tonight. He does not take the threat of the Republicans to prevent his accession to the governorship seriously and has rented a house for the two years of his term. Mr. Adams has expressed the opinion that Governor Peabody, after an investigation of the election returns, would reach the conclusion that he was not the people's choice for governor and would gracefully retire.

Dick Defended Herrick.

AKRON, O., Nov. 29. — Senator Charles A. Dick appeared before the Evangelical alliance, composed of the ministers of this city, and defended Governor Herrick and the Brannock local option law. He was asked innumerable questions by the ministers, especially why Herrick should be regarded as the nominee of the party next year. He stated that because it is a party custom and unless there is the best of reasons for not doing so, which in this case he contended there is no reason against it.

Captain and Mrs. Thayer were attending a reception in Newburg when the accident took place.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 29.—Joseph F. White, for ten years orderly in the state treasurer's office, is under arrest here charged with shooting Mrs. Josephine Russell, a handsome widow. Jealousy is said to have been the cause. Mrs. Russell was taken unconscious to the hospital, where she died last night.

SPORTING NEWS.

BASKET BALL.

The practice which the Business Men's team has been having of late showed up well in the game with the Leals school last night. The team has developed more speed and more accuracy in good shooting. Their passing was also good.

The Plainfield High School basket ball team will play a game with the North Plainfield High School team on Dec 7, when the Interscholastic League will start. It is the intention of the Y. M. C. A. physical department, under which the league will be conducted, to persuade some local merchant to offer a trophy for the different schools to contest for.

The next game in the Juvenile Interscholastic League will be played tomorrow and will be between Leal's seconds and the Whittier School. This is expected to be one of the best games of the season, and though juvanile teams the boys play a fast game, and an interesting one from the spectators' point of view. Both the teams which will contest tomorrow afternoon on the Y. M. C. A. floor have won their first game, the Leal's School defeating the Plainfield High School seconds, and the Whittier School team walloping the Y. M. C. A. Juniors. The line-ups of the two teams will be as follows: Leals. Howard and Underhill, forwards; Millar, center; Rowland and Endicott, guards. Whittier School, Briggs and Loughlin, forwards; Alpaugh, center; Woodhull and Fountain, guards

CROSS, MODEL LEGISLATOR

Newark Evening News Pays Tribute to Union's Senator.

ADVICE TO VOTERS

More Men of His Calibre Should be Elected by the People, It Declares.

"The papers throughout the State, irrespective of party, are referring to Senator Cross in the highest terms, and declaring that his selection to be the president of the Senate is in every way commendable. There is no doubt that this general praise is sincere, because Senator Cross has deserved it. He is recognized as a man of ability, of irreproachable character, of legislative experience and of those qualities that especially fit him to be president of the Senate. In the event that he should, through the absence, sickness or other incapacity of the Governor, be called to act as the Chief Executive, the popular sentiment is that Senator Cross would be equal to the occasion, and would honor this high office as he has honored all others that he has held.

"In view of this general manifestation of strongly appreciative sentiment and the well-earned compliments that are now being showered on Senator Cross, the question naturally arises, Why are not more men of his stamp and character sent to the Legislature? Why, if the people like him so well, if they admire such sterling integrity, such executive ability, such aptitude for excellent legislative work, do they not seek out men that belong to the same class and make them, term after term, the lawmakers of this State? Why are there so few such men in the House and Senate that exaltation of one, to the most responsible and honorable position next to the Governorship, is received with such general satisfaction?

"There are several members of the incoming Legislature who will probably make excellent records. Their qualifications differ to some respects from those of Senator Cross, but they are of the same thoroughly honest and conscientious stripe and they stand for the best interests of their counties and the State. They are quite certain to make their mark in the House or Senate, even though they never reach the presidency. But why are there not more of them? Why are there so many of the other kind, who, even though they may sit in the highest seats in the Legislature, inspire only larger distrust and provoke unrest from the time they take office until they leave it?

"The reason is because the people, in whose hands is all the power, do not make such selections as they themselves approve. Senator Cross never sought to become an office-holder, resisted for a long time all the efforts to get him to accept a nomination, but was chosen by the people because they wanted him as their representative. In the majority of instances it is just the other way. Either some ambitious young man wants an office and pushes better but more modest men aside, or the 'machine' puts in nomination some man who has earned the place by doing the undesirable work for the party.

"In every county it is possible to find men who are capable of representing the best sentiment and the best interests of the people; men who would honor their respective counties as Senator Cross has honored Union. Yet in some, men of indifferent abilities are chosen, and in others neither personal honesty nor legislative ability is a prerequisite to election. It is easy to recognize both personal and legislative virtue, and if the people do not select and elect men with these qualifications it is their own fault."

Historical Society Meeting.

The Somerset County Historical Society met Monday afternoon in the First Reformed chapel at Somerville. Delegations from all over the county were in attendance. Several valuable relics were received and placed in the society's vaults. The chief feature of the meeting, however, was the paper read by Rev. William H. VanDoren, of Griggstown, on "A Detail of the American Revolution." The story which he wrote of had been handed down to him from his forefathers, who were foremost in entertaining General Washington and his army at Griggstown, after the retreat from Trenton and Princeton. The destitution of the soldiers and their patriotism were vividly described.

Pennant Presentation.

TEXT OF MR. TYLER'S BILL

Proposed Measure to Establish Liquor License District.

METES AND BOUNDS

Amendments to Present Ordinance as Advocated by Third Ward Councilman.

That persons interested in Councilman W. S. Tyler's ordinance to amend the ordinance to license inns and taverns, the object of which is to better regulate the sale of malt and spirituous liquors in this city, may become fully acquainted with the provisions of the proposed ordinance, the full text is herewith given:

"Section 1. That said ordinance be amended by adding thereto two new sections, as follows, to wit:

"Sec. 27. That in order to enable the Common Council more effectively to regulate the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors within said city as they deem most conducive to the public good, the place in which any applicant for license to sell spirituous and fermented, vinous, malt or brewed, liquors, under this ordinance or any supplement thereto, proposes to carry on his business under such license, is hereby required to be accurately set forth in the application for such license, and to be within the territory comprised within the following boundary lines, to wit: Beginning at a point in the city line at Green brook distant one hundred and fifty (150) feet northeasterly from the center line of Watchung avenue; thence running southeasterly along said city line to the center line of Washington avenue; thence southeasterly along the center line of Washington avenue to the center line of West Front street; thence southwesterly along the center line of West Front street to a point distant one hundred and fifty (150) feet southwesterly from the center line of Central avenue; thence southeasterly in a course drawn parallel with the center line of Central avenue distant one hundred and fifty (150) feet southwesterly therefrom to the tracks of the main stem of the Central Railroad of New Jersey as the same now lies; thence northeasterly along said tracks to a point of said tracks distant one hundred and fifty (150) feet southwesterly from the center line of Park avenue; thence southeasterly in a course drawn parallel with the center line of Park avenue distant one hundred and fifty (150) feet southwesterly therefrom to a point in said course distant one hundred and fifty (150) feet southeasterly from the center line of West Fourth street; thence northeasterly in a course drawn parallel with the center line of West Fourth street and East Fourth street to a point in said course and the projection thereof, distant one hundred and fifty (150) feet northeasterly from the center line of Watchung avenue; thence northeasterly in a straight line to the point of beginning. Provided, nevertheless, that the foregoing provisions of this section shall not prevent the granting of any renewal of any license lawfully in force at the time this section takes effect to the same person who shall have been the lawful holder of such license continuously from that time to the time of such renewal, to continue the same business in the same place under the same name, without the right to transfer such license to any other person.

"Sec. 28. That no application for a license under this ordinance, or any supplement thereto, other than an application for a renewal to continue in the same place a license already lawfully in force, shall be granted to any person to sell spirituous and fermented, vinous, malt or brewed, liquors, in any place which shall be distant less than two hundred and fifty (250) feet from any public school building, or church, or from any building used mainly as a place of public worship."

Mrs. Elizabeth Martin's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, thirty-six years old, was held in St. Bernard's church at Raritan at 9 o'clock this morning. Father Zimmer officiated. The body was taken to Scotch Plains for interment. The dead woman was the wife of William Martin and is survived by three children. She died in Somerset Hospital, Somerville, from a complication of diseases. She had been ill a week and in the hospital only a day.

OLD FOLKS' CONCERT

Unique Entertainment at Local Y. M. C. A.

Given by Holy Cross Choir Under Direction of J. Edmund Skiff.

Unique in style and highly entertaining, the Old Folks Concert given by the choir of the Holy Cross church, under the direction of J. Edmund Skiff, at the Y. M. C. A. last evening, proved to be one of the leading musical events of the season. The selections, both sacred and worldly, of old and recent publication, were well arranged, and were rendered in a manner which does credit to the performers and to the instructor, Mr. Skiff.

The choir was assisted by these soloists, Mrs. F. M. Ward, Mrs. Stephen Tugwell, Miss S. Etta Raybert, Frederick J. Pope, and Miss Alberta Waterbury, pianist. The entire chorus was attired in colonial costumes, and the programme was arranged and worded in a unique way appropriate to the nature of the concert.

In addition to the solos, which were all well rendered, the singing of the chorus was particularly good, and received much applause. Several antique selections were on the programme, which was a delightful combination of old and modern music. A chorus of women's voices rendered two selections which were very well sung, while Miss Raybert's solos were a feature of the concert.

The chorus was composed of these singers: Dame Samantha Hopkinson, Mrs. Samuel H. Howe; Celeste Hope Mayflower, Miss Jennie DeMott; Luzetta Starbright, Miss Annette Beeching; Marjory Daw Sunflower, Miss Florence Conroy; Dame Experience Segur, (the deacon's wife) Mrs. B. S. Hall; Cynthia Billings, Miss Laura Gesswein; Lavinia Highnotes, Miss Etta Raybert; Dame Patience Delling, Mrs. F. M. Ward; Mary Phoebe Ann Tubbs, Miss Agnes Bailey; Prudence Delling, Miss Viola Lievers; Dame Matilda Mobcap, (She that was Higgins,) Mrs. A. J. Stiglitz; Dorothy Crabtree, Miss Ethlyn Davis; Susannah Cradlebow, Miss Edith Cline; Consider Ruth Fisher, Miss May Smith; Abigail Prue, Miss Mabel Smith; Dame Charity Applegate, Mrs. Stephen Tugwell; Prudence McIntosh, Miss Mary Edgerton; Dame Hepsibiah Staub, Mrs. J. CRESCENT COMPANY ENTERTAINS FRIENDS

UNIFORMED KNIGHTS GIVE FIRST OF A SERIES OF SOCIALS.

Marked by a large attendance despite adverse weather conditions, the first of a series of monthly receptions and entertainments was conducted by Crescent Company, No. 18, U. R. K. of P., in its rooms, last evening. It was in every way a decided success and a pleasing start to what promises to be a season of activity with the organization.

Captain J. H. Flannery acted as chairman during the evening and the programme was given under his direction. It comprised a welcoming address by City Judge William N. Runyon, vocal selections by Bertram C. Firstbrook, Alexander Muir, Thomas Muir and Judge Runyon; piano and violin duetts by the Misses McInnis and graphophone selections by John P. Hall. In addition, a lecture on the friendship of Damon and Pythias, illustrated with slides, was given effectively by David Bowden. Refreshments were served during an intermission and an hour was spent in informal sociability.

The committee which arranged and had charge consisted of David Bowden, chairman; Robert Gow and Charles McGinley. They were ably assisted by members of the company and women friends.

Getting Down to Business.

PARK CLUB BOWLERS DEFEAT ELIZABETH CLUB

TAKE TWO OUT OF THREE GAMES IN FIRST LEAGUE MATCH.

The Park Club bowlers won their first match in the Central Journal Bowling League last night against the Elizabeth Club, the games being rolled on the local alleys. The match was a close one, the deciding game being won by the narrow margin of three pins.

All the Park bowlers rolled a steady game, and most of the scores were very creditable. The highest average of the visiting team was made by Keys, the score being 177.

Judge Runyon in the Cast.

Judge William N. Runyon has joined the Oshkosh Glee Club and his excellent voice will materially add to the success of the concert to be given by the club in the Casino on Friday and Saturday evenings, January 20 and 21. Seats will be put on sale immediately. All will be reserved. The stage at the Casino is now being deepened twenty feet for the purposes of the show, making it very nearly as large as the old Music Hall stage. There are fifty persons in the cast, including practically all who appeared last year, and with the addition of the Misses Hess and E. A. Butler, of this city.

Educational Boards to Meet.

What promises to be one of the most interesting educational meetings held in Somerville in a long time will be in the assembly room of the public school Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, when the Boards of Education of Somerset county will convene. H. Brewster Willis, of New Brunswick, county superintendent of Middlesex, will make the chief address. After a discussion the members will dine at Cawley's Hotel.

Interested in Rescue Work.

At the conference on rescue work, held yesterday and Monday at Trenton under the auspices of the New Jersey Florence Crittenden Association, F. O. Harder, of this city, second vice president of the State society, was recommended to the national executive committee for confirmation.

Reception and Tea.

Mrs. W. A. Garrigues, of Watchung avenue, and her sister, Miss Maxwell, have issued invitations for a reception and tea to be given at the home of Mrs. Garrigues on Thursday afternoon, December 8.

3D ADJOURNED MEETING

Common Council Still Has Business of the Month.

"SPITE HOUSE" QUESTION

Probable That This Matter Will be Considered Through Report of Committee.

The third adjourned meeting of the Common Council will be held tonight, there still being some business of the month to attend to. One matter which brings the members together tonight is that in reference to Collector-elect Robert L. Lee's bond. It was to have been presented for approval on Monday night, but a technical defect necessitated it being laid over until tonight when Mr. Lee will have it ready for approval.

Another matter that may come up this evening is that in reference to the "spite-house" question. The committee having this matter in hand will probably be ready to make some kind of a report and it is believed that it will prevent future troubles such as Former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph had on East Front street.

It is not at all unlikely that Mr. Tyler may attempt to take from the table his ordinance to restrict the liquor license district to the business section of the city. He is quite anxious to have the question settled one way or the other and rather than have it left on the table for an indefinite time, he may force action on it.

Since some of the citizens have had an opportunity to closely examine the ordinance, they are now in favor of it, believing that it will work no hardship on any of the dealers. However, it is known that several members of the Common Council are opposed to the ordinance. Certain members feel that it would be very unwise to define the limits in this way, in fact he is not so sure in his mind but that it might be a good thing to have a well-regulated place at a convenient point outside of the business section instead of compelling persons who care to take a drink to travel a mile or two to get the liquor. They do not believe that it is within the province of Common Councils to restrict the liquor traffic to this extent.

There is no doubt in the minds of the Common Council but that John Goff will make another attempt next year to secure a license for his place on West Front street, near Clinton avenue, but judging by the present makeup of the Common Council he has no more reason to expect a license next year than when his original application was refused this year. Many persons feel confident that in face of the strong opposition to a saloon in that section of the city this year, the Common Council would not want to grant such a license.

However, there is reason to believe that pressure will be brought to bear to have the license granted if applied for.

MOVEMENT TO MAKE CHANGES IN COUNCIL

HINTED THAT CERTAIN FORCES WANT NEW PRESIDENT.

While it is the hope of the many friends of the Common Council that Ralph I. Tolles, who is president of that body, will be continued in that position next year, it has been hinted that there are certain forces at work to replace him with another member from the floor and to thus work a general change in some of the important committees. A year ago when the committees were made up, it is known that there was some dissatisfaction as certain members thought that they had not been given due honors. This feeling, it is said, is now showing itself again and that when the members meet to fix up the organization for another year, changes will be asked for.

No mention of a possible successor to Mr. Tolles has been made, although it is known that there are aspirants for the place. Friends of the president claim that he has performed a sufficient amount of hard work on the committees to entitle him to the position he occupies and that it is the least honor that his fellow-members can bestow to continue him as the presiding officer. He has served in a very satisfactory manner, showing fairness and impartiality to every member. No doubt any effort made to elect another president would be met with strong opposition.

Mrs. Edward Baker, of Watchung avenue, who has been seriously ill, is now convalescing.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY FAIR

Meeting Held Yesterday in Interest of Coming Bazaar.

IN BABCOCK BUILDING

Affair to be the Largest and Most Extensive Ever Held in This City —Eleven Booths.

For the purpose of a final discussion of the plans for the fair, a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., was held yesterday afternoon at which time the chairman of all committees reported, and the work was found to be progressing rapidly. It has been decided to hold the fair in the Babcock building, and these persons will have charge of the different booths: Japanese, Mrs. Roger Murray; aprons, Mrs. F. C. Harder; candy, Mrs. Walter Freeman; dolls, Mrs. Frank Hubbard; fancy work, Miss Lena Bass; brushes and brooms, Mrs. Stephen Cahoone; handkerchiefs, Mrs. A. G. Jenkins; paper booth, Mrs. Wheaton Lowrey; country store, Mrs. S. M. French; lemonade, Miss Edith Cairns; children's table, Mrs. E. A. Edgar.

The affair will be the largest of its kind ever conducted in this city, and will be held for three days. Turkey supper will be served every night, the following committees being in charge: Tuesday evening, Seventh-Day Baptist, Methodist and Congregational churches, Mrs. D. E. Titsworth, Mrs. George Rittenhouse, and Mrs. Beakman; Wednesday evening, Crescent Avenue, Park Avenue Baptist, and Grace M. E. churches, Mrs. Howard Runyon, Mrs. Most, and Mrs. D. M. Runyon; Thursday evening, First Presbyterian, Trinity, First Baptist and Episcopal churches, Mrs. Howard Pope, Mrs. J. B. Probasco, Mrs. Scofield, and Miss Helen Pfender.

There will be eleven booths on the main floor of the Babcock building, while the basement will be used as a restaurant. Ice cream and cake will be on sale at all hours, the doors being open on Tuesday, and on Wednesday and Thursday.

MISS EMMA VORDERMEIER NOW MRS. HENRY HAURAND

WEDDING AT BRIDE'S HOME ON FAIRVIEW AVENUE LARGELY ATTENDED.

Miss Emma Vordermeier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Vordermeier, of Fairview avenue, and Henry Haurand, of East Front street, were married at the home of the bride last night in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. Rev. Paul Melhorn, pastor of the German Lutheran church, officiated. The bridesmaid was Miss Amelia Vordermeier, a sister of the bride and the best man was Eugene Chrystal, of Rochester, N. Y.

The bride was gowned in pearl grey satin, with white lace and pearl trimmings, and she carried a wreath of orange blossoms. The bridesmaid wore louisiene silk, trimmed with velvet and white lace. The parlors were tastefully decorated for the occasion in white and green, and the couple was united under a beautiful floral arch.

After the wedding and informal reception the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip after which they will return to this city, where they will reside at the home of the bride's parents until their new house is completed.

Somerset's Petit Jurors.

Sheriff Cooper drew his first jury at Somerville yesterday in the presence of a large crowd. The jury was drawn for the December term of county courts, which opens in Somerville on Tuesday, December 27. The jurors selected from North Plainfield were John S. Schenck, Winfield B. Conover, Henry Nischwitz, Simon Manss and George A. Schmidt. Warren will be represented by Frank Aliette, George Nase and John Gunton.

Pleasant Surprise.

The election of Charles C. Randolph, of Dunellen avenue, to fill the vacancy in the Common Council caused by the resignation of Robert L. Lee, was as much of a surprise to him as any one else. Until informed of the fact on Monday night he had no knowledge of the intended action.

Belated Announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wenzel, of the West End, have announced their marriage which took place in May last. The bride was Miss Bessie Kenyon, who, for some time, was employed at S. C. Peck's store.

COUNCILMEN INDEPENDENT

Members Act With Perfect Freedom on Any Measure.

AN UNPLEDGED BODY

Votes on Recent Measures Show That Members Are Unhampered in Any Way.

That there has not in recent years been so much freedom and independence of thought and action in the Common Council as at present, is the opinion of those who have closely followed this municipal body during the past twelve or fifteen years. For many years, when the Republican organization was more completely in control of the governing body than it is today, it was always safe to count on six votes being cast on any important matter coming before it. During the past two years things have changed and today it is impossible to count on the same number of votes to carry a measure through.

This result is largely due to the fact that men have been elected to the Common Council unpledged and that they have felt free to act according to their best judgment. While it has never openly been charged that this or that man was compelled to vote on any question according to the dictate of some leader, there has been an opinion that this has been done more or less. Leaders among those who have taken an independent stand include Mr. Tyler and Mr. Daniel from the Third ward. They have shown time and again that they are free to use their own judgment and have never hesitated to express themselves for or against a measure, whether it pleased the other members or not. Both members are practicing lawyers and they can appreciate the value of being technically right as well as morally so.

President Tolles, from the First ward, as well as his colleague, Mr. Bullock, have also shown their independence by not always voting to please this or that party. This was shown in the question of raising the liquor license fee to $1,000. On the first and second readings of this ordinance there was opposition to it on the part of Mr. Higham, member at large from the Third ward; Mr. Murphy from the Fourth ward, who afterward voted for the ordinance, and the other two members from the Fourth, Mr. Randolph and Mr. Lee, as well as Mr. Gloak, from the First ward. The other members voted for the ordinance.

Another illustration was shown Monday night in the division of the vote on Mr. Tyler's new ordinance to limit the saloon district. The opinions of the various members all varied as to the advisability of passing the ordinance, but on the question to table all voted in the affirmative, until further consideration can be given.

Still another case was that in reference to selecting a successor to Robert L. Lee. That the matter was not "fixed" before hand was evident, for subsequent action showed that scarcely any of the members knew of Mr. Higham's candidate, in fact some were unprepared to vote for Mr. Randolph.

A members of the Common Council in speaking of this question yesterday, intimated that if the same independence is maintained next year he thought there would be some lively times and that possibly Mayor-elect James F. Buckle would not have as pleasant a time as otherwise.

Slight Fire in the Borough.

The borough fire department was called out yesterday afternoon for a slight blaze at the residence of I. P. Allen, on Pearl street, near Watchung avenue. A pile of rags left in the basement became ignited and spread to the flooring, afterward creeping up into the beams of the first floor. A line of hose was laid but the flames were put out with extinguishers.

Weedon in "The Sho-Gun."

Many persons who remember W. C. Weedon when he appeared here with Rev. Dr. Henderson, the evangelist, in a series of meetings, a few years ago, will be interested to learn that he now has one of the leading parts in "The Sho-Gun," at Wallack's Theatre, New York. Mr. Weedon has a fine, rich tenor voice, and is making a decided hit.

AMUSEMENTS.

Another capital programme has been arranged for Proctor's Newark Theatre next week, the strong number being Jewell's Mannikins seen for the first time in Newark. This puppet show is a distinct and radical departure from most specialities of this sort; not only are the effects attained far more elaborate but the figures move with a naturalness which actually creates the illusion of life A vaudeville and circus concluding with an elaborate ballet presented with splendid electrical and scenic effects. Mary Dupont assisted by Willard Hutchinson makes presentation of her newest offering, "A Leap Year's Leap," which is said to be the best thing she has ever done in vaudeville and it must be remembered that Miss Dupont has had a long list of successes to her credit. A second importation is found in Harry Roobes's dog and pony circus; an act which departs from established training methods with excellent results. The animals work with a cleverness that is really astonishing, and take an actual interest in their work. Barry and Wilson, singing and talking comedians, will introduce a number of new jokes and stories in their amusing specialty, while Harry B. Lester, an impersonator of no mean merit, imparts a strong comedy tinge to his act. Levine and Leonard, the "Automobile Jugglers," also add to the comedy on the bill, while Mildred Hanson, a coon shouter, new motion pictures and other features will contribute to the bill

"The Wizard of Oz" is breaking all records at the Academy of Music, New York, where so many great successes have been achieved in the past. The extravaganza has all the gayety and life of modern musical comedies, and is free from the suggestiveness in costuming and jokes that debars many musical plays from fastidious people. There is not a line of dialogue, not one word spoken in "The Wizard of Oz" to offend or cause uneasiness to the most captious playgoers. Nor is it at any time slow enough to bore those of rakish tastes in theatrical matters. It abounds in hearty wholesome fun and is a capital entertainment for young and old alike. The manangement takes pains in calling particular attention to the fact that the curtain rises precisely at 8 o'clock at the evening performances and at 2 sharp at the Wednesday and Saturday matinees. The Kansas cyclone, which opens the play, should not be missed by anyone. It is one of "The Wizard's" most novel features.

NOT CARNEGIE'S NOTE

Financier's Name Not on Mrs. Chadwick's Paper.

SAYS "ABSURD, DOES NOT KNOW HER"

Carver, Agent For Plaintiff In Suit, Says, "We Do Not Contradict Statement That $500,000 Note Bears Andrew Carnegie's Name."

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—"Mr. Carnegie has read this report and has pronounced it absurd. Mr. Carnegie does not know the woman at all."

This statement was made at Andrew Carnegie's residence in this city by his secretary and has to do with the report that the financier's name was on the note for $500,000 given by Mrs. Leroy S. Chadwick of Cleveland as collateral for a loan of $102,000 from the Citizens' National bank of Oberlin, O., which has closed its doors.

This report seems to have arisen from a statement made by George Ryall, the local attorney for Herbert D. Newton of Brookline, Mass., who has begun suit in Cleveland against Mrs. Chadwick for loans aggregating $190,800. Mr. Ryall, who is a member of the law firm of Baggott & Ryall, said:

"There was a conference at my office at which were present Mr. Newton, Mr. Carver of Boston, Judge John Albaugh of Canton, of counsel for Mrs. Chadwick, and myself. On behalf of Mrs. Chadwick, Judge Albaugh requested that the receivership proceedings be put off until Friday, at which time he will have her affairs in some kind of shape. This was agreed to.

"Mr. Newton said that he had seen a note for $500,000 which was given by Mrs. Chadwick as collateral for a loan from the Citizens' National bank of Oberlin, O. My client told me that this note carried the signature 'Andrew Carnegie.' This will have to come out sooner or later, so I tell it now.

"Whether the signature is genuine or not is, however, another question. I understand that Mr. Carnegie declares it is not his signature."

Herbert D. Newton of Brookline, Mass., the plaintiff in the suit against Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, refused last night to discuss the case in any phase, but referred inquirers to his counsel, Percy W. Carver.

At his home in Newton Mr. Carver said that important developments in the case of Mrs. Chadwick were expected within a few days. Referring particularly to the note for $500,000, said to have been signed with the name of Andrew Carnegie, Mr. Carver said:

"In Mr. Newton's bill of complaint which has been filed in the suit against Mrs. Chadwick Mr. Newton alleges that as an inducement for him to loan Mrs. Chadwick $190,800 Mrs. Chadwick showed him a note for $500,000, which was signed by a man whom, Mr. Newton believed, to be fully responsible as one who could stand behind such a loan as was requested. I prefer not to state what name was signed to this note, but you can say that we do not contradict the statement that the note bore the signature of Andrew Carnegie."

Mr. Carver stated, in conclusion, that Mr. Carnegie's repudiation of the note for $500,000 was not at all unexpected.

Vice President Squires of the Oberlin bank says:

"The loans to Mrs. Chadwick were made by Beckwith and Cashier Spear without consulting any one. Those notes were apparently taken from her, placed in a safety deposit vault and locked up. We have never seen the notes and knew nothing of them."

Mrs. Chadwick is already being sued by various banks and individuals for over a quarter of a million dollars, and yesterday in the common pleas court of Cleveland Ira Reynolds, secretary and treasurer of the Wade Park bank of that city, was to have brought into court all certificates and securities of Mrs. Chadwick now in his possession.

A FOUR DAYS' FIGHT

Japanese Pressing Nearer For Port Arthur's Capture.

GENERAL KUROKI IS NOT DEAD.

One Ring of Forts Captured Is In Commanding Position, Overlooking Besieged City—Russians Capture Nangentzee.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—A Mukden dispatch says that the fight of the Japanese with General Rennenkampf's Cossacks, which began on Nov. 24, ended at 6 p. m. on Nov. 28. The Japanese, who were repulsed, never approached nearer than 600 yards. During a snowstorm at midday on the 28th, the Japanese tried to outflank the Russian right, but the rifles and four guns forced them to retire. The Russian losses were small.

Russian scouts captured Nangentzee village and held it twenty minutes, while sappers blew up a large stone house which had served as a fortress from which the Japanese sniped Russian outposts.

Advices from Tokyo say that the occupation of the defenses of Port Arthur by the Japanese is now complete to the extent of 90 per cent. One ring of forts captured, northwest of the town, is in a commanding position. Its occupation is a heavy blow to the defenders.

A Mukden dispatch says a Japanese cavalryman captured by the Russians declares that General Kuroki is not dead, as has been rumored among the Chinese.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says that foreign reports of the fighting at Port Arthur are accepted here very seriously. If the Japanese have taken Two Hundred and Three Meter hill and are commanding the whole harbor it is believed that the situation is critical. Experts on Port Arthur topography assert, however, that it is more likely that the Japanese have occupied some positions at the base of the hill and believe that with the concentrated fire of the covering forts the Japanese will find the top of the hill untenable if they arrive there.

A Tokyo dispatch says that the Japanese have hauled large caliber guns to the top of Two Hundred and Three Meter hill, from whence their fire has a sweep of the whole harbor.

Wreck at Erie, Two Hurt.

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 30.—Passenger train No. 3, on the Philadelphia and Erie from Philadelphia, was wrecked at Corry by running into an extra freight train as it was entering that city at the Main street crossing, and two passengers were injured. The freight was taking a siding and had not completely cleared when the express dashed up at a high rate of speed. A number of freight cars were smashed, and the caboose was driven under the car in front of it. The wreck took fire, but was soon extinguished.

Young New Yorker a Suicide.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Elverton R. Chapman, Jr., twenty-four years old, son of the New York banker and broker, killed himself by leaping five stories to the floor of the vestibule of the Carlton hotel here. His skull was crushed by the fall, and he died within twenty minutes. Mr. Chapman arrived at the hotel on Saturday, having come here from Paris. Senora Gallardo, wife of the Mexican minister to Great Britain, barely escaped being struck by the falling man.

Suspect Held For Bank Robbery.

STAMFORD, Conn., Nov. 30.—Chief Brennan of the Stamford police said last night that he believed the real name of the man arrested in Jersey City on suspicion of having robbed the Stamford National bank, and who gave his name as John H. King, is Milo Brown, a painter of this city, who was given $87 to deposit in the bank Friday and who has not been seen since.

Held For Russell Murder.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Joseph F. White, the messenger of the state treasurer's office who is charged with the murder of Mrs. Josephine Russell in a store near the capitol, was arraigned in police court and held without bail for the grand jury. White is said to have organized the first lodge in this state of the Order of Red Men.

Yacht Blown Ashore.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 30.—The yacht Josephine, from Providence, which left Philadelphia about three weeks ago, with Ernest T. Pepper and James Karnan on board, en route to Fort Myers, Fla., was blown ashore on Debordeau beach, near Georgetown, on account of her engine breaking down.

Fear Mme. Calve Has Appendicitis.

VIENNA, Nov. 30.—Mme. Calve, who has been making an extended concert tour, disappointed a fashionable audience here last night. It was announced that she was taken suddenly ill and that the doctors have diagnosed her ailment as appendicitis. It is feared that an operation will be necessary.

Only Left the Building.

O'NEILL, Neb., Nov. 30.—Investigation by the state bank examiner shows that the only asset of the Elkhorn Valley bank, which failed last week, is the banking house. Complaints have been filed against President Bernard McGreevy charging him with embezzlement.

Record Time by Morro Castle.

HAVANA, Nov. 30.—The steamer Morro Castle sailed from New York Saturday, Nov. 26, at 1 p. m. and arrived here last night at 5 p. m., establishing a record run between the two points. The distance is 1,200 miles.

OUR NEXT SERIAL

Is a stirring and delightful story of the North Country Mr. Bacheller loves so well. It is a tale of the days when the French emigres, fleeing from the Reign of Terror, built their chateaux and mansions in the northern counties of New York; the days when England tried issue again with the young republic, and when Darius Olin, quaint, rugged, wise and at all times truthful, with young Ramon Bell, two types of the men who helped to make America, rode into the Lake Champlain region to adventure, love and danger. It is a rare story of Yankee valor, Yankee humor, Yankee pluck.

Watch our columns for the opening chapters. They will appear in the near future.

WITH GATLING GUNS

Zeigler Defended by Military Against Strikers.

FIVE HUNDRED SHOTS FIRED AT TOWN

Carbondale Infantry Have Place Under Surveillance—Situation Becoming Serious—"No Need of Soldiers," Says Conroy.

BENTON, Ill., Nov. 30.—Two Gatling guns on top of the coal company's office building and coal tipple at Zeigler answered the fire of the miners in the woods, but at this hour it is not known if any one was hit.

While martial law has not been declared at Zeigler, the situation closely approaches it. No one not properly vouched for can enter the town. The entire Leiter tract of land, containing 8,000 acres, is to be put under military surveillance.

The position taken by the Franklin county officials is generally approved.

Constant firing last night was almost like the noise of a battle. No less than 500 shots were fired into Zeigler from ambush. The shots came from every direction, but were aimed too high to do any damage.

Company C of the Fourth infantry of Carbondale has reached Zeigler and reported to Sheriff Stein for riot duty. The Illinois Central railroad agent at Hallidayboro, fully eight miles from Zeigler, reports that scores of shots were distinctly heard by him as the train bearing the Carbondale troops was passing through a woody tract near there.

John Conroy, president of the Chicago branch of the United Mine Workers, said:

"There is no need of soldiers at Zeigler. There has been no violence nor is any anticipated. Our men are comfortably quartered at their camp and have made no demonstration whatever. It is presumed that Leiter intends importing miners from Pennsylvania and that he has induced Sheriff Stein to ask for assistance simply to have the soldiers to act as guards the same as the company sheriffs have been doing since the strike began on July 10."

Portrait of Van Syckel Presented.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 30.—A reception by the judiciary and the members of the bar of the state was given at the statehouse in honor of former Justice Bennett Van Syckel, who recently retired from the supreme court bench after thirty-five years of service. A life sized portrait of Justice Van Syckel was presented to the state by the bar. The presentation speech was made by Cortland Parker, the oldest practicing lawyer in New Jersey, and was received by Governor Murphy. Addresses were also made by Justice Van Syckel and Chief Justice Gummere.

Laurier on Pacific Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of Canada, has arrived at Oakland and proceeded thence to Monterey. He will go to Los Angeles for a short visit before returning east. Sir Wilfrid is on a tour of recreation and is accompanied by his wife. When interviewed Sir Wilfrid said there was no doubt of the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad across Canada and British Columbia. The work on it will soon begin.

Danish Passenger a Suicide.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—F. E. Daldorph of Denmark, a second cabin passenger, jumped overboard from the Hamburg-American line steamer Blucher last Friday while she was bound from Hamburg, Dover and Bologne for this city. In reporting the suicide upon the arrival of the steamer here the officers of the Blucher said they believed the man was taken suddenly insane.

Adirondack Railway Extension.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Nov. 29.—The Delaware and Hudson Railroad company has awarded a contract for the extension of the road from Thurman Station, on its Adirondack division, to Warrensburg, on the Schroon river. The work is to be completed by July next. A further extension will afterward be made to Caldwell, on the Lake George division.

Ithaca Would Control Water Supply.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 30.—The municipal water board here has begun condemnation proceedings against the water system of the Ithaca Water company, a private corporation, in order to gain municipal control of the water works in compliance with the popular vote taken during the typhoid fever epidemic in 1902.

To Decide Mrs. Rogers' Fate.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 30.—The Vermont legislature reconvened after the Thanksgiving recess. The principal matter to be considered this week is the bill now before the judiciary committee to commute to imprisonment the death sentence of Mrs. Mary A. Rogers, convicted of the murder of her husband.

Foreshadows Closing of Fair.

Conductor's Head Cut Off.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 30.—M. Cornish of Dewitt, a New York Central freight conductor, was killed at Lockport last night. His remains were found with the head severed from the body. It is supposed that he slipped and fell from the top of the cars.

Plainfield, N. J., Nov. 30, 1904

Undoubtedly John Kean will be returned to the United States Senate, but Hamilton F. Kean would be more acceptable to the average voter of Union county if he were called upon to make a choice.

Mr. Roosevelt is reported to be favorable to tariff revision, knowing that the people demand it. His hold on the Republican party is such today that the leaders in Congress will have to obey his demands.

It is quite certain that "Al" Adams is worrying more over the loss of that $350,000 in Wall street than he did over the loss of his reputation, although he may regain the former and the latter is forever gone.

Father Gessner, of Elizabeth, believes that the excise board of that town is rotten and is not afraid to express his opinion. Fearless and aggressive ministers should be able to accomplish much in bringing about a reform in the board.

Because he has scruples against inflicting the death penalty, it is said, Sheriff Johnson, of Camden, has resigned a $75,000 job. Men of his type are rare in politics and the people of Camden will do well to place him in some other responsible public office.

On the first page of this issue is published the full text of Councilman Tyler's proposed ordinance defining the district in which liquor may be sold. It is given in full in order that the public may have a clear understanding of the provisions of that important measure.

PLAINFIELDER HEAD OF COLLEGE ASSOCIATION

RUSH RHEES ELECTED PRESIDHNT OF ORGANIZATION OF COLLEGES.

President Rush Rhees, of the University of Rochester, was elected president of the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Middle States and Maryland, at the annual meeting held in Princeton a few days ago. Mr. Rhees was a former resident of this city where he has many friends. He was a graduate of the Plainfield High School and spent his younger days here. Since then he has held several positions of prominence.

For a time Mr. Rhees was a professor at the Newton Theological Seminary and was pastor of the Baptist church at Newton Center, Mass. He gave up the pastorate to become president of the University of Rochester, which position he has filled with dignity and satisfaction. He has also taken a prominent place in the literary world, having written several valuable articles on educational subjects.

Mr. Rhees is a nephew of Charles W. McCutchen and S St. John McCutchen, of North Plainfield, and several times he has occupied the pulpit at the First Baptist church.

—During the past few windy days when the dust has been almost unbearable, John E. Keely has had several sprinkling carts on the principal streets in the business section. Such action on the part of the Public Service Corporation would be appreciated by persons living along the trolley lines.

PLAINFIELDERS LOSE TO EDWARD CLARK CLUB

HOPE BASKET BALL TEAM WALLOPED AND Y. M. C. A. BOWLERS DEFEATED.

The Edward Clark Club, of Elizabeth, proved superior last night over both the basketball teams of the Hope chapel, and the bowling aggregation of the Y. M. C. A. The basketball game was one sided, the Hope boys being badly outweighed and thoroughly outplayed. The score of the contest was 40 to 0.

The line up of the two basketball teams was as follows: Hope chapel, Dilks and Duckworth, forwards; Roseberry, center; Cose and Fritts, guards. Edward Clark Club, Griggs and Bradford, forwards; Wendlen, center; Chesney and Hasbrouck, guards. Goals from field, Dilks, 8; Briggs, Wendlen, 12; Bradford, 5. Goals from fouls, Dilks, 4; Bradford, 3. Referee, V. W. Nash; umpire, Winchester.

Apparently the Hope team brought a hoodoo with them, for the Y. M. C. A. bowling aggregation lost three games straight to the Edward Clark bowlers. Though the margins by which the games were lost were somewhat discouraging to the locals, they hope to turn the tables on the Elizabeth team before the season is over. The scores were as follows:

Jersey Central Denies Purchase.

Interests identified with the Central Railroad of New Jersey yesterday denied that any negotiations are under way for the purchase by that company of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company. The railway lines owned by the Lehigh are leased to the Jersey Central, but no deal has been closed and no transfer has been made of the Navigation company's properties. The rumor was characterized as idle gossip.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

The Empire Club, which has had its club rooms in the Vars building on Washington avenue, will disband on Thursday evening, at which time all debts will be paid and all other business settled. The club has been in existence for just one month and as the members did not use the rooms enough to pay for hiring them they have decided to break it up and start a new one in the spring.

Rev. J. C. Culp, of the Bound Brook Presbyterian church, led the meeting in the Presbyterian church last evening. A large crowd was present and the work is making a big impression on the people.

A valuable dog belonging to Elmer Giddes was killed by a large moving van on North avenue yesterday, so there is at least one thing to help the dog catcher rid the town of dogs.

The Young Ladies' Card Club met at the home of Miss Louise Brakeley yesterday afternoon and played whist. The prize was won by Miss Edith Boice, who had sixteen points.

The rain last night spoiled the skating which the small boy has been enjoying for the past two days and now he will have to amuse himself by playing football again.

Charles Rogers is busily engaged in the photography business and he is selling many handsome photographs.

The youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Vail is seriously ill at her home on Front street.

New Market pond is frozen over but the ice will not bear a person's weight as yet.

Miss Mary Baldwin, of Greenbrook, has entered the Plainfield Business College.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Owing to the stormy weather last night the meeting at the Methodist church was not as well attended as Sunday night's meeting, but the interest manifested was encouraging and Rev. Mr. Coon is looking forward to a most successful work during the two weeks.

Some careless hunters set the woods along Johston Drive on fire yesterday. This used to be a yearly thing but of late years the underbrush between the village and North Plainfield is generally set on fire several times, burning fences and destroying much young game.

The Chautauqua Boys' Club, of the Methodist church, will not meet in the class rooms of the church tonight on account of the revival meeting which is being held in the church.

Fred Coverly has sold his candy and cigar store to Mr. Anson, of Plainfield. Mr. Coverly has taken a position as steward of one of Newark's leading clubs.

The K. O. G. Club is arranging to hold another of the series of winter dances which are being held each month in the borough fire house.

The little break in the weather on Tuesday was a welcome change to all but the small boy who is anxiously waiting for skating.

George A. Clark has been detained at home since Saturday with a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

Andrew Riley, who has been visiting his brother, James Riley, has returned to his home in New York.

Mr. March, of New Brunswick, who has been visiting friends in town, has returned home.

BERLIN NOW THIRD CITY.

From Mere Village of a Century Ago German Capital Has Nearly 2,000,000 People.

Berlin, a mere village a century ago, is the third city in Europe, in point of population, and its growth since 1870 has been phenomenal. Yet the technical barriers which enclose the city remain precisely what they were more than 40 years ago, and Berlin is still as it was in 1861, compressed within 28 square miles. At the close of the Franco-Prussian war, Berlin, now the capital of a new empire, became a paradise. Streets of houses appeared almost as if by magic, and the whole aspect of the city became changed. From being the worst lighted, worst drained and ugliest capital in Europe, it became one of the finest, cleanest and handsomest of cities, and its population has more than doubled. Berlin now boasts within its boundaries 1,857,000 inhabitants. Greater Berlin might have a population of 2,430,000, with an area at least treble, extending, indeed, as far as Potsdam. Berlin's actual increase from 1800 to 1900 was 818 per cent., multiplying its population by nine.

JAPS USE FANS IN BATTLE

Presents from the Emperor Are Handy and May Save Soldier from the Heat.

The cool and deliberate actions of the Japanese may in part be due to the fans they carry, writes Correspondent Palmer in Collier's Weekly. After describing a fierce morning battle Mr. Palmer tells of their use of fans as follows: "Some infantry reserves near by were fanning themselves. To a Russian who had not tasted their fire these 'Makaki' might have seemed quite effeminate.

"The fans which the little men use to cool themselves on the march are presents from the emperor. On them is inscribed, in the handwriting of the commander-in-chief of the army, Marquis Oyama, the words: 'Do your best for your country.'

"On a hot day a fan may beat up a breeze in front of a soldier's nose which will save him from succumbing."

Tablets for India.

Tablets are to be placed by the British government on buildings in India which are famous in the history of the country. Four of the buildings selected are the houses of four early Christian missionaries. The government thus officially recognizes the fact that the missionary bears the torch which lights the way for explorer, soldier and governor.

Farm Hands Wear White.

Farm hands in Yucatan wear linen garments of spotless white. When they become even slightly soiled, they hasten to change them. Work is plentiful there, farm laborers are well paid, and they can afford to be tidy.

Chicago as a Health Resort.

Now comes a physician and declares that breathing coal dust is a cure for consumption. We have always held, says the Chicago Journal, that Chicago is the greatest sanitarium in the world.

An Interesting Document.

Probably the first treaty of peace to be typewritten is the South African document. The signatures of the Boer leaders form an interesting part of it. They are all in different styles. Louis Botha's is described as being in a fine hand, and though the others are somewhat rougher, Delarey's is the roughest of all. He has spelled his name split into three syllables, de la Rey. Christian de Wet is also spelled with a small d.

Singular Shooting Feat.

At the Yarren (Victoria) rifle ranges a curious shot was made by one of the marksmen. He was taking aim at 400 yards, and just as he fired several magpies flew in front of him at 200 yards distance. The bullet struck one of the magpies and brought it to the ground, while the marker registered a bull's-eye for the shot. "Two birds with one stone" is nothing compared to this feat.

Japanned English.

A Japanese guide book which has been issued for the benefit of English speaking visitors contains the following: "The restaurant in this ground is the first established in the city. It has very fine view, and its business is prosperous."

WITHOUT A WARNING

MAN STRICKEN TOTALLY BLIND AT WORK BENCH.

In the Twinkling of an Eye Power of Vision Leaves a New York Cigarmaker—Case Considered a Very Rare One.

While rolling cigars at his bench, Morris Brown, of New York, a powerfully built man, who had scarcely known a day's sickness, was stricken blind the other afternoon. The power of vision went out of his eyes like an electric flash. There was no warning. His eyes had never troubled him. He was 48 years old and never wore glasses. One instant his sight was perfect, the next it was gone. An agonizing shooting pain that lasted only the fraction of a second was the only thing, except the terrifying blackness that told the man of his misfortune.

Brown has been a cigarmaker nearly 30 years. The physicians at Bellevue think his blindness is due to nicotine poisoning. It is their belief that the constant inhalation through the nostrils of tiny particles of tobacco had paralyzed the optic nerve.

An eye specialist will be summoned to the hospital to diagnose the case and direct the treatment.

It was Brown's birthday. Before he left his home, 1386 Second avenue, for work, he planned to get off early in the afternoon and go with his wife and two children on an outing.

Brown had worked for years in the cigar factory at 353 Bowery. He was one of the most skilled men in the place and was liked by his many associates in the factory.

A few minutes after one p. m., when the crowd of workers returned to their benches and all were busily engaged, Brown suddenly gave a shriek, crying out:

"I cannot see. Everything is black. I cannot see my hand."

The other workers ran to his bench. His eyes were open, and except for a twitching of the lids seemed normal. Brown would rub his eyes and hold his hand up close to his face and say:

"I CAN'T SEE MY HAND."

"I can't see it. Everything is dark."

Max Bittner, the foreman, thinking the man had suddenly gone mad, said:

"Look at me, Brown. You can see me. I'm right in front of you."

"I can't see you, Max," Brown moaned. "I can't see anything."

Some of the women in the place began to get hysterical. Mr. Jacoby, thinking the cigarmaker was merely ill, sent out one of his clerks for a physician. When the doctor arrived and looked over Brown he advised that the cigarmaker be sent at once to a hospital.

When Brown reached Bellevue he was almost dazed by this calamity. It was some time before he could talk to the physicians connectedly. His wife was sent for and after she had talked with him for awhile he became calmer. On the records of the hospital his malady was entered as amaurosis, which simply means total or partial loss of vision.

No directly similar case could be recalled by any of the physicians at Bellevue. About nine years ago the hospital had a case of toxic amaurosis, but the poison came from other causes than tobacco.

Mr. Jacoby, the employer of Brown, said that he never before heard of a cigarmaker losing his sight by nicotine poisoning. He said that cigar rollers have developed lung diseases and pulmonary troubles by constantly breathing in particles of tobacco.

The Bellevue physicians said they were not in a position to prophesy about the chances of Brown recovering his sight. There are cases on record where the sight had been restored after the nicotine poison had been eliminated from the system.

Woodpecker's Savings Bank.

Among the woodpeckers of California there is one kind, popularly called the carpenter, which is of such careful habits that many a friendly society might take a lesson from it. Although the winter is not very severe, the bird well knows how hard it will then be to obtain food. So it begins early to lay by for the frosty day. It stuffs the holes of trees with acorns, and it is artful enough to choose those that contain the larvae of insects. The larvae thrives on the fruit, and in the course of time becomes a fattened tit-bit for the bird. Pine tres, on which acorns do not grow, have often been seen dotted or plugged all over with them.

CORBETT-NELSON FIGHT.

Battle Aroused Sporting Fraternity at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Woodward pavilion was jammed to the danger point last night with fight enthusiasts who fought their way into the auditorium to witness the battle between Young Corbett and "Battling" Nelson.

The taint of suspicion, which has characterized some of the recent contests in this city, has been entirely absent in connection with this battle, the result being that interest displayed over the outcome was as great if not greater than many events previously held which involved world's championships. This feeling was reflected in the betting market here. Notwithstanding the onesidedness of the odds, the speculation on the result was the heaviest of any contest since the Britt-Corbett battle last summer.

While technically no championship went with the winning end of the fight, the fact that the victor will meet Jimmy Britt in this city next month for the world's featherweight championship proved an incentive which greatly stimulated the efforts of the principals and impelled them to train to the limit.

In an opening bout Nick Cordell of San Francisco was awarded the decision over Eddie Santry of Chicago at the end of ten rounds. The decision was very popular with the spectators.

Woden Made a Record.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Favorites won three of the six races at the Benuings course. The steeplechase was won in a driving finish by Woden, a 12 to 1 shot, who reduced the track record for the two miles and a half to 5:07 from 5:08, which Cousin Jess established three years ago. Wool Gatherer, the favorite, was beaten by a head by a great spurt Woden made when once headed for home. Australna had an easy victory over the big field that started in the first race. Applaud captured the second race with ease after Lord Aintree had led most of the way. The last race was virtually a giveaway to the favorite, Graziallo.

Women Turned Out In Force.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—Favorites won in three races at Ascot park—Katherine Ennis, Flo Bob and Gold Rose. The books were hit rather heavily in the final race, which went to Tim Payne at 5 to 1. It was the first day on which women were admitted free, and fully 5,000 of them turned out.

Major Tenny the Only One.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Favorites fared badly at Oakland, Major Tenny being the only one to land. One of the disappointments was Silverskin. He was played down to 7 to 10, but tried to tried to wheel as the barrier went up and was practically left.

Ring Had Its Innings.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 30.—The ring had its innings here, Simplicity and Hymettus being the only winning favorites. The betting was fair, and each of the beaten favorites was well supported.

Cannon Would Not Discuss Tariff.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—President Roosevelt had as his guests at dinner at the White House last night Attorney General Moody and Speaker Joseph G. Cannon of the house of representatives. They remained with the president until after 10 o'clock discussing various subjects of public interest. It was the first opportunity Mr. Cannon has had to talk with the president since the election. Regarding the tariff question the speaker declined to be interviewed with any detail.

Insane Woman Won a Prize.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 30.—A woman inmate of one of the state insane hospitals has won a prize offered by a Boston magazine for the solving of a rebus and a short essay on an assigned topic. The prize was a trip abroad or $250. She has applied to the state board of control for permission to make the trip, but the board does not deem it safe to allow her to go. The board, however, will endeavor to secure the $250 for her.

Explosion Wrecked Laundry.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 30.—An explosion of a gasoline machine in the Swiss laundry here caused a fire which quickly consumed the building and contents. Fifteen working girls were more or less injured, being burned or hurt in jumping from the second story windows. The loss by the total destruction of the laundry and damage to the adjoining building is estimated at $40,000.

Railway Man's Sudden Death.

SHENANGO, Pa., Nov. 30.—Lorenzo M. Johnson of Chicago and Winnetka, Ill., president of the Pittsburg, Shawmut and Northern Railroad company and allied interests and formerly general manager of the Mexican International railroad and other large interests of C. P. Huntington in Mexico, has died suddenly at St. Marys, Pa.

May be a Total Loss.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., Nov. 30.—The British schooner Susie Prescott, Captain Daley, from Point Wolfe, N. B., for New York, with laths, ran ashore on Hawes shoal, off Cape Pogue, during a thick snowstorm and it is feared will become a total loss.

Unknown's Missing Head Found.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Nov. 30.—The head of the man whose body was discovered near Hickory Ridge has been found near Marion Heights by two boys. The body has not yet been identified.

TOILET ODDS AND ENDS.

Renovation Notions For the Needy Wardrobe—The New Shawl.

A little touch of black appears upon many stunning winter gowns and will smarten up a last season's frock wonderfully.

Tiny black velvet buttons as a trimming look very well on most dresses, and there is a fad in Paris for ornamenting lightweight materials with graduated bands of black velvet ribbon. These bands appear on the skirt and about the bodice of a gown in some attractive fashion, helped out often with a fastening up the front of the waist of tiny black velvet bows.

EVENING WRAP.

Deep black silk cuffs, with wide white lingerie frills, are about the smartest ideas it is possible to find in their way. They give the touch of black and white so becoming, as a rule, to any gown, no matter what its color may be.

Pipings are more than ever in vogue and are carried out in silk, velvet and leather. A dark blue gown is relieved and made stylish with pipings of Scotch plaid. The little line of color gives neatness and brightness to the blue.

The girl who wants to be smart will employ her spare time in making wheels of lace and silk for trimmings. The wheels should be about the size of a half dollar, and in the middle of each is placed a small button. The lace wheels have in the center another little wheel of lace.

A new idea in trimmings consists of bands of tucked taffeta padded out to form a kind of thick roll. Another novelty is the embroidered tuck, which has a running or scroll device worked in fancy stitch on the material itself. It is very effective and adds a richness and importance to a frock.

The evening wrap illustrated is of the very latest mode. It is made of pale rose cloth lined with pale green silk and adorned with a lace stole collar and pink tassels.

A Few Hints About Gowns—Fashion Facts and Fancies.

Two shades of cloth which are very much in evidence are dark blue in which there is a touch of violet and a soft, velvety shade of plum. Made up with a long basqued coat, a gown of either color in broadcloth would be stunning.

It must be understood that the long coats are not tight fitting, as a rule, below the waist. They flow gracefully in one piece with the bodice or have a stitched band at the waist and fall in long knife plaits upon the skirt.

Chinchilla and yellow tinted coarse lace with passementerie fastenings of braid in gray and silver form a delightful stole wrap, having wide shoulders in pelerine fashion. Heavy flounces of lace form the cap sleeves.

The new sleeves on fur coats are very full at the top of the arm and drop toward the elbow. These sleeves are becoming to slight figures.

The evening blouse illustrated is of old green satin drawn in puffs across the figure. Cream lace insertion borders the front, trims the sleeves and bands the waist just above the girdle. The ribbon tie, ruffle and ceinture are of velvet a shade darker than the satin.

NOVELTIES IN FURS.

Trimmings Are Elaborate and Beautiful—New Shapes In Muffs.

Trimming used on the fur coats of the day are important items. Buttons are very much in evidence, and for the richer furs, such as chinchilla and ermine, the most exquisite specimens are used, many of them being composed of French paste and silver with jeweled centers.

Beaver, which is by no means a dressy fur when used by itself, may be made very effective trimmed with self colored braid and velvet.

The newest muffs of the season are large bags decorated at the top with the innocent heads of the animal whose skin goes into their makeup. On a beautiful ermine "bag" muff at the top was an ermine head which held in its mouth a shower of tails from its hapless little fellow victims, and probably its own among them.

Fur edges the daintiest kinds of evening frocks, and on light cloth skirts a band of fur several inches wide is a smart addition and at the same time protects the trailing lengths.

The picture hat illustrated is of white felt twisted into a delightful shape and adorned with a long black ostrich feather and a chou of black velvet.

FASHION'S TREND.

Puffed Sleeves a Modish Fancy. Long Jackets Are Modified.

There is a fashion lost sight of for a decade which has been revived, that of the puffed sleeve and its sister, which boasts a quantity of fullness at the shoulder.

The long, tight fitting cuff is also a feature of the new sleeve. Then there is the Henri II. sleeve, puffed all the way up the arm, but tight at the elbow. This style is too stiff and bulky to be generally becoming unless made in a thin taffeta or some equally soft fabric.

Many of the petticoats are hooped, and there is lots of talk about crinoline, but little is actually seen. The fashion of stiffening the hem of the petticoat by a hoop is almost necessary to support the heavily weighted cloth skirt, which, at its best, falls in simple folds.

Already the long jacket has become modified, and dressmakers are making these long coats either slightly bloused at the waist above a plaited silk band or with innumerable fine tucks in all directions from the waist to the collar. Others, again, have embroidery or galloon upon a simulated bolero, but in all the smartest jackets the skirt is invariably full.

A number of the new cloth costumes are trimmed with grosgrain silk in pale shades, which forms a contrast to the material of which the gown is made. This silk is especially used for gathered and corded bouillonnes and tucks which are seen on many elaborate toilets for afternoon wear.

Very swagger is this walking dress of black cloth. The tight fitting jacket has a bolero front and basqued back and is trimmed with plain and fancy soutache braid. The embroidered waistcoat is of pale yellow cloth fastened with buttons of passementerie and gold. The skirt is laid in plaits opening out below the knee and adorned at the foot with bands of velvet and braid.

ONE-DAY COURTSHIPS

A PECULIAR PHASE OF LIFE IN CITY OF LONDON.

Some Girls Have Lovers for Every Day in the Week — Used by Rogues to Obtain Valuable Information.

A London publication, Smith's Weekly, gives a graphic account of a peculiar phase of English life. It says that in some of the large drapery establishments there are young fellows and girls who make it a rule to have a fresh sweetheart every week. As regularly as the early closing day, which is now such a deeply-rooted institution, comes round a new partner who takes the place of the one who did duty the previous week.

A smart young counter-jumper was heard to boast recently that during the 18 months spent in his present situation he had "taken out" over a hundred different girls. Not content with a fresh companion for each weekly half-holiday, he had also often contrived to provide himself with yet another on Sundays as well.

Extreme cases like this are rare, but it is quite common in some business houses where both sexes are employed, for young couples who are comparative strangers to pair off together for a holiday.

In many such establishments there are plenty of young people, whose homes are too distant to visit for one day, who are glad to accommodate and to be accommodated in the manner indicated.

A day's courtship is sometimes merely an ingenious ruse for the purpose of obtaining valuable information.

Not long ago a skilful burglar, who confines himself to what he calls high-class work, confessed that one of his favoriate methods was to suddenly fall in love with one of the servants of the house which he had planned to plunder, and at the first opportunity to take the girl for a day's outing. The one excursion was generally sufficient to allow him to artfully extract the necessary information which enabled him to afterwards perform his nefarious work with comparative ease.

BORROWS ALL HER READY CASH.

Equally mean and criminal is the somewhat similar trick which is sometimes played on simple women. The dodge consists in accosting likely-looking girls in the street and carrying them off to lunch.

The trickster in most cases passes himself off as a lord or a duke, says he has been greatly smitten by the appearance of his dupe, gives her worthless checks or Bank of Engraving notes to buy dresses and jewelry, offers her a magnificent situation or promises marriage, and, on the strength of all this, borrows all the ready cash which his victim happens to have.

The deceived one, of course, sees no more of the impostor, unless he leaves her under the impression that he can swindle still more cash out of her, in which case a further appointment is made.

A day trip with an old sweetheart was the plan by which a Homerton man recovered the rings which he had previously given her, and which she had refused to return.

The engagement had been broken off and an estrangement had existed between the couple for several months. The not very generous swain had made several attempts to get back his rings, as he called them, but without success.

At last he hit upon an idea more ingenious than honorable. He made false professions of a desire to renew the engagement, and wrote asking his ex-sweetheart to accompany him on a day's excursion to Margate as an act of reconciliation.

Unsuspectingly the maiden complied. But her subsequent anger and mortification were very bitter, for, during the day, the faithless attendant, on some pretext, managed to slip the rings which she was still wearing from her finger. She treated the matter as a joke, and he kept up the delusion for the remainder of the day.

When they parted at her door in the evening, however, he retained possession of the rings and left her very abruptly, saying that, having recovered his property, there was no need for him to make any further appointments.

Salvation Army Uniforms.

Salvation Army uniforms for women, including the bonnet, cost about nine dollars. Nearly all of them are made in Luton, England. The fashion never changes, and the girls do not worry about the way the bonnets ought to be trimmed.

Sand as Bedding for Cows.

Sand is plentiful and inexpensive in Holland, and is used instead of hay and straw as beds for cows. It keeps the animals perfectly clean, requiring only a slight raking in the morning to soften and freshen it.

AN OFFICIAL DENIAL.

Statement That Roosevelt Children Ill Treated Turkey Not True.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Mr. William Loeb, Jr., as secretary to the president, has issued an official signed statement denying that President Roosevelt's children had cruelly treated the Thanksgiving turkey sent to the president by Mr. Vose of Rhode Island in accordance with the latter's annual custom.

In the statement Mr. Loeb says:

"The president's attention has just been called to a news item which contains an account of supposed maltreatment by his children of the Thanksgiving turkey which Mr. Vose sent to the White House in accordance with his annual custom. The article states that the children released the turkey and chased it all over the White House grounds, plucking at it and teasing it and yelling and laughing until the bird was well nigh exhausted, while the president looked on and laughed.

"As a matter of fact, the turkey was dressed when Mr. Vose sent it and was used for Thanksgiving dinner. There was a bronze live turkey sent from Milwaukee. This turkey was never taken out of its box, but was shipped to Oyster Bay because of its beauty and is living peaceably with the rest of the inhabitants of the barnyard. No such incident as that recounted has ever taken place since the president has been in the White House, and nothing in the remotest degree resembling it has ever taken place."

Secretary Loeb after the statement had been issued said:

"No attention would have been paid to this attack if it had been upon the president personally, but as it has been extended to members of his family he feels that he ought to reply to it."

ACCIDENT ON GERMAN LINER.

Steel Block Fell Amid Immigrants. A Russian Killed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The big liner Kaiser Wilhelm II. had just put in at the quarantine station, and many of the nearly 800 immigrants on board had crowded to the forward deck. While the attention of the man in charge of the steam derrick was diverted for a moment one of the steerage passengers carelessly pushed a lever, and an instant later the immense steel block, loosed from its fastening by the derrick, fell in the midst of the densely crowded mass of humanity.

Felix Iangalis, a Russian, was struck fairly on the head and fatally hurt, and two other men and a boy were badly injured. Iangalis died soon after the steamer reached her dock at Hoboken. The three injured persons were taken to a hospital.

A good sized purse was made up by the cabin passengers for the benefit of those injured in the accident.

Trenton Man a Suicide.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Shoppers in one of the large department stores here were thrown into a panic when Paul Hercsik of Trenton, N. J., fired a shot at his wife and then committed suicide. The couple, who had evidently met by appointment, had been in conversation some time when the woman suddenly arose and started to walk away. The man followed and, drawing a revolver from his pocket, fired a shot at her. The shot missed the woman and imbedded itself in a wall of the building.

Protest Against Telegram.

NATCHEZ, Miss., Nov. 30.—One hundred merchants and representative citizens here have signed a letter to President Francis of the St. Louis world's fair protesting against the phraseology of Governor Vardaman's telegram to President Francis relative to the interest manifested by President Roosevelt in the Mississippi exhibit. This county gave Vardaman a large majority in the state election, and a number of the men who signed the protest were among his supporters.

TURIN, Nov. 30.—The Duchess of Aosta is suffering from bronchitis and an affection of the right lung, the result of a cold contracted while riding. ST. LOUIS, Nov. 30.—It was learned that Speaker Joseph Cannon of the United States house of representatives was among those recently decorated by France. The rank conferred upon him, it was stated, was chevalier of the Legion of Honor, but it is understood that his office precludes the acceptance of the title.

Jerome Egelston Dead.

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., Nov. 30.—District Attorney Jerome Egelston of Fulton county died at his home in this city, aged fifty-one years, after a brief illness of spinal disease. He was reelected at the recent election, and Governor Odell will be asked to name a successor at once.

LEICESTER MURDER.

Ovide Chapdelaine Taken Into Custody as a Suspect.

LEICESTER, Mass., Nov. 30.—Ovide Chapdelaine, aged fifteen years, is under arrest charged with the murder of Mrs. Emma Richard Brigham in the woods near the home of the victim in this town.

The arrest upon suspicion was made upon the advice of District Attorney Rockwood Hoar of Worcester. Chapdelaine was closely questioned by the detectives, after which he was taken to Worcester, formally charged with murder and locked up. He will be given a hearing today.

While a boy in years, Chapdelaine has the body of a large man, being six feet one inch in height and weighing 175 pounds. By his schoolteachers he is spoken of as a well behaved youth of ordinary intelligence, although his rapid growth has interfered at times with his work as a student.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chapdelaine, who are educating the boy for a professional career. The Chapdelaines reside on a small farm adjoining the home of the dead woman.

The theory of the police which made Chapdelaine a suspect is that the boy's father, having been bothered by thefts of wood from his wood lot, placed his son on guard to defend his property and that Mrs. Brigham, who was gathering hemlock boughs in the vicinity, was mistaken for a thief.

"WILLIAM, I. R."

"His majesty, the mikado, has accepted your kind telegram with great pleasure. TOKUBAIJI."

RAW OYSTERS HEALTHFUL?

Question as to Wholesomeness of Bivalve Brings Scoring to the Dealers.

Oysters are plentiful to an extent that has caused them to be replanted in the beds in some parts of the coast, after they had been carried to market and found unsalable, comments the Newport News. How much the connection between typhoid fever and raw oysters has to do with the overstocked markets there is no telling. Some scientists hold the oyster as not guilty of carrying infection, but oystermen here and abroad have been found to be given to the habit of keeping oysters in water rich in sewage, and it has given the bivalve a bad name. There is no doubt but some oysters are the healthiest sort of food when eaten raw, but who can tell the contaminated? If a goose has been killed, to the loss of many golden eggs, as it is feared has happened in the raw oyster business, it is the fault of a few of the ignorant or unscrupulous, and the oystermen must find their way out of the difficulty as best they can. The public appetite for raw oysters was all that could be required by the interest of the oyster gatherers. It has lessened because public confidence has been abused.

SNAKE FROM GREAT SPIRIT

Rattler Glides Into Seminole Council Circle and Indians Call It a Messenger.

Great consternation was created among the members of the Seminole council at Wewoka, I. T., recently when a large rattlesnake glided into the tent where the assemblage was being addressed by the attorney of the nation, Capt. A. J. McKennon. Capt. McKennon was about to kill the snake when one of the councilmen stopped him, explaining in broken English. "Him rattlesnake; he came to Seminole council; no other snake do that. He sent by Great Spirit. He go south; that mean Mexico. We must all go Mexico soon."

The captain was told that the rattlesnake had long been a messenger to the Seminole tribe from the Great Spirit. They told him that just before their fight with Jackson in the south, many moons ago, a great rattlesnake crawled from the bank of a lake and came into camp. The medicine men assembled and told the members of the tribe that great trouble was about to come upon them. They would have a great fight, and, as the snake went west, a part of the tribe would be driven west. They said that the rattlesnake had been looked upon as a messenger ever since.

American Shoes Abroad.

We do not seem to be making as large an increase in foreign trade as between the years of 1899 and 1901, when the increase per year was over $1,000,000, but this gradual growth shows that our footwear is giving satisfaction and is wanted abroad, says the Boston Commercial Bulletin. Our shoe manufacturers have been faithful in their workmanship, and have given goods up to sample. This, with the fact that the styles have taken the fancy of the foreign trade, has done much to build up our foreign trade.

Laws in Persia.

They have curious methods in Persia of insuring law and order. A failure of the crops had resulted in a dear loaf, which much enraged the populace. In order to quell the tumult, the shah ordered a number of bakers to receive several hundred strokes with a rod, besides a few minor little attentions such as the amputation of an ear or two.

Unique Spot.

In the village of Altenburg, on whose borders three countries meet, there are no soldiers, no police, no taxes, and its people are ruled by no monarch. The inhabitants speak a queer jargon of French and German combined, and spend their time cultivating the land or working the valuable calamine mine, which is the boast of the village.
